RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

ANNUAL REPORTS.

Amalgamated Copper Company, New York.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending April 30 1908.)

Secretary A. H. Melin says in substance:

Price of Copper.—During the fiscal year which ended April 30 1908 the fluctuation in the selling price of the copper metal was greater than at any other period in the history of the copper trade. In May 1907 there was an unlimited demand, the selling price being about 25 cents per pound. This demand was afterwards seriously affected by the severe financial depression, and in the early summer of 1907 it suddenly slackened, and afterwards almost altogether ceased. The price of copper meantime gradually declined, and during the last two months of the fiscal year the metal has sold at from 12 to 13 cents per pound. Most of the copper metal sold in the market (and this was a large quantity) was bought for European account, to replenish holdings which had become depleted.

After the first falling off in the demand, there was a tendency on the part of the producers of copper to await better business conditions; and, during this period, as but little copper was sold, a large amount was naturally accumulated. After the price had fallen considerably, the officials of the various producing companies adopted the policy of curtailing the output. After operating for several months under curtailed conditions, during which time the producing cost was far above normal (owing to the fact that each company was producing only a small part of its normal output), it was deemed advisable to confine all operations to one unit. The mines and smelter of the Boston & Montana Co. at Great Falls were put in operation to their fullest extent, and with satisfactory results.

In February 1908 the surplus stock of copper had practically disappeared, and on March 1 1908 the mines of the different companies and the Washoe smelter were again put into commission, and are now being operated to their full capacity.

Boundary, Rights, &c.—The plans formulated by the engineers, mentioned in the last report, for the settlement of boundary rights and questions of apex, have been in operation for over a year, and all parties having any interest in the matter have been satisfied with the results.

Development Work—Improvements, &c.—The tramway shaft which has been sunk jointly by the Red Metal Mining Co. and the Butte & Boston Co., and through which it is expected that the ores from the Minnie Healey and the Snohomish and Tramway mines will be hoisted, has reached a depth of 1,400 feet below the surface, and is now being sunk to the 1,500-foot level. Cross cuts from the lower levels of this shaft are now being driven into contiguous territory; the ore bodies developed have been most satisfactory.

The Washoe smelter at Anaconda has been equipped with electric power, thereby greatly lessening the cost of operation, and is able to treat 10,000 tons of ore per day without difficulty.

The Boston & Montana Co. has diligently prosecuted the improvements in its reduction works at Great Falls. All of the grading for the flues and dust chambers has been finished, and the new 506-foot stack has been built to a height of about 50 feet.

The usual amount of development work in the different properties has been carried on, and the results in most cases have been gratifying.

The continued occurrence of high-grade ores in the lowest levels of the mines controlled by the Amalgamated Co. and in the adjacent mines of other companies tends to confirm the confidence which the company's engineers have always had in the future of the Butte district.

Saw Mills, Coal Mines, &c.—The saw mills of the Big Blackfoot Milling Co. were operated to the extent required to meet the demand of the mines at Butte and the commercial trade generally. The said company has confined its operations to the timber areas adjacent to its original mill sites. Its largest timber holdings still remain intact. The earnings for the year were quite satisfactory, and the output of its mills is now normal.

The Belt mines, owned by the Anaconda Copper Co., and the mines of the Diamond Coal & Coke Co. were operated with satisfactory results, notwithstanding the fact that during a portion of the year the demand for coal greatly diminished.

Constant development work has been kept up throughout the year on the coal property, located at Bear Creek, Mont., and owned by the Washoe Copper Co., and the mines have been for several months producing most satisfactorily. The quality of the coal is excellent and the field is one of great promise.

Labor Contract.—The harmonious operation of the 5-year labor contract, which was entered into between the employees of the different departments and the officials of the mining companies, has worked satisfactorily.

Output.—The companies owned wholly or in part by the Amalgamated Copper Co. produced in the calendar year 1907 from their own and custom ores about 212,000,000 pounds of refined copper, of which amount the Amalgamated Copper Co. received the benefit from about 178,000,000 pounds.

Anaconda Copper Mining Company.

This company is controlled by the Amalgamated Copper Co. (see that company above). The comparative tables of earnings and the balance sheet were given in V. 86, p. 1283. President John D. Ryan, under date of Butte, May 1 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—The mines and reduction works of the company were operated fully until Sept. 1 except for some interferences with operations resulting from the extreme cold weather, which delayed transportation of ore and fuel during January, February and March. The condition of the metal market, commencing with July, made it desirable to restrict the output and, commencing with September, the production was sharply curtailed, until it reached as low a point as 35% of the normal. At the beginning of December it was decided to close the mines and works entirely, until conditions should show improvement. The high price of copper prevailing during the first half of the year, when the large part of the production was made, made it advisable to treat ores of a lower grade than have been extracted in any previous period in the company's history. Much of the product resulting from the treatment of these ores was not marketed until late in the year, when the price had receded ten to twelve cents per pound lower than that ruling at the time the ore was extracted. The copper on hand Dec. 31 1907 was produced during the period of curtailment, and cost $163,105 in excess of the amount realized from its sale. This loss has been deducted from the profits of the year as shown by the profit and loss statement.

All these conditions have resulted in a profit very much less than was anticipated.

The mines and works were not in operation during January and February 1908, but early in March work was again started, and in the latter part of the month production had about reached the normal. Production figures and rough costs for March and April show a considerably higher grade of ore and a lower cost per pound of copper than have been realized at any time during the last few years.

Labor Conditions.—Early in 1907, as stated in our last annual report, contracts were entered into with labor unions for an advance in wages during the time when high prices prevailed for copper. In October the price having receded below the dividing line, wages in all departments of mining and smelting were reduced in accordance with the contracts, to the scale prevailing early in 1906.

Mines.—Considerable development was done during the year, largely lateral development; the only shaft deepened being the "High Ore," which was sunk 293 feet to a depth of 2,880 feet; but no development of the veins has been made below the 2,600 foot level.

At the time of the last annual report, the main Anaconda vein had been cut and levels driven on the 2,000 foot level of the St. Lawrence, 2,200 and 2,400 of the Anaconda, and the 2,200 of the Never Sweat. There has been practically no stoping done on these levels during the year past, but in March 1908 stoping at various points was commenced, as it is desirable now to mine a higher grade of ore than was done early in 1907. The South vein of the Anaconda has been opened on the 1,800, 2,000 and 2,200 foot levels, and, for the entire distance developed, the vein shows good width of ore of such a grade that we estimate one-half of it as shown now is smelting ore. In the St. Lawrence mine we have opened in the upper levels a new vein for a distance of 500 feet in length, showing ore of good width and good concentrating grade.

In the Diamond mine, the south vein mentioned in last year's report as having been opened on the 700, 900, 1,300 and 1,500 foot levels, we have since opened on the 1,600 foot level, and have extended drifts and completed raises showing the same satisfactory width and grade of ore as mentioned last year for a very considerable length; the tonnage exposed is considerably larger than at the close of 1906.

Electric locomotives have been installed on several important levels of the Anaconda group and are giving satisfactory results.

A new compressor building was erected at the Diamond mine and the plant is now in full operation. It contains four electrically driven air compressors, with a total capacity of 16,000 cubic feet of air per minute, all fitted with steam cylinders for use in case of failure of electric current. The Never Sweat compressor plant now consists of five compressors, with a capacity of 32,000 cubic feet of air per minute; two of the largest being electrically driven.

The mines of the company produced during the year 1,123,692 wet tons of ore.

Reduction Works.—The reduction works treated for all companies during the year 2,582,611 dry tons of ore and other cuperous material. Of this, 1,110,203 tons of ore from the mines; 2,966 tons of concentrates; 16,250 tons of slimes, and 24,226 tons of slag from the old works were treated for your company, from which there was produced 63,055,661 pounds of fine copper; 2,001,350 8-100 ounces of silver, and 8,290 391-1000 ounces of gold. These metals were all shipped in the form of anodes to eastern refineries.

Since February 1907 electric power has been used at the concentrator and in other departments of the works, the cost being much below that of steam for the same work. The large part of the electric power furnished at the works is brought in from the Missouri River, but during the year the Flint Creek water power and electric plant has been furnishing a considerable amount of current.

Subsidiary Departments.—The subsidiary departments show for the year profits of $581,282. The coal mines at Belt produced 233,298 tons of coal; 106,594 tons were shipped to other departments of the company; 110,592 tons were sold and 16,112 tons were used at the mines. The saw mills at Hamilton cut during the year 24,475,115 feet of lumber, of which 5,463,000 feet went into company use and 19,002,115 feet was sold commercially. The brick department at Anaconda has continued to increase its commercial trade.

Butte Anaconda & Pacific Railway Co.—The railway transported during the year 4,258,370 tons of ore and freight and 205,862 passengers. The gross earnings were $1,134,767; operating expenses, $880,009; taxes, interest and rental on leased lines, $93,972; net income, $160,786. A dividend of 6% on the capital stock was paid, amounting to $60,000 leaving the surplus profit for the year $100,786. Increase in the depreciation charged and a material reduction in rates charged the companies on ore, fuel and fluxes account for the decrease in profits.—V. 86, p. 1283.

United Copper Co.

President F. Aug. Heinze, New York, June 1 1908, says:

Status.—The prices of copper, zinc, lead, silver and coal, in the production of each of which your company is interested, have suffered unusually large reductions from the levels prevailing during the preceding year, and securities representative of properties producing these metals have dropped in proporton, and in some cases much more. Your company, being essentially a securities holding company engaged in the development and equipment of new properties, has suffered seriously; first, owing to the decline in the value of securities held, and, second, because the stringent and later timid money market has made it difficult to finance operations in precious metal mines with the prices of the products so depreciated.

At the time of the panic in October your company was engaged through its sub-companies in the construction of a 2,500-ton mill on the Ohio Copper Co.'s property at Lark, Utah; the erection of a 150-ton zinc mill on the La France Copper Co.'s mines in Butte, and the erection of a 150-ton lead concentrator in connection with the operations of the Stewart Mining Co. of Kellogg, Idaho, a control of each one of said corporations being owned by your company.

The price of lead, which was down as low as 3.65c. per lb., has already recovered to 4.35c., with indications pointing to a higher market shortly. Copper will, undoubtedly, slowly become firmer, and increase in value, though 13c. is by no means a figure at which many producers cannot make a handsome profit.

Your engineers figure that there are practically over 6,000,000 tons of ore in sight in the Ohio that will yield 24 lbs. of copper in bullion to the ton, at a cost per pound of copper not exceeding 9c. f. o. b. in New York. This tonnage makes no allowance for a considerable territory which is not yet developed.

Physical Properties.—In the La France Copper Co.'s mines in Butte there are over 250,000 tons of zinc lead ores which it was designed to treat in the new zinc mill. Results from the operation have not yet been as satisfactory as anticipated, but improvements are being made, and we hope shortly to overcome the difficulties heretofore encountered. The developments of gold, silver and copper ores in the La France mine have not realized expectations, although more recently some important new discoveries have been made.

The developments in the Stewart Mining Co.'s ground show in excess of 150,000 tons of silver lead ore which contains an average of about 9% lead and three-quarters of an oz. of silver for each per cent of lead. The Stewart vein is, in the judgment of your engineers, a continuation of the same great vein which has heretofore yielded such large financial results.

Expert examination of your holdings in coal in Pennsylvania, near Pittsburgh, have resulted in an estimate that the 10,000 acres there controlled, not more than 15 miles from the Ohio River, contain upward of 75,000,000 tons of Pittsburgh Vein coal. Properly equipped, this coal should yield under normal industrial conditions a profit of at least 50 cents per ton on a steam coal basis. The equipment would cost in the neighborhood of $1,000,000.

The ownership of your company in the Rimini gold dyke, near Helena, covers an area of 400 acres, which has been closely investigated and found to contain millions of tons of low-grade gold rock which can be treated at a profit of from 50c. to $1 50 per ton. Negotiations are now under way with interests desirous of equipping this property so as to make it a producer, the United Copper Co. to retain an interest in same.

Your corporation to-day controls more mineral products positively in sight than at any previous period of its history.

In addition to the control of the above-described properties, your company owns smaller blocks of securities in a number of other copper and lead-mining corporations, which are not herein specified in detail.

Dividends.—During 1907 dividends were paid on the preferred stock on May 15 of $150,000, and before the declaration of any dividend on the common stock, which later amounted to $2,362,500, $150,000 was set aside to provide for a second dividend on the preferred stock. The panic intervened; a number of banks in which your company had deposits temporarily closed their doors, and upon their re-opening your board found so many of your interests badly in need of money that it was confronted with the alternative of selling your securities in large quantities at much less than their fair value, or using the money previously set aside to assist in maintaining the enterprises in connection with which your company had large commitments. The latter was deemed the part of conservatism and therefore the second dividend on the preferred stock for 1907 was not declared payable and no dividend has since been paid on either the preferred or common stock. The preferred stock is cumulative as to dividends and I have no doubt that dividends will be resumed within the next year. (V. 84, p. 755; V. 85, p. 1345.)

Butte Coalition Mining Company.

Of this company's capital stock, $3,000,000, it is understood, was purchased in Oct. 1906 by the Boston & Montana Consolidated Copper & Silver Mining Co., one of the subsidiaries of the Amalgamated Copper Co. President T. F. Cole says in substance:

The mines of the subsidiary company, the Red Metal Mining Co., were all in operation during the first half of the year. At the end of June production at the Minnie Healey mine was interfered with by a mine fire affecting to a considerable extent this mine, as well as the adjoining mines of the Boston & Montana Co.

At the beginning of September, on account of the unsatisfactory condition of the copper trade, the production was curtailed to about 35% of the normal, and on Dec. 1 operations entirely ceased, owing to the closing of the Washoe Copper Co.'s smelter, where the large part of the ores produced by your company were treated.

The large proportion of the year's production was made from ores mined in the first six months, when the price of copper ruled at the highest point known in recent years; therefore it was deemed good business policy to mine ores of considerably lower grade than were mined in the previous year.

As the contract with the Washoe Copper Co. for the sale of our ores provides that final adjustment shall be made on the average selling price of the metal for the third calendar month after the month in which the ore is shipped, much of the copper produced from ores extracted while the price for the metal was ruling high was finally paid for at the very low price level reached in the latter months of the year. On account of the average yield per ton of ore being much below what we would consider normal, together with the high cost of the product made during the period of curtailment, and the very large expenditures for development during the year, the profits of the company were smaller than we anticipated they would be, and less than they will be even at a much lower average price for copper, if it should prevail in the future.

The Alice Gold & Silver Mining Co.'s property, the control of which is owned by your company, has not been operated during the year except in a small way by lessees.

The books and accounts of the Butte Coalition Mining Co., the Red Metal Mining Co. and the Alice Gold & Silver Mining Co. have been audited by Pogson, Peloubet & Co., and a balance sheet and income account of your company as prepared by them are appended.

General Manager A. C. Carson, under date of Butte, Mont., May 22 1908, says in part:

The mines operated during the year directly by the Red Metal Company were the Rarus, the Minnie Healy, the Tramway and the Corra. Other mining operations in property in which the Red Metal Mining Co. is co-owner with one or the other of the Amalgamated Copper Co.'s subsidiary companies have been carried on from convenient Amalgamated Company's plants and shafts, chief of which were the West Colusa, Pennsylvania, Leonard and Mountain View shafts of the Boston & Montana Co., the Parrot shaft of the Parrot Mining Co., working the Nipper mine, the Berkeley shaft of the Butte & Boston Mining Co., mining in Snohomish ground, and the Diamond shaft of the Anaconda Mining Co. in the Parnell mine.

All these mines, excepting the Minnie Healy, worked continuously during the year up to the middle of September, when, in common with all the Butte mines, production was reduced 65%, and on Dec. 1 production ceased entirely for the remainder of the year, the mines not re-opening until March 1 1908.

At the Rarus advantage was taken of the "shutdown" to push development work. The most important development as to quantity and grade of ore has been on the 16th level, where so far two of the main veins have been intersected by crosscuts, disclosing a rich ore-shoot of greater thickness and higher values than was found on any of the levels opened up above on the same vein.

The ore thus far opened up in the new Minnie Healy ground is exposed on the 13th level only, and in quantity and grade is entirely satisfactory and exceeds expectation. At the Corra mine the main shaft was sunk to the 18th level; and 1,119 lineal feet of drifts, raises and the crosscuts were driven.

Of the properties owned jointly with other companies, the West Colusa, Pennsylvania, Mountain View and Leonard of the Boston & Montana Co. furnished the principal part of the production from the ground owned in common. At the Nipper and Snohomish work has been confined to development, the ore shipments coming entirely from the exploiting drifts.

Recent developments by the Anaconda Copper Mining Co. (see report of that company above) made within the surface boundaries of the Parnell lode claim have exposed fine ore bodies on the 1,200 and 1,500-foot levels. Further development is being carried on to determine to which property the ownership of these ore bodies belongs. The Red Metal Mining Co. owns an undivided one-fourth of the Parnell claim, and should it prove that the Parnell has rights to a portion of this vein, it will mean a considerable addition to the value of this company's holdings.

Your surface construction expense is practically ended at these mines (Rarus-Tramway-Minnie Healy—Ed.) for years to come, and you have a plant as complete as possible in its elimination of expense of labor. The Rarus mine is in a physical condition with which we are well pleased; its cost for mining is reduced by $2 per ton, and its ore bodies are greater and richer than two years ago; the Tramway-Minnie Healy group of claims will soon become large producers; the Tramway equipment is in readiness for this production; and the mines owned in common with other companies are preparing for increased output this year.

During the period ending Dec. 31 1907 the mines of the company produced 377,240,462 tons of ore, yielding 51.47 lbs. of copper and 1.180 ozs. of silver per ton, making a total of 19,416,377 lbs. of fine copper, 444,809.51 ozs. of silver and 2,479.99 ozs. of gold.

Electrical Development Co. of Ontario, Limited.

(Report for 11½ Months ending Dec. 31 1907.)

President Henry M. Pellatt at the annual meeting held in Toronto, March 10 1908, said in substance:

General Results.—The present development of the company at Niagara Falls has been practically completed and the company is in possession of four units of electrical power, all of them in operation, having a capacity of more than 50,000 horse power. The company has been delivering 24 hour power over the transmission line of the Toronto & Niagara Power Co. since Jan. 14 to the Toronto Railway Co. and Toronto Electric Light Co., its chief consumers, and both of these companies have expressed complete satisfaction with the service. The transformation by said companies from steam power to electrical power from Niagara was not consummated until December last—so that our gross income was necessarily much less than it would have been if the transformation could have been effected immediately when the power was turned on Jan. 14 1907.

The operating expenses for the year were large in proportion to the revenue, owing to the fact that as construction was continued during the year operations have been attended with difficulty and expense. We hope to effect a considerable reduction in this item in the coming year, because the added business for 1908 can be done without any proportionate increase in the operating expenses. We have to face a deficiency in the present statement of $162,710, after charging full bond interest and loan interest against the receipts from operation.

I had hoped to be in a position to show that the company had an earning power in excess of its fixed charges. The following reasons explain why this has not been done:

(1) The Electric Light Co. has been unable to obtain new power contracts and increased business to the extent expected, because consumers desired to see if they were to receive cheaper power from the Government before entering upon new contracts. (2) the application of the Toronto Electric Light Co. for a supplementary charter was opposed by the Government and the City and delayed for four months, which prevented the company from obtaining necessary plant for its Niagara installation. (3) Other power consumers at Niagara Falls and at other points in Ontario decided not to make new commitments for power until the policy of the Government had been definitely settled. (See Ontario Power Co. in V. 86, p. 1347 also under "Industrials" below.) (4) Owing to our financial position, it was impossible to arrange certain contemplated extensions and developments of business which ought to have been revenue producing this present year (5) The natural hesitancy on the part of industrial communities to accept Niagara power with long distance transmission until its economic efficiency had been demonstrated

One-Half of Stock to be Preferred.—At a special meeting of shareholders held on Feb. 26 the by-law for the conversion of one-half of the $6,000,000 capital stock from ordinary to preference shares was passed.

For the reasons given, the company was unable to meet its bond interest on March 1 1908, amounting to $203,750, and it had become impossible to raise the money either at home or abroad, and therefore an agreement was arrived at with Mr. William Mackenzie on the terms set forth in the by-laws submitted to the special general meeting. Supplementary letters patent have been granted confirming the by-law and the National Trust Co. is now accepting surrenders and issuing certificates for the preference shares under the terms of the by-law, which will complete the matter so far as this company is concerned. (See original plan in V. 86, p. 605 and modification thereof under "Industrials" below.—Ed.)

The bond interest has been paid and the necessary moneys secured to enable the company to carry on its business and continue its operations.

Outlook.—With regard to the business of the company for the ensuing year, I have only to state that there is no doubt whatever that the earnings of the company will considerably exceed the amount necessary to pay the whole of its fixed charges.

RESULTS FOR 11½ MONTHS JAN. 14TH TO DEC. 31 1907.

|---|---|
| Total gross income | $366,321 |
| Operating expenses | 122,584 |
| Net income | $243,737 |
| Bond and loan interest accrued—(bond interest $384,716; loan interest $22,848) | 407,564 |
| Net loss from operation | $163,826 |

Note.—Allowing for "accrued rentals not paid," $6,250 and "unexpired insurance," $5,134, makes the net deficit $162,710 as per balance sheet in V. 86, p. 1098.

Montreal Light, Heat & Power Company.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending April 30 1908.)

President H. S. Holt says in substance

General Results.—The gross earnings and net profits, as also surplus earnings, show substantial and satisfactory increases over the previous year—the latter notwithstanding an increased dividend disbursement during the year of $170,000.

The surplus for the year, $627,467, added to surplus earnings from previous years' operations, brings the total surplus at the close of the year to $1,732,315, out of which the following appropriations, aggregating $318,422, have been made: Depreciation, $268,422; insurance fund, $50,000. In explanation of the large amount written off for depreciation, it is to be pointed out that the nature of the business being operated by your company necessitates a liberal provision in this respect

As will be noted by the balance sheet, the insurance fund has now at its credit $275,000, and the contingent account $200,000, which amounts, in the opinion of your directors, amply provide for the objects for which these funds were created.

Bonds.—During the year there were issued $525,000 of the company's 4½% bonds, due 1932, to repay the company 75% of expenditure made against extensions in the gas and electric departments, and $75,000 against retirement of debentures of like amount of the Royal Electric Co. redeemed and canceled. There were also issued $53,000 of the company's 5% bonds, due 1933, against redemption of maturing underlying 6% bonds of the Lachine Rapids Hydraulic & Land Co. In the same connection there were redeemed and canceled during the year $35,000 of the bonds of the 5% issue.

Additions and Extensions.—The extensive additions in the gas manufacturing department have progressed satisfactorily, and will be largely, if not altogether, completed during the coming year. A new retort house of 1,500,000 cubic feet capacity per diem has been completed and fully equipped; also modern equipment substituted in other parts of the plant, with a view to efficiency and economy of operation. Two gas holders are being erected, one of 1,000,000 cubic feet to replace holder of 500,000 cubic feet accidentally destroyed by explosion during the year, and the other of 3,000,000 cubic feet to provide the much-needed additional storage capacity necessitated by the largely increased demand for gas.

Your directors propose considerable extension during the coming year of the underground conduit system. Provision will be made in these conduits for the accommodation of present overhead lines, which it is the policy of your directors to place underground as fast as circumstances permit. We have completely remodeled and fire-proofed the Chenneville Street sub station.

Soulanges.—Your directors regret to report non-completion of this development as contemplated, due to failure on the part of the contractors to fulfill their contract. The development, however, is nearing completion, and your directors feel assured that the power therefrom will be available in ample time to take care of the fall load.

Reduction in Rates.—Prior to the close of the year your directors announced a material reduction in the rates for gas and electric lighting service. It will be the policy of your directors to further reduce rates from time to time as conditions warrant, with the object of delivering service to the consumer at the lowest possible cost.

Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

(Preliminary Report for Fiscal Year ending April 30 1908.)

President E. H. Harriman, under date of May 29 1908, says:

Compared with the operation of the preceding year, the receipts from the operation of steamers decreased $520,514 and receipts from all other sources increased $17,582, a net decrease of $502,932. There was a general falling off in business, and the shrinkage was augmented by the shortage in the coffee crop of about one-half the usual crop, the restriction of Japanese immigration, the extreme enforcement of the Chinese exclusion laws, and the competition for the existing traffic by a large ocean tonnage seeking employment.

Expenses for the operation of steamers, including charter paid for steamers, increased $34,102. This resulted from an increase in the price of coal and other supplies, and in charter hire, which in the preceding year was considerably lessened by the interruption of the regular service by the stranding of the S.S. "Mongolia" and "Manchuria." General expenses increased $7,687 and insurance increased $37,235, the result of an increase in rates. There was a decrease in agency expenses and all other expenses of $5,938. This left a net increase in expenses of $73,086. After making the usual chrages for depreciation, and general and extraordinary repairs of steamers, amounting to $397,494, the year's operations resulted in a deficit of $428,817, against a profit of $130,403 in the preceding year.

The sum of $397,494 was credited to the fund for depreciation and general and extraordinary repairs of steamers and charged to the year's expenses. After charging the fund with the payments made for its account, $1,780,129 remained to its credit at the close of the year.

The insurance on the company's steamers was renewed and $163,102, the premium chargeable to the year's operations, was charged to the year's expenses.

Pepper, writing at La Paz, Feb. 8, on the railroad situation at Bolivia and the contract of the Bolivian Government with the Speyer-National City Bank syndicate. Compare V. 83, p. 93.

The Bolivia Ry. Co. was incorporated in February 1907 under the law of Connecticut with $10,000,000 of authorized capital stock. The facts regarding its bond issues are not yet ready for publication.

The road will be opened for operation this summer from Viacho to Oruro, 130 miles. J. G. Metcalf, 35 Nassau St., is the President of the company

Calumet & Lac la Belle Traction & Power Co., Michigan.—Stock Offered.—Sidney M. Weil & Co., 615 Hartford Bldg., Chicago, and 25 Broad St., New York, are offering for sale a block of the $500,000 common stock of this Maine corporation, which, without bond issue or preferred stock, is building a 7-mile electric road from Calumet to Mohawk, through the richest copper-mining district of Michigan. The prospectus states that 23,000 people live adjoining the line. A ten-cent fare will be charged. The directors are:

President, Frank H. Getchell (director Keweenaw Savings Bank, Mohawk, Mich.); Vice-President, Max Ascher (banker), Milwaukee, Wis.; Treasurer, Arthur S. Friend (lawyer), Milwaukee, Wis; Secretary, Michael Weil, Chicago, Ill.; Paul P. Roehm (Mayor of Laurium, Mich.; director Merchants & Miners' Bank, Calumet, Mich.).

Canadian Pacific Ry.—Branch Completed.—The Toronto-Sudbury branch extending from a point near Sudbury to Kleinburg on the Ontario division, 226 miles, will, it is announced, be opened June 15. Through train service will be established between Toronto and Winnipeg, connecting at Winnipeg with main-line trains for the coast and intermediate points and with all branch lines. Compare V. 79, p. 1637; V. 85, p. 726.—V. 86, p. 1284, 720.

Charleston & Summerville Electric Railway, South Carolina.—New Stock Authorized.—The shareholders at a meeting held in Summerville, S. C., on May 20 ratified the plan proposed by the board of directors for making the common stock $300,000 and the preferred stock (7% cumulative) $100,000. The company, we are informed, has a promising future. The line when completed will extend from a point in Charleston to Summerville.

The company has outstanding $750,000 general mortgage 5% gold bonds of a total issue of $1,000,000, dated April 1 1905 and due April 1 1935, but redeemable any time on 60 days' notice at par and interest. Interest payable Oct. 1 and April 1 at office of Knickerbocker Trust Co., New York trustee. President, F. S. Wright; Secretary, George Tupper. Compare V. 86, p. 667.

Chicago Consolidated Traction Co.—Default.—The company defaulted June 1 in the payment of the semi-annual interest on its $6,750,000 4½% general mortgage bonds, of which the widow of Charles T. Yerkes is understood to hold $4,500,000. The default is believed to be preparatory to reorganization and merger with the Chicago Rys. Co. Henry A. Blair, it is stated, is a member of the bondholders' committee. Compare V. 86, p. 1284.

Chicago Junction Railways & Union Stock Yards Co.—Mortgage.—A mortgage has been filed to the Standard Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of $3,000,000 of 5% 20-year real estate improvement bonds, dated March 1 1908 and redeemable at 105 on any semi-annual interest day. See full particulars in report in V. 86, p. 664.

Chicago Railways.—Additional Bonds Sold.—N. W. Harris & Co. and the National City Bank jointly have purchased an additional $3,000,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, making the total amount purchased $8,000,000. The proceeds will enable the company to take advantage of the present low price prevailing for construction work, material, equipment, &c. The bonds will probably be offered to the public early next week.—V. 86, p. 1284, 1223.

Chicago Subway Co.—Deposits Under Plan.—It is announced that about $14,000,000 of the $17,000,000 Illinois Tunnel Co.'s bonds have actually been deposited with the United States Mortgage & Trust Co., and a further $1,000,000 is in transit, bringing the total amount assenting to the plan to about $15,000,000, with the prospects good for a practically unanimous response prior to July 1, when the time for deposit expires. See V. 86, p. 1284, 794.

Cincinnati New Orleans & Texas Pacific Ry.—Change in Director, &c.—Thomas C. Powell, already Vice-President, has been made Executive Officer in charge at Cincinnati. Fairfax Harrison has been elected a director to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mr. Murphy.

New Stock—Issue only $500,000.—A circular issued under date of April 20 offered to shareholders of record April 25 the right to subscribe at par for such amount of the $1,000,000 unissued preferred stock as the directors should on or before June 1 determine to issue. By vote of the board on May 29 this amount was fixed at $500,000, which will permit each stockholder subscribing to take one share for every ten shares of his present holdings, whether common or preferred. Compare V. 86, p. 1099.

Cuba Eastern RR.—Agreement Operative.—Notice is given by advertisement under date of June 3 that, by vote of the executive committee of the bondholders' committee of the Cuba Eastern RR. Co., the Northeastern Cuba RR. Co., the Cuba Eastern Terminals Co. and the Eastern RR. of Cuba, the protective agreement dated Jan. 24 1908 has been declared operative. Compare V. 86, p. 420.

Danbury & Harlem Traction Co.—Receivership Suit.—Three Philadelphia banks applied to the Superior Court at Bridgeport, Conn., on June 2 for a receiver for this partly built electric railway, for which A. N. Chandler & Co. of Philadelphia, who recently failed, acted as fiscal agents. Interest on the bonds is in default. The case will be heard June 9. See V. 83, p. 36, 818.

Delaware & Hudson Co.—Facts Regarding New Bond Issue.—This company applied on June 3 to the Public Service Commission, Second District, for authority to make the proposed mortgage to secure not exceeding $50,000,000 "first and refunding" bonds to mature 1943 and bear not over 4% interest. The Albany "Journal" of June 3 said'

The company expects to issue at once $20,000,000 face amount of bonds for the funding of the existing obligations of the company, and any residue is to be applied to future construction and improvement of the company's railroad. The company desires to use $6,500,000 bonds for the purpose of paying existing mortgage debts at or before their respective maturities, of funding its unsecured debt, and for borrowing money for its lawful corporate purposes. The company has submitted the opinion of a New York banker that the issue of bonds can probably be marketed at 92% of the par value.

The remaining $23,500,000 are to be reserved for issue from time to time. A part of the remaining $23,500,000 is to be used for new construction and equipment and for the acquisition of additional railroads and property. The company has in view extensive building and other plans for improvement in Albany and vicinity. It is also intended to double-track a considerable portion of the line.—V. 86, p. 981, 1223, 913

From the surplus as above in 1906 a dividend of 5% on the preferred stock ($38,175) was paid Aug. 1 1907. Action on the preferred dividend payable Aug. 1 next will be taken late this month.—V. 84, p. 1548.

Detroit Toledo & Ironton Ry.—Preferred Shareholders' Committee.—The holders of first and second preferred stock are notified that they will be permitted to deposit their certificates for mutual protection with the Guaranty Trust Co., 28 Nassau St., New York, on or before June 30 1908, under the terms of an agreement prepared by the following:

El Paso Electric Co.—New Stock for Controlled Company.—This company's subsidiary, the El Paso Electric Ry., is reported to have filed a certificate of increase of authorized issue of capital stock from $750,000 to $1,500,000.—V. 85, p. 1269.

Erie RR.—Bonds.—The Public Service Commission, Second District, has authorized the company to issue $1,000,000 bonds under its Buffalo & Southwestern Division second lien mortgage, in order to refund the $1,000,000 5s dated 1895 and due July 1 1908.—V. 86, p. 1224, 917.

Hocking Valley Ry.—Coal Property Segregated.—A press dispatch from Columbus, O., on May 21 said:

In compliance with the commodity clause of the Hepburn law, the Hocking Valley Ry. Co. has divested itself of the ownership of the Sunday Creek Coal Co. and now has no coal interests in the Hocking Valley or the West Virginia field. The stock of the company is now owned by the Central Trust Co. of New York and Jas. H. Hoyt of Cleveland is in financial charge of the company. The company has a capitalization of $4,000,000, of which $3,751,000 is outstanding. Practically all of this stock was owned by the Hocking Valley Ry. Co. until its transfer last week to the Central Trust Co. It has a bonded debt of $7,604,000. The railroad company guarantees the principal and interest of the following bonds of the Sunday Creek system: Kanawha & Hocking Coal & Coke Co., $3,038,000 first mortgage 5s; Continental Coal Co., $2,398,000 first mortgage 5s.

The advertisement calls attention to the remarkable record of this company, "which has been in successful operation since 1859 and has paid dividends aggregating 172%. For the past five years the net income of the road has been more than 100% in excess of interest charges, rentals, &c., and after payment of all charges the balance has each year been equal to more than 10% on the capital stock."—V. 86, p. 1344, 795.

Mankato (Minn.) Electric Traction Co.—Bond Issue.—This West Virginia corporation, having recently completed five miles of trolley line in Mankato, has filed a mortgage to the Northwestern Trust Co., St. Paul, as trustee, to secure an issue of $400,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each; amount outstanding $75,000.

Under the decree of the Court no additional receivers' certificates can be issued without providing that the proceeds of such issue shall be used to take up these certificates. Compare V. 86, p. 1285, 857, 668.—V. 86, p. 1285, 1159.

Missouri Pacific Ry.—Dividends Omitted—The directors, it is announced, have decided to omit the semi-annual dividend usually paid on June 30. Dividends at the rate of 5% per annum were paid from July 1901 to Jan. 1908, both inclusive, but the last distribution, 2½%, was made in stock. The statement of earnings for the nine months published last week showed a little over 3% earned on the stock. See V. 86, p. 1344, 1339.

President George J. Gould made the following statement: "The board of directors thought it a conservative policy not to pay a dividend at present, although the company's earnings would justify continuing on a 4% basis."—V. 86, p. 1344, 1339.

Mohawk Co.—Consolidation Desired.—The New York Central & Hudson River RR. Co. has applied to the New York Public Service Commission, Second District, for authority to transfer from the Mohawk Valley Co., which is controlled by the New York Central, the interests of the New York Central and the Central Railway Syndicate in the street railway companies of Rochester, Syracuse, Utica and Schenectady to a street railroad corporation, the purpose of which is to unite the operation of the various companies, thus bringing them under the supervision of the Public Service Commission.—V. 86, p. 421.

National Railways of Mexico.—Earnings.—In connection with the offering last week of $13,750,000 "prior lien 4½% sinking fund redeemable gold bonds, maturing July 1 1957 (which have been largely over-subscribed), Pablo Macedo, Chairman of the Board of Directors, furnished the following particulars:

The following securities and shares of this company will be forthwith issuable to the Mexican Government, to the public in exchange for securities and shares of the Mexican Central Ry. Co., Ltd., and National RR. Co. of Mexico called for deposit under the plan, and to meet the cash requirements of the readjustment, viz., about

|---|---|
| $64,000,000 prior lien 4½% bonds. | $28,833,000 4% first pref. shares. |
| $36,000,000 guar. gen. M. 4% bonds. | $122,793,000 5% second pref. shares |
| $74,847,000 common shares. | |

Excluded from the foregoing are about $22,300,000 "prior lien bonds" and about $11,300,000 "guaranteed general mortgage bonds," issuable with respect to Mexican Central Railway Co., Ltd., bonds now in the treasury of that company, and pledged to secure its obligations. (Compare V. 86, p. 919.)

Combined Receipts of National RR. Co. of Mexico and Mexican Central for Half-Year ending Dec. 31 1907 and for Year ending June 30 1907.

| | 6 mos. to Dec. 31 '07. | Year 1906-07. |
| Net earnings, including net income from other sources, amounted in U. S. gold | $4,341,540 | $8,173,872 |

Estimated Results for National Railway of Mexico (New Company) for Years ending June 30 1908 and 1909.

The Presidents of said companies have made the following estimates of the combined net receipts of the respective companies for the fiscal year ending June 30 1908 (8 months actual, 4 months estimated) and for the fiscal year ending June 30 1909. On the basis that all the securities called for deposit under the plan shall have been exchanged, I estimate that, after payment of the interest charge on the obligations of the above companies not so called for deposit, amounting to $3,932,430, the net earnings accruing to the National Railways (the new company) would be:

| | 1907-08. (United States Gold.) | 1908-09. |
| Gross earns. (July 1 1907 to Feb. 29 1908, actual) | $26,991,000 | $29,430,302 |
| Expenses | 17,979,000 | 19,185,000 |
| Net earns. (July 1 1907 to Feb. 29 1908, actual) | $9,012,000 | $10,245,302 |
| Interest on obligations not called for deposit | 3,932,430 | 3,932,430 |
| | $5,079,570 | $6,312,872 |
| Interest on $64,000,000 "prior lien bonds" issuable forthwith as above | 2,880,000 | 2,880,000 |
| Balance available for meeting the interest on the "guaranteed gen. mtge." 4% bonds and for dividends on the stock of the new company | $2,199,570 | $3,432,872 |

[Note.—The interest charges on the outstanding obligations, including taxes and rentals, of the National RR. of Mexico and Mexican Central Ry. for the fiscal year ending June 30 1908 amount to $7,664,166.]

The foregoing figures do not take into consideration any increased earnings from rate and tariff adjustments or economies and savings resulting from combining under one control the management of the two systems which I confidently anticipate will greatly increase the efficiency, and facilitate working, and considerably decrease the cost of operating the roads concerned. The presidents of the National and Central companies have estimated that the additional net earnings resulting from these causes, which are expected to begin to accrue from July 1 1908, will amount to a sum exceeding $2,000,000 U. S. gold per annum.

The company, through its holding of shares of National RR. Co. of Mexico, will control the Mexican International RR. Co. and the Interoceanic Ry. of Mexico (Acapulco to Vera Cruz), Ltd., and the total mileage of the ystem controlled by it will comprise the following railways:

| Miles and Gauge— | Standard. | Narrow. | Total. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Mexican Central Railway | 3,528 | ---- | 3,528 |
| National Railroad Co. of Mexico | 1,378 | 526 | 1,904 |
| Mexican International Railroad | 918 | ---- | 918 |
| Interoceanic Railway of Mexico | ---- | 736 | 736 |

Of the notes, $1,358,000 are outstanding, having been sold, it is understood, by Chandler Bros. & Co. and E. B. Smith & Co. of Philadelphia and Middendorf, Williams & Co. of Baltimore.

The notes are secured by deposit of stocks and bonds of controlled companies with the Baltimore Trust & Guarantee Co., trustee. They are subject to call at par on any interest date (March 1 and Sept. 1). Denominations, $1,000.—V. 86, p. 1330, 1225.

Oklahoma Central Ry.—Receiver.—A press dispatch states that the United States Court has appointed Asa E. Ramsay of the First National Bank of Muskogee receiver for the Oklahoma Central Ry., and N. A. Co. which mature July 1 1908 will be extended to July 1 1933, with interest at the rate of 4% per annum, payable semi-annually on Jan. 1 and July 1 of each year. The lien of the first mortgage dated July 1 1878 securing said bonds will continue unimpaired, and the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds as so extended will be specifically assumed by the Oregon Short Line RR. Co.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. give the following notice (see advertisement on another page):

On such deposit the undersigned will make a cash payment of $25 per bond and will issue temporary receipts exchangeable for bonds, endorsed with agreement of extension, and with new coupon sheets, when prepared. These bonds, like the earlier series issued with interest rates ranging from 3½ to 4½%, bear the unconditional guaranty as to principal and interest, of the Pennsylvania Company, whose $60,000,000 capital stock is owned by the Pennsylvania RR. See guaranty in V. 56, p. 604. Wabash RR.—Subsidiary Bankrupt.—See Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Ry. below.—V. 86, p. 1346, 1102.

Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Ry.—Receivership.—The receivership for the property, which was briefly referred to in last week's "Chronicle," was established at the instance of the Wabash RR. Co. and other creditors by Judge James S. Young of the United States Circuit Court. The receivers are Francis H. Skelding, President of the First National Bank of Pittsburgh, and Henry W. McMaster, General Superintendent of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Co.

Mr. Skelding was chosen because of his high standing among Pittsburgh financiers. Neither the First National Bank nor Mr. Skelding himself is in any way connected with the road or interested in its securities or stock.

The bill of complaint states that the company is insolvent and has defaulted on the payment of the principal and interest of a $300,000 7% note made Nov. 30 1906 to the Wabash RR. and is unable to meet the interest due June 1 1908 on the $30,200,000 first mortgage 4s.

The Wheeling & Lake Erie RR., most of whose stock is owned by the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Ry., will on Aug. 1 1908 have $8,000,000 of notes falling due, but these notes are guaranteed, principal and interest, by the Wabash RR. Co. (V. 81, p. 669, 778; V. 83, p. 1287). It is common talk, however, that any reorganization of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Ry. Co. is likely to include the Wheeling & Lake Erie.

Bondholders' Committees.—In view of the default June 1 the holders of the first mortgage bonds are urged to deposit their bonds at once with the Central Trust Co. of New York, or with the Old Colony Trust Co. It is understood that the committee represents a majority of the bonds and has the support of the banking interests which originally purchased these bonds from the company.

The following committee has been formed to protect and enforce the rights of the holders of said second mortgage bonds, under a deposit agreement designating the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, No. 28 Nassau St., New York City, and No. 33 Lombard St., London, Eng., as depositary for the committee, and Adolph Boissevain & Co., of Amsterdam, Holland, as agent of the depositary:

It is understood that the present refinery in operation here will be continued, it having been kept in the highest state of efficiency to the present moment, and having a capacity of 3,000 to 6,000 barrels a day.—V. 86, p. 793, 796.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Dissolution of Convertible Bond Syndicate.—The syndicate organized in February 1906 by J. P. Morgan & Co., Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Kidder, Peabody & Co. and Baring Bros. of London, to underwrite $100,000,000 4% 30-year convertible bonds was dissolved on June 1, or one month earlier than it would have expired by limitation (see V. 82, p. 394, 570; V. 84, p. 1489; V. 86, p. 171). The "Boston News Bureau" says:

Of the entire $100,000,000 bonds, but a trifle over $10,000,000 have been placed among investors (see V. 84, p. 273). The remaining $90,000,000 are still in the hands either of the primary or junior underwriters. A conservative estimate places the total amount of these bonds held by bankers in the United States at not exceeding $50,000,000. In the original allotment foreign underwriters were assigned, through Baring Brothers, $25,000,000 of the bonds. In the past four or five months foreign bankers and investors, attracted in part by the excellent showing of earnings made by the Telephone Co., have been buying up syndicate participations at prices fractionally under the board prices for the bonds. It is estimated that fully $15,000,000 of the bonds have been absorbed through this buying. The breaking up of the syndicate at this time is, in fact, an expression of confidence in the fundamental strength of the bond market. It is assumed that underwriters who have carried their bonds for the past 2½ years will not be in a hurry to sacrifice them at the present level of prices.

In January 1907 the price of bonds to underwriters was reduced from 94½ to 91 (V. 84, p. 160), and in June 1907 the company offered $21,925,200 new stock to stockholders, bringing the conversion rate down from 140 as first provided to 134 2-7 (V. 84, p. 1369).—V. 86, p. 1287, 1227.

Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania.—To Guarantee Bonds.—At a meeting on May 29 it was agreed to guarantee the principal and interest of the $1,000,000 first mortgage 5% bonds of the Maryland Telephone & Telegraph Co. dated Jan. 1 1899 and due Jan. 1 1929, subject to the right of the guarantor to retire the issue on any interest date at par and interest. The Maryland company also has outstanding $1,155,000 general mortgage 5s dated March 1 1903.—V. 85, p. 1464.

Boston Cape Cod & New York Canal Co.—Description of Proposed Canal.—The "Railroad Gazette" of New York for May 29 cites at considerable length a paper by Chief Engineer William Barclay Parsons regarding this company's plans.—V. 84, p. 805; V. 85, p. 470.

Brooklyn Ferry Co.—Foreclosure Sale.—This company's property is advertised to be sold at 189 Montague Street, Brooklyn, on June 25 in the foreclosure suit brought by the Knickerbocker Trust Co. as trustee. The advertisement says:

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is sold is $6,773,541, with interest thereon from Dec. 3 1906, together with plaintiff's costs, amounting to $591 25, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes and assessments and water rates and other liens, including first mortgage bonds to the aggregate of $1,000,000, subject to which the above-described property is to be sold, as provided in and by said judgment, is $1,100,000, with interest. Compare V. 86, p. 859.

Chicago Dock & Canal Co.—Bond Issue.—A mortgage has been made to the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago, as trustee, to secure an issue of $500,000 20-year 5% bonds. A Chicago paper says:

The property covered includes 903x297 feet on the north side of North Water Street, 57 feet east of St. Clair Street, Chicago. The proceeds are to be used to construct a 500 foot addition to the Furniture Exhibition Company's warehouse.—V. 80, p. 2160.

Columbus (O.) Citizens' Telephone Co.—Dividend Increased.—The company paid on June 1 a quarterly dividend of 1¼% on its $750,000 common stock, contrasting with 1% quarterly paid regularly for nearly three years past.

There are also authorized issues of $1,000,000 6% cumulative preferred stock and $750,000 first mortgage 5s; outstanding at last accounts, $75[illegible],000 preferred stock and $650,000 bonds.—V. 84, p. 999.

Columbus & Hocking Coal & Iron Co.—Report.—The results for the year ending March 31 were:

| Fiscal Year | Total Income. | Operating Expenses. | Net Earnings. | Interest Taxes, &c. | Bal., Sur. or Def. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|

| 1906-07 | 603,820 | 464,151 | 139,669 | 74,690 | sur. 64,979 |
| 1905-06 | 527,065 | 423,237 | 103,828 | 73,597 | sur. 30,231 |

Continental Paper Bag Co.—Decision Affirmed.—The United States Supreme Court on Monday decided in favor of the Eastern Paper Bag Co. the suit brought against the Continental Co. to restrain the use of the Liddell "self-opening bag" machine. President Herman Elsas says:

The decision will in no way affect the manufacturing and furnishing of paper bags by the Continental Paper Bag Co. This corporation owns 35 United States and foreign patents on paper bag machinery, comprising over 200 claims. The decision affects 3 claims on mechanism which have not been in use for several years. Compare V. 82, p. 103.

Corn Products Refining Co.—Merger Proposed—Official Circular.—The stockholders will vote June 29 on a proposition to merge the Corn Products Co. with the Corn Products Refining Co. President E. T. Bedford in a circular says:

Shortly after organization this company made an offer to the holders of stock of Corn Products Co. of two shares of this company's stock for three shares of the same class of Corn Products Co. stock.

This offer has been accepted by all the Corn Products Co. shareholders except 3,804.4 shares of preferred (about 1½%) and 6,887.05 shares of common (about 1½%). This small minority outstanding prevents the entire business being placed under a single management, entails a large and unnecessary expense of administration and makes it necessary to keep alive a fictitious capitalization and the payment of franchise taxes thereon. This item of taxes alone amounts to $7,400 per annum.

The directors of the two companies have accordingly entered into an agreement of merger, on precisely the same terms as the original offer, except that the Corn Products Co. preferred shareholders are to receive in addition $12 per share upon the stock coming to them, this being the amount of dividends which has been declared on the Corn Products Refining Co. preferred stock since the original offer was made.

We urgently advise your co-operation in this matter, the statute requiring the affirmative vote of two-thirds in amount of each class of stock before the merger can become effective. Full copies of the merger agreement may be obtained from the Title Guarantee & Trust Co., No. 176 Broadway, New York City, which is also authorized to receive stock of Corn Products Co. in exchange upon the terms stated in the agreement.—V. 86, p. 1222, 1162.

East Chicago & Indiana Harbor Water Co.—Control—Officers.—This company, recently organized by the C. H. Geist Co. of Chicago (which is offering on sale a block of the present outstanding issue of $300,000 first mortgage bonds described in V. 85, p. 1405; V. 86, p. 1103), has elected the following officers:

Leon A. Walters, President; C. H. Weak, Vice-President; C. W. Fox, Secretary; C. H. Geist, Treasurer; all of Chicago. Compare V. 86, p. 1103.

Edison Electric Illuminating Co., Boston.—Reduction in Rates Recommended.—The Massachusetts Gas & Electric Light Commission on June 1 recommended to the company:

(1) That on and after July 1 1908 the company offer to sell electricity for any use at a uniform price not to exceed 12 cents per kilowatt hour (the present rate, it is understood, to certain customers.—Ed.); (2) that on or before Oct. 1 1909 said uniform price shall be further reduced by such amount as may be approved by the Board, unless meantime the company shall show the Board good cause why such further reduction should not be made.

The company has agreed gradually to modify its contracts in accordance with the recommendation of the commission, but without prejudice to its rights in any future proceedings.—V. 85, p. 1207.

Electrical Development Co., Toronto.—Preferred Stock to Be 6% Cumulative Without Redemption Clause.—The shareholders at a meeting held in Toronto on May 29 ratified the proposition of the directors to make the preferred stock a 6% instead of a 5% stock, and to strike out the clause providing for the redemption of the shares at 110.

The "Financial Post" of Toronto for May 30 said:

When the control of the company was transferred to Mr. William Mackenzie and the Toronto Railway Co., it was agreed (see V. 86, p. 605) that the common shareholders would receive one preferred share for every two of common shares, such preferred share to bear 5% cumulative with a non-cumulative additional dividend of 1% for the first seven years, provided the (accumulated) surplus exceeded $100,000, such shares to be redeemable at 110. These conditions being unpopular with the old shareholders, Mr. William Mackenzie has agreed to make the preferred shares straight 6% cumulative shares and to remove the condition that they could be redeemed at 110.

The net earnings for April were $1,400 in excess of the amount required for bond interest. It is fully expected that this year the property will be able to earn the interest on its bonds. The Niagara St. Catharines & Toronto and the Canada Foundry Co. are two more recent customers. The bonds have been strong and active this week, doubtless as a result of the improved conditions. They closed on Friday at 81¼ asked and 79½ bid. [Compare report under "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.] V. 86, p. 1098, 797.

Fort Wayne (Ind.) Gas Co.—Foreclosure Decree.—Judge Anderson in Indiana on May 11 ordered the foreclosure sale of the company's property located in Fort Wayne, Anderson, Bluffton, Montpelier, &c., Ind., also its pumping stations, pipes, mains, gas wells, franchises and real estate to satisfy the judgment for $2,271,000 obtained by the Central Trust Co. of New York, the mortgage trustee. See also Ohio & Indiana Consolidated Natural & Illuminating Gas Co. in V. 86, p. 984.—V. 86, p. 54

General Electric Co.—New Director.—Vice-President B. E. Sunny has been elected to the board to succeed Frederick P. Fish, who retires in order to devote his time to the practice of law. Mr. Sunny was also recently elected a Vice-President of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—V. 86, p. 1157.

Granby Consolidated Mining, Smelting & Power Co., Ltd.—Dividends Resumed.—The directors on Wednesday declared "a dividend" of 2% on the $13,500,000 stock, payable June 30 to holders of record June 12. Quarterly dividends at the rate of 12% per annum were paid from September 1906 to September 1907, both inclusive. In December last distributions were suspended. The "Wall Street Journal" says:

At the present time the plant is running at full capacity, smelting 100,000 tons of ore a month, and extracting therefrom 2,500,000 pounds of copper. The ore is thus shown to run about 1¼ per cent of copper.—V. 86, p. 605.

Hackensack Meadows Co.—Reorganization and Consolidation.—See Newark Meadows Co. below.—V. 86, p. 423.

Hartford (Conn.) Electric Light Co.—New Stock.—The shareholders will vote June 10 on increasing the capital stock from $2,100,000 to $2,400,000, the new shares to be offered to shareholders at par.—V. 85, p. 1211.

Lindsay Light Co., Chicago.—Dividend Omitted.—The directors on June 1 decided not to pay a dividend at this time on the $200,000 capital stock (par $10). Secretary C. M. Wheeler is quoted as saying:

"The company was never in better financial condition than it is to-day, but earnings and trade conditions do not warrant the payment of dividends at this time, so the directors have deemed it prudent to defer payments temporarily." See V. 86, p. 859, 112.

Maryland Telephone & Telegraph Co.—First Mortgage Bonds Guaranteed Subject to Right to Call at Par and Interest.—See Bell Telephone Co. of Pennsylvania above.—V. 86, p. 288, 112.

Monongahela River Consolidated Coal & Coke Co.—Operations for Half-Year.—For six months ending April 30:

| 6 Mos. to Apr 30 | Total Tons. | Gross Earns. | Deductions Royalty. | Deprec. | Taxes. | Balance, 1st. Mtg. Surplus |
| 1908 | $3,254,055 | $1,128,717 | $226,028 | $179,031 | $60,000 | $253,170 $410,489 |

—V. 86, p. 724.

National Lead Co.—Acquisition.—This company and other creditors of the Heath & Milligan (paint) Mfg. Co. have taken over the management of that property.

The Court in bankruptcy approved the composition of 30c. on the dollar offered creditors. The report that the National Lead Co. will assume a $280,000 mortgage, while possibly true, is not confirmed.—V. 86, p. 915.

Newark (N. J.) Meadows Co.—New Company—Reorganization and Consolidation.—This company was incorporated March 31 under the laws of New Jersey with $1,500,000 authorized capital stock, pursuant to the plan for the reorganization and consolidation of the Hackensack Meadows Co. and the New Jersey Terminal Dock & Improvement Co. Over a majority of the old securities has assented to the plan and the securities of the new company are expected to be ready for delivery in about a month. The new mortgages have already been filed, the Standard Trust Co. of New York being trustee under both. The new bonds are dated April 1 1908. The plan in brief is as follows:

Depositary under plan, Standard Trust Co., 25 Broad St., New York City. Reorganization committee under agreement of Feb. 1 1907, William C. Lane, Frederick L. Eldridge and William M. Barnum.

For further particulars, see "Chronicle" as follows: Hackensack Meadows Co., V. 72, p. 1083; V. 73, p. 960; V. 74, p. 990, 1142; V. 86, p. 423. New Jersey Terminal Dock & Imp. Co., V. 81, p. 1378, 1668; V. 82, p. 1159; V. 84, p. 1310.

Notice was recently given to the holders of the undeposited bonds of the N. J. Terminal Dock & Impt. Co. that the property, having been sold under foreclosure, they would be paid their share of the proceeds on presentation of their bonds at the Standard Trust Co., New York.

New Jersey Terminal, Dock & Improvement Co.—Reorganization and Consolidation.—See Newark Meadows Co. below.—V. 84, p. 1310.

New York & Richmond Gas Co.—Listed.—The N. Y. Stock Exchange recently listed additional $164,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, issued on account of improvements and additions, making the total listed to date $1,389,000.—V. 86, p. 424.

Old Dominion Co. of Maine.—Final Decision Favorable to Lewisohn Heirs.—The United States Supreme Court on May 15 affirmed the decision of the lower Federal courts in favor of the heirs of Leonard Lewisohn in the suit brought by the Old Dominion Mining & Smelting Co. of New Jersey to recover one-half of the alleged illegal profits derived by the late Mr. Lewisohn and A. S. Bigelow of Boston in the organization in 1895 of the Old Dominion Copper Mining Co. of Baltimore.

A contrary view was taken by the Massachusetts State Supreme Court, its decision in December last awarding judgment against A. S. Bigelow, but an appeal is pending to the full bench of that court. A temporary injunction restraining the Massachusetts litigation has also been obtained in the New Jersey courts, but the Old Dominion Co. has carried the matter to a higher court. Compare V. 85, p. 1466, 1522.

Ontario Power Co., Niagara Falls, Ontario.—Bonds Offered.—Denison & Farnsworth, Boston, etc., are offering for sale $200,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds, dated Feb. 2 1903 and due Feb. 1 1943, but redeemable as a whole during first ten years, after notice, at 110 and interest. Amount outstanding $4,757,000. A sinking fund of $1 per h.p. sold and delivered becomes operative July 1 1909. Capital $5,000,000. A circular says (see further particulars as to enterprise in V. 82, p. 632 and V. 85, p. 226):

The present installation is 66,000 h. p. Cash investment over and above first mortgage bonds, $1,900,000. Further bonds can be issued for additions to the plant only under the most rigid restrictions, and it is believed that ultimately the first mortgage debt will not exceed $60 per horse-power. The intake works, one mile above Niagara Falls, on the Canadian side, are complete for the ultimate output; the power house is just below the Horse Shoe Fall, giving a drop of over 200 feet, and the transmission house is on the bluff above. The business of the company is remarkably diversified, and extends 160 miles on the east to Syracuse, where the street railway system has been successfully operated by this power since July 1906; it is also steadily extending westward, and will in all probability eventually serve the entire southwestern portion of Ontario.

In order that the people of Ontario may secure the benefits of the cheap power generated at Niagara Falls, the Ontario Government has recently closed a contract with this company to deliver, at the latter's plant, electric power which is to be transmitted to various municipalities on lines furnished by the Government (compare V. 86, p. 1347). This contract is exclusive up to the first 30,000 h. p., and for any further amount purchased, up to 100,000 h. p., the Government must take at least one-half from the Ontario Power Co.

Among the consumers of this power in the United States are the Lackawanna Steel Co., Buffalo & Lake Erie Traction Co., Erie RR., Rochester & Geneva RR., Lockport & Rochester RR. and the railway and lighting companies of West Seneca, Depew, Lancaster, Lockport, Batavia, Rochester, Auburn and Syracuse.

Net earnings for 1907 showed a good surplus over interest on the outstanding first mortgage bonds, and President Albright states that when the total power of the present installed capacity is delivered, the net income will be about two and one-half times the interest on the first mortgage bonds. The ratio of operating expenses to earnings is very low, and will materially decrease with the increase in delivery of power. The franchise is for fifty years from 1900, with the privilege of three renewals of twenty years each, or until 2010. (The bonds are quoted to us at 91¼ bid, 95 offered.—Ed.). V. 86, p. 1347.

Pure Oil Co.—New Directors, &c.—The following changes were recently announced:

W. C. McBride, President of the First National Bank of Washington, Pa., was elected a director; W. L. Curtis of Bradford, formerly European representative, was elected Vice-President, and E. H. Jennings, President of the Colonial Trust Co. and Columbia National Bank of Pittsburgh, was elected Chairman of the board of trustees and also Chairman of the Producers & Refiners' Oil Co., all succeeding the late Senator J. W. Lee.

New Stock.—The company has offered a limited amount of common stock at $6 50 per share, a premium of $1 50, also a limited amount of preferred at par, $100 per share. The amount of common stock now outstanding is $4,868,170 of preferred stock, $1,393,900.—V. 85, p. 472.

Sunday Creek Co.—Hocking Valley Interests Transferred to Central Trust Co.—New President.—See Hocking Valley Ry. above.—V. 85, p. 165.

Thompson-Starrett (Construction) Co.—Dividends Resumed on Common Stock.—Semi-annual distributions on the $1,000,000 common stock which were suspended last December have been resumed with the declaration of a dividend of 4%, payable July 1 1908 to stockholders of record June 24 1908. See V. 85, p. 1522, 1592.

United Copper Co.—Report.—See "Annual Reports."

New Directors.—A. B. Cook and Carlos Warfield of Butte and William J. Curtis of Sullivan & Cromwell, New York, counsel for the banking creditors of F. A. Heinze, have been elected directors to succeed Arthur P. Heinze, Otto C. Heinze and Max H. Schultze, who resigned.—V. 85, p. 1345.

United States Steel Corporation.—Reduction in Price of Steel Bars.—The leading steel manufacturers announced on June 2 a reduction from $32 to $28 per ton in the price of steel bars, manufacturers' stock, at Pittsburgh. Subsequently the price of bar iron was reduced from $30 to $27 per ton. Judge Gary, Chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, made the following statement:

Some of the smaller manufacturers of steel bars who have not been in consultation with the larger manufacturers have for some time been selling at about $1.40 to meet the iron bar competition, and some of the larger manufacturers have reached the decision that they will meet the conditions when and as required. This conforms to the views of the steel bar committee. It will not affect prices generally nor interfere with the movement in favor of the stability of business conditions.—V. 86, p. 1348, 1289.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—Time Extended to June 22.—The report made this week by the merchandise creditors' committee to the readjustment committee shows that, while "most satisfactory progress" has been made as far as the merchandise creditors are concerned (compare V. 86, p. 1228), only fair progress has been made as regards the obtaining of subscriptions from the stockholders. Both committees, however, expressed confidence that with further time they will be able to produce subscriptions for the $10,000,000 of new stock. The readjustment committee, therefore, has extended the time to produce such subscriptions to June 22. It is understood that unless subscriptions are furnished on that date, no further time will be given to the merchandise creditors' committee or the stockholders' committee, the alternative, it is understood, being foreclosure.

A circular dated June 4 says:

The merchandise creditors' committee has succeeded in securing subscriptions for new stock from the holders of all the merchandise debt except about $450,000. The advantage to the stockholders of this voluntary conversion into assenting stock, at par, of floating debt of such magnitude is manifest. The stockholders, the real owners of the property, who have the most at stake, have not done as well as the creditors, for thus far the stockholders have sent in subscriptions for only about one-half of the $6,000,000 of stock for which they are required to subscribe in order that the merchandise creditors' plan may become operative.

In order to enable small shareholders to take up their pro rata share of new stock, Dominick & Dominick, 115 Broadway, have agreed:

To take up and pay for the 25% of new stock to which each stockholder is entitled to subscribe, the latter to deposit his old stock as security for the loan in addition to paying 6% interest from July 1 1908 and $1 commission on each share of new stock purchased. Any stockholder not taking up his stock by July 1 1909 to be sold out.

As to the affiliations and purpose of the committee of merchandise creditors, George M. Verity, Secretary of the committee, recently made the following statement:

No member of the committee is connected, either directly or indirectly, with any of the Westinghouse companies or interested in any of them in any way save as a creditor. Each member of the committee represents one of the largest merchandise creditors, and their claims aggregate $1,750,000. Joseph W. March, Chairman of the committee, is Vice-President of the Standard Underground Cable Co. of Pittsburgh, Pa.; F. W. Roebling is Treasurer of the John A. Roebling's Sons Co. of Trenton, N. J.; C. R. Remington is Secretary of the American Electric Works of Phillipsdale, R. I.; A. Bournonville is a member of the firm of Alfred F. Moore of Philadelphia, Ga., and George M. Verity, Secretary of the committee, is President of the American Rolling Mill Co. of Middletown, Ohio.

These gentlemen, as large creditors, desire to preserve both the integrity of their claims and that of the Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co. as an industrial factor, and believe that this much-desired result can be accomplished through the consummation of the plan proposed by them for a readjustment of its financial interests, without either a sale or a drastic reorganization.—V. 86, p. 1105, 1228.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has not been at all active, transactions in fact being very largely of a professional character; but reports of heavy rains latterly in the Memphis district, together with the growing conviction that the increase in the acreage is comparatively small, have brought about some advance in prices. The Government report stated the condition on May 25th at 79.7%, against 70.5% on the same date last year, 84.6 in 1906, 77.2 in 1905, 83 in 1904 and 74.1 in 1903, with a 10-year average of 82.3, and putting the increase in acreage at only one-tenth of 1%. This, with other low estimates of the increase in area, was the signal for heavy and aggressive buying by Wall Street and other interests, which advanced prices sharply. The rivers in Texas, too, have been reported as high, and persistent reports of recent damage by rains and floods have had some effect. Latterly, moreover, the Weather Bureau at Washington has issued flood warnings for the Red River, pointing to a stage of some four to six feet above the flood mark at Shreveport, La., in about a week, with indications of moderate floods for the Mississippi from St. Louis southward. The impression in the trade is that the crop is generally backward, and reports from some parts of the South are to the effect that both European and New England spinners are buying even the low grades more freely, owing to a marked falling off, it is stated, in the supply of the better grades. New England mills have very generally resumed full time; this change for the better involving some 35,000 workers, though in a few exceptional instances there has been curtailing of output and even a cut of 10% in wages; the general tendency of the cotton goods market is considered to be towards improvement and there is also a widely prevalent belief that after a long period of curtailment and light trade the cotton mills of this country cannot be carrying very heavy supplies of the raw material. As to the speculation, the idea here is that prominent Wall Street interests are heavily long of the market, though they have latterly, it is said, been reducing their holdings. The fact that the outside public holds aloof from the speculation is regarded as a distinct drawback to any movement looking to the establishment of a higher range of prices, and a sudden falling off in business with Liverpool, owing to the Whitsuntide holidays, has also had a more or less unfavorable effect. There is a disposition among many, however, to consider the crop season backward, and this, with bullish statistics, the strong spot situation, improving trade in cotton goods and the powerful support lent to the long side by prominent Wall Street interests, has made sentiment quite bullish. A year ago supplies were comparatively liberal and the panic was ahead. Now stocks are relatively moderate and the belief is that business conditions in this country are slowly on the mend. To-day prices gave way, owing to clearing weather at the South and some Wall Street, Southern and general liquidation. Spot cotton has been quiet. Middling uplands closed at 11.40c., showing no change.

EGYPTIAN COTTON CROP.—Messrs. R. & O. Lindemann of Alexandria, under date of Friday, May 15, have advised their Boston agents, Messrs. L. H. A. Schwartz & Co., as follows:

Contrary to the cold weather which we have had in Alexandria during the first days of this month, the weather in the interior has been very favorable to the development of the young plants, which have made very satisfactory progress. There are complaints of insufficiency of water, but in general it would seem that water is plenty, and that there need be no apprehension, for the moment, on this score.

AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT REPORT ON ACREAGE, &c.—The Agricultural Department at Washington issued on June 2 its report on cotton conditions and acreage as follows:

The Crop-Reporting Board of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture finds, from reports of correspondents and agents of the Bureau, that the area planted to cotton in the United States this season (1908), including that already planted and expected to be planted, is about one-tenth of 1% (0.1%) greater than the area planted to cotton last year (1907), thus indicating an area of 32,081,000 acres, as compared with 32,060,000 acres planted last year, an increase of 21,000 acres.

The condition of the growing crop on May 25 was 79.7% of a normal, as compared with 70.5 and 84.6% at corresponding dates in 1907 and 1906, respectively, and 82.3%, the average of the condition on May 25 of the past ten years.

The following table shows, by States and for the United States, the estimated area in cotton in 1908, as compared with the area planted in 1907, in percents, the total area planted and to be planted in 1908 in acres, and the condition of the growing crop on May 25 of 1908, 1907 and 1906, and the average of the past ten years:

BREADSTUFFS

Friday, June 5 1908.

Prices for wheat flour have ruled steady during the week, with the trading still dull and mainly of a hand-to-mouth character. In fact, trading has been so dull that prices have been largely nominal. Intense dulness has prevailed also at the large centres of the Northwest and the Southwest, many reports showing that this has been the worst week on record during this crop season. The output of the mills is considerably smaller than at this time last year, but is far in excess of the demand. Mills, however, show no disposition to reduce prices. Rye flour and corn meal have been dull and steady.

Wheat at one time was strong, owing to rains at the Southwest and some reports of damage there, as well as adverse advices from some parts of the Northwest, while, to make matters worse, drought prevailed in southeastern Europe. Moreover, the receipts have been moderate and the available supply of American, according to Bradstreet's, fell off for the week 1,241,000 bushels, while the decrease in the world's supply was close to 5,000,000 bushels. This leaves the supply in the United States only 22,820,000 bushels, against 51,789,000 a year ago and 34,647,000 at this time in 1906. Reports of damage by Hessian fly in Kansas have not been without their effect, and some advices of a low condition in that State have been circulated. On the other hand, however, the European markets have been swayed more by comparatively liberal Argentine shipments than by reports of damage in America, and have therefore declined, though the actual total of world's exports has reached only 6,926,000 bushels, against 6,866,000 in the previous week and 9,666,000 in the same week last year. The Argentine shipments were 2,344,000, against 2,832,000 in the previous week and 2,216,000 for the same week last year, the vital point being, however, that these shipments seem to fully supply the European demand. Certainly, both English and Continental markets have been declining. On Thursday, too, came reports of beneficial rains in Russia, Roumania and Spain, where they have been badly needed. Some crop advices from the Northwest put the condition of spring wheat very high, even as high as 102 in Minnesota, 108.5 in North Dakota and 104.7 in South Dakota, conditions very much better than those of a year ago. The Ohio State report, too, gives the condition as 94%, against 92 in May and 77 a year ago. Then, although exporters bought to some extent early in the week, they have as a rule held aloof, and latterly the cash trade at the West has been dull, at sagging prices. Many are now awaiting the Government report which is to appear next week. It is believed that damage to the winter-wheat crop has been exaggerated, and that in any case the injury it may have suffered, not generally regarded as very serious, is likely to be offset by the excellent conditions prevailing in the spring-wheat section. In a word, weak European markets, European preference for Argentine rather than for American wheat at current prices, favorable conditions in the American spring-wheat section, and, it may be added, clearing weather in the Southwest of late, as well as the slowness of the cash trade, have all militated against attempts to raise prices, and the net changes for the week show a moderate fall. To-day, prices declined, owing to weak cables, favorable crop reports, bear hammering and liquidation. At one time a temporary rally occurred, on bullish crop reports from Missouri and covering of shorts.

Indian corn futures have shown more or less irregularity, but on the whole have been firmer, owing to excessive rains over some sections, the backwardness of the crop and the strength of the cash situation. High bids have been reported in parts of the West for corn for ten days' shipments. Commission houses have bought and there has been more or less covering of shorts. Cash interests have sold freely at times. For the first time on record a sale of 17,000 bushels of Argentine corn was made here on one day during the week. Glucose interests were the buyers, and it is said that further imports are likely if the high prices in this country continue. To-day prices declined on generally favorable weather, the depression in wheat, selling by cash interests and commission houses and a lack of support.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market advanced early in the week, influenced by the strength of corn, light receipts, covering of shorts and commission-house buying. Some of the crop reports, too, were unfavorable. Cash interest sold freely on the rise, however, causing a setback. In the main the crop reports have been favorable. The Ohio State reports put the condition at 89 against 71 a year ago. The reaction in wheat of late has also had some effect upon oats. To-day prices gave way with the rest of the list. Weather and crop reports were favorable in the main, cash interests sold and there was scattered liquidation.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climatological Division of the United States Weather Bureau, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the weather in the various States for the week ending June 1, summarizing them as follows:

The week ending June 1 was unseasonably cool and generally unfavorable on the north Pacific coast, in most of California, throughout the Plateau and Rocky Mountain regions, and in the upper Missouri and Red River of the North valleys, and freezing temperatures and frosts occurred in portions of the middle and southern Plateau and Rocky Mountain regions. From the lower Missouri Valley southward to the Gulf coast and Rio Grande Valley and in the districts eastward of the Mississippi River the temperature conditions were highly favorable.

Portions of the lower Missouri Valley suffered considerably from excessive rains. Limited areas in North Carolina and Arkansas need rain; elsewhere the moisture is generally ample.

Local storms of considerable severity were numerous generally throughout the northern districts during the latter part of the week.

There was ample sunshine in the Ohio Valley, Atlantic coast and central and east Gulf districts, and from Texas westward to the south Pacific coast, and [illegible] the usual amount of cloudiness in the Lake region and in the districts westward of the upper Mississippi Valley.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, June 5 1908.

The primary cotton-goods market has again shown a broadening tendency during the past week, and buyers generally have evinced a greater disposition to cover their fall requirements at the present level of prices. Business has been on a sufficiently large scale to insure the resumption of work at many mills where machinery has been standing idle or which have been running on only part time. Some further revisions of prices have been announced, and it would seem that these have now about been completed, and that the tendency in the near future will be towards a higher level. Indications of this are found in the fact that many manufacturers have refused to contract ahead at present values, and some have again during the week marked up goods from ¼ to ½c. above the prices prevailing last week. The course of the raw material market gives little encouragement to those who expect to be able to buy goods more cheaply than at present, and it is claimed that a reduction of 1½c. to 2c. per pound in the price of cotton would not be followed by any further declines in the goods market. The recovery in the market during the past few weeks from the low point of depression is considered to be due to the fact that conditions were readjusted more quickly and more drastically in this industry than in practically any other, and it is only natural, therefore, that it should be one of the first to feel the beneficial effect of returning confidence. Present indications are that from this time on business will continue to improve, and that the volume transacted during June will not only compare favorably with the past few years, but that the total business during the year will be a good deal larger than at one time seemed in any way probable. Duplicate ordering of men's and women's wear woolen and worsted goods has continued on a fairly active scale during the week.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending May 30 were 5,231 packages, valued at $274,772, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

| New York to May 30— | 1908 Week. | 1908 Since Jan. 1. | 1907 Week. | 1907 Since Jan. 1. |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $4,920,621 in 1908, against $5,717,369 in 1907.

Heavy brown drills and sheetings have been in moderately good demand and prices have now been advanced to a level where manufacturers can make a small profit instead of the loss they have recently had to sustain. Medium and light-weight sheetings are also higher and have been taken with some freedom by buyers who are anxious to cover their requirements before the market gets away from them. There have been a few more sales of light-weight sheetings to China and drills to India, but the Far Eastern trade generally has hardly been up to expectations; business with miscellaneous countries, on the other hand, shows some improvement. Some lines of bleached goods are slightly higher than they were a week ago, and business, following the recent revisions, has been so heavy that general advances are looked for shortly. Spot stocks of wide sheetings have been cleaned up and prices have been advanced. Denims, ticks and other coarse, colored cotton goods have been radically revised, the reductions ranging from 1c. to 1½c., following which there has been a material improvement in the demand; these were the last lines to be placed on a resaonable price basis in view of changed conditions, and the action of manufacturers has consequently cleared the atmosphere. Prints and ginghams have been very freely purchased at the low prices prevailing, and advances in the near future would not be at all surprising. The export demand for prints has been particularly good. Wide and narrow print cloths have held very firm, and converters have been buying fine goods quite freely for delivery as far ahead as next January.

WOOLEN GOODS.—The improvement that has taken place in the men's wear woolen and worsted goods market is evidenced by the fact that the largest interest is now running 55% of its looms, compared with only 32% fairly recently. While duplicate ordering of heavy-weights was not any larger than during the preceding week, the position of the market is decidedly more healthy, and manufacturers are more satisfied with the outlook. It would seem to be certain from the character of the orders coming in that this year woolens will do comparatively better than worsteds, as a large part of the duplicate business recently placed has been for woolen fancies. This is due in part to the fact that high-colored effects are in demand, and it is more easy to produce these in woolen fabrics than in worsteds. Some little business has already been done in light-weight goods for next spring, but there is a general desire on the part of agents to delay the opening of these as long as possible. Reordering of dress goods has continued, but the demand has fallen off to some slight extent, compared with the previous week. Buying for the most part has again been confined to broadcloths and striped patterns in woolen and worsted goods. It is stated that the 1909 worsted stylings will include high, fancy colorings in check effects and that stripes will not altogether disappear, although they will not be so much in evidence as at present.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The demand for imported woolen and worsted dress goods has been rather smaller, but it is believed that the slackness is only temporary. Silks have been irregular. Ribbons have been more active, but the volume of business is still small. Orders for linens are being placed with greater freedom. Burlaps show a declining tendency.

MUNICIPAL BOND SALES IN MAY.

The sales of municipal bonds made during May show a tendency towards improvement in the market for this class of security. We find in compiling our usual table for the month that $24,732,174 bonds have been sold. With the exception of 1904, when the output for the month of May was $55,110,016, owing to the sale of $37,000,000 bonds in that month by New York City, the aggregate for May 1908 surpasses that of the same month for any other year. We have also reported temporary loans to the amount of $40,428,123 and $1,885,541 Canadian debentures.

Although no public offering was made by New York City during the month, $131,000 3% 50-year corporate stock was purchased by the sinking fund. The city also sold $38,527,000 revenue bonds for current expenses and $400,000 for special purposes, but these, being temporary obligations repayable from taxes, we do not include them in our totals of the new bond issues.

The largest and no doubt most important sale of long-term bonds was made on May 1 by the city of Pittsburgh. Twelve issues of 4½% bonds, aggregating $3,124,700, were disposed of on that day at 104.819. Other important sales made during the month of May were as follows: Cleveland, Ohio, $1,075,000 4¼s and $810,000 5s; Allegheny County, Pa., $1,000,000 4s; Westchester County, N. Y. $1,000,000 4½s; Essex County, N. J, $800,000 4s; Minneapolis, Minn., $625,000 4s; Memphis, Tenn., $551,000 4½s; Camden, N. J., $510,000 4½s; Baltimore, Md., $500,000 3½s.

Our records show that very few issues were offered without success during the month. The largest issue offered and for which no satisfactory bids were received was $482,000 4s of Norfolk, Va.

The number of municipalities emitting bonds and the number of separate issues made during May 1908 were 256 and 378 respectively. This contrasts with 190 and 326 for April 1908 and with 225 and 313 for May 1907.

For comparative purposes we add the following table showing the aggregates for May and the five months for a series of years:

In the following table we give a list of May loans to the amount of $24,732,174 issued by 256 municipalities. In the case of each loan reference is made to the page in the "Chronicle" where an account of the sale is given.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

Politics have been the chief factor of a general character the past week, imparting more or less of apathy to Stock Exchange transactions. The torpor which has prevailed has been charged to the approaching Republican nominating Convention; not because there has been any uncertainty as to the party to be selected, but because the whole affair appears to have taken on such a peculiarly abnormal cast as to incline a considerable body of conservative classes to ponder the event transpiring, until filled with wonder and amazement over the accord of the claim made by our highest executive officer and developing facts. Our readers will remember that many months ago the President announced, and has since repeated the announcement, that the candidate to be selected by the Republican Convention would be one after his own heart, and the platform adopted would be fully up to and in accord with his views. Hence, in opposition to the conservative decisions of our courts, the call is for more legislation along the radical lines that have hitherto been followed. Never before has the head of an Administration sought or dared to seek to perpetuate itself or to dictate a successor, changing the character of our institutions, which has always been boastfully called a Government of the people, by the people, for the people, into a Government for the perpetuation of itself, while vain enough to be certain that its policies and opinions were sound and beneficient. A telegram from Chicago—which, at the moment, is, very naturally, the political storm centre—made public just as our Stock Exchange was closing on Wednesday, stating that the Republican platform was going to be ultra-conservative, lifted the torpor and gave a momentary spurt to the Wall Street market. This incident helps to confirm the intimacy between the transactions of the coming Convention and public affairs. Since the close on Wednesday night the apathy has been even more oppressive. Some increase in activity yesterday was at the expense of values.

In ordinary times, a request from a score of eminent citizens that the platform of an impending convention should affirm confidence in the judiciary and insist on the preservation of its independence would, indeed, appear superflous and much like an expression of a desire to reaffirm the Decalogue itself. But in important respects these, as we have said, are not ordinary times, and the appearance of so apparently strange a public manifesto strikingly proves again that they are not. In full party loyalty, these men recall a historical fact that the platform and candidate of the opposition party made an attack upon the courts, twelve years ago, and they add that they have reason to fear a like attack now. Every reader of newspapers knows that the attack referred to concerns the power to issue injunctions and that the inspiration for the attack comes from the labor unions. In bidding for the labor vote—which is less solid and potent than is imagined—both parties have been guilty, as is proved by the insistence upon workmen's compensation and anti-injunction bills, and during the last session a special message declared that the process of injunction had "sometimes been used heedlessly and unjustly" and that "some of the injunctions issued inflict grave and occasionally irreparable wrong upon those enjoined." No instance has been cited, and while it is true that it would be "indefensible for men to be enjoined from peacefully soliciting others to join a labor union, or, under any ordinary circumstances, from withdrawing from the service of any employer," it is also true that conduct so limited has never been objected to in a court-room or elsewhere.

What the unions want, on the contrary, is that as respects any procedure on their part, injunctions shall not "go;" they wish to be a specially excepted class, responsible only to themselves. Nor are they backward in asserting this wish. It is only a few weeks since Mr. Gompers served notice that labor is going to be its own judge what legislation is for its interests; that it expects Congress to promptly pass the bills which are decided upon, and that if there is any failure to do so, labor will rise and smite through the ballot-box. He also promptly made known his disapproval of the request proposed for the Chicago convention; most of the signers, he said, "are either the attorneys, representatives or beneficiaries of great corporations," and he announced that "we will fight it out at Chicago." Organized labor, therefore, expects to successfully use its old threat of throwing the balance of power for preventing any expression in favor of judicial independence. It is, consequently, well to have the issue sharply raised, and to have the people unmistakably reminded that what is worth having is worth standing for.

A London cable on Wednesday announced that about £5 million gold which Russia has been accumulating at that center for several months, through purchases by Russian agents, was shipped to St. Petersburg this week. The report says that this gold represents advances that were made by Russia to English banks for their relief during the crisis of last year. If this statement is true, it seems probable that such advances of gold were made against exchange drafts covering a long period, practically in the same way that the Bank of France effected the transfer of 15 million gold to the Bank of England last November. German bankers sustain quite intimate relations with those at St. Petersburg, and therefore it seems possible that they would be intermediaries in a movement of gold from London, through Berlin, to the Russian capital.

Assuming that the London gold that was shipped through Berlin was for St. Petersburg, as is suggested, the fact that there has recently been wide discrepancies between the reports of the Reichsbank's holdings of cash and the revised figures of such holdings that were later reported, appears to be accounted for; the London gold may have been recorded as an Imperial bank holding, when it was in transit to St. Petersburg, and when it was withdrawn the sum transferred may have been deducted. It would seem, therefore, that calculations as to the Reichsbank's gold holdings, upon which to base its ability to make a material reduction in its official discount rate, are misleading; not until the movement on Russian account shall have been completed will it be possible to trace accurately the gold into the Reichsbank which Berlin is importing.

Early in May the Comptroller of this city, Mr. Metz, sold a block of about 40 million revenue bonds, which, as was then reported, were laregly absorbed by foreign investors. These bonds will mature in October and later, and be paid with the proceeds of tax collections. It is reported that the bonds that were sold abroad were made payable in London at a fixed sterling rate of 4 83. Foreign bankers are interested in the probable method of settlement, because should sterling in our market be above such rate when the bonds mature, exchange must be procurred to remit in settlement; should the market rate for sterling be lower, it seems likely that payment will be effected in New York.

There was an advance on Tuesday of this week in the price for gold bars in London of 5/8 of a penny per ounce, to 77 shillings 10 7/8 pence, and on Wednesday the price of American eagles rose ½ a penny, to 76 shillings 5½ pence. The advance in bar gold was probably due to the successful competition for the metal by French bankers, who secured the whole of the 2½ million dollars Cape gold that was offered in the market; the rise in gold coin seems likely to have been due to purchases on Russian account. Hitherto no such obstruction as an important advance in gold in the London market has been interposed; the fact that an attempt is now made to obstruct export of bars and of coin would seem to indicate that the Bank of England is exerting its influence to hold in check further withdrawal of gold from London. Possibly the Bank is apprehensive lest a reduction in the official discount rate by the Bank of France, as the result of an increase of its enormous gold holdings, might compel a reduction of its own rate, now that the open market is 1% below the official figure, which reduction would have an unfavorable effect upon the deposit rate of the joint-stock banks.

With remarkable promptitude, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving has made arrangements for the production of an average of $4 millions per day of the emergency notes that were authorized by the Act of May 30 last. The plates for the notes are those which were originally prepared for printing bond secured issues; the legend indicating the character of the pledge for the notes has, however, been changed in the plate so as to show that the currency is secured by the pledge of United State bonds and other securities.

The formal organization on Tuesday of ten of the larger New York banks as a National Currency Association seems likely to encourage the prompt organization of such associations elsewhere throughout the country. Thus—with the preparations that have been made, as above noted, for the emission of the new currency and with the creation of associations for its distribution—there should, it would seem, be no apprehension of the development of conditions which could not be relieved by abundant supplies of currency.

The problem of unprofitable ferries comes up anew in the threat of the Brooklyn Ferry Co. to discontinue operation of at least some lines on the East River, and a special committee has made a preliminary report on the subject to the Board of Estimate. Alternative plans proposed are purchase of all the property by the city and subsequent operation; purchase of the terminal property at the foot of Broadway, Brooklyn, the present ferry company or a new one, organized for the purpose, to operate the ferries rental-free; or to make the last-named transaction with the further proviso that at the end of fifteen years the company will buy back the property at the price now paid.

The committee figures that complete municipalization would mean an annual loss of $661,500 and ought not to be seriously considered; the city could not operate as economically as the present company, and there would be an annual deficit, beside interest and sinking fund charges. The other plans would involve an annual loss of $162,000 to $214,500, according to whether all or only part of the terminals were taken over. There was no suggestion of offering these ferries to the city until they became unprofitable in at least a comparative degree; the burden of proof is, therefore, on those who wish to put on the municipality what nobody has use for. The plea offered for the unfortunate entry upon municipalization in case of the Staten Island ferry, namely that the city is under obligation to provide means of communication between its own boroughs, is one which has not great intrinsic strength, and can readily be pushed to cover any desired project; for example, while private capital is discouraged by the state of the law from going into subway building, there is a pressure of outcry now for a certain subway which is plainly unpromising as an investment; real estate along the proposed line would benefit, and it is argued that the city ought to "build up" itself and wait for population to bring returns.

The plea that the city has destroyed the ferries by providing better means of transit through bridges and tunnels is also not a very sound one. In response to a pressure and outcry which continually increased, the city built these newer means of transit, and if the city must now go on to supply improved means according to public desire, and must also take over properties which have been injured in the process, we shall tend more swiftly towards an unpleasant awakening from a delightful dream of getting things free. And where should the compensatory adjustment stop? Trade and property on Fulton Street in both boroughs, have been injuriously affected by these changes; why should the ferries be the only ones to have their disabilities ightened?

If the argument that the city ought to invest in railways in order that population and valuations may grow is at all good, it is sound to argue that the city should do something to prevent loss of business and consequent decline of values. It is urged that these ferries in question "must" be retained; that "failure to provide ferriage for trucks and wagons will drive certain manufacturing interests of the Eastern District to New Jersey, where new building sites are available and where communication with Manhattan by ferry is both easy and frequent." The importance of ferries to trucking is undeniable, and it may be that continuance of the factories in that portion of Brooklyn does depend on them, as suggested. This is the most forcible plea.

Yet there seems to be a middle course open between telling the ferry companies to solve their own problems and undertaking to solve their problems for them. Some temporary plan, like lowering the rentals or the tax valuation, or waiving rental outright for, say, five years, would avoid committing the city seriously and might answer the purpose. For we should not omit to take account of the fact that it is beyond anybody's forecast to see what effects the new tunnels and bridges will have upon Brooklyn and adjacent Long Island. To delay is therefore to gain time and light, and since the ferries are for the especial needs of trucking, is it not possible to provide a special truck ferry on a lower cost?

In view of the extent to which the present extraordinary depression in trade is due to governmental and legislative interference, it is highly encouraging to find our business men beginning to express themselves emphatically on the subject. At the annual dinner this week of the National Association of Piano Dealers of America, Mr. Martin W. Littleton made some excellent remarks apropos of the subject. Mr. Littleton spoke on what he termed the "anti-business, anti-corporate crusade abroad in the land." Mr. Littleton said he chose the subject, not for the purpose of attacking any particular public official, but because there seemed to be a disposition to regard property rights in stock and bond securities and in speculative ventures as being outside of the general rule which gives protection to private property. The average man of to-day, he declared, is not interested in the question as to who shall exercise the most authority—the State or the nation—but rather as to who will exercise the least. Allegiance to either, he argued, cannot remain grateful if the thing they were set up to protect is to be taken away by either. We have not seen a full report of the speech, but from a summary of it printed in the "New York Times" it is evident that Mr. Littleton is clearly of the opinion that personal and economic liberty alike are threatened by the present tendencies, these tendencies being due in a large measure to the fact that those who are active politically are appropriating the general demand for honesty as a part of their platform and policies, although correction of the evil called mainly for the substitution of honest for dishonest men and hence did not require any action by either the State or National Government. "Most of the evils discovered," Mr. Littleton said, "were evils with which the Government and the political bodies could have nothing to do. There was no reason why the Government should have been turned into a preacher of righteousness instead of a doer of justice." Mr. Littleton urged that instead of encouraging the people of the country to believe that the rights of an investor in corporate enterprises can be disregarded, they should be taught to understand that such rights are free from invasion by the Government and that no official, in whatever station, should project his personality so far beyond the limitation of his official duty as to cast a shadow upon any particular class of lawful development.

This week, too, Mr. E. C. Simmons, President of the Simmons Hardware Co. of St. Louis and Chairman of the Executive Board of the new National Prosperity Association, speaking at Oklahoma City before the convention of the commercial clubs and business interests of the State, likewise gave voice to some utterances which should command wide attention. Mr. Simmons made an earnest plea for the railroads. It will be recalled that when the National Prosperity Association was formed Mr. Simmons had something very striking to say on this same subject, but later, after a visit to the White House at Washington, it almost seemed as if he were getting ready to recant. It is encouraging to find that his views remain unchanged and that he feels more strongly convinced than ever that the railroads should receive better treatment. "Give the Railroads a Chance" was the text of his address. The country can have no prosperity unless the railroads participate in it, he urged. "There is no State in this Union that has ever realized great prosperity until it got railroads. When railroads cease to be prosperous—as they did last fall—general prosperity slumps and goes down with a dull thud. The greatest curse of the country at present is legislation, attempted and proposed, adverse to railroad interests. Almost every member of our various State legislatures is apparently trying to climb into the band wagon of popularity by looking around for a railroad head somewhere and then trying to hit it."

Mr. Simmons pointed out that for several years we have been busy in this country making it hard for the railroads, and he put the question as to whether the American sense of justice and equity should not now give the railroads an opportunity to adjust their business to the laws and regulative requirements that have been passed, before further laws are enacted or even agitation of further legislation by the politicians is encouraged. He thought the time was opportune for business men to take the position that every institution honestly conducted is entitled to earn a living, and that the owner of the property must be allowed a fair compensation on his investment. "Our railroad commissions and legislatures, by reason of exaggerated and misconceived ideas of what the Federal Government has desired to accomplish, have tried to outdo the President and Congress by enacting and enforcing restrictive legislation upon common carriers." He urged that transportation companies are now governed "within an inch of their lives," and insisted that it was time that the railroads be given a chance. He took occasion to state too that what he was saying was simply "an appeal to business men to apply business sense to the present agitation."

The International Harvester Co. has this week issued a very elaborate and comprehensive report, covering the whole of the period since its organization in 1902. The company is a consolidation of several concerns manufacturing agricultural machinery, among others the McCormick Harvesting Machine Co. and the Deering Harvester Co. In the wealth of detail which it contains, the report is modeled on that of the United States Steel Corporation, and it is easy to see in it the hand of Mr. George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co., who are so largely interested in the property. The company has a capitalization of $120,000,000, consisting of $60,000,000 of preferred stock and $60,000,000 common stock. This, the report tells us, represents $60,000,000 cash actually paid in for working capital and $60,000,000 for real estate, plants and physical inventories, which have been valued by independent appraisers in excess of that amount. No capital stock whatever, it is stated, was issued for good-will, patents, promotion fees or organization expenses. The company has no bonded or other funded debt, and its properties are stated to be free and unincumbered.

An idea of the magnitude of its business in the way of the sale of harvesting machinery, tillage implements, wagons, twine, steel products, fiber sales, &c., will be gained when we say that for the calendar year 1907 the aggregate of its sales reached $78,206,890. That its business has been expanding very rapidly is evident from the fact that two years before, in 1905, the aggregate of the sales was only $55,687,978. A feature of the company's business is its large export trade. Out of a total of $70,881,129 of sales of harvesting machinery, tillage implements, wagons and twine in 1907, $24,478,544 represented sales in foreign countries. Th s foreign trade, it is stated, is showing steady growth, notwithstanding the heavy increase of import duties imposed on American agricultural machinery by some of the foreign governments. The company is doing a large business in England, Central Europe, Russia, South America, Africa and Australia. Siberia and Argentine, it appears, are rapidly increasing their demands for agricultural implements. Maps are given in the report which show that the company has distributing agencies in practically all the civilized portions of the globe. An analysis of the sales brings out that the expansion in the foreign business has followed principally from the increased demand for the old line of harvesting machinery and tillage implements, while the increase in the domestic business has come from the development of the new lines of wagons, manure spreaders, gasoline engines, cream separators, &c. In the season of 1907 the company employed an average of 28,680 employees, and the payments in wages and salaries reached $21,763,-071.

The income statement for the twelve months makes a very satisfactory showing, notwithstanding that for various reasons operating costs were quite high. After deducting expenditures for ordinary repairs and maintenance and current experimental and patent outlays, net earnings for the twelve months amounted to $11,228,318. Out of this there was appropriated $2,007,821 for various reserves (for depreciation or extinguishment, contingent losses, &c.), and for renewals and minor improvements, leaving $9,220,497. Interest paid on purchase money obligations and current loans amounted to $1,140,039, leaving actual net profit of $8,080,457. The 7% dividends on the preferred shares called for only $4,200,000, and hence an undistributed surplus of $3,880,457 remained on the operations of the twelve months. The total undivided profits Dec. 31 1907 stood at $12,006,307. The report states that this surplus is composed solely of the balance of net earnings of the business during the five years of operations, after deducting dividend payments, the board of directors having charged off the surplus of $7,076,229 existing at organization Oct. 1 1902. The balance sheet for Dec. 31 shows $10,465,775 of bills payable outstanding and $5,593,443 of accounts payable; but the current assets aggregated no less than $93,159,-039—made up of $50,287,626 of goods and materials in inventories, $39,291,510 of farmers' and agents' notes and accounts receivable, and $3,573,894 of cash on hand.

Steel manufacturers have this week taken the action expected and reduced the prices of steel billets and certain classes of finished material, after having firmly resisted the declining tendency of prices all through the year. The reductions must be considered moderate, and in certain of the trade journals, like the "Iron Age", they are termed "adjustments". The "Age" says that the cut merely recognizes concessions which had been more or less openly made during recent weeks and which had been undermining confidence, both among sellers and among buyers. These price changes seemed inevitable after the marking down last week of the quotation for steel bars from $1.60 per hundred pounds to $1.40. The new price for steel billets is $25 per ton, as against the previous figure of $28. Pittsburgh sheet bars are marked down from $29 per ton to $27 and plates from $1.70 per 100 pounds to $1.60. We think the event is to be termed a favorable development rather than the reverse. There was not a little to be said in favor of the price policy which has been pursued during the last few months, under the leadership of the U. S. Steel Corporation. At the time when everything in the iron and steel trades was extremely buoyant the Steel corporation prevented an undue advance in quotations. Why, then, should it not now, at a time of great depression in these trades, seek to prevent an undue drop in values? The fact of the matter was, however, that consumers would not buy at the prevailing prices and looked upon a decline as inevitable in the end.

Whether the new scale of quotations will be any more likely to stimulate consumption rem ins to be seen. We notice that already a disposition exists to believe that further reductions will come later on, and therefore it is not worth while to lay in supplies. In the meantime production of pig iron continues at very low figures, the "Iron Age's" monthly compilation last week having made the output for May (31 days) 1,-163,997 tons, against 1,149,602 tons for April (30 days), showing a decline in the daily rate of production. In March (31 days) the output was 1,228,204 tons; in February (29 days), 1,077,740 tons, and in January (31 days) 1,045,250 tons. The weekly capacity of the active furnaces June 1 was only 260,584 tons, against 268,674 tons May 1. This, however, is an improvement as compared with Jan. 1, when the capacity was no more than 232,652 tons. A year ago, June 1 1907, the capacity was 523,220 tons. Present product, therefore, is only about 50% of what it was twelve months since.

Building operations in the United States during the month of May 1908, or, more properly speaking, plans arranged in that period for the erection of business or dwelling structures, do not make a wholly unfavorable comparison with the corresponding interval of former years. This is true notwithstanding the fact that the May 1908 permits call for an aggregate outlay 25.6% less than in the month of 1907, which, however, is an improvement over the showing made by preceding months of the year. After the extensive operations of the past few years, and more particularly of 1907 and 1906, when many buildings were erected in anticipation of a demand therefor, it is not surprising that a period of comparative inactivity should intervene. It is therefore likely that with general business on a fairly normal basis, construction work would have eased up somewhat; consequently with trade inactive pretty much all over the country, it is not unnatural that there should be a practical cessation of structural work in many sections.

When we come to consider the amount of work already in progress this year on earlier permits, or about to be put under way as a result of the May 1908 contracts, we are inclined to draw a less unfavorable deduction as to the general present situation. At Chicago, for instance, the outlay arranged for in May was over 6 million of dollars, or only 1.2% less than in 1907, and for the five months the aggregate cost covered by contracts reaches over 23 millions of dollars, or but 3¼% below the period of last year. Pittsburgh is another city making a very satisfactory showing, for, although the outlay arranged for up to the end of April was much less than last year, an increase of 163% occurred in May, which was sufficient to offset all the earlier decline. Operations at Denver have, furthermore, been greater each month of this year than in 1907 and the same is true in a measure of New Orleans, and a few smaller cities. And when the building activity in Greater New York the past two or three years is considered, the current year's exhibit, and especially the result for the latest month, is hardly to be taken as unsatisfactory, even though for the combined boroughs the May 1908 permits call for an expenditure of only $12,218,931, against $21,141,410 in the month of 1907, or a falling off of 42%; the decline in Manhattan alone being 47%, in Brooklyn 45% and in the Bronx 39%.

Combining the totals for all the cities for the five months we have an intended outlay of 163 millions this year against 248 millions in the similar period of 1907, or a decrease of about 34½%. Greater New York's operations during the like interval declned about 50%, the expenditure entailed by the permits issued having been $44,507,723 and $88,783,518, respectively, in the two years. In both instances the falling off is large, but, as intimated above, taking into account the anticipatory building of 1907 and 1906 the exhibit made, and especially that for May, is not a wholly unfavorable one.

Our foreign export trade in May, as indicated by the advance statement of shipments of leading articles, has of course continued upon the restricted scale so noticeable in March and April. The outflow of breadstuffs reached only $10,352,733, against $16,170,403 in May of 1907, the loss being ascribable in greatest part to the very marked shrinkage in shipments of corn, although flour exports were also much smaller than in the month a year ago. The outward movement of cotton was likewise less in both quantity and value than in the corresponding period of 1907, and provisions and cattle and hogs shipments showed a material decline. Mineral oil in fact was the only commodity covered by the advance statement in which any augmentation in the movement was indicated. The aggregate value of the various items to which reference is made was, furthermore, only $47,682,359, a total over 12½ millions of dollars less than for May of 1907. This loss does not, of course, fully measure the decline in our export trade in May as compared with the month a year ago, but decreases in shipments of other commodities have been relatively much less important in amount, so that the aggregate diminution in value of the May 1908 outward movement of goods is not likely to exceed 18 millions.

As regards imports of merchandise during the month, we are as yet in possession of no data except those furnished by the New York Custom House. As, however, about 60% of the aggregate imports of the country pass through this port, the figures we have should furnish a fairly good basis upon which to predicate the general result. For May this year the value of the inward movement of merchandise at New York was 50¼ millions, of dollars, against 72 millions in the month of 1907, or a decline of 21¾ millions. In addition to the foregoing, incomplete returns for Boston point to a falling off there of between four and five millions, and at most other points the inflow has also been smaller this year than a year ago. Altogether, then, it would seem to be conservative and safe to assume that the country's aggregate loss in imports this May as contrasted with the month a year ago has been at least 35 millions of dollars. On this basis, and taking into account the loss in exports, which we have estimated above at 18 millions, the net export balance in May would appear to have been approximately 25 millions of dollars, against 8¼ millions a year ago, increasing the fiscal year's 11 months' balance of exports to about 639 millions and the calendar year's 5 months' balance to 328 millions—both records for the periods covered.

The grain-crop situation in the United States, as indicated by the report of the Department of Agriculture for June 1, does not differ in any essential particular from what we premised it to be in our issue of May 30. The condition of each crop reported upon is placed higher than last year and higher than the average of recent years, and, moreover, of most grains it is stated that a greater area has been seeded. The present situation is especially in sharp contrast with this time a year ago, when growth had been materially checked by adverse weather conditions and when all the important cereals—in fact all forms of vegetation—were below the normal in development and promise. It does not follow, of course, that the current season has been ideal; it has been, however, so much more favorable thus far than 1907 as to encourage expectations of very satisfactory yields.

Interest in this June 1 report of the Department largely centres in wheat, the harvesting of the fall-sown portion of which has already commenced in some sections. The situation of this cereal, according to the report, appears to be distinctly satisfactory as compared with 1907, and favorable contrasted with other years. The general condition of winter wheat, at 86, exhibits a deterioration of 3 points during the month of May, but compares with only 77.4 on June 1 1907, 82.7 in 1906 (the bumper crop year) and a ten-year average of 81. Furthermore, in only four years in the last quarter-century has the condition of June 1 been higher than now. The more important producing States make, as a rule, a very favorable comparison. For example, in Kansas, where almost one-fifth of the winter-wheat area of the country is located, the condition, although 6 points lower than on May 1, stands at 78, against 60 on June 1 a year ago. Indiana, the State ranking next in area, shows 92, against 78, Ohio 92 against 80, Nebraska 86 against 80, Oklahoma 85 against 61, Texas 84 against 44 and Michigan 91 against 75. A particularly favorable feature of the situation in connection with the higher general average condition of winter wheat this year is that abandonment of area, due to winter killing, &c., has been less than usual. The original seeding last fall comprehended 31,069,000 acres, or nearly 2% less than the area sown in 1906. The abandoned territory, however, comprises only 1 1-3 million acres, as contrasted with over 3½ millions last spring, leaving the area now under crops 29,751,000 acres, or 5.8% more than the harvested area of last year.

Spring-wheat area, according to the Department, has been increased on the average 3.7%, making the amount of land under that crop about 17,710,000 acres this year, against 17,079,000 acres in 1907. In common with winter wheat, the general condition of the crop was on June 1 much higher than at the same time a year ago, being stated at 95, against 88.7 and a ten-year average of 93.2. Combining the area for the two varieties of wheat, we have a total of 47,461,000 acres this year, or 5% more than in 1907, so, other things being equal, we are permitted to expect a yield that much greater (5%) this year. But other things are not equal. The wheat crop as a whole, according to the Department's report, was on June 1 fully 10% better conditioned this year than last. When we consider these two facts, in conjunction with probably average seasons from now on, the outlook seems bright for a heavy yield—approximating close to the record made in 1901 (748,460,218 bushels). This idea or probability is strengthened when we reflect that in 1906, from an area slightly less than now reported, and with June 1 condition about 2 points lower, a harvest of 735,260,970 bushels was secured. In earlier districts, where harvesting is already in progress, the yield is stated to be turning out very materially greater than in 1907.

Concurrent with the excellent wheat outlook in the United States, the prospects in Canada are becoming from year to year a more interesting feature. We say interesting, because good crops there contribute in considerable measure to an increase of freight offering for our Western railroads, while also they are of importance as an item in the total contribution of the American continent to the world's supply of wheat, intimately connected with our own growth. In Western sections of Canada acreage has been largely increased, the plant is well ahead of last year in point of maturity, and the present condition is such as seemingly to warrant, with fairly normal seasons, a yield appreciably in excess of any former season. Reports from Eastern portions of the country are of like import, the Ontario Department of Agriculture intimating that fall wheat wintered well, and very little of it will have to be plowed up. It seems fair, under the circumstances, to assume that the aggregate Canadian wheat yield of 1908 will well exceed the record of 132,705,000 bushels made in 1906.

As regards oats, the acreage in the United States is reported by the Department to have been decreased 0.6%, but the average condition is given at 92.9, against 81.6 June 1 1907, 85.9 June 1 1906 and a ten-year average of 88.9. The indications, therefore, at the moment seem to be for a very full, if not a record, yield. Seeding of barley this spring embraced an area 3.9% greater than a year ago, and the condition June 1, as reported, is well above last year. Rye, at 91.3 this year, compares with 88.1 in 1907 and a ten-year average of 90. The condition of hay lands and pastures on June 1 was much better than on May 1 this year or June 1 1907.

State reports in the main confirm the conclusions we have drawn from the Department's report, and indicate that corn planting, while delayed by rain in many sections, is, on the whole, more advanced than a year ago at this time. Moreover, where corn is up the stands are much better generally than in 1907.

As regards the crop situation abroad, there is little, if anything, to be added to what we said two weeks ago. In southeastern Europe and in portions of Russia and the Danube Valley, damage to the wheat crop has resulted from drought. In the remainder of Europe the outlook seems to continue quite satisfactory. Recent rains have been beneficial in India and Australia, and the situation continues favorable in Argentina. To sum up, the present outlook seems to encourage expectations of crops sufficiently great to meet the world's requirement and leave something to add to surplus stock.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week, and open market rates were easy at all centres.

The notable feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was the small increase of $1,716,900 in cash, while the estimates of the week's gain in this item indicated an increase of 11 1-5 millions; the difference between the estimated and the actual gain in cash was doubtless partly due to the fact that the trust companies absorbed about 3¾ millions for the purpose of augmenting their cash in vault, in compliance with the requirement of the State law, which made necessary an increase to ten per cent in such cash reserve by July 1. The reserve of the banks showed a gain of $3,012,775 to $49,275,725; the gain in reserve, computed upon deposits, less those of public funds, was $3,007,350 to $54,237,875. Loans decreased $7,662,700 and deposits decreased $5,183,500.

The pendency of the assembling of the National Republican Convention for the nomination of a candidate for the Presidency, and the appointment of receivers for one of the smaller roads of a trunk-line railroad system, contributed to the development of a condition of almost complete inertia on the Stock Exchange during the week, which was reflected in the market for money. Call loans were quoted at rates unchanged from those which have been recorded during the past fortnight; short-time loans and even those which would mature after the beginning of the crop-moving season were apparently not wanted, and maturities that would carry the borrowers to the end of the current and into the new year seemed to be in only moderate request. The fact that the trust companies of this city would require nearly 30 millions from the banks for the reinforcement of their cash reserve in vault, to an amount equal to 10% of their deposits, had no stimulating influence on the market, and neither did the prospect that provision might have to be made by the Treasury through a recall of public deposits, for the payment, at maturity on Aug. 1, of some portion of the Spanish War debt of 64 millions. The only feature of the market that seemed worthy of note was an active demand for commercial paper. This was in request partly because there were practically few other forms of investment, except high-grade railroad and industrial stocks and bonds, that were of such a substantial character as to inspire confidence.

Money on call, representing bank and trust company balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 1¾% and at 1½%, averaging about 1¾%. The above-mentioned institutions loaned at 1½% as the minimum. Time loans were quoted at 2@2¼% for sixty and 2¼@2½% for ninety days, 2½@2¾% for four, 3@3¼% for five and 3½% for six months and 4@4¼% for over-the-year. Heretofore commercial paper classed as "good" has not been generally accepted by buyers, for they preferred choice names; now, however, the demand for paper is so urgent and the supply of high-grade so comparatively small, that all classes are in request, without discrimination against any that will bear close examination. The better inquiry has resulted in the establishment of fractionally easier rates; some short paper of an exceptional character is now sold at 3½@3¾%, while the recently ruling rate was 3¾@4%; 4@4½% is quoted for choice to "good" sixty to ninety-day endorsed bills receivable and for four months' single names, and 4½@5% for six months' unendorsed notes.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills at London 1½@1⅝%. The open market rate at Paris is 1⅝%@1¾ and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3⅝%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England lost £204,568 bullion during the week and held £37,993,635 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the loss was due almost wholly to shipments to the interior of Great Britain. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £18,000 (of which £7,000 from Portugal and £11,000 from Australia); exports, £25,000 to South America, and shipments of £198,000 net to the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was lower this week, influenced chiefly by speculative selling of short sterling, which was based upon expectations of subscriptions in London for a considerable amount of Union Pacific bonds. On Wednesday, however, the fall was temporarily checked, because of evidences of an oversold market, and the tone became dull at the recovery. The semi-monthly settlement on the London Stock Exchange seemed to have little influence, and the decline in cables indicated a small American account. Easy discounts in London contributed to a fairly firm market for long sterling. The drawing of long francs early in the week, which had been encouraged by the low discounts at Paris, was later checked by the maintenance of a strong tone for short. The absence of engagements of gold for export to Berlin by Thursday's German steamer, gave rise to the impression that the movement of the metal had been suspended and short sterling was affected thereby, though apparently, without good reason, for exports of gold to Germany, it is understood, are not conducted through exchange operations, such movement still being effected by cable order.

There was a shipment on Tuesday of $1,600,000 gold coin to Berlin, making $38,860,000 thus far in the movement to Europe, which began in April. There are no indications that the Reichsbank's requirements for our gold have been satisfied; the comparatively high discount rate is the chief attraction for the metal and so long as that is maintained, it seems likely that exports will continue.

Compared with Friday of last week the market was steady on Saturday at an advance of 5 points for long to 4 8545@4 8555, of 5 points for short to 4 8690@4 87 and of 10 points for cables to 4 8720@4 8730. On Monday long fell 10 points to 4 8535@4 8545, short 5 points to 4 8690@4 8695 and cables 10 points to 4 8710@4 8725. On Tuesday long rose 5 points to 4 8540@4 8545, while short fell 5 points to 4 8685@4 8690 and cables 5 points to 4 8710@4 8720. On Wednesday long declined 15 points to 4 8525@4 8540, short 15 points to 4 8670@4 8680 and cables 10 points to 4 8695@4 8710. On Thursday long rose 5 points to 4 8525@4 8550, short 10 points to 4 8680@4 8690 and cables 10 points to 4 8705@4 8715. On Friday long was 10 points and short and cables 5 points lower.

A NEW FACTOR IN ENGLISH POLITICS.

A very singular controversy has been suddenly injected into the summer politics of England, and in a very singular way. As everybody knows, there has been in progress for some years in England a vigorous, and at times violent, campaign for female suffrage. In itself, a movement of this sort is not new, even to England. The lawyers found it necessary to provide expressly in the Reform Bill of 1832 that women should not enjoy the franchise. John Stuart Mill urged a motion in Parliament, as long ago as 1867, to allow female suffrage at the Parliamentary elections, and it is said that measures of this character were regularly introduced in Parliament at every session during a period of some twenty years thereafter. All of such motions were, however, rejected at the end.

It is not clear why the agitation should have been resumed these past few years with such particular vehemence; but what is certain is that the methods employed by the agitators were such as have not often before been witnessed in the politics of England or of any other country. Two years ago the demonstrations of what were popularly called the "suffragettes" became both an amusing and an exasperating incident of the day. Ministerial speakers at political meetings were "heckled" by women in the audience, who put crucial questions and at times became violent in their manifestations.

The present Premier, Mr. Asquith, was one of the notable victims of this process. During the early summer months groups of women, not by any means of the lower classes, actually attempted to force their way on to the floor of Parliament, and in one case, with great reluctance on the part of the governing powers, had to be removed by the police and locked up for breach of the peace. During the recent unsuccessful canvass of Mr. Winston Churchill for re-election to Parliament, in a warmly-contested borough, after his acceptance of a Ministerial seat, he was followed to every place where he addressed the voters by a woman in a carriage, who persisted in ringing a bell with great vigor while the speech was going on. Needless to say, under such circumstances the speech was at an end, for the speaker could not be heard and it would hardly have done to call in the police and arrest a woman in the midst of a political campaign. The state of feeling among many advocates of this change in the British suffrage law may be judged from the fact that one of its well known defenders, taking up the familiar argument that women cannot claim the right to vote because they are exempt from military service, met the argument boldly by asserting that if women were allowed a few years of training, a regiment of that sex might easily hold its own in the battlefield against a similar force of men. This article was actually published in an English review.

No one had seriously supposed that the new British Premier would, at this juncture at any rate, seriously commit himself about the agitation. Yet surprises are the atmosphere of politics, and a week or two ago, while receiving a deputation of Members of Parliament who had pledged themselves to woman suffrage, Mr. Asquith made a reply which instantly set the British political community in commotion. In effect, the Premier's answer seems to have been that, while he could not definitely favor female suffrage legislation on his own account, he was ready to give assurances that, if a change of the sort were to be approved by a majority of the Ministerial Party, he would impose no obstacle to its incorporation into a Government bill.

From the English point of view, this declaration could not be styled final. It was not made in Parliament, nor even in the House of Commons. Nevertheless, it was a quasi-declaration of policy, and was accepted as such by both parties to the controversy. Expressed thus indefinitely, it is natural that the Premier's proposed concessions should have been differently received in different quarters. Lady Carlisle, who has been conspicuous in the movement to secure voting rights for women, is said to have begged what was called a "meeting of radical ladies" to have faith in Mr. Asquith. The radical ladies did not appear to take this advice to heart, and received the Premier's assurances with an angry retort that he was endeavoring to put them off with unmeaning promises. On the other hand, the press—notably the London "Spectator"—has in many instances assumed that Mr. Asquith was deliberately opening the door to the conferring of full suffrage rights on women, and that this particular reform would be made a part of the general plan for reform of the British suffrage, which is already regarded as an inevitable part of the Government's program. Thus regarded, the incident has met with a variety of comment, mostly hostile.

As a practical question it would have to be asked, first, how Mr. Asquith's Ministry would regard such a proposition, how it would be regarded in the business community and how by the labor vote. These are more or less doubtful questions, which depend to some degree on the course of events—not least of all on the question, how far the woman suffrage agitators in Great Britain can make their demonstrations effective through influencing votes for or against the party in other directions. At the moment, one is inclined to say that adoption of so revolutionary a change in voting methods would not commend itself to so conservative and deliberate a political community as Great Britain.

The incident, nevertheless, attracts considerable interest to the general question of female suffrage. This very month a constitutional amendment, with such an extension of the suffrage in view, was defeated in the State of Oregon by what is estimated as a twenty-five thousand adverse majority. The Oregon proposition was not an innovation. Female voting was adopted by Colorado in 1893, by Utah in 1895 and by Idaho in 1896. It will be observed that those were years during which, in the States or Territories referred to, the Populist Party was in the ascendancy. But this does not wholly sum up the extent to which women are in this country allowed to vote. In something like twenty-four States, women have long enjoyed the lawful privilege of voting for members of Boards of Education; in some of the Western States, and in Louisiana, the right of voting on certain municipal questions has been conferred on them. Female suffrage has also been adopted outside the United States in such young communities, naturally prone to political experiment, as New Zealand and Australia.

It may be asked, in view of the extent to which woman suffrage has thus been fully or partially permitted, what have been the tangible results of the innovation? The question is not easy to answer, especially in this country. It will be noticed, from the dates given above, that the new order of things in suffrage was adopted in these far Western communities at a time when something like a political revolution was in any case impending. That such a state as Colorado is displaying in its political attitude of to-day a soberness and sanity which contrasts most advantageously with its attitude in the early nineties, no one is likely to deny. It might, doubtless, be alleged that the recourse to woman suffrage must have played a part in this political regeneration.

Yet, as so often happens in such cases, there were sufficient other reasons to have caused all the phenomena which occurred. Certainly, the political scientist who examines the history of the past ten or fifteen years in the Rocky Mountain States will primarily ascribe the new conservatism among the voters to the increased prosperity of the communities, their progress in general trade, their increasing wealth, and their good fortune in the mining and agricultural results of the period. These fundamental influences would of themselves sufficiently explain the change in political attitude, and we are not aware that any political writer of repute has ascribed this regeneration to the adoption of female suffrage. But it must be manifest, at the same time, that when an innovation of this sort was adopted on the very eve of a revolutionary change in political conditions from other causes, it becomes impossible to measure and test effectively the real results of the experiment itself.

We imagine, however, that the general public in the United States, as in Great Britain, will adhere to the position, long maintained, that the right of suffrage is not a natural and inalienable privilege, but is restricted with a view to the interests of the community at large, and that the privilege of active participation in politics is withheld from women with a view not less to their own advantage than to the advantage of the general public. Further than this, the possibilities of overwhelming changes in political conditions, which might be involved in the general adoption of a policy of this sort, are likely to stand in the way of its adoption by the conservative communities.

THE DISINTEGRATION OF THE LOCAL STREET RAILWAY SYSTEM.

An experience in government interference with local street railway affairs is being enacted in this city which should attract the attention of the whole country. Up to about a year ago we were getting along passably well in this city, and particularly in Manhattan Borough, with local transit matters. To be sure, facilities were not equal to the needs of the city's population, and during the busy hours, early in the morning and late in the afternoon, there was the usual over-crowding and congestion and the usual complaints on that score. But at least the situation in that respect had been greatly relieved as a result of the opening a few years previously of the very extensive system of subway lines and the excellent service rendered by the same. Given time, there was prospect of still further improvement from the same source with the opening of extensions of the subway.

But there were some politicians, and likewise some newspaper agitators, who were seeking gain and glory for themselves. They thought it would be a popular thing to make the public believe it was not getting the service it was entitled to and that the creation of a government regulative body to administer the transit lines in accordance with new and novel ideas would afford a demonstration showing at once how grasping and incompetent private management was and how superior by contrast was management by public office-holders—who would have no financial cares and would not have to bother about such a trifling thing as to how to provide funds. A leader was found in the Chief Executive of this State, out of whose fertile brain came the scheme for the creation of the two public service commissions with which the State is now blessed. These bodies have been endowed by the law-maker with almost supernatural powers, purposely given them so that they might absolutely control and regulate everything in the shape of means of transportation, either on the surface or below or above the surface—not to say anything about their powers over gas, electric light and kindred concerns.

It was on the first of July last year that these two omniscient and omnipotent little bodies got to work. The Commission for the First, or Metropolitan, District immediately began to stir up things, and accordingly the whole traveling public was on the qui vive looking for great improvmeent—for increased facilities, for better service and accommodations, for quicker transit, and for a further cheapening to the traveling public of the cost of transportation. Nearly a year has now elapsed, and so far from any relief having been experienced or from the public having received even an iota of benefit, matters are drifting into a hopeless muddle, with the public in a maze of bewilderment, wondering where the whole thing is to end and what the eventual outcome is to be. Every day is furnishing new illustrations showing the folly of the whole thing and proving that Government meddlesomeness and interference is working harm in every direction. We have referred to the subject on several previous occasions, but this week's developments give new significance and importance to what is going on. Our readers are aware of the fact that all the street railway lines on Manhattan Island and in the Borough of the Bronx are in receivers' hands, this having been the first direct result of the activities of our Public Service Commission. Some documents emanating from these receivers—petitions to the Court and correspondence with the Commission—have been made public this week and are startling in the facts they disclose.

It will be recalled that when the Public Service Commission started on its career, all the local transit lines in Manhattan and the Bronx were under common control. The Interborough Rapid Transit Co., Mr. August Belmont's splendid achievement, controlled the subway and elevated lines, while the New York C ty Railway, with its lease of the Metropolitan Street Railway system, controlled the street railway lines. To bring these two under a single control, a holding company, namely the Interborough-Metropolitan Co., had been formed in 1906, taking over the stocks of the two concerns. This afforded a fine opportunity for the politicians and the sensational press, so they declaimed and inveighed against that combination, charging that it was detrimental to the public interest. We were told that the public was being robbed in order that extortionate profits might be earned on an excessive capitalization. It was urged that an enormous amount of water had been injected into the capitalization and that the service was poor and inadequate because the combination was under the necessity of earning a return on such inordinate capitalization. Furthermore, the service, it was insisted, must remain poor and inadequate so long as this inflated capitalization was allowed to exist. It followed that it was a public duty to break up the combination.

The Public Service Commission became an instrument for accomplishing the purpose sought—of breaking up the combination or monopoly. The surface lines have passed out of the control of the "monopoly" and have found refuge in the courts. The receivership was the direct outgrowth of the investigation instituted by the Public Service Commission last summer and which led to some startling disclosures regarding the management and financing of these surface lines during the time preceding their acquisition by the Interborough-Metropolitan Company. Extensive plans for financing the future needs of these surface lines were under way when this denouement came, but in view of these disclosures it became impossible to carry out the plans, and they had to be abandoned. As the Metropolitan Street Ry. had been showing for some time a large yearly deficit below its requirements for charges and dividends, the moment it became impossible to raise more money there was nothing to do except to allow the properties to pass into the possession of the courts, letting their destiny and salvation be worked out there.

We may admit for the sake of argument that the Metropolitan Street Railway system was over-capitalized, and heavily so, and that its yearly deficits were due to that cause, and yet that merely serves to emphasize the fact that while the combination lasted the combination itself did carry the load. Through this combination the profits of the subway and elevated lines were in effect being used to make good the losses resulting from the operation of the surface lines. This may have been a very silly performance from the standpoint of the owners, but at least they, and not the public, were bearing the burden. The patrons were really benefited. And this is one of the advantages of combination that should never be overlooked—profitable lines are able to carry the unprofitable lines. With no combination the unprofitable lines necessarily go to the wall, since a corporation no more than an individual can for any great length of time pay out more than comes in.

When the surface lines controlled by the New York City Railway were transferred to the Court, the responsibility of the Interborough-Metropolitan Co. for their financing ceased. We may be sure the promoting spirits in the combination welcomed the relief. The problem was now up to the receivers. These latter have been staggering under the load in a way that should secure for them the deepest public sympathy. It is easy to see that they have been striving in a very valiant manner to hold together the different parts of the street railway system, the growth of a previous "combination," such as we have been taught to regard as being against the public interests; but the task was beyond human power. There was a deficiency of several million dollars a year to wipe out, and necessarily unprofitable lines and non-paying leases had to be cut off. The receivers were in possession, not primarily in the interest of the stockholders, be it remembered, but in the interest of the bondholders, and the Court was bound to see that the mortgage creditors got the protection to which they were entitled.

The Third Avenue lines, as previously pointed out in these columns, were the first to be cut off, because there the lease rental was far in excess of the earning capacity of the property. The Third Avenue, on its part, thrown on its own resources, went into the hands of a separate receiver, and this receiver necessarily had to adopt the same drastic course of throwing over unprofitable sub-leases. At the same time transfers with the Metropolitan lines had to be abandoned at many points because, as the receiver laconically reported to the Court, it was impossible for him to pay wages or bills for supplies with transfer tickets. It will be observed that in this case it was no longer even a question of paying mortgage interest. It was a question of paying ordinary operating expenses. Necessity knows no law and the process is step by step being carried further. The newspapers tell us that a decision this week by Judge Lacombe paves the way for the abolition of 3-cent-fare transfers between the elevated lines and the Third Avenue road. Furthermore, free transfers between the Third Avenue road and its controlled roads are proving such a burden that plans are in contemplation to do away with even these.

But the New York City Ry. has itself been undergoing further disintegration. A couple of weeks ago the announcement came that the receivers of the Metropolitan Street Ry. had withdrawn from the Fulton Street Crosstown line the five cars that had been in operation over it, thus bringing to an end, so the newspaper accounts said, the operation of a line which had been "netting the receivers only a deficit." This action was taken almost simultaneously with an application for a receivership for the Fulton Street line because of the default on the $500,000 of bonds outstanding. Here again, we see, it is not a question of paying interest or dividends on an excessive capitalization—it is a question of paying ordinary operating expenses. In other words, it does not pay to run the line at all. The piece of road is not of much importance, but if the combination had been kept intact, would the managers have ventured to discontinue this unprofitable line? If they had, public sentiment would have overwhelmed them and quickly forced running the line again.

This week's news is to the effect that other lines will have to be dropped; that the receivers of the Metropolitan system intend asking the Court for permission to abandon the 28th and 29th Street Crosstown lines and the abolition of transfer privileges between the Metropolitan lines and the 59th Street Crosstown lines. They also ask permission to default in the rental of the Central Park North & East River Co., which will mean the cutting off of some more transfers. In this last instance, moreover, it may happen that propulsion by animal power—by horses—will again have to be resorted to, the North River line being without trolley cars or a power plant.

But this is not all. The Public Service Commission, not satisfied with the havoc it has already created, is still issuing orders directed to the receivers commanding them to provide increased service and provide facilities and accommodations which can only be obtained by the expenditure of large sums of money—though, as we have already seen, in the case of many of the lines it is impossible to earn even ordinary operating expenses. A short time ago, it will be recalled, the Commission issued orders requiring material increases in the service on the 23d St. Crosstown line, the Lexington Ave. line, the Eighth Ave. line, the East 10th St. branch of the 8th St. Crosstown line, the Brooklyn branch of the same line, the 14th St. & Williamsburg line, the Christopher & East 23d Street Ferry line and the 86th Street Crosstown line. Some of our readers may recall one of the orders of the Commission, which was to the effect that the receivers must furnish facilities at least 10% in excess of the traffic.

The receivers, being an arm of the court and under its shelter and protection, do not feel under the obligation of receiving such orders in the meek and submissive way in which the managers of solvent properties have been wont to treat the same. Accordingly they have been speaking out very frankly, and we are sure an intelligent public sentiment will support them in the course they are pursuing. We find the facts reported quite fully in the New York "Times" for last Tuesday and Wednesday. The receivers have notified the Public Service Commission of their inabitity to operate the system in compliance with its orders without bringing about the entire disintegration of the New York City Railway system. In a letter of protest to the Commission they estimate, it is stated, that in order to carry out the Commission's ideas it would be necessary for them to make new capital expenditures in amount of, roughly, nine million dollars—in exact figures $8,937,820. They figure, furthermore, that the expense of the increases ordered by the Commission would be $1,422,220 per annum. The outlay called for would be in addition to the $3,500,000 already raised on receivers' certificates. The position of the receivers as expressed to the Commission is that this $3,500,000 is the limit of capital expenditure with which the property of the company can now be burdened. Here are some extracts from their letter to the Commission on this point.

"It must be evident to you that it is impossible for us, as receivers, to incur any such obligations, (as the $8,937,820 referred to above), but granting, for the sake of argument, that we might attempt to carry out your orders, we would place such a burden on the property that in all probability the leaseholds would become unprofitable, and there would result a dissolution of the entire system in so far as it would be possible for us to default on the contracts and leases, leaving on our hands the Metropolitan Street Railway proper.

"As a result of the loss of the leased lines, the Metropolitan Street Railway would not have at its disposal sufficient funds to operate its lines in accordance with such orders as you have issued, and on account of the loss of the control of the leased lines the Metropolitan Street Railway would have to discontinue a very large percentage of its comparatively more profitable routes. This would bring about an utter demoralization of surface car transportation facilities on Manhattan Island, involving a practical abolishment of the transfer privilege, a radical rearrangement of the routes of the cars, and resulting inconvenience and financial loss to the community. Briefly, this would mean that there would be no adequate means of surface car transportation at all.

"We desire to advise you that, even as a temporary expedient, it will not be possible for us to operate the system under our jurisdiction in accordance with your orders, for the reason that we have not sufficient car-house facilities or electrical equipment to operate any such number of cars, nor the funds to pay the operating expenses incident to this large increase in service, were it possible to provide car-house facilities or obtain electrical equipment sufficient to enable us to place in service our entire open and closed car equipment.

"This does not mean that we expect to make no further efforts to improve the service. We have already accomp'ished much in reconstructing cars, in buying new and better ones, in repairing tracks, and increasing the number of cars run. We are about to borrow a large sum of money, much of which will be expended in the same direction, effecting a still greater improvement. Such further suggestions of improvement as you may make, as are practicable with our resources, we shall gladly follow out, as we have followed out your suggestions heretofore, but changes so extensive as your recent orders will require, if generally applied, are beyond our power to make with the means at our disposal."

These excerpts tell their own story so clearly and emphatically it is unnecessary to enlarge upon them. But note the process of disintegration. The combination between the surface lines and the elevated and subway lines has been effectually destroyed. The combination among the street railway lines by themselves is being in like manner disrupted. But who is getting any benefit out of it all? To be entirely accurate, who is escaping harm? Stockholders and bondholders alike are seeing their security depreciate beyond measure. The public finds facilities diminished rather than increased and likewise finds transfer privileges cut off in such numerous ways that it is necessary to pay two and three fares where before one fare sufficed, and finds itself confronted, moreover, with the possibility of a return to horse cars on some lines as the alternative to the complete abandonment of the lines. With the combination still in working order, such a situation could not have come about. The stronger lines would have been made to carry the weaker ones. But with the whole system dismembered and each part obliged to demonstrate its own solvency, the public is helpless, the investor is helpless, and chaos threatens. Let those responsible for the catastrophe seek to justify their course and let every city in the land take a warning from what is happening here. It is perhaps proper to say that one of the two receivers of the Metropolitan Street Railway system is Douglas Robinson, a brother-in-law of President Roosevelt, and likely to be inclined for that reason to make the best showing possible for government regulation and control.

FEDERAL SUITS AGAINST ANTHRACITE CARRIERS.

Suits commenced by the Federal Government in the United States Circuit Court at Philadelphia on June 5, against a number of the carriers of anthracite coal, for the purpose of testing the validity of the "commodity clause" of the Hepburn Act, are presumed likely to result in a speedy determination of the controversy, which is of national importance, as the question at issue affects many railroads outside of the anthracite group. It is stated that the attorneys for the Government filed seven bills of equity and seven petitions for alternative writs of mandamus against as many railroad companies. The defendants are the Reading, Pennsylvania RR. Co., Lehigh Valley RR. Co.; Central Railroad of New Jersey Co., Delaware Lackawanna & Western Railroad Co., Erie Railroad Co. and the Delaware & Hudson Railroad & Canal Co. All of these coal companies are named in the pleadings as the defendant carriers, which are likewise alleged to be interested as owners and are engaged in the transport of 50,000,000 tons of coal annually to points outside the State.

Ever since the passage of the Hepburn Act, nearly two years ago, it has been apparent that the courts would have to pass upon the constitutionality of the particular section of the Act which is now in litigation. Counsel for the railroads interested have given careful study to the questions involved. In addition to the lawyers regularly in the employ of the railroads, special counsel have been engaged. The Government, on its part, also procured the services of special counsel, and through its agents has collected a mass of facts, many of which have been voluntarily submitted by the railroads themselves, upon the mere request of the Government. This preliminary work, covering a period of two years, has prepared the lawyers so thoroughly that they are now enabled to join the issues speedily, and it is arranged that the cases shall be argued before the Court on June 16. Attorney-General Bonaparte, it is said, expects to participate in the argument.

The writs of alternative mandamus command and direct the defendants forthwith to comply with the law. According to the allegations in the pleadings, the defendants may be classified in three groups. First, those in which the railroads are alleged to own coal properties direct and to operate them and ship their products from Pennsylvania to other States. The Delaware Lackawanna & Western and the Delaware & Hudson are in this group. In the second group are such defendants as are alleged to own shares in coal companies whose products are shipped over the lines of railroads of the defendants into States outside of Pennsylvania. Embraced in this group are the Lehigh Valley, the Pennsylvania, the Erie and the Central of New Jersey. Standing alone in the third group is the Reading Company, which is a holding company, owning both the Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co. and the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co.

Judge Campbell, general counsel of the Reading, s been most positive in his position that the Hepburn ct cannot interfere with the right of the Reading to mine, ship and transport coal. John G. Johnson, one of the ablest lawyers in Philadelphia, and Robert W. De Forest of New York were some time ago employed by all the anthracite carriers to aid in the preparation of a defense to a case which it was known the Government would bring. The answers of the defendants have been drawn by the general counsel of the several defendants, with the aid and advice of the special counsel. The answers, with their admissions and allegations, constitute a statement of facts which, coupled with the other pleadings, leave only questions of law to be argued. A jury will not be necessary, and the argument will be heard by the Court alone.

The Reading was one of the first of the defendants to file an answer. The pleading is lengthy, covering as it does a history of the reorganization of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad Co., the sale of the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co.'s property, the ownership of the capital stock of both of these companies by the Reading Company and the pledging of the shares of these companies to secure the general mortgage bonds. It is maintained that the railroad has no interest in the coal company nor the coal company in the railroad, and that each is operated separately, although it is admitted that the products of the mines are shipped over the railroad from points within the State of Pennsylvania to other States, and it is alleged that if such shipments were not made, it would be impossible to get the coal from such mines to consumers without the State, as no other railroad runs to the mines owned by the Reading. Of 12,250,000 tons of anthracite coal produced and sold by the Coal & Iron Company, 5,980,000 tons were sold by the Coal & Iron Company in inter-State commerce and were carried by the Philadelphia & Reading RR. to points without the State of Pennsylvania.

After denying that it is violating the law, and alleging that the commodity clause of the Hepburn Act is unconstitutional, the answer of the Reading concludes as follows

This defendant, while insisting that the inter-State transportation of coal by it, which has been mined or produced by the aforseaid coal companies, is not prohibited by the Act of Congress approved June 29 1906, further states and shows to the Court that the clause of said Act which it is averred it has violated because of the inter-State transportation of such coal, is violative of and repugnant to the Constitution of the United States in the following particulars:

(a) That it does not permit and undertake to regulate the transportation in inter-State commerce of anthracite coals produced from the mines of the several coal companies hereinbefore mentioned; but, on the contrary, undertakes to absolutely prohibit transportation thereof, and therefore is not a "regulation" of inter-State commerce, but a "prohibition" of such commerce; and consequently is not within the scope of the commerce clause of the Constitution.

(b) That the effect of the said clause will constitute a taking of the defendant's property, corporate rights and franchises without due process of law and without compensation, and that in its result this defendant will be denied the equal protection of the laws.

(c) That said clause is "class legislation," unduly and unjustly discriminative in its results, in that it expressly permits railroad companies to transport in inter-State commerce timber and the manufactured products thereof, which may be manufactured or produced by any such company, or under its authority; or which it may own in whole or in part, or in which it may have an interest, direct or indirect; and prohibits transportation in inter-State commerce of other commodities, including anthracite coals—an element in such commerce exceedingly important and highly essential to the public welfare; and is also unjustly discriminative "class legislation," in that it arbitrarily denies to one class of common carriers under the Act to Regulate Commerce and its several amendments the right and privilege of transportation of certain commodities, but imposes no such restriction or prohibition on other common carriers under said Act and its amendments.

(d) That the penalties imposed by the statute for violations thereof are of such magnitude, in contravention of the Eighth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and so unduly excessive and extortionate, as to be substantially destructive of the property and franchises of the carriers affected thereby, and in respect to such carriers to constitute a denial of the equal protection of the law.

Thus the constitutionality of the Hepburn Act is questioned upon broad lines, the ultimate determination of which will be of vital interest to every inter-State carrier.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS FOR MAY.

Returns of railroad gross earnings reflect the intensity of the depression prevailing in trade. The compilations we present to-day relate to the roads which have furnished early preliminary exhibits for the month of May, and in the case of these roads the percentage of decrease is the largest yet recorded for any month since the downward movement began. It is possible, of course, that later returns covering roads not now included in our statement will modify to some extent the unfavorable character of the present exhibit, but the general nature and wide extent of the losses now disclosed rather militates against the idea. The roads contributing returns for May cover an aggregate of 72,871 miles, which is only about 35 per cent of the whole railroad mileage of the country; but the falling off for these roads aggregates no less than $13,321,780. The ratio of decrease is over 24 per cent. In April the loss for the roads furnishing early exhibits was $11,486,050, or 19.85 per cent. In March the decrease in our early compilation was only 14.36 per cent, in February but 10.71 per cent and in January no more than 8.74 per cent.

It had been supposed that the large shrinkage in revenues in April had been in large measure due to the suspension of mining which occurred with the first of that month in so many parts of the bituminous coal regions throughout the country (this suspension having been ordered by the miners pending the adjustment of the question of wages), and that in May, with the removal of that element of disturbance (the question of wages having been pretty generally adjusted before the close of May), comparisons of gross earnings would become at least a little better. Instead, the showing for May is worse than was that for April, both the amount and the ratio of loss having been greatly augmented. It is to be said, though, that while the controversy concerning the wages of mine workers was pretty generally settled, mining was nevertheless not resumed on the former scale. In truth, there was no occasion for haste in resuming at all. Owing to the prostration of manufacturing industries, there was very little demand for coal, anyway, and operators evinced no disposition to stock up with coal in the absence of a demand.

Hence, when the facts are sifted down, the underlying cause of the great contraction in railroad gross revenues is found to be the same as in preceding months, namely depression in trade. There were, however, some other contributing causes wholly special in their nature, and these undoubtedly served to swell the magnitude of the falling off. At the very outset, it is important to bear in mind that there was one circumstance in the comparison itself (with a year ago) that operated to swell the amount of the falling off. May the present year had five Sundays where May last year had only four Sundays. This means that there were only 26 working days in the month in 1908, including Decoration Day, which is not generally observed as a holiday throughout the country, as against 27 working days in the month last year. The loss of this working day alone would account for a falling off in railroad revenues of about 3 per cent. In other words, except for the smaller number of working days, the percentage of decrease would probably have been only about 21 per cent, against the 24 per cent actually shown, leaving it, however, even at 21 per cent, the largest yet recorded for any one month.

But there were also some other special causes operating to cut down railroad traffic and railroad revenues. Thus, there were excessive rains and overflows and floods over wide areas in the Southwest and also in other districts in the Western half of the country. In Texas some of the roads reported washouts soon after the middle of April and the interruptions continued way into May. Further North, and particularly in Kansas, the situation does not appear to have become very bad until May, and in a few instances not until the present month (June). In Montana, too, there were exceedingly heavy rains week after week, leading the latter part of May and the beginning of June to some of the worst floods ever experienced in the history of that State. In the South Atlantic States some of the Southern roads had extra passenger traffic in May last year from the Jamestown Exposition and from a Confederate Reunion at Richmond. That advantage was missing the present year.

All these special and exceptional circumstances of an unfavorable nature should be taken into account in measuring the significance of the extraordinarily large losses recorded in the compilations which we give to-day. In addition it must also be remembered that Southern roads in May had a smaller cotton traffic than a year ago, that Western roads had a smaller grain traffic and that the live-stock movement in the West also failed to come up to that of 1907. Furthermore, comparison is with earnings last year which had shown more than the average improvement—is in a word, with exceptionally large totals of earnings. Our early statements for May 1907, covering a larger aggregate of mileage than now included (namely 93,646 miles), recorded an increase of no less than $10,889,344, or almost 15 per cent (14.97), and this followed $9,323,116 increase, or 13.37 per cent, in May 1906 over May 1905. In the following we furnish the May summaries back to 1897, showing that in the whole of this series of years it has happened but once (namely 1904) that the figures have failed to record an improvement. In brief, expansion has been the feature for over a decade and the present large loss comes after this unexampled record of prosperity and improvement

Note—We do not include the Mexican roads in any of the years.

Making due allowance for what has been said above—for all the special circumstances and conditions which, in individual instances, or in special sections, have served to swell the extent of loss—there is one feature of the returns which cannot be ignored, and from which little comfort can be drawn. We refer to the fact that the shrinkage is so widespread, indicating that special depressing agencies have, after all, played only a minor part in the great collapse in receipts. Out of the whole 52 roads included in our statement for the month, there are only 2 lines, and these very minor ones, which have escaped decreases of some kind, large or small. Moreover, in the case of many leading railroad systems, in widely separated sections, the losses run far in excess of the average. Our statement as a whole, as noted above, records 24.05 per cent decrease. The Southern Railway, however, has a decrease of 28.83 per cent ($1,301,424); the Northern Pacific a decrease of 25.98 per cent (having lost as much as $1,748,652); the Texas & Pacific a decrease of 34.93 per cent; the Wheeling & Lake Erie 39.20 per cent, and the "Soo" road 33.25 per cent. The Illinois Central, which is one of the roads distinguished for a very large amount of loss (it having fallen behind $1,152,696), has a ratio of loss of 23.71 per cent, or close to the average. The Canadian Pacific has lost $1,551,000, being a ratio of decrease of 22.51 per cent, or a little less than the average. In the following we show all changes for the separate roads for amounts in excess of $30,000

We have stated above that the Western grain movement had fallen below that of a year ago. The largest falling off was in the receipts of wheat, where the rise in the price in 1907 to above the dollar mark had proved a great stimulus to the movement at that time. The present year's decrease, however, is not limited to wheat, but extends to all the other cereals, even including corn, notwithstanding the corner which was engineered in the May option at Chicago during the month in 1908. As some measure of the shrinkage in the grain movement, we may say that the receipts of wheat, corn, oats, barley and rye at the Western primary markets for the four weeks ending May 30 aggregated only 34,390,757 bushels in 1908, against 44,271,522 bushels in the corresponding four weeks of last year. The following furnishes the details of the grain movement in our usual form

As far as the Western live-stock movement is concerned, the deliveries of hogs and sheep at the six principal Western markets (Chicago, Kansas City, Omaha, St. Louis, St. Joseph and Sioux City) increased a little, but the receipts of cattle fell off no less than 113,400 head.

As regards the cotton movement in the South, the receipts at the Southern outports reached only 230,346 bales in May 1908, against 250,876 bales in 1907 and 337,200 bales in 1906. The shipments overland were 64,963 bales in 1908, against 58,450 bales last year and 72,900 bales the year before.

—Action towards the formation of a local national currency association in accordance with the provisions of the Aldrich-Vreeland Emergency Currency Bill, was taken at a meeting of national bank representatives at the New York Clearing House on Tuesday. The meeting was held in response to a call issued last week by ten of the principal banks of the city, namely the National City, National Bank of Commerce, First National, Hanover National, National Park, Chase National, Chemical National, American Exchange National, Fourth National and the Importers' & Traders' National. Of the thirty national banks, members of the Clearing House, to which the invitation had been sent, representatives of twenty-eight responded. The local organization is to be known as the National Currency Association of the City of New York. At Tuesday's meeting the following resolution was agreed upon for adoption by the directorate of each bank uniting to form the new organization:

Resolved, That the —— Bank in the City of New York unite with other national banking associations in the City of New York to form a national currency association, pursuant to the provisions of an Act of Congress approved May 30 1908 and entitled "An Act to amend the national banking laws."

Resolved, That the President or any Vice-President of this bank be and they are hereby authorized and directed to make and execute on behalf of this bank, jointly with other proposed bank members of such national currency association, the certificate of organization thereof required to be made and filed with the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States; and to do and perform all other acts, and to execute any other papers necessary or convenient to perfect the organization of such national currency association.

Resolved, That the Cashier or any Assistant Cashier of this bank be and they are hereby authorized and directed to make and deliver certified copies of these resolutions under the seal of this bank for use in connection with such organization.

The appointment of committees on organization and nomination took place at the meeting, the first named consisting of A. Barton Hepburn, President of the Chase National Bank, Chairman; Frank A. McGarrah, President of the Mechanics' National Bank, Chairman; F. B. Schenck, President of the Liberty National Bank; R. W. Poor, President of the Garfield National Bank; James G. Cannon, Vice-President of the Fourth National Bank, and Stuart G. Nelson, Vice-President of the Seaboard National Bank.

The certificate of organization of the association is as follows:

"The national banking associations herein named and who have executed this certificate, desiring to form a voluntary association to be designated as a national currency association, pursuant to the provisions of an Act of Congress approved May 30 1908, and entitled "An Act to amend the national banking laws," hereby make, execute and file this certificate for that purpose and severally certify as follows:

First—The names of the banks composing the proposed national currency association are:

Second—The principal place of business of the proposed national currency association is the City of New York, in the State of New York.

Third—The name of the proposed national currency association is the National Currency Association of the City of New York.

Fourth—The national banking associations hereby uniting to form the proposed national currency association exceed ten in number and have an aggregate capital and surplus of at least $5,000,000; and each of said national banking associations is located in the City of New York, in the State of New York, and has an unimpaired capital and a surplus of not less than 20% and is not a member of any other national currency association.

Fifth—The affairs of the proposed national currency association shall be managed by a board consisting of one representative from each bank member thereof and such representative shall be either the President, a Vice-President or the Cashier of such bank member.

McIntosh, Chairman of the Committee, reports that 101 trust companies joined the Section during the year ending May 1 1908, as compared with 93 new members joining during the preceding year of greater general prosperity. On May 1st there were 883 members, paying annual dues of $22,617 50, and with combined resources of three and a half billions. At the convention of the American Bankers' Association to be held in Denver the week of Sept. 28th, the trust companies will devote an entire day (the 29th) to the transaction of matters of interest to the Section.

—The National Copper Bank of this city, which recently applied for membership in the New York Clearing House Association, was admitted this week.

—The directors of the Lawyers' Title Insurance & Trust Co. of this city have passed a resolution making the dates for the payment of dividends hereafter Jan. 1, April 1, July 1 and Oct. 1 to conform with the fiscal year of the company. Payments previously were quarterly, commencing with Feb. 1, the last payment being 3% May 1 1908. In adjustment a dividend of $80,000, or at the rate of 12% per annum for the months of May and June, was declared, payable July 1.

The entire receivership allowances are thus brought down from $300,000 to $80,000.

—The reorganized Williamsburgh Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough opened its doors at its main office and branches on Monday, under the presidency of Brayton Ives, President of the Metropolitan Trust Co. of this city. The company's rehabilitation was made possible through the assistance of the latter institution, which advanced it $1,500,000, thereby placing it in a position to pay its depositors in full with its reopening. Pending the repayment of the loan, it is understood that its affairs are to be administered by a board of trustees composed of Brayton Ives, J. Edward Simmons and William N. Dyckman. The company closed its doors on October 25 1907, at the time of the suspension of some five other local institutions, all of which, with the exception of the Brooklyn Bank, have since resumed. The institution has been permitted to open a branch at Broadway and Stockton Street, Brooklyn, this taking the place of its Myrtle Avenue branch, purchased at auction last March by the Corn Exchange Bank. The company also has a branch at 319 Fulton Street. Its main offices are located at the Williamsburgh Bridge plaza. Jacob C. —At the annual convention of the Georgia Bankers' Association this week, L. P. Hillyer in his report as Secretary, reverted to the panic of 1907, which he declared affected the Georgia banks as lightly, perhaps, as the banks of any State in the Union. Mr. Hillyer stated that for the year 1907 only two failures of State banks in Georgia were reported by the State Treasurer, the Neal Bank of Atlanta and the Exchange Bank of Macon. As the last-named, however, closed its doors some time before the panic, the Neal Bank was the sole weak spot developed by the panic. With reference to the failures of national banks in the State, Mr. Hillyer submitted a letter from Deputy and Acting Comptroller T. P. Kane, dated June 6 1908, asserting that there had been no failures of Federal institutions in Georgia subsequent to May 16 1904, when the First National Bank of Macon suspended payment. Secretaries' Association for "fewer and better laws" was adopted. The resolution was offered by Judge George W. Armstrong, who explained that the ends sought by the association in its campaign were two-fold: to get better legislators and fewer and better laws. The bankers also passed a resolution calling for a vote by mail, instead of on the floor, on the subject of the guaranty of deposits. This resolution was offered by J. A. Pondrom of Texarkana as a substitute for one submitted by Judge O. E. Dunlap of Waxahachie asking for a vote on the question at the meeting. a Includes bank notes. b After eliminating the item "Due from reserve depositories and other banks and trust companies in New York City," deposits amount to $742,324,600, an increase of $19,881,900 over last week's figures.

Note.—In the case of the Clearing-House banks, the deposits are "net" both for the average and actual figures; in all other cases "gross" deposits are shown. The Clearing-House actual figures included United States deposits amounting to $19,848,600, a decrease of $21,700 from last week; averages included United States deposits of $19,831,900, a decrease of $25,600 from last week.

"Reserve on deposits" includes, for both trust companies and State banks, not only cash items but amounts due from reserve agents, and in the case of trust companies includes likewise municipal bonds. State banks in New York City are required by law to carry a reserve amounting to 15% of deposits, while outside of New York City only 10% is required, which reserve in both cases need not be more than one-half in cash. Trust companies in Greater New York are required to keep a reserve of 15%, of which only 5% need be in cash and 5% more may be in municipal bonds, while in the case of the trust companies in the rest of the State the required reserve is 10%, of which only 3% need be in cash and 3% more may be in municipal bonds.

The State Banking Department also furnishes the following report for State banks and trust companies outside of Greater New York.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The volume of business in securities has been exceptionally small throughout the week until to-day, and prices covered a narrow range. Less than 150,000 shares were traded in on Thursday, and the average for the week was the smallest in many months. It is a longer period, perhaps, since the market held steady for so many successive days with almost no exceptional features.

To-day's market has been much more active and weak on a selling movement which started with the opening of business. It was stimulated by a rather sharp decline of the new Union Pacific bonds on the curb and by liberal offerings of Erie shares.

Neither the dulness which characterized the market during the early part of the week nor the activity and weakness of to-day is surprising in view of the preceding state of the market, the passing of the Wheeling & Lake Erie into the hands of receivers and the near approach of the National Republican Convention. In regard to the latter, there seems little doubt as to who will be named as a candidate for the Presidency, but the platform on which he will stand and ask for the support of the people is awaited with a good deal of interest.

Only $1,600,000 gold has been exported this week, and the financial situation at home and abroad continues practically unchanged.

The open market rates for call loans at the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1% to 1¾%. To-day's rates on call were 1½@1¾%. Commercial paper quoted at 3½@3¾% for endorsements and short single names and 4@4½ for long to good single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed a decrease in bullion of £204,568, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 50.65, against 50.82 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½% as fixed May 28. The Bank of France shows an increase of 32,550,000 francs gold and 675,000 francs in silver.

The New York City Clearing-House banks in their statement of averages for the week ending June 6 showed a decrease of $1,539,900 in the reserve held and a surplus of $47,192,200 over the required reserve, against a surplus of $47,910,000 the previous week.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $80,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 39 to 40¼.

There has been a slight increase in the amount of railway bond transactions at the Exchange and the business has been fairly well distributed.

Prices have moved irregularly and changes are about equally divided between higher and lower.

Among the exceptional features are Interboro-Met. 4½s, which have declined 3 points and Colorado Industrial 5s, which have lost a point. Rock Island 4s are also a point lower. Other changes in the list of active bonds are fractional and unimportant.

United States Bonds.—No sales of Government bonds have been reported at the Board this week. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been dull and featureless during a large part of the week, as noted above. The transactions previous to to-day amounted to only about half the recent average, and prices moved within an exceptionally narrow range. The activity which developed to-day seems to have been more largely due to aggressive operations on the short side of the market than to real liquidation by legitimate owners, and was conspicuous in Union Pacific, Reading, St. Paul, the Hill stocks and Erie. These issues declined from 3 to 4 points, with almost no evidence of support until near the close, when there was a substantial recovery on buying for the short account. As a result of the week's operations the following tables show that of a list of 28 prominent issues, 2 are fractionally higher, viz., Amalgamated Copper and New York Air Brake; 5 are unchanged, including Baltimore & Ohio, Louisville & Nashville, Pennsylvania, Smelting & Refining and Anaconda Mining, and 21 are lower than at the close last week.

For daily volume of business see page 1460.

Outside Market.—Activity in outside securities this week was confined practically to the bond department and the low-priced mining issues. Elsewhere trading was limited and changes in prices narrow. The Union Pacific new 4s "w. i." were heavily sold, transactions involving some $3,500,000, and resulted in a drop in the price. From 96¾ the bonds rose to 97, but weakened in the later trading to 95⅜ and to-day sold down to 95, which is one half per cent under the subscription price. The close, however, was at 95½. Announcement was made of the closing of the subscription books on Friday. National Railways of Mexico issues were only moderately active. The 4½s "w. i." from 93 sold up to 94½, moving down finally to 93. The 4s "w. i." lost two points to 83½, with the final transaction at 83⅝. The bonds in the last two days were neglected. Tidewater 6% notes fluctuated between 98⅛ and 97¾. Adams Express col. 4s advanced from 88½ to 88¾ and Allis-Chalmers 4s from 67 to 68 Standard Oil rose nearly 10 points to 609¾, then sold off to 602, and to-day rose to 610. Chicago Subway was traded in down from 20 to 19 and back to 20. Copper shares were quiet. Boston Consolidated sank from 11⅝ to 10¾, but moved up again, closing to-day at 11⅜. British Columbia from 4¾ reached 5, declining subsequently to 4⅞. Butte Coalition sank from 23⅞ to 23. Greene Cananea rose from 9⅝ to 10⅛ and ends the week at 10. Nevada Consolidated advanced from 12 to 12⅛ and closed to-day at 11¾. United Copper common moved up from 7 to 7½ and down to 6¾. Goldfield Consolidated fluctuated between 5 5-16 and 5 11-16. Nipissing went up from 7⅜ to 7½, but declined and sold to-day at 7.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

International Harvester Company.

(Report Covering Entire History of Company.)

The remarks of President Cyrus H. McCormick, together with the balance sheet of Dec. 31 1907, and the combined sales and income accounts of the company and its subsidiary and affiliated corporations, for each year since the organization of the company, will be found on subsequent pages of to-day's "Chronicle."

The pamphlet report, the first ever issued by the company, is a handsome document containing, in addition to the aforesaid text and tables, a series of illustrations of the several plants and properties with a brief description of each.—V. 86, p. 232.

General Asphalt Company, Philadelphia.

President John M. Mack, May 19 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—The net (surplus) earnings are $1,023,046, as compared with $233,573 for the previous year. From this amount there has been deducted $304,881 for excess cost of maintaining, under guaranty, pavements laid prior to the organization of this company. With sundry minor adjustments, the total deduction from surplus was $312,922; leaving a net gain to surplus of $710,124, or approximately 5.4% on the $13,139,663 outstanding preferred stock.

The long-term guaranties of pavements are now gradually expiring; the last 15-year guaranty having been taken in 1901. The company now confines its contracting operations to pavements of shorter guaranty and favorable traffic conditions.

The business continues sharply competitive and prices are low, though appreciably above the level of actual cost, or less, which prevailed during the years 1905 and 1906

During 1907 the manufacture and sale of asphaltic products, such as roofings, mastic and other articles of commerce composed wholly or in part of asphalt, increased in phenomenal proportions, the percentages of sales in 1907 over 1906 being 66%. For February, March and April 1908 the sales are 5% less than those of the three corresponding months of 1907; but upon the return of normal commercial conditions a further expansion in this profitable branch of the company's business may reasonably be expected. A considerable portion of the increased profits of the year 1907 is due to the growth of this part of the business.

There has also been a notable increase in the sale of asphalt to independent contractors for paving purposes, it being our policy to urge the opening of asphalt work to competitive bidding

The active operations of the company have heretofore been carried on chiefly by three subsidiary companies, namely, The Barber Asphalt Paving Co. and two supply companies, the New Trinidad Lake Asphalt Co., Ltd., and the New York & Bermudez Co. During the past year an important part of the company's business has been that of the Uintah Railway Co. (see below).

Coincidently with the increased manufacture and sale of asphalt and asphaltic products has been a reduction in the execution of paving contracts, the company having been obliged, because of limited working capital, to reduce the amount of its contracting business.

The Uintah Railway.—For several years past the company has gradually acquired ownership, through United States patents, of large deposits of high-grade asphalt, commercially known as "gilsonite", in Colorado and Utah. In order to develop these deposits the Uintah Railway Co. was incorporated under the laws of Colorado and the road constructed from a station on the Rio Grande Western, in western Colorado, called Mack, 54 miles northwesterly through desert country to the mines of the company at Dragon, Utah. The railroad was built by the Barber Asphalt Paving Co., at a cost, including railroad equipment, terminals, hotels and 112 miles of connecting toll roads, of $824,380, out of funds in its own treasury, without loans or construction or promotion profits of any kind. The entire stock of the road is owned by the Barber Company. The railroad company is without funded or floating debt of any kind.

New York & Bermudez Co.—On March 31 1908, in response to a resolution introduced by Senator Lodge, the President transmitted to the Senate the "Correspondence Relating to Wrongs Done to American Citizens by the Government of Venezuela," a printed record of 644 pages, substantiating the justice of the company's claims and the arbitrary confiscation of its property by President Castro. [Extracts from this correspondence have been published by the company in pamphlet form.—Ed.]

The importations of crude Bermudez asphalt by the American allies of President Castro have continued during the past year on an increasing scale, as shown by the following: 1904 (commencing Sept. 19), 7,800 tons; 1905, 18,400 tons; 1906, 21,550 tons; 1907, 40,479 tons; 1908 (to March 3), 9,390 tons.

National Contracting Co.—The suit of the National Contracting Co. against the Niagara Falls Power Co. resulted in a judgment in favor of the National Contracting Co. for $223,056. The judgment was paid in full, with the exception of $18,000, which was withheld on account of an unsettled sub-contractor's lien. The suit of the National Contracting Co. against the Hudson River Water Power Co. has been argued in the New York Court of Appeals and a final decision should soon be rendered. In addition there are pending two suits, one by the State of Massachusetts against the National Contracting Co. to recover $50,000 and interest; and another by the National Contracting Co. against the Sewerage and Water Board of New Orleans to collect $16,718 and interest from Oct. 11 1901. All of these suits should be finally disposed of during the current year, and the affairs of the National Contracting Co. finally liquidated.

Total Volume of Business Transacted by Years.

In 1903 the business of the company was almost exclusively asphalt paving. In 1907 a large percentage of the company's business, as already explained, was in the manufacture and sale of asphalt and asphaltic products, which was made possible by the construction of new plants and factories, the acquisition and development of the Utah and Colorado asphalt deposits, and the operation of the Uintah Railway.

Working Capital.—Although the company has largely increased its property account by the construction of new plants, the acquisition of asphalt deposits and the construction of the Uintah Railway without depleting its working capital, the necessity for larger working capital, and consequent lesser dependence upon bank credits, has been strongly impressed upon the company by the events of the last year. The company has now in contemplation no capital expenditures of importance, and a substantial portion of its surplus earnings should be devoted to further increasing its working capital.

Funded Debt.—The General Asphalt Co. has no debt.

In February 1907 the Barber Asphalt Paving Co., desiring to return to its treasury for working capital a part of its investment in the Uintah Railway Co., borrowed $500,000 for one year, at 6%, secured by a deposit with the Commercial Trust Co., as trustee, of the entire capital stock of the Uintah Railway Co. This debt appears on the current balance sheet as "Collateral Railroad Notes," $500,000. The notes are held by a few trust companies and banks in the city of Philadelphia. The notes were made for one year, with an informal understanding that they would be extended and gradually paid off at the rate of 20% per annum. Pursuant to this plan, $100,000 was paid on Feb. 15 1908, and the remainder, $400,000, extended until Feb. 15 1909.

Dividends.—Two dividends of 1% each were declared and paid during the past year, namely, Sept. 1 1907 and March 1 1908, making a total distribution of $262,793 on the $13,139,663 outstanding preferred stock. The preferred stock is cumulative at the rate of 5% per annum from June 15 1905, since which time a total of 7% has been paid.

[The report contains also a detailed explanation of the various changes in the items of the balance sheet since July 1 1903; various particulars regarding the physical properties of the company.—Ed.]

American Pneumatic Service Company.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending March 31 1908.)

President Wm. H. Ames under date of Boston, May 29 1908, says in substance (compare V. 83, p. 34):

Financial, &c.—The present management were confronted on assuming their official duties with serious internal conditions. There were on June 18 1907 pressing obligations in the form of overdue bills and accounts taxes and interest amounting to about $210,000. There was cash on hand about $61,000 and it therefore became necessary to borrow a large amount using the company's bonds as collateral, in order to meet these obligations, which we were successful in doing, notwithstanding the condition of the money market.

On account of construction, over $280,000 has been expended since July 1 1907, and it was found necessary, in addition to using the earnings from the various companies, to borrow money for this purpose.

Condition of the Various Operating Companies.

New York.—We found that certain contracts and leases essential and necessary between the New York Pneumatic Service Co., our operating company, and the New York Mail & Newspaper Transportation Co., under whose charter construction work is being done, had never been executed, and on this account we would have no legal title to the extension of the tube lines and equipment, in which over $600,000 had already been invested, with a large amount to follow. This situation has been corrected. While this was in progress, our engineer resigned, and Mr. B. C. Batcheller was appointed his successor, and is now in charge of construction.

Three new stations are now in operation, and two more should go into commission in a very few days, and the company will then be deriving revenue from about 5 miles of additional service. The remaining stations in New York City will be thrown into operation as fast as the power machinery is delivered, and by October 1908 the 12 miles of new line should be earning an additional gross revenue of approximately $204,000 per annum. Prior to this new work there were 7 miles in operation, earning $119,000 gross per annum.

Boston—This system has 6.89 miles in satisfactory operation. No extensions are contemplated at this time.

Chicago.—The Chicago system, which consists of 9.18 miles, has 1.77 miles out of commission, owing to the blowing up in March 1907 by the War Department of the La Salle Street Tunnel, through which our tubes passed under the Chicago River. This line connected the General Port Office with the Chicago & North Western Ry. station, and was one of our most active lines. In order to transport the mails for this line at that time an arrangement was made with the Illinois Tunnel Tube Co. We are striving to re-establish operation on this line, and negotiations are in progress for the use of an existing tunnel, and plans are under way for a tunnel of our own in case these negotiations fail.

In regard to the contemplated extension of the Chicago system, your directors are unanimously of the opinion that because of the very onerous provisions contained in the franchise granted to the company by the City of Chicago, they are not justified in proceeding with the work at this time. This franchise provides that the entire tube lines in the streets shall at the expiration of the franchise in 1923, become the absolute property, without compensation, of the City of Chicago, or of any person, firm or corporation the city may select. Thus an investment of several hundred thousands of dollars would become absolutely lost. Aside from this, your company is also obliged to pay annually to the City of Chicago 5% of the gross income as a tax for the use of the streets. Negotiations are in progress by which we hope to have these objectionable terms eliminated.

St. Louis.—In St. Louis about 60% of the system, or 2.09 miles, is built and in operation. The other 40% is the portion that was to go over the Eads Bridge to East St. Louis. When the bids were made, it was with the understanding that this portion should not be built unless certain engineering conditions could be overcome, and to this time this has not been accomplished.

Physical Condition, &c.—In June 1907 the physical and operating conditions of the Chicago and St. Louis systems were found to be critical; and large fines were being imposed for failures and interruptions of service. These conditions have been rectified, and the present service is entirely satisfactory.

The operating policy of all our systems is now being handled from the Boston office, and gradually a higher degree of efficiency is being reflected in the reduction of operating expenses and an increased earning power.

Parcel Delivery.—We have disposed of this unprofitable business.

Store Service Business.—The store service business as carried on by the Lamson Consolidated Store Service Co. has made a most excellent showing for the year. Notwithstanding the general business and financial depression during the past nine or ten months, the volume of completed business for the fiscal year shows an increase over that of last year, with a corresponding increase in percentage of gross profits.

The development of our automatic conveying apparatus continues on good lines, and will eventually add largely to our profits. Satisfactory progress is being made on the experimental pneumatic ammunition hoist which is being built for the United States Navy. Indications for the general business for the coming year are good.

The physical condition of the Lamson Company shows marked improvement in all directions and was never in better condition.

Note.—"The charges for depreciation at Chicago, $38,370, are deemed to be advisable as representing the proportion to be allotted to the year of the cost of the system, because of the doubts that exist concerning the success of any negotiations having for their object a modification of the franchise in that city.

As no charges for depreciation have previously been made on account of the company's investment in its parcel delivery outfit, the entire amount of the loss has necessarily been charged within the accounts for the year.

United Bank Note Corporation.

President E. C. Converse says in substance:

Plants.—As the first step toward the complete remodeling of the American Bank Note Co.'s plant, a building for the exclusive use has been erected at the corner of Broad and Beaver streets, to accommodate their administrative and selling departments.

The plans for the erection of a new manufacturing plant and the removal thereof of the Trinity Place plant are under way, and will, at the proper time, be put into operation. In the meantime the space vacated by the removal of the general office will materially relieve the congestion of the Trinity Place plant.

During the past year the Ottawa plant has been entirely remodeled and its efficiency greatly increased. The same object has been accomplished in the Boston branch, which has been removed and completely remodeled.

Reserves.—During the past year there has been added to the special reserves, out of the earnings, the sum of $120,000, and there has been charged off $94,006 for new machinery and new plant and machinery depreciation provided. There has also been deducted from the face value of the accounts receivable $25,944 to cover all doubtful accounts.

Debentures all Purchased.—During the past year the entire issue of the American Company's debentures ($833,000) has been purchased by the United Bank Note Corporation and this item consequently disappears from the consolidated balance sheet.

Treasurer C. L. Lee says: The company's loans represent the balance of indebtedness incurred in the purchase of debentures; apart from this transaction the company has no floating debt other than for current bills for labor and supplies in the process of auditing.

Net Profits and Dividends.—The net profits for the year 1907, after deducting the depreciations and all other charges (including the special reserves of $120,000) are $623,525. Dividends were paid amounting to $399,764, leaving the net surplus for the year $223,761, and the total surplus to date $467,710.

United States Realty & Improvement Co., New York.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending April 30 1908.)

President H. S. Black, New York, June 9 1908, writes:

A report of the operations of this company and its subsidiary companies for the year ending April 30 1908 is submitted herewith. The companies whose accounts are included in the consolidated statements hereto appended are as follows:

|---|---|
| U. S. Realty & Improvement Co. | Cedar Street Co. |
| George A. Fuller Co. | Realty Deposit Co |
| No. 111 Broadway | Island Realty Co. |

During the past year the U. S. Realty & Construction Co., the Inter-State Mortgage Debenture Co. and the New York Realty Corporation, which were included as subsidiary companies in the last annual statement, have been dissolved, and their assets are now held by the companies mentioned above. This will result in an annual saving in corporate taxes and expenses.

Reserves, &c.—There have been set aside reserves to the amount of $641,368 to cover possible losses on account of doubtful debts, building accidents and depreciation of buildings. The cost of carrying the unproductive properties is charged to income, but in order to show on the books the amount which the respective properties have cost the company, it is also added to the property and credited to a reserve account. A conservative reserve for depreciation of buildings has been set aside out of the profits.

Mortgages Receivable.—Nearly all of these are on N. Y. City real estate.

Construction Department.—The ensuing fiscal year promises satisfactory profits in the building department. A year ago the company had construction work under contract aggregating $27,521,357. At the date of this report the contracts for work to be performed aggregate $21,554,496.

Regular Income.—The regular net income from the real estate and other investments is more than sufficient to meet the interest upon the debenture bonds, without including any profits from the construction and real estate operating departments. The substantial surplus from these investments and the profits from the construction and real estate operating departments will therefore be applicable to dividends on the stock.

Real Estate.—No changes have been made in the book valuations of the properties carried over from last year, and those acquired since then are carried at cost. The regular income from the real estate owned has largely increased, amounting this year to $1,414,432, as against $1,128,010 for the previous fiscal year. Though the competition for tenants has been very active, the buildings owned by the companies are well rented. The maximum amount of income from the improved properties has not as yet been reached, as there are still a number of vacancies, and in some instances the rates can be largely increased as soon as present leases expire.

Realty Stocks.—The realty stocks shown in the statement are thoroughly good and stable investments. It will be seen that they principally consist of the stock of the Century Realty Co., The Alliance Realty Co., Plaza Operating Co. and Broad Exchange Co.

The Century Realty Co. has outstanding 17,180 shares ($1,718,000) of its capital stock. Its statement of April 30 1908 shows that the stock has a book value of $215. The 14,482 shares of stock owned are carried at $185 per share. The company has always paid regular dividends and is now paying dividends at the rate of 10% per annum. Its earnings for the year ending April 30 1908 were over 21% on its outstanding stock, and the surplus which it has accumulated above dividends paid amounts to $1,986,651.

The Alliance Realty Co. has outstanding 20,000 shares ($2,000,000) of capital stock. Its statement for the year ending Dec. 31 1907 shows that the book value of the stock per share is $149. The 4,033 shares of the stock owned are carried at $110 per share. The company has paid regular dividends on its stock since 1902, and is now paying dividends at the rate of 8%. For the calendar year 1907 the net profits amounted to over 11% on its capital.

The Plaza Operating Co. has outstanding 33,250 shares of stock. The hotel was opened on Oct. 1 1907 and since then has done a very successful business. In addition to setting aside a fund to meet depreciation, it has accumulated a substantial surplus. Though the returns for the summer months will undoubtedly fall below those just past, yet the character and standing of the hotel have now been established. It is anticipated that with the return of prosperous times the profits will largely increase. During the past year, the only profit taken to account on the investment in the Plaza Operating Co. has been the interest paid on the trust notes. In another year the stock should earn a dividend.

The Broad Exchange Co. has a capital of 20,000 shares of preferred and 20,000 shares of common stock. The 7,000 shares of preferred stock owned are carried at par and pay an annual dividend of 6%. The Broad Exchange Building has proved profitable, has reduced its mortgage indebtedness, and last year paid a 3% dividend on its common stock. The dividends on its preferred stock have always been regularly paid.

General.—The management has been very conservative about entering into any transactions involving commitments for the ensuing year. Practically all these shown on the last statement have been met. The companies entered upon the new year practically free from any contracts involving financial commitments.

So as to give as full information in relation to the assets of the company as is consistent with its interests, there are this year annexed to the accounts, schedules showing in detail the stocks and bonds, real estate holdings and mortgages held by the companies.

As the several parcels of real estate are practically the same as last year, with the exception of the block bounded by Broadway, Eighth Avenue, 57th and 58th streets, which has been sold, and were fully commented upon in last year's report, it has not been deemed necessary to make further comment upon them.

Standard Screw Company (Chicago).

(Report for Fiscal Year ending March 31 1908.)

President W. B. Pearson, under date of May 13 1908, says:

Before the sudden cessation of business which occurred the latter part of last October, we had fortunately passed through about seven months of the greatest prosperity this company has ever seen and seemed in a fair way to fulfil the suggestion in my last report that we might wipe out the notes payable of the company during the current year. As it was we reduced them from $375,000 to $160,000, where they now stand.

During the period of depression we have been actively engaged in "house cleaning" of various kinds. Many needed repairs to buildings, machinery and equipment have been made, stocks of finished goods have been straightened up and the depleted stocks of high-pressure times have been replenished. Stocks of raw material have been overhauled and readjusted and everything possible has been done to place us in position to take better care than ever of the business which we all expect is coming back.

During this time we have succeeded in making a considerable change in the form of our net quick assets, reducing our current liabilities to a total of about $60,000 for the five sub-companies and at the same time increasing our cash on hand to about $160,000. None of the companies have been obliged to borrow and notwithstanding the great decrease in business, there has been no month that did not show a substantial profit.

In closing our accounts for the year, adjustments have been made by reducing the inventory price of raw material to current market prices and charging off bad or doubtful accounts. With the figures shown in the annual statement, our house is in order and we are prepared for whatever the future may have in store for us.

RAILROADS, INCLUDING STREET ROADS.

Anthracite Coal Roads.—Suit Filed to Test "Commodities Clause" of Hepburn Act.—Assistant United States Attorney-General A. Allison Wilmer, acting for Attorney-General Bonaparte, on June 5 filed bills in equity, for some time in preparation, in the United States Circuit Court at Philadelphia, against the Pennsylvania, Philadelphia & Reading, Delaware Lackawanna & Western, Delaware & Hudson, Erie and Lehigh Valley roads, to test the constitutionality of the "commodities clause" of the Hepburn law. Compare V. 86, p. 227, and editorial remarks on a preceding page.

Boston & Albany RR.—Bonds.—N. W. Harris & Co. and Bond & Goodwin, who late in April purchased $7,000,000 25-year 4% gold bonds, guaranteed by the New York Central, and subsequently sold $3,500,000, offered this week at 99 and interest an additional $1,000,000, which were quickly sold.—V. 86, p. 1099, 1158.

Boston & Maine RR.—No Further Legislation.—See New York New Haven & Hartford RR. below.—V. 86, p. 1223.

Boston Suburban Electric Companies.—New Stock, &c.—The shareholders will meet in Boston June 15 to vote on the following propositions:

1. To authorize the President or Vice-President and Treasurer to borrow money from time to time for the purpose of accomplishing the purposes of their trust (question having been raised as to the authority of the trustees to continue to authorize the borrowing of money under the shareholders' vote of Oct. 15 1903).

2. To authorize the issue of not exceeding 7,500 preferred shares and 7,500 common shares, in addition to those now outstanding or authorized, such shares to be issued solely to such holders of bonds or notes of the Boston Suburban Electric Companies as may, by the terms of these bonds or notes, be given the right to exchange their bonds or notes for shares of the Boston Suburban Electric Companies, when and as they elect to exercise such right.

3. To see whether the shareholders will confirm the acts of the trustees in authorizing and ratifying the borrowing of money from time to time under the shareholders' vote of Oct. 15 1903.—V. 85, p. 1645.

British Yukon Railway.—Bond Issue.—A mortgage dated May 26 1908 has been filed to the Railway Share Trust & Agency Co., Ltd., as trustees, upon all the lands, railway rolling stock, franchises and property pertaining to the White Horse Copper Mines branch of the Railway Company, to secure an issue of bonds thereunder not to exceed the sum of £6,000 per mile of the said branch line of railway constructed or under contract to be constructed and not in the whole to exceed the sum of £96,000. Compare V. 86, p. 1099.

Central New England Ry.—Negotiations.—The "Philadelphia Ledger" of June 7 said:

Negotiations have been resumed between the committee representing the holders of the outstanding income bonds and President Mellen of the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. There is still difficulty, however, in getting the bondholders to agree upon a uniform price for their holdings. There are about $800,000 of the bonds outstanding, of which approximately two-thirds have been deposited with the committee, consisting of C. S. W. Packard, Chairman, Wm. H. Gaw and Franklin M. Potts, all of this city. The original offer of Mr. Mellen to the outstanding bondholders called for a new bond, bearing interest at the rate of 4%, dating from July 1 1907. This proposal was favored by a majority of the bondholders, but others thought the proposed new bonds should be guaranteed by the New York New Haven & Hartford RR. Co. It is now thought this contention might no longer be objected to, providing the outstanding bondholders will accept a satisfactory price for their holdings.—V. 85, p. 404.

Chicago & Alton RR.—First Dividend on Common Stock.—The directors have declared an initial dividend of 1% on the $19,512,800 common stock, payable Aug. 15 to holders of record Aug. 5. No stated period is mentioned. Of the issue, $14,420,000 is owned by the Toledo St. Louis & Western, which will therefore receive $144,200 as its share of the dividend. The Clover Leaf has issued $5,047,000 of its series "B" 2-4% collateral trust bonds in payment of the stock, on which present annual interest charge is $100,940.

New Director.—F. P. Frazier of Chicago has been elected a director.—V. 86, p. 667.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR.—Purpose of Issue.—An officer of the company pronounces the following substantially correct:

The proceeds of the $16,000,000 general mortgage bonds recently sold (V. 86, p. 1342) will enable the company to discharge obligations incurred during the past 18 months, principally for the purchase of the Sioux City & Western, 129 miles long, from the Great Northern in Nov. 1907 at the cost of between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000; and also to capitalize various additions and extensions made during the past year or so, representing an outlay of approximately $6,000,000. There will remain available for improvements and maturing obligations in the immediate future between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000. Since the road came into the control of James J. Hill and his associates, approximately $45,000,000 of the earnings have been expended for various corporate purposes, and these expenditures are such as can properly be capitalized.

Of this $45,000,000 of work which has been done at the expense of earnings, $16,000,000 is now capitalized and transferred to capital account by the recent sale of $16,000,000 of bonds. This leaves a balance of $29,000,000 of bonds which the Burlington may issue at will, to reimburse it for other improvements and additions which have already been made and paid for at the expense of earnings. Compare V. 86, p. 1342.

Chicago Consolidated Traction Co.—Bondholders' Committee.—See advertisement on another page.

Receivership Suit.—The Central Trust Co. of New York, having succeeded the Equitable Trust Co. of Chicago as trustee under the mortgage for $6,750,000 dated 1899, brought suit in the United States Court at Chicago on June 6 for the appointment of a receiver for the company.—V. 86, p. 1409, 1284.

Cleveland Ry.—New Name—Board Reduced.—The stockholders of the Cleveland Electric Ry. on June 2 voted to change the name of the company to the Cleveland Ry. in accordance with the terms of the new security franchise. The board was reduced from 17 to 9 by resignation of a sufficient number of directors, now including:

Horace E. Andrews, C. F. Emery, L. C. Hanna, H. A. Harman, Samuel Mather, H. P. McIntosh, R. R. Rhodes, J. J. Stanley and J. H. Wade.

Status.—See editorial remarks in "Chronicle" of May 16, page 1187.—V. 86, p. 1223, 1099.

Denver & Rio Grande RR.—Meeting to Authorize Mortgage.—The stockholders will vote on July 23 on authorizing a new refunding mortgage to secure $150,000,000 bonds. Compare V. 86, p. 1284, 1224.

Erie RR.—Funding Plan—Purchase of Coupon.—Sale of Portion of Remaining $4,500,000 Notes.—In April last the company authorized an issue of $15,000,000 6% notes, of which $5,000,000 were sold to J. P. Morgan & Co., $5,500,000 contingently purchased by E. H. Harriman were used to refund a like amount of one-year notes due April 8, and the remaining $4,500,000 were reserved for future requirements. It is now announced that the extraordinary business depression makes necessary further measures for the relief of the company, and that arrangements have therefore been made for the purchase at par in cash of the coupons due July 1 1908 and Jan. 1 1909, together aggregating $3,160,480, on the $35,000,000 "prior lien" 4% bonds and the $44,012,000 "general lien 4% bonds." The coupons so purchased will be pledged under the collateral indenture of April 8 1908 as security for the $15,000,000 notes, and the bankers will accept for their advances an equal face value of notes of the $4,500,000 reserved. It is also expected that a plan will shortly be prepared for funding the coupons maturing on these bonds for a period sufficiently long to enable the company out of its current funds to complete the improvements now under way, and thus get the benefit of the large expenditures already made. J. P. Morgan & Co. will purchase the coupons of July 1 1908 from the aforesaid bonds at any time up to and including June 30.

The announcement by President Underwood, dated June 11, follows:

To the Holders of Prior Lien Bonds and General Lien Bonds under the First Consolidated Mortgage:

The extraordinary business depression, which has seriously affected all the railroads throughout the United States, has so reduced the net earnings of the Erie RR. that there will be a deficit below the amount necessary to meet fixed charges for the current fiscal year ending June 30 1908. While it is confidently expected that with any return to normal business conditions this deficit will promptly be made good, it is necessary for the company temporarily to obtain the amount from other sources.

To this end, among other things, it has been arranged that the coupon for interest falling due at any time prior to July 1 1909 may be purchased for cash and, with unimpaired lien, deposited and pledged under the collateral indenture of April 8 1908, as additional security for the 6% collateral gold notes issued and to be issued thereunder, thus making the notes more available to the company as a means of obtaining further cash if required, such notes to be accepted at par by the purchasers of the coupons for the amounts advanced for such purchase. While such temporary relief will probably suffice for the maintenance and operation of the property during the current calendar year, it will not be sufficient for the completion of the improvements begun two years ago, but which have not yet reached a condition where they are available for producing additional revenue for the company.

It was anticipated that the funds for such improvements could be provided from the sale of your company's general mortgage bonds, but, principally owing to the injury done to your company's credit by the falling off in earnings during the existing business depression, such bonds are not now salable except at prohibitive prices.

As these improvements all serve to strengthen the security of the prior lien and the general mortgage bonds, it is expected that a plan will shortly be prepared for funding the coupons maturing on these bonds for a period sufficiently long to enable the company, out of its current funds, to complete the improvements now under way, and thus get the benefit of the large expenditures already made, but which, as above stated, remain as yet unproductive.

You are therefore notified that your coupons, falling due July 1 1908, will be purchased at par for cash by J. P. Morgan & Co., upon presentation and surrender thereof, on or before June 30 1908, at their office, No. 23 Wall Street, New York.

Extension of Maturing Bonds at 5%.—Pursuant to arrangements between the Erie Company and J. P. Morgan & Co., it is purposed to extend until July 1 1918 (subject to the company's right of prior redemption at 105%) the $1,500,000 first mortgage 6% bonds issued by the Buffalo & Southwestern RR. Co., maturing July 1 next, and also to extend to July 1 1918 the $1,000,000 "second lien 5% mortgage bonds" upon the Buffalo & Southwestern division of the Erie RR. maturing July 1 next.

The interest on the extended bonds of both issues is to be payable on Jan. 1 and July 1 at 5% per annum, and both the principal and the interest are to be payable in United States gold coin of the present standard of weight and fineness, without deduction for any taxes which the railroad company may lawfully be required to retain therefrom. The lien of the said mortgages, severally and respectively, now securing said bonds, will continue unimpaired, according to the terms thereof.

Bondholders desiring to extend their bonds must, on or before June 30 1908, deposit the same with the coupon payable July 1 1908, with J. P. Morgan & Co., 23 Wall Street, New York. On such deposit the firm will make payment in cash of the said coupon, and also will make a further cash payment of $25 per bond, and will issue temporary receipts exchangeable for bond with an extension supplement and new coupon sheet attached thereto, when prepared.

The firm is also prepared, on or after July 1 1908, to buy at par any of the bonds which the holders may desire to sell rather than to extend.—V. 86, p. 1409, 1224.

Fulton Street RR., New York.—Foreclosure.—The Guaranty Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, on May 29 began a suit of foreclosure in the United States Circuit Court under the mortgage of 1905.

Decision.—Justice Truax on June 9 dismissed the action brought by the city to collect a percentage tax on the gross receipts derived from the portion of the road operated under trackage agreement.

The Court holds that the company was bound to include in its gross receipts for the purpose of figuring the percentage tax only the road owned by the company itself.—V. 86, p. 1159.

Hamilton Street Ry.—Bonds Offered.—Aemilius Jarvis & Co., Toronto and London, are offering a block of first mortgage 4½% bonds, due 1928.

Houston & Shreveport Ry.—Dividend of 20% Declared.—A press dispatch states that the directors on June 4 declared a dividend of 20% on the $400,000 capital stock, of which $397,600 is owned by the Southern Pacific Co.—V. 78, p. 2384.

Illinois Tunnel Co.—Default.—As foreshadowed, the interest due June 1 on the first mortgage bonds was not paid. The Chicago Subway Co. is purchasing the coupon, as per plan in issue of May 23, page 1284.

Inter-State Commerce Commission.—Jurisdiction Held to Extend Over All Roads Participating in Inter-State Movement.—The Commission in a decision handed down on June 6, in the case of Leonard against the Kansas City Southern Ry. and Kansas City & Westport Belt Ry., brought to recover excessive switching charges (Commissioner Prouty writing the opinion), held that under the Inter-State Commerce Act as amended July 29 1906, a carrier by railroad operating entirely within a State becomes subject to the provisions of the Act if it engages in Inter-State transportation, although it has entered into no arrangement with any other carrier by railroad or water for the movement of traffic between points upon its lines and points without the State. The movement of freight from a point in one State to a point in another State by rail must be regarded as an entirety, and every railroad participating in that movement thereby becomes subject to the Act, even though its service is performed entirely within a single State.—V. 86, p. 817, 603.

Manhattan Ry.—Bond Sale.—The company has sold to Redmond & Co. $11,712,000 consolidated mortgage 4% gold bonds of 1890, issued to retire $10,818,000 6% bonds of the Metropolitan Elevated RR. which mature July 1, etc. With the retirement of these divisional bonds, the consols become a first lien on the entire property.—V. 85, p. 1339.

Metropolitan Street Ry., New York.—Additional Lines to Be Dropped.—The receivers on June 10 asked permission from Judge Lacombe to discontinue the operation of the 28th and 29th Streets Crosstown RR. and the payment of the rental to the Central Park North & East River RR. of 9% on its $1,800,000 stock. The receivers ceased operating the Fulton Street RR. last week.

Orders of Public Service Commission to Receivers for Increased Service.—See editorial remarks on a preceding page.—V. 86, p. 1409, 1285.

Milwaukee Electric Ry. & Light Co.—Decision.—The Wisconsin Supreme Court on June 5, reversing the lower court, handed down a unanimous decision dismissing the action brought by Attorney-General Gilbert about a year ago at the suggestion of District Attorney McGovern of Milwaukee for the removal of officers of the company and the North American Co. for the alleged corrupt and wasteful use of money in securing the extension of the railway company's franchises in 1900.

The Court holds that the State has not a sufficient interest in the matter to justify it in bringing such a suit. The opinion, which is lengthy, written by Justice Dodge, says: "A stockholder or creditor of one of the defendant companies might have a sufficient interest to maintain a suit like the one under consideration, but it is anomalous for the State to protect merely private rights which the real owners are entirely competent to protect. . . . The public has no legal interest in the question of suspension or removal of officers of private business corporations." The order of the lower court requiring the defendants to submit to an examination under the so-called "discovery" statute (Section 4096, Statutes of 1898) is reversed, the Court saying: "The right to call men to the witness stand and examine them as to their private affairs is a most serious invasion of their liberties, if not indeed a deprivation of property in many cases, and can be justified only on the ground that courts are entitled to the information in aid of a proper judicial proceeding."—V. 86, p. 282, 286.

Missouri-Kansas Interurban Ry., Kansas City, Mo.—Receivership.—Judge Pollock in the United States Court at Leavenworth, Kan., on June 6, on application made by Samuel W. Moore, placed this property in the hands of J. A. Edson as receiver. It is proposed to reorganize and to change the motive power from gasoline motors to electricity (trolley). W. G. Strang holds $55,000 of the company's notes. Compare V. 84, p. 391.

Montgomery County (Pa.) Rapid Transit Co.—Bonds Offered.—The Bankers' Corporation Co. of Reading, Pa., of which William S. Lambert is President, is offering at 103 the unsold $150,000 first mortgage 5% 20-year gold bonds, denomination $200 and $500, total issue $500,000, dated December 1906. There are also offered at par and interest, with a liberal stock bonus, a block of "6% first mortgage guaranteed railway collateral trust coupon notes" of the Bankers' Corporation Co., redeemable two years from date (Sept. 1907). These notes ($500,000 authorized $50,000 sold) are secured by deposit of an equal amount of the aforesaid first mortgage railway bonds with the Union Trust Co. of Harrisburg as trustee.

The road, we are informed, is in operation for a distance of 14 miles from Norristown, Pa. (where connection is made with the Schuylkill Valley trolley line for Philadelphia), to a point 3 miles from Souderton, and is under construction to a connection with the Philadelphia & Lehigh Valley RR. at Souderton. Extensions or branches are also projected from Harleysville to Kulpsville, 4 miles, and from Lederachville to Pennsburg, 15 miles; total, 36 miles. The company was incorporated in July 1905 with $300,000 capital stock and $500,000 bonds authorized. President, Geo. Hoerer.

Montreal Street Railway.—Option to Subscribe.—The directors voted on June 10 to offer to shareholders of record June 30 the right to subscribe at $125 per share (par $100) for $1,000,000 new stock, to the extent of one share for every nine shares of their respective holdings. Subscriptions are payable in monthly installments, beginning Aug. 1.—V. 86, p. 338, 481.

New York Central & Hudson River RR.—Offering of $13,000,000 Debentures Dated 1904.—J. P. Morgan & Co., the First National Bank and the National City Bank of this city, in connection with J. S. Morgan & Co. of London, Lee, Higginson & Co. of Boston, Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia and the Harris Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, are offering for sale at 91½% and accrued interest $13,000,000 30-year 4% gold debenture bonds due May 1 1934, being part of an authorized issue limited to $50,000,000, of which $30,000,000 were sold in 1904. See advertisement on another page. (Compare V. 78, p. 2384, 2148; V. 86, p. 1043, 1101.)—V. 86, p. 1225.

New York New Haven & Hartford RR.—No Legislation Regarding Boston & Maine Stock.—The Massachusetts House of Representatives on Thursday, by a vote of 151 to 37, defeated the proposed bill to regulate the terms upon which the company may continue to exercise control over the Boston & Maine. The law passed last year prevents consolidation prior to July 1 next, after which, therefore, unless the courts interfere, the New Haven road will be free, so far as the State of Massachusetts is concerned, to increase its present holdings of $10,994,800 stock, or take such steps as it may desire toward the amalgamation of the two systems.—V. 86, p. 1285.

New York-Philadelphia Co.—Reorganization Committee.—The following committee urges the deposit of the company's collateral trust bonds and collateral trust short-term notes with the Trenton (N. J.) Trust & Safe Deposit Co. before 3 p. m. July 15, under the terms of an agreement calling for the immediate payment of an assessment of 1% and conferring on the committee the power to reorganize the company as the committee shall deem best, and, if necessary, to levy a further assessment of not exceeding 2%:

Hugh H. Hamill, President of the Trenton (N. J.) Trust & Safe Deposit Co.; ex-Judge Harman Yerkes of Doylestown, Pa., and James K. Rice Jr., care T. H. Hatch, 30 Broad St., New York City.—V. 86, p. 795.

Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.—Proposed Loan.—As required by the agreement of July 1 1907, application has been made to the City Councils for the approval of a proposed loan of not to exceed $5,000,000, not more than half of which is to be issued at present.—V. 86, p. 1160.

Phillips & Rangeley RR.—Sold.—The narrow-gauge railroads of this company and the Madrid RR. Co. were sold at auction at Auburn, Me., on June 10 under order of Justice Savage of the Supreme Court and were bid in, the former for $171,000 and the latter for $36,000, by Weston Lewis and Josiah S. Maxcy of Gardiner, Me., who control the Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes RR. (Compare V. 86, p. 604.)—V. 80, p. 652.

Reading Company.—Provision for Future Dividends.—The directors on June 11 declared the regular semi-annual dividend of 2% on the common stock, payable Aug. 1 on stock of record July 15, and the regular semi-annual dividend of 2% on the first preferred stock, payable Sept. 10 on stock of record Aug. 24. Provision was also made for:

A dividend of 2% on the second preferred stock, payable Nov. 10 1908 on stock of record Oct. 23 1908, to be declared regularly at the September meeting.

A dividend of 2% on the first preferred stock, payable March 10 1909 on stock of record Feb. 20 1909.—V. 86, p. 1410, 481.

Sandy River & Rangeley Lakes RR.—Probable Acquisition.—See Phillips & Rangeley RR. above.—V. 86, p. 604.

Seattle Renton & Southern (Electric) Ry., Seattle, Wash.—Bonds Offered.—Peabody, Houghteling & Co., Chicago, are offering by advertisement on another page at prices to yield the investor 5½%, $600,000 first mortgage 5% serial gold bonds, dated May 1 1908 and due in annual installments on May 1 from 1913 to 1924, as follows: 1913, $30,000; 1914, $40,000; 1915 to 1917, $50,000 yearly; 1918 to 1923, $60,000 yearly; 1924, $20,000; but redeemable in the reverse of their numerical order on May 1 1913, or on interest dates thereafter, at 105 and interest. Denominations $1,000 and $500 (c*). Principal and semi-annual interest payable at the First National Bank of Chicago and the First National Bank of New York. First Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago, trustee. A circular says in part:

The company owns and operates an electric railway of standard gauge, having at present an equivalent of 19 miles of single track, extending from the business centre of Seattle southeasterly through the beautiful Rainier Valley to Rainier Beach, on the shores of Lake Washington, a sheet of water of much scenic beauty, and thence to the town of Renton, a total distance of 12½ miles, of which 8 miles are within the corporate limits of the city of Seattle. At Renton the road has physical connection with the Northern Pacific RR., which enables the company to carry on a profitable freight business, principally transporting lumber, coal and supplies to and from this point to the various industries along its right of way. That part of the line from Rainier Beach to Renton, about 4¼ miles, is owned in fee.

The franchise from the city of Seattle, covering the present line, constructed in 1890, has been extended to Dec. 31 1934, and the company has also acquired new franchises for the same period, covering an aggregate of about 12 miles of additional tracks, about 9 miles of which will be in the central part of the city. These franchises are most favorable, enabling the company to handle freight, passengers and express service. In return the city receives 2% of the gross receipts until Dec. 31 1919 and 3% thereafter.

The company owns 20 passenger cars, 2 freight motor cars and 35 freight cars, car barns, machine shops, store room &c. It secures its power from the Seattle & Tacoma Electric Power Co. (which obtains its current from Snoquamie Falls) under a contract running till 1926.

The steady increase in the company's business as already shown by its operations for the first four months of 1908 indicate net earnings for the current year of at least $83,000. The extensions, improvements and additional equipment now being provided from the proceeds of these bonds, enabling the company to deliver its patrons in the heart of the business, retail shopping and theatre districts of the city of Seattle, will result in net earnings in 1909 of approximately $100,000, and thereafter, with the building of the additional lines required by the new franchises, and with the inevitable growth of the population in its territory, the earnings should continue to increase substantially for many years to come.

South Side Elevated RR., Chicago.—Dividend Indefinitely Postponed.—The directors on June 8 officially announced the postponement of the dividend indefinitely. See V. 86, p. 604.

An official statement says:

In the circular to stockholders issued May 22 1908, we expressed the hope that the effects of the depression in general business would soon disappear. In this we have been disappointed. Therefore, in order to conserve the resources in any event to keep our property out of all floating debt, we have decided to postpone the declaration of a dividend. The maintenance of our property in its present condition in every respect is of first consideration. While this action is a great disappointment to us, our confidence in the future of the property is undiminished.—V. 86, p. 1651, 338.

Stark Electric RR., Canton, O.—First Dividend.—The company, it is stated, has declared a first quarterly dividend of ¾ of 1% on its $1,000,000 stock, payable July 1 to holders of record June 25.—V. 76, p. 973.

Tampa (Fla.) Electric Co.—Bonds Offered.—Redmond & Co. are offering in Boston, jointly with Warner, Tucker & Co. and Stone & Webster of that city, at 93¼ and interest, yielding 5½%, $600,000 first mortgage 5% sinking fund gold bonds, dated June 1 1908 and due June 1 1933, but subject to redemption as an entirety, but not in part, except for purposes of the sinking fund, on any interest date at 105 and accrued interest. Denomination $500 and $1,000 (c*). Interest payable Dec. 1 and June 1 in Boston. The American Trust Co., Boston, is trustee. A circular says:

The first mortgage 5% bonds are secured, in the opinion of counsel, upon the entire property, rights and franchises now owned or hereafter acquired by the company, at present consisting of 41 miles of street railway track (including 31 miles in Tampa and interurban line between Tampa and Port Tampa, 10 miles), equipment, &c., water power and steam power plants having an aggregate capacity of about 3,000 k.w., electric lighting system and two amusement parks. The market value of the $1,700,000 capital stock is about three times the face value of the present issue of $600,000 bonds. During the eight years of the company's existence, the net earnings reported have averaged over $126,000 per annum, or more than four times the annual interest charge on the present bond issue, and for the past five years net earnings have averaged over five times this charge.

The company serves a population of nearly 45,000. The growth of the community and of the company's earnings have been consistent and rapid, and there is every reason to expect a continuation of this growth.

The franchises are favorable in terms and the principal ones are either perpetual or have at least 76 years to run.

Power is supplied by two stations—one located in the city and one on the Hillsboro River, about 7 miles distant. The city plant is a modern brick structure of 1,725 k. w. capacity, enlarged in 1906. The plant on the Hillsboro River is operated by water power, with an auxiliary steam plant, and has a capacity of 1,200 k. w., transmitting current at 6,600 volts to a substation in the city.

Tampa has grown rapidly, the population increasing from 720 in 1880 to 15,839 in 1900, and was conservatively estimated in 1907 to be 33,000. Including West Tampa, Port Tampa and the district immediately surrounding the city, the population is now estimated at 44,650.—V. 86, p. 1245.

Texas Central RR.—Dividend on Common Stock Omitted.—The usual annual dividend on the $2,649,300 common stock, disbursed in July will not be paid this year, owing to three serious washouts during April and May last and the shortage of the present cotton crop.

The balance of the amount due on bonds allotted upon subscriptions will be payable on July 16 1908 at the office of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., William and Pine streets, New York, when temporary certificates for the bonds will be delivered, exchangeable for engraved bonds as soon as ready. A simultaneous issue for sterling bonds will be made in London, Eng., by Baring Brothers & Co., Ltd., and Glyn, Mills, Currie & Co.

Letter from President E. H. Harriman, New York, June 8 1908.

Referring to the "first lien and refunding mortgage 4% bonds" of this company, I beg to state that these bonds are to be secured by a first mortgage on 1,177.71 miles main track and 146.63 miles other track of owned railroad lines. The lines mortgaged are valuable and important parts of this company's system, including among others the main line from Julesburg to La Salle, Colo., being part of the main line from Omaha to Denver. The mortgage on these lines was authorized by the stockholders at a meeting held on May 5 1908 at Salt Lake City.

The amount of bonds which may be issued at present on the security above stated is $50,000,000 and no further amount can be issued in addition thereto until the security of the mortgage be extended to cover (subject only to the first mortgage of this company, dated July 1 1897) all the lines covered by said first mortgage (2,089.63 miles first track, 358.40 miles second track and 1,007.97 miles other track), which lines, together with the lines referred to above, comprise the entire railroad mileage of the Union Pacific Railroad Co.

When the lien of this mortgage is extended to cover all of the present railroad mileage of the Union Pacific RR. Co., the total authorized amount of bonds which may be issued thereunder, including the above $50,000,000, will be $200,000,000, of which $100,000,000 is to be reserved to refund the first mortgage 4% bonds, due July 1 1947, for a like face amount, which first mortgage bonds shall not be extended when due, so that the "first lien and refunding mortgage shall ultimately become the sole first mortgage upon the entire present railroad property of the company, and upon any additional property hereafter acquired or constructed with the proceeds of bonds of this issue. The remaining $50,000,000 bonds are to be reserved to be issued only for the construction or acquisition of additional lines of railroad, connecting with the lines then subject to the mortgage and for the acquisition of other property for use on or in connection with the mortgaged lines and for improvements thereon, as specified in the mortgage, and all of which shall then pass under the lien securing the entire issue of these bonds.

It is further provided in the mortgage that in any event no other lien shall be placed upon the lines now subject to the first mortgage dated July 1897, unless the "first lien and refunding mortgage" shall be made a prior lien on said lines over any new mortgage.

The board of directors of this company, at a meeting held to-day, approved and resolved to ask the stockholders to authorize at the next annual meeting to be held Oct. 13 1908 the extension of the lien of the "first lien and refunding mortgage" over the lines pledged under the first mortgage dated July 1 1897, as heretofore stated herein, and until such action by the stockholders the issue of these bonds must remain limited to the present issue of $50,000,000.

The "first lien and refunding mortgage 4% bonds" will be dated June 1 1908 and will mature June 1 2008. They will be issued in denominations of $1,000 and $500 United States gold of or equal to the present standard of weight and fineness, or of £200 and £100 sterling. Sterling bonds will be exchangeable in New York for dollar bonds on and after June 1 1910 at a fixed exchange of $4 85, i. e., upon payment to the company of $30 per £200 bond or $15 per £100 bond, with adjustment of interest. Interest at the rate of 4% per annum will be payable semi-annually on March 1 and on Sept. 1 of every year, except that the interest due Sept. 1 1908 and June 1 2008 will be for three months only. The bonds will be issued as coupon bonds, with the privilege of registration as to principal and as to both principal and interest. Fully registered bonds can be re-exchanged for coupon bonds upon payment of the charges therefor provided in the mortgage.

The entire issue outstanding (but not any part thereof) may be redeemed at the option of the company at 107½ and accrued interest on Sept. 1 1918, or upon any semi-annual interest date thereafter, upon not less than three months' previous notice.

Principal and interest of dollar bonds will be payable in New York and of sterling bonds in London, Eng., and will be payable without deduction for any tax or taxes which the company may be required to pay or retain therefrom under any present or future law of the United States of America, or of any State, county or municipality therein.

The above income account takes no account of the surplus income over and above dividends received on stocks owned therein of companies whose stock is in part owned by the Union Pacific RR. Co. and auxiliary lines.

The outstanding capital stock of the Union Pacific RR. Co. consists of $99,544,100 preferred shares and $195,477,900 common shares. Dividends have been paid consecutively since Oct. 1898 on the preferred shares and since April 1900 on the common shares; the present dividend rate is 4% per annum on the preferred and 10% per annum on the common shares.

Decision.—Press dispatches state that Judge R. W. Tayler in the United States District Court at Toledo, on June 10, awarded the estate of James Compton, a resident of Washington, D. C., judgment against the company for $860,000 on a claim involving a dispute over the title to part of the road between Toledo and the Ohio State line and the ownership of certain shares of stock. The litigation, it is stated, was instituted over 30 years ago, the original claim being greatly scaled down. An appeal will be taken.—V. 86, p. 1410, 1346.

Western Maryland RR.—Receiver's Certificates.—Judge Morris, in the United States Circuit Court at Baltimore, on June 6 authorized Receiver Bush to issue $1,205,722 2-year 5% receiver's certificates dated June 1 to provide for maturing equipment notes.

They are to rank the same as the certificates authorized on March 27 last and are to be a first lien on the income of the property in the receiver's hands, after paying operating expenses, taxes, rentals, interest on underlying bonds and receivership expenses.

Extended.—Arrangements have been made with the Mercantile Trust Co. of New York to extend the loan of $1,125,000 for which it holds George's Creek & Cumberland RR. stock as collateral, and the stock, which was advertised to be sold at auction on June 6, has therefore been withdrawn. (Compare V. 86, p. 1346.) Arrangements have also been made or will be made to extend certain lien notes on land in West Virginia and Pennsylvania.

Counsel Winslow S. Pierce is quoted as saying:

The United States Court sanctioned and approved all our recommendations. These involved a postponement on desirable terms of the equipment obligations of the company, a cancellation of the pending proceedings for the sale of the George's Creek & Cumberland stock and a satisfactory extension of the right to take up the obligations of the company on that account, as well as on account of the purchased coal lands in the Fairmont district of West Virginia.—V. 86, p. 1346, 1227.

Wheeling & Lake Erie RR.—Receivership.—Judge Robert W. Tayler in the United States District Court at Toledo, on June 8 appointed First Vice-President and General Manager B. A. Worthington receiver for this company, on application made by the National Car Wheel Co., a creditor to the amount of $87,910. The heavy falling off in earnings and the financial troubles of the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal RR. Co., which holds a large majority of the stock of the Wheeling & Lake Erie, precipitated the receivership. Three years ago an issue of $35,000,000 4% gold bonds, was authorized for the purpose of refunding the existing bonded debt ($15,000,000) and financing the company's requirements in the way of improvements and additions. The management, however, never succeeded in floating these bonds, and had to content itself with pledging $12,000,000 of them as collateral to secure an issue of $8,000,000 notes which mature Aug. 1 1908. These notes are guaranteed by the Wabash RR. and the friends of the company say will be taken care of "but just how this will be done has not been definitely decided." George J. Gould before sailing for Europe on June 9 was quoted as saying:

The receivership for the Wheeling & Lake Erie was inevitable after the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal had defaulted. The latter was, unfortunately, overcapitalized. We probably could have carried it through, but I did not want the Wabash to become overloaded with things which might pull it down. The Wabash is a fine property, with great earning powers, and will not be permitted to become further involved.

The $8,000,000 Wheeling & Lake Erie notes coming due in August and guaranteed by the Wabash will not be allowed to embarrass the Wabash. The Wabash is perfectly able to take care of itself.

It is probable that the plans which will be carried out in regard to the Wheeling & Lake Erie and the Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal will result in closer corporate relations between the two. It will be necessary for the Western Maryland and Pittsburgh Terminal bondholders to become better acquainted with their properties, and I am sure that the outcome will be satisfactory to all.

Regarding the Wheeling & Lake Erie, I wish to say that in arranging the affairs of that company no further burden will be imposed upon the Wabash RR. Co. The latter company and the Missouri Pacific are the two principal roads in the system bearing my family name. I propose, as I have always done, to fully protect them. Whatever is done with respect to the Wheeling & Lake Erie will be in the interest of the Wabash RR. Co

Receiver Worthington is quoted as follows:

The fiscal year ending June 30 1907 was the most prosperous the Wheeling & Lake Erie ever had, and a still better record was being made in the first four months of the present year. Earnings were running at the rate of $18,500 per mile on this single-track road and the outlook was for a surplus of $750,000 for the fiscal year. Then came the panic and the bottom dropped out of the road's business. It declined more than 50%. Operating expenses were still earned but fixed charges were not, and the action taken to-day is the result.—V. 86, p. 1411.

INDUSTRIAL, GAS AND MISCELLANEOUS.

American Rolling Mill Corp., Chicago.—Turned Over to Former Owner.—This company's real estate on the Chicago River, Chicago, with machinery, &c., has been turned over to the former owner of the land, Mrs. Anna Sinton Taft, wife of Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, by quitclaim deed from Lewis C. Straight and Daniel R. Cohen, the latter trustee in bankruptcy of the corporation, for the nominal consideration of $1. The "Chicago Economist" said:

The land contains about 254,000 square feet, fronting 1,100 feet on Robey St., 1,000 feet on Canal D. with a depth of 254 feet. The land was bought from Mrs. Taft about two years ago for, it was said at the time, $200,000. In his petition Bowdoin claims that the company has a bonded debt of $1,000,000 and other debts aggregating $25,000 or more.

The company was organized a number of years ago. The petitioner claims that the company is insolvent.

A mortgage was made some years ago to the Maryland Trust Co. of Baltimore, as trustee, to secure an issue of $1,000,000 first mortgage 6% gold bonds, of which a small block was offered to the public at 75. Among the directors at that time were James Bond, N. Winslow Williams and other Baltimore men.

RESERVES FOR PLANT DEPRECIATION AND ORE EXTINGUISHMENT.

The annual appropriations from earnings for depreciation and extinguishment reserves constitute the necessary provision for the impairment and consumption of the plant assets utilized in the output of the product, and should eventually prove sufficient to reproduce the properties as their replacement becomes necessary. Depreciation on plant property has been calculated at rates established by recognized authorities. Amortization of ore has been calculated at rates which will provide a sinking fund sufficient to retire the whole of the Company's capital invested in mining properties before the extinguishment of the ore bodies. The reserves thus provided by the annual appropriations for depreciation and extinguishment have been:

| | | | |
| Season 1903 | $108,162 51 | Season 1906 | $1,000,000 00 |
| Season 1904 | 736,703 04 | Season 1907 | 1,000,000 00 |
| Season 1905 | 788,639 82 | | |
| Total | | | $3,933,505 37 |
| Deduct: Sundry charges for special plant renewals, &c | | | 92,013 26 |
| Balance of Reserves for Plant Depreciation and Ore Extinguishment at Dec. 31 1907 | | | $3,841,502 11 |

REPAIRS, RENEWALS AND MAINTENANCE.

Since the formation of the Company, liberal expenditures have been made annually for repairs and renewals to the physical properties to maintain them at their maximum of efficiency. All such expenditures have been charged, when incurred, to operating expenses, and have been absorbed in the cost of production. A comparison of these expenses for the last three seasons is:

| | Season 1905. | Season 1906. | Season 1907. |
| Harvester Works and Twine Mills | $1,004,069 26 | $1,190,939 73 | $1,599,116 13 |
| Furnaces and Steel Mills | 1 227 50 | 240,840 70 | 231,873 9 |
| Miscellaneous Properties | 99, 7 41 | ,829 83 | 42,687 87 |
| | $1,297,364 17 | $1,534,610 26 | $1,973,677 99 |

There were also charged off during 1907 expenditures for special renewals amounting to $307,821 08 for minor improvements and equipment and for special alterations and renovation of plant properties incidental to the manufacture of the new lines of wagons, manure spreaders, gasoline engines, cream separators, auto-buggies and tractors.

PROVISIONAL AND CONTINGENT RESERVES.

The annual deductions from earnings to provide for losses which may ultimately be sustained in the realization of Bills and Accounts Receivable taken on each season's sales are based on long experience in this business and are considered sufficient to cover such contingencies. Over one-half of the receivables outstanding at Dec. 31 1907 are in the form of farmers' notes or agents' acceptances, which have proved to be excellent credits. Furthermore, a systematic and careful investigation into the financial responsibility of prospective customers insures to the Company a high grade of notes and accounts. The balances in the contingent reserves at Dec. 31 1907, after charging off all notes and accounts reported worthless up to that date, aggregates $2,402,878, including: Reserve for Contingent Losses on Receivables, $1,802,878 06; Reserve for Collection Expenses on Receivables, $600,000.

INSURANCE RESERVES.

Large appropriations were made in the seasons 1903 and 1904 to equip the works and other buildings with automatic sprinkling systems and the latest devices for protection against fire. The stocks of manufactured goods are so distributed throughout the world that the risk of large loss by fire is greatly diminished. Therefore it was decided, beginning with 1905 season, that the companies would carry their own fire insurance risks on property and inventories not exceeding a valuation of $50,000 at any one location. In 1906 this limitation was increased to $100,000, and in 1907 it was increased to valuations not exceeding $150,000 at any one location, and it will be extended to cover larger risks as rapidly as the insurance reserves warrant such extension. After deducting all fire losses which have occurred during the last three seasons to property covered by the reserves, the balance in the insurance reserves amounted to $325,231 64 at Dec. 31 1907, as shown by the Balance Sheet. These reserves are being withdrawn from working capital and invested.

CAPITAL STOCK.

The authorized capital stock of the International Harvester Company, all of which was issued and outstanding at Dec. 31 1907, is:

|---|---|
| Preferred Stock, 7% Cumulative: 600,000 shares of $100 each | $60,000,000 |
| Common Stock: 600,000 shares of $100 each | 60,000,000 |

The $120,000,000 capital stock as originally issued consisted entirely of common stock and was all fully paid for when issued; $60,000,000 was paid for in cash at par, and the remaining $60,000,000 was issued for the Real Estate, Plants and Physical Inventories acquired at organization, which were conservatively valued by independent appraisers in excess of that amount, excluding any allowance for Goodwill or Patents. The real estate and plant properties were appraised by the American Aprpaisal Company and the Manufacturers' Appraisal Company. The raw materials, work in process of manufacture and finished products were inventoried under the supervision of and valued by Jones, Caesar & Company, Certified Public Accountants. The ore mines, coal lands and timber lands were surveyed and valued by competent engineers.

By amendment of the Company's charter on Jan. 8 1907, the plan of capitalization was changed (without increasing the total amount) by making one-half of the stock 7% cumulative Preferred Stock, and leaving the other half Common Stock. Stockholders received one share of Preferred Stock and one share of Common Stock in exchange for every two shares of the original stock. The Preferred Stock of the Company is preferred as to assets and dividends. The dividends are payable quarterly, and are cumulative from Feb. 15 1907.

The Company has no bonded or other funded indebtedness, and its properties are free and unencumbered.

BILLS AND ACCOUNTS PAYABLE.

Purchase Money Obligations, issued in part payment for new properties acquired, which were still outstanding at Dec. 31 1907, $3,450,194 63. Of this sum there matures and is being paid in the current fiscal year ending Dec. 31 1908 $3,173,398 21.

Current Bills Payable.—These aggregate $10,465,775, as follows:

| Loans maturing in Jan. and Feb. 1908 (paid at maturity) | 2,272,615 36 |
| Fiber drafts (paid at maturity) | 778,560 00 |
| Real Estate Purchase Notes | 414,600 00 |

Current Accounts Payable.—The item of Audited Vouchers, &c., included under the classification of Accounts Payable, consists almost entirely of current obligations of the Company for which vouchers were drawn in December and paid in January.

There has also been introduced as a liability at Dec. 31 1907 the Preferred Stock Dividend, $1,050,000, for the quarter ending Feb. 15 1908, which was paid March 2 1908.

PATENTS AND EXPERIMENTAL WORK.

No capital stock was issued or cash paid for the patents, trademarks, shop-rights, &c., which this Company received through the purchase of plants and properties at the time of organization. Those patents, trademarks, &c., were purchased, originated or established at great cost by the former owners during long and successful terms of business, and are a valuable asset of the Company. The cost of patents purchased since organization has been charged directly to Profit and Loss at the time of purchase, except as to the sum of $159,230, which is being absorbed in Profit and Loss. All current patent expenses have been charged against operating expenses as they were incurred.

Although the old-established lines of grain and hay-harvesting machinery and tillage implements have heretofore given satisfaction, it is the policy of the Company to maintain a skilled force of inventors and designers for the purpose of producing new devices and patents for improvements in type, design, or construction, either to increase the usefulness and durability of such machinery to the purchaser or to develop a reduction in cost to the manufacturer.

In addition to this experimental work on the old lines, the Company has incurred considerable expense in the invention and development of its new lines of wagons, manure spreaders, gasoline engines, cream separators, auto-buggies and tractors, and in the promotion of the American flax twine industry. All experimental expenses, whether in connection with old or new lines, have been charged to operations during the season in which the work was done.

The experimental, patent and development expenditures of the last three seasons were: Season 1905, $732,407 34; Season 1906, $819,649 18; Season 1907, $755,919 27; total, $2,307,975 79.

INVENTORIES.

The raw materials, work in process of manufacture and finished products on hand at the close of the season were carefully inventoried by actual count, weight or measurement, and have been valued either at original producing cost of actual purchase price, or at the low market values prevailing at Dec. 31 1907, whichever was the lowest. Proper deductions have been made for damaged or depreciated materials or products on hand, and in the valuation of repair parts not applicable to machines of current manufacture.

The business of the year is divided into two distinct periods, a manufacturing season and a selling season. The manufacturing plants are most active in the fall, winter and early spring months, accumulating large stocks of harvesting machinery, farm implements and twine for future delivery in the selling season. These stocks are carried by the selling companies at convenient locations throughout the world in sufficient quantities to meet the urgent local requirements of varying crop conditions. Therefore a large portion of the Company's working capital is invested at the close of the fiscal year in manufactured products scattered over a wide territory. By this investment of capital and world-wide distribution of its manufactured products, the Company aims to meet the varying demands of a trade which is frequently unable to forecast its needs until the crops are assured and the harvest is at hand.

The inventories of finished products on the territory are taken at the close of the harvest seasons. The Works inventories are taken as of Sept. 1, when the manufacturing season for the current year's requirements ends; and from that date material deliveries and manufacturing activities are devoted to the production for the succeeding fiscal year. This subdivision of inventories by periods and seasons has been preserved in the statements presented in this report.

EMPLOYEES AND PAY-ROLLS.

The average number of employees of all companies during the past three seasons and the total sum of wages and salaries paid during those seasons are as follows:

| | Season 1905. | Season 1906. | Season 1907. |
| Average No. of Employees | 22,980 | 26,560 | 28,680 |
| Total Wages and Salaries | $16,884,983 35 | $19,655,123 75 | $21,763,070 95 |

The Company during the first two or three years of its existence was confronted with many difficult manufacturing and operating problems. To obtain the best results from the selling organization and to bring each manufacturing plant to its highest state of efficiency and productiveness, it was decided to enter upon new lines of manufacture, such as wagons, manure spreaders, gasoline engines, cream separators and similar products closely allied to the Company's old lines of manufacture and saleable to the same customers. This necessitated an adjustment of manufacturing conditions involving the expenditure of a large amount of capital. Many transfers of equipment and men from one plant to another were made in order to concentrate the manufacturing energies engaged upon the old line of harvesting machinery and tillage implements, as well as to provide facilities for the production of the new lines.

The experimental and field work involved in perfecting the new machines and implements has been costly. The education of the selling organization for marketing them has been satisfactorily accomplished, but at a large expenditure of money, time and energy, which can be realized only by those who are in close touch with the practical operations of the business.

These preliminary expenditures, combined with the abnormal increase in the prices of materials and labor, contributed to high costs and low profits. The principal difficulties, however, are being overcome, and a number of new products have been successfully placed upon the market in a comparatively short time. All the new lines, which were selected on account of their adaptability to the requirements of our customers and to the needs of the selling organization, are giving satisfaction, and the results demonstrate the wisdom of this policy of business expansion.

The manufacture of harvesting machines at the Milwaukee (Wis.) Works and the Plano Works (West Pullman, Ill.,) was transferred during the season 1905 to the McCormick and Deering Works, respectively.

The Milwaukee Works was remodeled and enlarged, and is now one of the most modern and best equipped plants in the country for the production of gasoline engines and cream separators.

The Plano Works has been equipped for the manufacture of manure spreaders and farm wagons, and the Weber Works, purchased in 1905, has been enlarged and improved and is an economical and satisfactory plant, with a large capacity for the exclusive manufacture of farm wagons.

The Akron Works at Akron, Ohio, has been equipped during the past year with the latest and most modern machinery for the manufacture of auto-buggies and tractors.

At St. Paul, Minn., a plant is operated for the manufacture of binder twine from American-grown flax. This enterprise, the result of experiments inaugurated several years ago by the Deering and McCormick companies, and upon which considerable sums have been spent, will, it is thought, eventually work important changes in the manufacture of binding twine, heretofore spun entirely from foreign fibers. The successful development of the American flax twine industry should reduce the average price of twine to the farmer, in addition to creating for him a market for flax straw, which has been largely a waste product.

In December 1906 the Company purchased at Newark Valley, N. Y., and leased at Waterloo, Iowa, the manufacturing plants of the J. S. Kemp Manufacturing Company. The Company thereby obtained control of the Kemp Spreader patents, and entered the field of manure spreader manufacture with results which have shown the wisdom of the undertaking.

The foreign Works at Hamilton, Canada, and Norrkoping, Sweden, have both fulfilled the expectations of the Directors in supplying on an economical basis a part of the heavy demand incident to the foreign trade. The Canadian trade is supplied chiefly from the Hamilton Works, and, in view of its large and valuable trade with France, the Company is fortunate in having a plant in Canada from which it can also supply the demands of its French customers; otherwise, owing to the recent commercial treaty between Canada and France, which practically precludes the Company from selling American-made machines in the latter country, we could not hope to compete for the French business with Canadian and other foreign manufacturers.

Durign the past year 22,000 acres of hardwood timber lands in Mississippi were purchased to insure a supply of the best wagon stock. On the Missouri timber properties logging and saw-mill operations have been continuous during the year.

New equipment has been installed at the iron mines on the Mesaba range in Minnesota and the Baraboo district in Wisconsin, and lower mining costs have resulted.

The Steel Plant at South Chicago is complete and modern, and is operating upon a satisfactory and economical basis, and supplying the several manufacturing plants with prompt deliveries of iron and steel. A new merchant mill was put in operation in May 1907 and a new furnace will be ready to blow in by July 1 1908.

Following the established policy of the Directors, liberal expenditures have been made for repairs, renewals and maintenance of all buildings and equipment. All the physical properties of the Company are in excellent condition.

The selling organization is more effective than ever. The salesmen, travelers and agents are now familiar with the new lines, and are overcoming the difficulties incident to marketing new products, with the result that, while the volume of business has increased, the percentage of selling costs has decreased. Facilities for the storage of goods throughout the domestic territory have been much improved.

The foreign trade shows a steady and healthy growth, notwithstanding the heavy increase of import duties imposed on American agricultural machinery by some foreign governments. It is hoped that satisfactory tariff arrangements will be entered into between our government and the leading foreign countries, and that the Company will continue to hold its position in the foreign trade. The Company is now doing a large business in England, Central Europe, Russia, South America, Africa and Australia. Siberia and Argentine are rapidly increasing their demands for agricultural implements, and the Foreign Sales Department has steadily kept abreast of their needs.

The sales organization is able to furnish better service and more prompt delivery of machines and repair parts in its domestic and foreign fields than at any time in the history of this industry.

Welfare work is having constant attention, and has resulted in marked improvements in the conditions surrounding the employees at the various plants.

The Company has under consideration a pension and insurance plan for its employees which, it is hoped, can be put into effect during the present year.

Following the practice adopted in 1906, a bonus distribution was again made to meritorious employees for the year ending Dec. 31 1907; 1,224 employees participated in this distribution, and of this number 650 availed themselves of the offer to take a portion of all of their bonus in preferred stock of the International Harvester Company, and are now stockholders. In the outside selling organization the distribution of profits was based upon increase of sales and reduction in selling expenses, and the results obtained during the past year were extremely gratifying.

The Company has recently moved its general offices at Chicago from the old location at No. 7 Monroe Street to the new Harvester Building, Michigan Avenue and Harrison Street, occupying the eight upper floors, under a thirty-year lease.

The books, accounts and records have been audited from the date of incorporation of the International Harvester Company, Aug. 12 1902, to the close of the last fiscal year, Dec. 31 1907, by Messrs. Haskins & Sells, Certified Public Accountants. Their certificate is presented herewith.

The Board has great satisfaction in acknowledging the efficiency, co-operation and loyalty which is characteristic of the organization throughout all grades of employment.

By order of the Board of Directors,

CYRUS H. McCORMICK,
President.

SALES.

The following summary of sales illustrates the general development of the business both in the Domestic and Foreign trade:

| | Season 1905. | Season 1906. | Season. 1907. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Harvesting Machinery, Tillage Implements, Wagons, Twine, &c.: | | | |
| United States | $36,193,001 88 | $42,017,706 73 | $46,402,585 05 |
| Foreign Countries | 16,914,913 77 | 20,199,313 71 | 24,478,544 17 |

| Total Sales | $55,687,978 27 | $67,589,056 27 | $78,206,890 36 |

A further subdivision of the total Domestic and Foreign Sales illustrates that the expansion in the foreign business has been principally due to the increased demand for the old line of harvesting machinery and tillage implements, while the increase in the domestic business is due to the development of the new lines of wagons, manure spreaders, gasoline engines, cream separators, &c.

Randolph-Macon Coal Co.—Decision.—Judge Martin, in the United States Circuit Court in this city on Thursday, in the action brought by the Slater Trust Co. of Providence, R. I., in behalf of itself and other holders of the outstanding issue of $1,800,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, to recover moneys paid in the purchase of the bonds, overruled the demurrers of the defendant directors, Hegeman, Gardiner and Read, to the bill of complaint.

The Court says that, relying on the statement issued that the company was the owner in fee simple of over 47,000 acres of Missouri coal lands, various parties purchased $1,800,000 of the bonds, whereas it was found by the complainant on investigation, after the company got into difficulties that only 734.82 acres were owned outright, and only "some rights in mining coal" in the remaining lands. The decision is based on the language of the mortgage, it being held that a person examining the same would understand that it was intended to cover over 47,000 acres of land, of which the company was the owner in fee. The Court further says: "If it be true, as alleged in the complaint, that said company owned the fee to only 734.8 acres of land, there was fraud and deception practiced upon the purchasers of these bonds." Delmas, Towne & Spellman of this city are solicitors for the complainants.—V. 85, p. 1466.

Suburban Gas Co., Philadelphia.—Special Meeting.—The stockholders will vote on June 25 at the office of the company, No. 1004 Pennsylvania Building, on an agreement of merger and consolidation with the Nether Gas Co.—V. 77, p. 2038.

United Fruit Co.—Increase of Authorized Stock from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000—Stock Dividend of 10%.—The shareholders will vote July 10 on increasing "the total authorized capital stock" from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000, and also on approving "the declaration of an extra dividend of 10% on the company's capital stock, payable the 1st of August 1908 to stockholders of record at the close of business 20th of July 1908." Shareholders of record at the date last named will be permitted to subscribe at par for 10% of new stock ($1,940,000), and in payment of subscriptions, due Aug. 1 may apply thereto the extra cash dividend, which thus becomes in effect a stock dividend.

A circular dated June 9 says the plan is:

To "offer to stockholders of record at the close of business July 20 1908 the right to subscribe at par to shares in the company's capital stock equal to 10% in par value of the shares owned by them on the said date, to be paid for on or before Aug. 1 1908." [The 10% dividend is to be applicable to the payment of the subscriptions on the new stock. The present outstanding stock is $19,400,000.—Ed.]—V. 86, p. 233.

United States Steel Corporation.—Further Reduction in Prices Proposed.—Judge Gary on June 9 made the following statement foreshadowing a probable reduction in the prices of steel products other than steel rails, which are expected to remain at $28 a ton:

The executive committees of the leading steel manufacturing companies have been in session during the day. It is understood the price of iron ore has been, or will soon be, reduced 50 cents per ton base.

Each one of the steel manufacturers expressed the opinion that there should be a readjustment in the prices of their respective commodities, as follows: Billets from $28 per ton to $25; Pittsburgh sheet bars from $28 per ton to $27 per ton Pittsburgh; plates from $1.70 per 100 pounds to $1.60 per 100 pounds Pittsburgh; structural iron from $1.70 per 100 pounds to $1.60 per 100 pounds Pittsburgh; merchant pipe a reduction of 2 points, or $4 per ton Pittsburgh; wire nails from $2.05 per 100 pounds to $1.95 per 100 pounds.

Sheet and tin plates were reduced early in the year; therefore no changes were considered in the prices of these products.

It is hoped these changes will not necessitate a general or radical readjustment of wages, which it is desirous to avoid. Compare V. 86, p. 1413, 1348.

Vulcan Detinning Co.—On Regular List.—The $1,500,000 preferred stock and $2,000,000 common stock have been admitted to the regular list of the New York Stock Exchange. —V. 86, p. 1163.

Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Co.—Stockholders' Committee Enlarged.—Edward F. Atkins of Boston has been added to the stockholders' committee (V. 86, p. 922).

Offer to Shareholders—Correction.—The circular issued by Dominick & Dominick, 115 Broadway, offering to aid shareholders in subscribing for the 25% new stock, provides in brief as follows:

The firm agrees to subscribe for the new stock allotment of any shareholder who deposits his certificates with them and to carry the deposited stock and the stock acquired by subscription, for one year from July 1 1908, and the interest upon the amount of subscription at the rate of 6% plus a commission of 1% upon the amount of stock deposited. If by July 1 1909 the owner has not demanded his stock and paid the charges thereon, the firm may, at its option, sell a sufficient amount of the stock to reimburse themselves for all advances, interest, commission and transfer charges, and return to the owner the stock left in his account. If the readjustment plan should not be declared operative, the stock deposited will be returned without charge or expense to the owner.—V. 86, p. 1413.

Western Union Telegraph Co.—Cash Dividend—Rate Reduced from 5% to 2%.—The company having paid its last two quarterly dividends in stock at the old rate, 5% per annum, in force for many years past, using for that purpose the remainder of its treasury shares, declared on Wednesday a quarterly dividend of one-half of 1%, payable in cash on July 15 to holders of record June 20.

Earnings.—For the quarter and the twelve months ending June 30 (partly estimated):

| 3 mos. ended June 30— | Net Revenue. | Interest Charges. | Dividends Paid. | Balance, Sur. or Def. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1908 (est.) | $1,406,000 | $433,062 | *(1½%) $197,559 | sur. $469,388 |
| 1907 (actual) | 1,537,201 | 388,500 | (1¼%) 1,217,025 | def. 68,324 |

| 1906-07 (act.) | 6,324,210 | 1,420,061 | (5%) 4,868,096 | sur. 36,053 |

*Dividends for Dec. 1907 and March 1908 quarters, 1¼% each, were paid in scrip. The dividend for the quarter ending June 1908, ½%, was paid in cash. See above.

Total surplus (estimated) June 30 1908 is $14,213,593. —V. 86, p. 1348, 985.

—Attention is called to the offering by Jacob Rubino, 3 Broad St., of $200,000 first mortgage 5% 30-year gold bonds of the Indiana Natural Gas & Oil Co., controlled by the People's Gas Light & Coke Co. of Chicago. The guaranty of the latter company, both as to principal and interest, is endorsed on each bond. A copy of the opinion of counsel as to the validity of the guaranty will be furnished on request. ## COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Friday Night, June 12 1908.

Improvement in trade is still slow, and the cuts in steel prices show that concessions have to be made to stimulate business. But the crop prospect is good, and this is causing some return of confidence. Nowhere is there a disposition to discount the future, but everywhere, on the contrary, a noticeable preference for conservatism.

LARD on the spot has advanced, owing to small receipts and higher prices for hogs, an advance in the future market at the West and light supplies and offerings. There has been an increase in the demand at the advance. Western 8.65@8.75c. and City 8½c. Refined lard has also advanced for the reasons stated above. Trade has been moderately active. Refined, Continent, 9.15c., South America, 9.75c., and Brazil, in kegs, 11c. Speculation in lard futures at the West has been more active at advancing prices. The stimulating factors have been small receipts of hogs, strong markets at the stock yards, an increased spot demand, buying by commission houses and support from packers.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been quiet, even more so than last week, and prices show a decline on most months, owing to better weather at the South and long liquidation, partly for leading Wall Street bulls. Three holidays in Liverpool this week have tended to keep the trading within narrower limits than ever, Prices, though showing a net decline for the week on all months but July, have been irregular much of the time. They have risen one day and fallen back the next, the zigzagging of quotations evidencing a certain hesitancy on the part of the generality of operators. The news, indeed, has cut both ways. The weather in Texas has been, on the whole, more favorable and the conditions east of the Mississippi, in the opinion of not a few of the trade, are in the main promising. Some heavy rains have fallen in Oklahoma and Arkansas as well as in Louisiana and Mississippi, where they were supposed to be more or less harmful, while the rains which have occurred in Alabama, Georgia and the Carolinas are regarded by many as beneficial rather than otherwise. But, on the other hand, there has been some fear of an overflow of the Mississippi and Missouri rivers and one has occurred in the Red River about 40 miles southeast of Shreveport, La. The streams and rivers in northern Texas are also in some cases still reported high. A good demand for spot cotton is said to exist at the South, reports to this effect being especially emphatic from Georgia, while spinners, it is also stated, are buying the low grades at New York. The receipts at the ports have noticeably increased of late, but the interpretation put upon this fact by many is that it means the coming forward of cotton on recent liberal purchases by American and European mills. The statistical position is in the main regarded as not unfavorable to bullish interests, some even predicting a considerable decrease in visible supplies before the end of the season. Furthermore, there has been a slow but apparently steady improvement in the dry goods trade. But bull speculation has received a check from the fact that the weather has, on the whole, improved during the last ten days. The Whitsuntide holidays have cut down the spot sales at Liverpool to a merely nominal total and leading Wall Street bulls are said to have been reducing their holdings of late at every opportunity. Some New Orleans and Liverpool people have been buying October and selling January and March. Room traders have been inclined to sell short on the better weather. Yet with influences pro and con for the time at least apparently so evenly balanced, prices are not far from where they were a week ago. To-day prices declined on most months, owing to weather generally regarded as favorable, further liquidation, partly by Wall Street, and dulness of the trading incident to the closing of the Liverpool Exchange to-day and to-morrow. July alone advanced slightly on a small demand. It was really sustained by the firm spot situation and the smallness of the stock here. Spot cotton has been quiet. Middling uplands closed at 11.40c., showing no change for the week.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

The condition of the oats crop on June 1 was 92.9% of a normal, as compared with 81.6 on June 1 1907, 85.9 on June 1 1906 and 88.5 the June 1 average of the past ten years follow:

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have ruled easier during the week, though, owing to the continued stagnation of trade, the changes have in many cases been merely nominal. The favorable crop prospects as revealed by the Government report of the 8th inst. have made buyers more than ever determined to adhere to their policy of buying only on a hand-to-mouth scale. The output of the mills is still being curtailed but it continues in excess of the sales. It is expected that some of the mills will run on shorter time in the near future unless trade improves. Rye flour ann corn meal have been dull and steady.

Wheat has declined, owing to better weather and favorable crop reports, notably that issued by the Government on June 8th. It stated the condition of winter wheat at 86% against 89 in May and 77.4 a year ago. This is taken to indicate a crop of 443,290,000 bushels, against 409,442,000, the final crop of 1907, and 492,888,004 two years ago. The condition of spring wheat was given as 95, against 88.7% last year and a ten-year average for June of 93.2%. This, it is believed, points to a crop of 293,980,000 bushels, against 224,645,000, the final yield last year, and 242,372,966 two years ago. That is to say, the total yield of winter and spring wheat this year, from present indications, is 737,270,000 bushels, against 634,087,000, the final yield of last year, and 735,261,970 two years ago. The area of winter wheat is stated at 29,751,000 acres, against 28,182,000 last year and 29,509,961 two years ago. Of spring wheat the acreage is given as 17,710,000 acres, against 17,079,000 last year and 17,705,868 two years ago. The prospects, therefore, point to a big crop. The question is whether the deficiency of yields in other parts of the world may not result in an unusually large draught on American supplies. That remains to be seen. It is certain that of late the export demand in this country has been light, Europe apparently buying more freely from Argentine than the United States. Copious and benefical rains have fallen in Russia and Roumania. Harvesting is under way in some parts of our Southwestern States, and, as already intimated, the weather conditions have been more favorable. Cash markets at the West have been quiet. Large Western operators on the bull side have, it appears, been receiving some unfavorable crop reports from the Southwest, but as near as can be made out some leading bulls have been selling on the bulges and the rank and file of traders, both East and West, have been skeptical as to the possibility of establishing a material rise of prices at this time. The flour trade at the Northwest has been dull, exporters, as we have seen, have purchased wheat very sparingly, the Government report was so favorable that of itself it gave prices a setback, and the speculation has shown little life. To-day prices advanced on rains at the West, crop-damage reports, commission house buying and covering of shorts. Cash interests bought July and sold September.

Indian corn futures have, on the whole, been easier, owing to the weakness in wheat and corn, more favorable weather at times for completing seeding, selling by cash interests and liquidation. Pit traders have sold for short account, encouraged by the depression in other cereals. The receipts have been larger and the cash trade has been sluggish. Country acceptances have been larger of late. There is little disposition to buy except for quick turns. Heavy rains have occurred at times, however, a fact which has tended to restrict short selling. To-day prices declined early on favorable weather over most scetions and selling by cash interests, but rallied later on commission house buying and covering.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have declined, owing chiefly to favorable crop reports. The Government report of the 8th inst. was distinctly bearish. It stated the condition on June 1 at 92.9%, against 81.6 last year and a ten-year average of 88.9%. This was taken to indicate a crop of from 1,009,000,000 to 1,101,000,000 bushels, against a crop actually harvested last year of 754,443,000 bushels and one two years ago of 964,904,522 bushels. This report caused heavy general selling. Cash interests sold freely. The cash market has been dull. Private crop reports have been bearish. To-day prices advanced on reports of rust damage, buying by commission houses and covering of shorts.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, June 12 1908.

During the past week there has been a halt in the improvement noted in the primary cotton goods market of late, and for the time being both buyers and sellers have adopted a waiting attitude. This condition has been brought about principally by the feeling on the part of buyers that the recovery in prices in certain instances has been too rapid and is not justified by recent developments. They point to the fact that several lines of staple goods are now quoted from ¼c. to ¾c. above the prices prevailing two or three weeks ago, and that while there has been some heavier buying in the primary market, there has not been a corresponding increase in the retail demand. Manufacturers, on the other hand, claim that values now are barely at cost and in any case leave only the smallest possible margin of profit. Under the circumstances, they not only refuse to grant concessions on spot business, but decline to contract ahead at the current level. They justify their position by the uncertainty of the raw material market and their inability to purchase cotton cheaply prior to the new crop becoming available in October next. While the larger buyers are now holding off, there is a continued steady demand from smaller firms which is taking care of current production; should this fall off to a point where accumulations appear probable, many have announced their intention of still further curtailing production rather than receding to the level of prices current a little time ago. The advances that have taken place have been almost entirely on those goods into the construction of which cotton largely enters, and it would only seem reasonable, therefore, in view of the strength of the cotton market, that manufacturers should adopt this attitude rather than to continue making goods to sell at a loss. There has been a moderate demand for export to miscellaneous countries, but trade with the Far East has been very light. Fair duplicate orders continue to be received for woolen and worsted men's wear and dress goods.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 6 were 4,735 packages, valued at $259,752, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

|---|---|---|---|---|
| New York to June 6— | Week. | Since Jan. 1. | Week. | Since Jan. 1. |
| Great Britain | 18 | 276 | 53 | 1,018 |
| Other European | ---- | 446 | 28 | 562 |
| China | 1,180 | 13,158 | ---- | 10,043 |
| India | 75 | 4,110 | 25 | 4,565 |
| Arabia | 1,124 | 14,936 | ---- | 18,753 |
| Africa | 250 | 3,144 | 12 | 3,609 |
| West Indies | 468 | 9,723 | 738 | 10,559 |
| Mexico | 26 | 846 | 55 | 1,140 |
| Central America | 358 | 6,422 | 224 | 6,851 |
| South America | 1,124 | 19,108 | 1,828 | 21,426 |
| Other countries | 112 | 8,504 | 711 | 15,014 |
| Total | 4,735 | 80,673 | 3,674 | 93,540 |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $5,180,373 in 1908, against $5,970,639 in 1907.

Urgent efforts have been made by buyers to obtain concessions on heavy brown drills and sheetings, but, owing to the extent of the curtailment of production, particularly throughout the South, and the high cost of cotton, manufacturers are not only firmly refusing to grant these but are unwilling to commit themselves to future sales at prevailing prices. Buying, therefore, has been on a considerably smaller scale, both of heavy and light-weight goods, although some small orders have been received for immediate and near-by delivery. The recovery in drills and sheetings from the low point has been more pronounced than in any other department of the market. Bleached goods have been in fairly good demand, business in the more prominent lines being quite satisfactory to agents. There have been fair sales of duck for export, and it is understood that some large domestic contracts are pending. Denims, ticks, plaids and other coarse, colored cotton goods have sold moderately well both to the home trade and for export, and in some instances prices have been advanced from the low point recently reached. The jobbing demand for kid-finished cambrics has shown decided improvement. Larger orders for ginghams have been received from men on the road and staple prints have sold well both for home and export. Print cloths have been quieter, converters having covered their immediate requirements and waiting to find out whether manufacturers cannot be induced to book ahead at present prices.

WOOLEN GOODS.—Duplicate ordering of men's wear woolen and worsted fabrics for fall continued during the past week, and although the volume of business was somewhat less than recently, conditions generally showed steady improvement. The number of looms working on fall goods is gradually increasing, and buyers, especially those near the primary markets, are purchasing more freely, and, in many instances, urging deliveries. It is quite generally believed that considerable business is yet to be placed, which will prolong the fall season and make deliveries unusually late. A very keen demand has developed for light-weight brown fabrics for immediate delivery; stocks of these goods are small and likely to become scarcer, as mills are unwilling to produce much more. The general opening of lines for next spring is still delayed; some fair-sized orders are said to have been placed, but the aggregate is comparatively small. Dress goods have been moderately active. Cutters-up have ordered fair quantities for fancy broadcloths and serges, and duplicating of cotton-warp fabrics has been larger than for some time past.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—There has been a steady growth in the demand for imported woolen and worsted dress goods, particularly for fine worsted fabrics. Buyers show a greater willingness to purchase silks and ribbons at present low prices. Linens show a better tone with a growing demand. Burlaps are lower.

News Items.

New York State.—Special Session of Legislature Ends.—The extraordinary session of the Legislature which began at 8:30 p. m. on May 11 (V. 86, p. 1237) came to an end at 2 p. m. on June 11. As already stated, the real reason for the convening of the Legislature in special session was to urge the enactment of a law to abolish race-track gambling. A bill introduced for this purpose and known as the "Agnew Anti-Betting Bill," was finally passed by both Houses, the Senate voting 26 "yeas" and 25 "nays." Other bills passed were those amending the agricultural law so as to aid the State Department of Agriculture in a campaign for the suppression of bovine tuberculosis, and enlarging the jurisdiction of the State Court of Claims so as to permit the hearing of claims without the necessity of special legislation. Among the bills which failed to pass was the one recommended by the Governor to place telephone and telegraph companies under the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission.

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The current week is memorable as the occasion of the holding of the National Convention of the representatives of the Republican Party entitled to vote from every State and Territory of the Union. These 980 delegates have met to render an account of their stewardship, for they have been the party in power for several Government cycles, and especially during the last eight years, which cover a period of unequaled prosperity, ending in a panic the lingering throes of which still fill the air with their reverberations—ill echoing ill from every quarter of the land. "So foul a sky clears not without a storm."

In this case the "storm" has been favored by an Executive skilled in the cultivation of a dangerous industrial outlook and with the will and the wit for arousing a degree of pessimism scarcely ever before equaled in this country. He knew how and where to use his big stick so as to make it most effective in disquieting conservative circles. Why he had the disposition is unaccountable. The results were a general stagnation of business affairs. Where the chief industry affected (railroads) has such extensive ramifications as our carrying trade has, and the dislocating influence comes in the wake of a frenzied term of progress, there is little surprise that the outcome should almost answer to the character of a revolution. We showed the intensity of the depression last week (page 1442) in our article on "Railroad Gross Earnings for May." The roads contributing returns for May cover 72,871 miles, showing in the aggregate a falling off of $13,321,780, or a decrease of 24%. The April loss of the roads furnishing early exhibits was $11,486,050, or 19.85%. Another significant feature is that out of the whole 52 roads included in our statement for May, there were only 2 lines, and those very minor ones, which had escaped decrease of some kind, large or small. This widespread general shrinkage of the statement for May authorizes its acceptation as a fair average for the losses on the total mileage of the whole country in that month. For April we give the completed returns to-day in a subsequent article, and they indicate a loss for that month for the whole railroad system of the country of not less than $42,000,000, which is at the rate of 500 million dollars a year.

The special field our journal has always occupied has been to conserve property rights. Judging from the struggles in and out of committee to get into the party platform the most radical practices of the President, property would seem to have no fixed claim on the attention or action of the party in power; on the contrary, hostility to property would appear to be the animus at this convention as it has been in all recent legislation, which, by the way, it pronounces beneficent and righteous. A fair sample of its actual character may be found in the commodity clause of the Hepburn Act, while the intent and purpose of all its labor provisions has been directly antagonistic to business and a blight to trade and industry. As we view the matter, and as those we consort with think, wise property legislation and management includes not only a careful and conciliatory treatment of employees so far as their demands are just, but a foremost thought in every way. Such methods are of general adoption and may be illustrated by citing practice in any leading industry. Of course we have here little room for detail. One incident familiar to our readers will suffice.

We refer to the United States Steel Corporation management. It will be remembered that in Dec. 1902 the Steel Corporation promulgated a profit-sharing scheme for the benefit of its employees. It was a liberal one, employees being allowed to buy the stock at 82½, the market price being at the time about 86 to 87. It so happened that less than a year from the announcement of the plan, prices of the Steel Corporation preferred stock had dropped below 60, not far from the lowest point in the decline movement, and as a consequence public confidence in the future of the property was well-nigh gone. There was imminent danger that many among those who had joined the profit-sharing arrangement would sell out at the decline, thereby not only losing their position in the scheme, but also the difference (over 20 points) between the price at which they had taken stock in Dec. 1902 and the price current at the close of Sept. 1903.

At that crisis the Steel Corporation issued a notice stating that its Finance Committee saw no reason to change its opinion as to the intrinsic value of the preferred stock; furthermore, that any of the participating employees who chose to retain their stock and position in the company until 1908 the Steel Company agreed in substance to save from all loss, which then appeared so imminent. This kind offer of protection was generally effective in relieving the anxiety and restoring the confidence of the men, thus saving them from the danger which threatened. The same spirit has prevailed ever since and is the kind of practice in railroad management which is the fashion and custom of the times.

While there was much in the composition and the too evident control of the Chicago Convention that was unprecedented and may well cause thoughtful persons to note the unfavorable characteristics in recent politics, the nomination made is one for distinct gratification and hopefulness. Mr. Taft himself is in all respects a large man—a man of Presidential size, to use the vernacular of campaigns. Beginning as a Justice of the Superior Court in his own State of Ohio, then Solicitor General of the United States, then for some eight years a Justice in the Federal Circuit Court, then at the head of the Philippine Commission, and incidentally concerned in the government of the Philippines and in smoothing difficulties on the Isthmus, his experience has been so varied that, without attaching any importance to his membership in a rather kaleidoscopic Cabinet, it is probably quite within the truth to say that one would be hard pressed if challenged to name any living American so well versed as he in public affairs. One might have a varied experience without profiting by it; this could not be said of him, for he has undeniably acquitted himself well in many situations, some of which have been unusual and trying.

The best thing about Mr. Taft is that, not only has he had judicial experience, but that he possesses the judicial temperament. Judges necessarily come to the bench from the bar, since a judge must know the law; but a great lawyer is not certain to be even a good judge, for the law is ex parte, but the requisites for the bench are higher than mere advocacy. The judicial mind cannot be infallible, but it must see all sides, it must rise above the currents of the hour; it must achieve independence of everything but the right; it must adhere to the old maxim, now especially distasteful to some persons who find the courts in their path, to "stand by the decisions," since what has been ascertained and handed down in the judicial practice of centurries is most certain to conform to the few principles of fundamental truth and justice, which any judge that is worthy of his title must honor as the last bulwark of the State.

Judges in English history have not invariably been capable, nor have they invariably been unspotted; but confidence must be placed in the courts, since there is nowhere else to place it, and it has so rarely been disappointed that all civilized nations regard any menance upon the integrity of the judiciary as the worst which can appear. Looking over Mr. Taft's decisions (and they are several and rather leading) relative to the present aggressive contentions of organized labor that it shall be made a privileged class, by being exempted from accountability which rests upon all others, we find nothing to indicate that he is disposed to grant any privileges, and it is a matter of recent knowledge that the class whose rampant leader lately threatened to "fight it out at Chicago" and hinted that labor will take its way by violence, if not successful otherwise, has not shown any satisfaction with his record. It is agreeable to remember, further, that Mr. Taft is of mature years, a man of slow judgment, rather than of impulse, and one whose well-fixed habits could hardly have been changed by a few years of association with minds of quite an opposite character. It is unthinkable that a well tried judge and a man of the widest observation and training can easily be swung aside from his natural self.

Perhaps the separate and deliberate choice of the great mass of thinking and conservative Americans might not have fallen upon Mr. Taft; if so, it does not signify, for we must take the situation as it exists. It is quite within the range of possibility that the Denver Convention next month may feel the challenge to soberness, and so may not be swept off its feet, but may pay respect to sanity and facts, and give us a sound nomination upon a rational platform. If this happy result occurs, it will give the country a choice, at least; and if such a Denver ticket does not prevail, it will at least offer a good start for having, what the country has sorely and injuriously lacked these many years, namely a real Opposition party. To that lack, more than to any other one thing, our national troubles and excesses are chargeable. We may be sure that Mr. Taft will make no emotional and ex parte appointment to the Supreme Court, in which, according to the natural course of events, there must be several vacancies within the next four years; and there is the largest reason to congratulate ourselves that the next President will be so good a man as he.

Quite an unexpected incident this week was the engagement of $3,250,000 gold coin on Wednesday for shipment to Germany. Earlier in the week there had been an export of $600,000 to the same destination. These were not indicative of further important shipments, though the larger sum caused much surprise. Bankers professed to be unable to account for the movement in any other way than that it was due to a desire by the German Reichsbank to accumulate as large an amount of gold as was possible, with a view to keeping the German money market more in accord with London and Paris than it has hitherto ruled. It was thought likely that unless this record was completed, if the exhibit should be as satisfactory as seemed probable (from the large gain in cash this week), the Reichsbank would make a further important reduction in its official rate of discount, and in that case efforts further to procure gold, through imports from New York, would cease. The lowering of the rate to 4%, which occurred on Thursday, as elsewhere noted, seemed to indicate that when the Bank received the $3,850,000 now in transit that was shipped hence this week, it would have nearly if not wholly met its requirements. A further object of the recent importations no doubt was to demonstrate to the satisfaction of the Government Banking Commission—which, as noted in the "Chronicle" of May 23 was appointed at the beginning of the year for the purpose of investigating the working conditions of the Imperial Bank—the ability of the institution to attract gold through interest-free advances upon the metal to be imported. This device was adopted soon after the Commission assembled, early in May, and it has since been effective in drawing considerable amounts of gold from this city and from other sources, including Paris, London and Australia, so that now its holdings of the metal have been greatly augmented, and this, too, at comparatively small cost. It seems quite conceivable that, should the Reichsbank's official rate of discount be reduced at the end of this month to 3½%, as appears probable, the movement of gold from London to Paris will be terminated.

Though the Bank of France has accumulated an unprecedented amount of gold—the holdings this week being £125 1-5 million—there is only a moderate business on the Bourse, and consequently vast sums of practically unemployed money. This condition is due largely to the check to speculation caused by the pendency of the Income Tax bill. Rentes have fallen because of the threatened tax, though when those obligations were issued at the close of the Franco-Prussian war, in order to procure funds for the payment of the indemnity to Germany, the Government promised that Rentes should not be taxed. There has been some buying of Russian and Japanese bonds in Paris for investment, and one curious result of purchases of the former in London for French account is that the price is higher at that centre than in Paris. It is expected that when the London Stock Exchange becomes more active, as it probably will when the drain of gold from the British capital ceases, French investments in London will be stimulated; then exchange at Paris on London will most likely rise, and possibly to such a point as will cause exports of the metal to London.

One effect of that provision of the new Emergency Currency law which imposes an interest charge of 1% on public deposits, other than those that are held for the transaction of Government business, was observed this week, when the American Exchange and the Chemical National banks voluntarily surrendered such of their holdings of public deposits as were in excess of the interest-exempted amount; presumedly other depositories will likewise effect similar surrenders. It is interesting to note that, according to a calculation by the Government actuary, a deposit of $100,000 of public funds secured by United States consols of 1930 in a bank located in a community where money commands 5% interest, and on which deposit 1% is paid, would, at the end of one year, realize a net profit of $701 42 from such deposit.

Political conventions may not be resulting as we could wish, but there are nevertheless some favorable happenings from week to week bearing upon the relations of Government to political affairs. In the first place the courts, the bulwark of republican institutions, are proving true, and in the second place governmental bodies endowed with control or supervision over corporations are in not a few instances manifesting a conservative attitude, influenced thereto, no doubt, by recognition of the fact that governmental interference has played no unimportant part in bringing about the present extreme prostration of trade. Our own Public Service Commission is proving incorrigible and breathing defiance to court orders abolishing unprofitable transfers and is declaring that it will insist that transfers be continued, though to the lay mind it is difficult to see how a bankrupt road without means of raising money can long conduct operations at a loss or find a way of maintaining itself at all while deficits are running up against it. Out in the West and in the South, however, public bodies appear to be proceeding with greater caution and restraint. A case was decided, for instance, by the Indiana Railroad Commission the early part of the present month which involved the question of fares over an interurban-electric road. The Terre Haute Indianapolis & Eastern Traction Co. was the road in question. Up to Jan. 17 last this line had been charging a ten-cent fare between Seeleyville, Ind., and Terre Haute, and also the same fare between Seeleyville and Brazil, Ind. Then a readjustment of fares was made under which the aggregate of fares between Seeleyville and Brazil was increased to fifteen cents, while the aggregate between Seeleyville and Terre Haute figured out the same as before, namely ten cents. The citizens of Brazil naturally complained. The hearing came up April 27 and the traction officials were able to show that the old rates had been unremunerative. Figures were also produced indicating that though traffic to Brazil had fallen off of late, such falling off could not be charged to the increase in rates, since the passenger traffic to Terre Haute, where no change in rate had occurred, had fallen off in even greater ratio than that to Brazil.

The Indiana Commission went carefully into an examination of the facts, and reaches the conclusion that there is nothing to indicate that the rates have been unlawfully discriminative. It is pointed out by the Commission that the two-cent fare law has not been violated, since the rate figures out only 1.62 cents per mile. They also lay down a rule to govern cases of this kind which must be regarded as decidedly assuring. They say it has been repeatedly demonstrated in the operation of street and interurban railroads that there must necessarily be some variation in their rates of fare per mile between different points and that it is not within the province of the Commission to say that this class of carriers must establish uniform rates of fare per mile between all points on their line or lines of railroad, for there are many traffic and commercial conditions essentially different in different localities which would make such arrangement of fares impracticable if not impossible. They argue that if an interurban railroad does not charge an excessive fare, it is not within the power of the Commission to say that it shall charge exactly the same rate of fare per mile between all its fare points. It is also pointed out that the service on an interurban road is not like the service on a steam road, put partakes of the nature of city car service. On interurban lines passengers may board the cars or leave them at many different places along the line. Consequently fares must be adjusted to very short distances. Doubtless, the amount involved in this particular instance was not very large, but the principle was an important one, and it will no doubt serve as a precedent in a good many other cases of the same kind that may come up.

While on the subject, we wish also to refer to a court decision which is interesting because it indicates that the courts are still standing up resolutely in protection of guaranteed rights. The facts were given in our "Investment Department" last week. About a year ago Attorney-General Gilbert of Wisconsin, at the instance of the District Attorney of Milwaukee, brought an action for the removal of the officers of the Milwaukee Electric Railway & Light Company, and the North American Company by which it is controlled, for the alleged corrupt and wasteful use of money in securing the extension of the railway company's franchises in 1900. The lower court ruled in favor of the Attorney-General, but is now reversed by the Wisconsin Supreme Court, and the action dismissed. In the first place, the Court says that the State has not sufficient interest in the matter to justify it in bringing such a suit. A stockholder or creditor of one of the companies might have a sufficient interest to maintain a suit like the one under consideration, but it was anomalous for the State to protect merely private rights which the real owners are entirely competent to protect. The public has no legal interest, the Court declares, in the question of suspension or removal of officers of private business corporations. It is also declared that the right to call men to the witness stand (under the so-called "discovery" statute of 1898), and examine them as to their private affairs, is a most serious invasion of their liberties, if not, indeed, a deprivation of property in many cases, and can be justified only on the ground that courts are entitled to the information in aid of a proper judicial proceeding. It will be observed that the decision is a most wholesome one.

Immigration into the United States continues upon the decidedly restricted scale which has been so noticeable a feature of the movement ever since the closing weeks of 1907. On the other hand, there is no appreciable let-up in the efflux of the foreign-born labor element which, starting soon after the financial disturbances of last fall had begun to adversely affect the various industries of the country, ran ahead of the inward movement before the close of November 1907, and has largely exceeded it each week and month of 1908. From all sections of the United States people of various foreign nationalities have been flocking to this port for months past, and it has frequently been the case that the number desiring passage on a particular vessel has largely exceeded its capacity. The steamer Potsdam, for instance, is reported to have left about a thousand on the dock on Wednesday of the current week.

The official statement of immigration for May, issued at Washington on Thursday, indicates that the arrivals of aliens from all countries for that month of 1908, were only 36,317, or, as we indicated a month ago, quite less than in April, and 148,569 below the aggregate for the month in 1907, when the influx was 184,886. Moreover, the falling off is 114,610 compared with May of 1906 and 91,194 from the month of 1905. For the five months of 1908 the inflow of aliens reached an aggregate of but 160,709, which records a very marked decline from the 589,218 of the period of 1907 or the 554,392 for the like interval of 1906. The remarkable nature of the situation this calendar year is quickly realized, when it is pointed out that for the single month of May 1907 the arrivals were greater by 24,177 than for the five months of 1907. For the eleven months of the fiscal year the 1907-08 total of 750,923 contrasts very unfavorably with the 1,130,615 of 1906-07 and the 983,080 of 1905-06.

Emigration, as intimated above, has continued very heavy. From data obtained through official sources, we learn that the outward movement of steerage passengers in May totaled 75,345, or more than double the influx, and that for the five months since January 1 1908 the departures of aliens aggregated 318,368, as compared with only 114,137 for the corresponding period of 1907. It follows, therefore, that while in the five months of 1907 there was a net gain in population through the movement of aliens of 475,081, the result in the similiar period of the current year has been a net loss of 157,659. And, as we have already stated, this anomalous condition still exists. Departures thus far in June have been heavy, and the inward movement very light, the arrivals at New York to date being but 14,219.

German cotton mill operations and the development of the cotton-manufacturing industry in Germany are interestingly and quite exhaustively treated in a report recently submitted to the Department of Commerce and Labor by Special Agent W. A. Graham Clark. Pointing out that Germany ranks third in the volume of cotton goods manufactured, the United Kingdom and the United States taking precedence, Mr. Clark remarks that in exports of cotton textiles it holds second place, the United Kingdom occupying the leading position. Reviewing the early history of the industry, it is shown that in Saxony and along the Rhine there were well-known centres of weaving, knitting, &c., before the introduction of machinery, of which the German people were so slow to avail themselves. As a result many local centres of hand industries were in active operation and forced to the wall by the great influx of machine-made goods, Germany obtaining the greater part of its cottons from foreign countries, principally England. With the unification of the Empire in 1870, however, a fresh impulse was given to the industry, since which time growth has been steady and important, placing the country in the position of second in rank which, as stated above, it now occupies.

As in other countries, there are certain centres in Germany where growth has been especially rapid. This is particularly true of Saxony, where the number of spindles in operation has increased almost threefold in twenty years, and of Westphalia, where the spindleage in 1907 was nearly five times what it was ten years earlier. Bavaria is another locality where cotton manufacturing has developed materially within recent years, and the same is true of the Rhine Province and Wurtemburg. The sections already referred to have greatly increased the volume of cotton consumed as well as number of spindles. But in Alsace-Lorraine, the most important unit in the industry at the time of unification, machinery exhibits but little augmentation and consumption of raw material has slightly decreased. This apparent decline in the industry, however, is actually an advancement, greatest progress in the production of fine-yarn goods having been made in the former French province.

For Germany as a whole Mr. Clark presents statistics furnished by the Bremen Cotton Bourse going to show that between 1887 and 1905—a period of 18 years—the number of spindles increased from 5,054,795 to 8,832,016, or 74.7%, and that during the corresponding interval consumption rose from 1,006,983 bales to 1,761,369 bales, or 74.9%. This growth in number of spindles and output of goods along the same lines in Germany as elsewhere (that is, through finer counts of yarns) is evidence of the increasing efficiency of the machinery employed. Statistics of spindles compiled by others make the total for Germany in 1905 somewhat larger than that given above, but as it is in very close agreement with the aggregate as made up by the International Federation, it would seem to be safe to assume that it is practically correct. A very noticeable increase in the spinning power of Germany has been in progress since 1905. Business in cotton manufactures was good in the season of 1904-05, better in 1905-06 and still larger—in fact particularly satisfactory—in 1906-07, no developments of an adverse nature occurring until about the close of the calendar year 1907. There was consequently a stimulus to further materially extend spindleage; it thus happens that at the present time the number of spindles in the Empire is, according to the Federation, 9,592,855, or an increase of 8.6% over 1905.

Mr. Clark goes at length into a description of leading mill towns, the classes of goods produced, the treatment of employees, wages, &c., pointing out some favorable features and some that are otherwise. An interesting statement he makes is that German operatives do not roam around from mill to mill, as is so much the custom in the United States. The mills are therefore enabled to keep their processes or little improvements more secret. This is an important feature in cotton or other manufacturing lines, as it is too often the case that the originator of an idea or process loses much of the benefit to which he is entitled therefrom through lack of honor in former employees.

The Imperial Bank of Germany reduced its official rate of discount on Thursday from 4½%, at which it had stood since June 4, to 4%; with this exception there was no change in official discount rates by any of the European banks. The prospectus of a 15 million dollars 4% Swedish loan at 98 was issued in London on Wednesday; after 1918 the interest rate will be 3½%.

One feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was an increase in the reserve by $7,396,550, to $56,672,275 surplus, and an increase in such reserve, as computed upon the basis of deposits less those of public funds, by $7,397,075 to $61,634,950. The cash gain for the week was $10,706,500, loans increased $8,453,100 and deposits $13,239,800. The withdrawals from the banks by the trust companies for the purpose of reinforcing their reserves against deposits were $3,870,200; it is estimated that $23,911,840 more will be required to be withdrawn from the banks on or before July 1, in order to complete the sum needed to establish a cash reserve in valt of 10% on deposits.

As the result of the large gain in cash shown by the bank statement last week, the tone of the money market was easier early in the week. The uncertainty which was felt regarding the outcome of the proceedings of the Republican Convention was in part responsible, however, for such ease, Stock Exchange trading being limited, and there being a disposition to await final action by the convention on the platform and the candidates before making contracts for time loans. After Wednesday the tone showed little change and there was still reluctance to make engagements, especially for long periods, at the terms offered; this seemed to be largely due to expectations of prolonged inactivity, owing to the political situation, which would, it was thought, be reflected in extremely low rates for call loans. One feature was the requirement by lending institutions for an unexceptional grade of collateral on loans for fixed dates; another feature was a recession in the quotation for longer maturities than six months, which contracts would carry the borrower over into the new year. While the inquiry for commercial paper continues urgent, the supply does not increase, indicating that merchants are abundantly provided with funds, at least for present requirements, without new borrowings. Notes of New England cities running for three to four months sell at 3@3½%.

Money on call, representing bank and trust company balances, loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 1¾% and at 1¼%, averaging about 1½%; banks loaned at 1¼% and trust companies at 1½% as the minimum. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were quoted at 1¾@2% for sixty and at 2@2¼% for ninety days; 2½@2¾% for four, 3@3¼% for five and 3½% for six months and 3¾@4% for over the year. Some business was done in sixty-day loans because these contracts would cover the Democratic Convention period, and also that when the grain-crop movement will begin. Commercial paper is quoted at 3½% for sixty to ninety day endorsed bills receivable and for four months choice single names; six months' unendorsed paper of high grade is 4% and good at 4½%.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 1⅜%. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾@1⅞%, and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3⅜%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £870,537 bullion during the week and held £38,864,172 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due wholly to receipts from the interior of Great Britain. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £13,000 (of which £5,000 from South America and £8,000 from Australia); exports, £14,000 (of which £9,000 to Batavia and £5,000 to South America) and receipts of £872,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was generally strong this week, influenced by the development of an oversold condition early in the week and later by an inquiry for remittance on mercantile account and also to pay for American securities that had been returned from Europe. Speculators seem to have sold exchange quite freely in the expectation of procuring cover therefor with bills drawn against Union Pacific and other bonds that had been subscribed for in London through syndicates. Reports this week that, because the Union Pacific bonds had fallen in market value on our Exchange, foreign investors were reluctant to absorb them from the syndicates, stimulated re-buying of the speculatively sold exchange. The subsequent demand to remit for securities sold for European account—which selling was the result, as was reported, of the probable insistence by the framers of the Republican platform upon the retention of the anti-injunction declaration—caused a well-sustained advance in exchange. The unexpected engagement on Wednesday of 3¼ million gold for shipment to Germany, as above noted, stimulated a demand for sterling bills, though there was evidence in the market for marks that the gold exports to Berlin had been covered with German exchange. Inasmuch as there was coincidently an inquiry for sterling to remit for the half-year mercantile settlements, such inquiry would sufficiently account for the strong tone without attributing it to the movement of gold.

There was a shipment to Germany on Tuesday of $600,000 in gold coin and on Thursday of $3,250,000, also in this form of the metal, as above noted; this makes a total of $42,710,000 exports of gold to Europe since the movement began in April. It may be observed that the Bank of France, through French bankers, is still accumulating gold by purchase in the London market; the amount bought on Tuesday was $2,500,000, at 77 shillings 10¾ pence per ounce.

Compared with Friday of last week, exchange on Saturday was firm at an advance of 5 points for long and short to 4 8530@4 8545 for the former and to 4 8680@4 8690 for the latter; cables were unchanged at 4 8705@4 8710. On Monday long fell 10 points to 4 8520@4 8525 while short rose 10 points to 4 8690 @4 87 and cables 15 points to 4 8715@4 8725. On Tuesday long advanced 15 points to 4 8530@4 8540, short 10 points to 4 8705@4 8710 and cables 15 points to 4 8730@4 8735. On Wednesday long rose 15 points to 4 8545@4 8555, while cables fell 5 points to 4 8725@4 8735; short was unchanged. On Thursday long rose 10 points to 4 8550@4 8565, short 5 points to 4 8710@4 8715 and cables 10 points to 4 8735@

4 8740. On Friday the market was easy at a decline of 5 points for long, of 15 for short and of 20 for cables.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

As President Roosevelt dominated absolutely every other feature of the Republican Convention, so the platform bears evidences of his controlling will and purpose. It breathes the same spirit, embodies the same ideas, advocates the same doctrines and contains many of the same expressions and unique phrases and utterances with which the public has been made so familiar during the last few years in his speeches and messages. When, on Tuesday morning of this week, in advance of the opening of the Convention, a draft of the platform which had been prepared at Washington was prematurely made public, and elicited severe comment, a disclaimer promptly came from the President to the effect that it was a tentative proposal only and that some parts of it he had not even seen. We venture the opinion that the parts that failed to come under the close scrutiny of the President's eye must have been inconsequential indeed. And as for the draft of the platform having been a tentative one only, merely submitted by way of suggestion, we can discover no essential difference between the form of that document as it came from Washington and the form in which it emerged from the Committee on Resolutions and was adopted by the Convention—saving only the plank dealing with court procedure in the matter of the issue of injunctions, where the language has been altered and given a squint both ways, but where the underlying purpose remains unaltered.

Mr. Roosevelt cannot deny the paternity of the main parts of this marvelous document. It bears too close a resemblance to his other characteristic work. Even in the panegyric on himself, it accords with the views which the President is supposed to entertain of his services. Every one is prepared for a good deal of buncombe in a political platform and it is quite the ordinary thing to find in it much political self praise; but this is an uncommon piece of literature, even in that respect. Mr. Roosevelt is described as if he possessed the attributes of a supernatural being, or as if he were a second Moses, leading the people out of a moral wilderness on to social and moral regeneration. We are told that "in no other period since national sovereignty was won under Washington, or preserved under Lincoln, has there been such mighty progress in those ideals of government which make for justice, equality and fair dealing among men." Also that "the highest aspirations of the American people have found a voice. Their most exalted servant represents the best aims and worthiest purposes of all his countrymen. American manhood has been lifted to a nobler sense of duty and obligation. Conscience and courage in public station and higher standards of right and wrong in private life have become cardinal principles of political faith." etc. Even if the President possessed all the attributes and virtues here assigned to him, instead of lacking them in a most eminent degree, it would be a violation of the canons of good taste to indulge in such vainglorious effusions, and a really modest and unobtrusive man, which Mr. Roosevelt of course has never claimed to be, would ask that such sickening gush be stricken out. Numerous of the familiar expressions which the forceful occupant of the White House has been using so glibly appear; "the abuse of wealth, the tyranny of power and all the evils of privilege and favoritism"—all these have been put, so the language reads, "to scorn," etc.

The spirit of egotism also leads to expressions of national self adulation in a quite unusual degree. Under Roosevelt and the guidance of Republican principle "the American people have become the richest nation in the world. Our wealth to-day exceeds that of England and all her colonies and that of France and Germany combined." When the Republican Party was born, it is added, the total wealth of the country was 16,000 million dollars. "It has leaped to 110,000 million dollars in a generation." While the author was about it, we do not see why he did not write the amount down as 1,000,000 million dollars. As farm and real estate values form a large part of the total, the element of substantiality in an estimate of the wealth of a country with such a prodigious land area as the United States possesses is always apt to be lacking, and when one is making an inventory of his assets, he might as well use one figure for the purpose as another. By marking up the supposed values of our possessions, we could readily make out that we have more wealth than all the rest of the world put together.

The framer of these precious sentences also tells the applauding multitudes that, while we have been gathering these 110,000 millions in a generation, "Great Britain has gathered but 60,000 million dollars in five hundred years." Poor England! We notice, however, that Great Britain seems to have considerably more than enough to go round, and that whenever we get in financial trouble we ask her to help us out, and we notice that other nations have a habit of doing the same thing. Evidently, inflated land values are not a very tangible asset at such a critical juncture, no matter how flattering they may be to national vanity and pride. We furthermore notice that, though she has been at it for five hundred years and been able to gather such an inconsequential heap of wealth, she never meets with any such violent trade setbacks and periods of industrial depressions as afflict us. A shrinkage in trade of 10% there is looked upon as mighty big. With us just now railroad gross earnings are falling off 20 to 25 per cent, while innumerable industrial establishments all over the country have shut down completely, meaning a loss of 100 per cent. Our boastings regarding progress and advancement seem decidedly incongruous in the midst of such surroundings—the severest industrial depression which the country has experienced for at least fifty years.

Not the least discouraging thing about the platform is the light and airy way in which this grave period of industrial depression is dismissed. It is treated as if it were a mere passing phenomenon which need give us no concern. There is no recognition of the underlying causes for the existing situation—no appreciation of the fact that it is the very policies so much lauded in the platform that have brought us to the present pass—have literally brought ruin and sorrow to the business world. Here is what the platform says on this point: "Nothing so clearly demonstrates the sound basis upon which our commercial, industrial and agricultural interests are founded, and the necessity of promoting their continued welfare through the operation of Republican politics, as the recent safe passage of the American people through a financial disturbance which, if appearing in the midst of Democratic rule, or the menace of it, might have equaled the familiar Democratic panics of the past." We confess an inability to understand what a "safe passage" through a financial disturbance can mean, or how the passage under Democratic rule could have been any worse, measured either by the immediate consequences or the after effects. Certainly there was no such utter collapse during and after the panic of 1893, when the Cleveland Administration was in power, as there is now.

Very naturally, with this the attitude towards the present industrial crisis, the platform contains a reiteration and reaffirmation of all the policies and doctrines for which Mr. Roosevelt has been so strenuously contending. The Anti-Injunction plank has excited so much attention that the fact is apt to be lost sight of that many other objectionable planks are also contained in it. The determined opposition which the injunction plank met is evidence of the vital issue that is at stake. It involves an attack on the integrity of the courts—an effort to undermine their authority and effectiveness in dealing with critical situations where a court alone is competent or capable of furnishing adequate and proper relief. This is the one point where Mr. Roosevelt has had to give way. The language has been materially changed from the form in which it was originally cast. A purely political solution, however, has been found. To placate those who would not tolerate anything to weaken the authority of the courts, a sentence has been incorporated saying that the Republican Party will ever insist that the powers of the court to enforce their process "be preserved inviolate." To placate the labor leaders in their demand that injunctions shall not be issued where strikers attempt intimidation and coercion, a declaration in favor of a statute to define the conditions under which the writ of injunction shall issue has been inserted. Thus, it will be possible for stump speakers to make a plea on either or both sides of the case.

On the trust question, as on the other things, the platform voices Mr. Roosevelt's views, though, perhaps, not in their entirety. The Sherman Anti-Trust law, it is averred, "has been a wholesome instrument for good in the hands of a wise and fearless Administration." But experience has shown, it is added, that its effectiveness can be strengthened and its real object better attained—how? "By such amendments as will give to the Federal Government greater supervision and control over, and secure greater publicity in, the management of that class of corporations engaged in inter-State commerce having power and opportunity to effect monopolies." We all know what this means. Mr. Roosevelt's messages and speeches have made the matter perfectly clear to the public mind. It means giving the Executive the power to decree, at his will, the life or death of all the corporations engaged in inter-State commerce—not merely railroad transportation lines, but all those engaged in selling goods across State boundaries, and who does not, now-a-days? It should be added that the words in the original draft proposing to exempt labor organizations and agricultural associations from the operation of any new anti-trust law were stricken out in committee—a distinct victory for the conservatives.

On the rate question, approval is given to the Hepburn Rate Law; and the "vigorous" policy of the Administration in enforcing the statute against rebates and discriminations is applauded. Further amendments to the Inter-State Commerce Law are advocated "so as to give railroads the right to make and publish traffic agreements subject to the approval of the Commission," but always conditioned upon the maintenance of "the principle of competition between natural competing lines and avoiding the common control of such lines by any means whatsoever." A sentence is added declaring in favor of national legislation to prevent the over-issue of stocks and bonds.

Mr. Roosevelt's ideas regarding postal savings banks are also incorporated. "We favor the establishment of a postal savings bank system for the convenience of the people and the encouragement of thrift"—that is the wording. We have on a previous occasion noted some of the grounds on which Federal savings banks of this description must be considered objectionable. We will say now only that "the convenience of the people and the encouragement of thrift" seem functions that belong to State sovereignty rather than national sovereignty.

With one statement in the platform we are in entire accord, namely that the country's "great natural wealth has been scarcely touched," that "we have a vast domain of three million square miles, literally bursting with latent treasure, still waiting the magic of capital and industry to be converted to the practical uses of mankind; a country rich in soil and climate, in the unharnessed energy of its rivers and in all the varied products of the field, the forest and the factory." This is the literal truth, and yet in the face of such unrivaled resources, and with a thrifty population of boundless energy, railroad gross earnings are now falling off (as we show by actual figures in a subsequent article) at the rate of over 500 million dollars a year. In the reason for this apparent anomaly, namely the destructive political policies pursued by the present Administration, are found in overwhelming force the objections to a longer continuance of such policies, and likewise the objections to the work and platform of the Republican Convention, which expresses such strong approval of these policies and advocates carrying them still further. The hope must be that the candidate will prove better than the platform.

THE CONVENTION AND ITS WORK.

Considered purely as an episode in American political history, the Republican National Convention at Chicago this week has one analogy. The Convention which in 1835, at Baltimore, named Martin Van Buren for the Democratic candidate in the election of 1836 was so completely dominated by the imperious will of President Jackson that its proceedings amounted merely to formal ratification of his wishes. Van Buren would by no means have stood in the line of succession as a candidate had either the politicians or the people enjoyed untrammeled choice. But the Convention was largely controlled by the popular enthusiasm over Jackson, and Jackson had made it plain, by his utterances and his political manoeuvers, that Van Buren, who, as Vice-President, had been his right-hand man throughout Jackson's second term, was the President's final choice. The Baltimore Convention was to a considerable extent made up of Federal office-holders, who were necessarily subject to the dictation of their chief.

The outcome, notwithstanding hot opposition in many outside quarters before the assembling of the Convention, was that Van Buren received the unanimous vote of the delegates. It is a curious fact that the action of this Convention, seventy-three years ago and practically at the beginning of our present system of nomination by a political mass-meeting, attracted vigorous criticism on the ground that, by placing selection of the candidate under one man's domination, it had aggravated, rather than removed, the evils of the other system of selection by a Congressional caucus.

Convention platforms, in their present shape, had not come into existence at that time. There was therefore no precedent, even in 1835, for the submission to the Convention, by the retiring President or parties in touch with him, of a list of policies to which it was to pledge the party. Van Buren's letter of acceptance declared that he would "endeavor to tread generally in the footsteps of President Jackson—happy if I shall be able to perfect the work which he has so gloriously begun." But this was not the adoption of a set of formal and detailed resolutions. It is this distinct innovation in the work of the Chicago Convention upon which attention and criticism have chiefly converged. With very few alterations, the platform has been adopted at Chicago exactly as it appeared in the draft published two days before the "platform committee" was even called together. But we will not dwell upon that feature here, as we have discussed it quite at length in the preceding article.

Such contest as occurred in the committee converged, as it should have done, on the so-called "anti-injunction plank." In the draft published before the platform committee met, this paragraph read as follows

> We declare for such amendments of the statutes of procedure in the Federal courts with respect to the use of the writ of injunction as will, on the one hand, prevent the summary issue of such orders without proper consideration, and, on the other, will preserve undiminished the power of the courts to enforce their process, to the end that justice may be done at all times and to all parties.

There were three grave objections to any such declaration. One was that, by implication at any rate, the plank assumed that the courts had misused their authority. Another was that an effort was made to deprive the courts of a power which has been of the greatest value for preserving the rights of individuals from interference. The third was that the language of the declaration stamped it as insincere, because it proposed two mutually inconsistent ends. To wrest from the courts their power of summary injunction—for so the proposal would have been popularly understood—while at the same time "preserving undiminished' their authority, is a little more than even formal amendment of the law by Congress could achieve.

When, along with these two considerations, it was plainly manifest that this "anti-injunction plank" was a direct concession to labor union dictation—Mr. Gompers's unseemly threats in the presence of the platform committee would have proved it, if there had been no other proof—there was reason for the Convention and its platform-makers to pause. It was impossible for the delegates to forget the indignant reception by the Republican Party and the people at large of the "anti-injunction plank" of another Convention—the declaration of the body which nominated Bryan in 1896, denouncing use of injunctions by the Federal courts as a "dangerous form of oppression," practiced "in contempt of the laws of the States and the rights of citizens." Undoubtedly, this consideration led to the substitution by the committee of the following more innocuous declaration

> The Republican Party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, State and Federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process, and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rule of procedure in the Federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more accurately defined by statute, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing thereafter should be granted.

Since the courts themselves have followed the rule of issuing writs of injunction without notice only when "irreparable injury would result from delay," it may, perhaps, be said that the substituted plank merely reaffirms the status quo. But concession to labor agitators and a slight to the judiciary will, unfortunately, still be read into it after what has happened, and the general verdict among thoughtful men will be that the question ought never to have been thus injected into the heat, passion and misunderstandings of a Presidential campaign.

Perhaps inevitably, the tariff plank, which was endorsed practically without change by the committee and the Convention, is more or less indefinite. The declaration "unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of Congress immediately following the inauguration of the next President," is a concession of some importance. But the question of how far revision under such circumstances shall go is left subject to the general stipulation that there should be preserved, "without excessive duties," both "the security against foreign competition to which American manufacturers, farmers and producers are entitled," and also the wage standard of the employees. These are terms which people of different interests and different shades of opinion on the subject will interpret very differently. The inference is at present not unnatural that the language will be interpreted, so far as the present Congress is concerned, with a view to a minimum of change. On this point the progress of the campaign may possibly throw more light.

The currency plank is altogether vague, except in so far as it expresses general belief in a currency automatic in operation and absolutely based on gold. The first of these stipulations would apparently point away from a bond-secured currency; but as to what should replace the present system, there is no intimation. The original draft approved the Emergency Currency law of the recent session as a "temporary enactment, designed to protect the country from a repetition of such stringency only until there can be established a permanent currency that will avoid all emergencies." The five concluding words of this sentence involved a slightly absurd assumption, and were quite rightly dropped by the platform committee, but with them was dropped the reference to the past session's law as a "temporary enactment"—which may or may not be significant. On the whole it must be said that the currency declaration is altogether general in its terms.

We have criticized frankly the features of the platform which seem to our mind to call for criticism. It must, however, be borne in mind that convention declarations which in their nature embody an attempt to please all shades of opinion among the voters do not determine finally the attitude of the party towards the matter of actual legislation, nor, in fact, even its attitude during the campaign. Of this second fact, the Democratic campaign of 1892 and the Republican campaign of 1896 were striking evidence. In each the platform declarations on the currency were superseded by the progress of events, and were practically forgotten before the canvass was two months old.

THE NEW YORK COTTON EXCHANGE VERSUS THE BUREAU OF CORPORATIONS.

While the New York Cotton Exchange has not thus far, as a body, taken cognizance of the criticisms of its methods by the Bureau of Corporations, some of the most prominent and influential members—men whose standing in the community and in the Cotton Exchange gives great weight to whatever opinions they may express—have come to its defense. But, lest there be doubt as to the scope of Bureau Commissioner Smith's criticisms, it is perhaps well to briefly summarize their character before referring to the replies that have been offered.

The first part of Mr. Smith's report, issued early in May, was devoted to that feature of the operations of cotton exchanges covering future or option trading, and the subject was treated quite exhaustively. The necessity of that form of business or method of operating on the Exchange was fully and frankly admitted, but the method of fixing differences between the grades deliverable on contract was characterized as faulty, and certain changes suggested. In the Commissioner's opinion, the differences, to be just and equitable, should be based upon prices prevailing in leading Southern markets, making due allowance for discrepancies in standards, &c., and not upon New York spot quotations, owing, as he expresses his criticism, to the narrowness of the local market. Furthermore, revision, according to his idea, should be made at least once a month, and not, as now, only twice a year—in September and November.

In the final installment of the report, made public late in May, attention was particularly directed to methods of classification of cotton and the range of grades deliverable on contract. The claim was made that there have been cases of overgrading at New York, and one specific instance was cited where the Board of Appeals of the Exchange, against the protest of the regular corps of classifiers, had forced inclusion in the contract-stock of cotton below the recognized official tenderable grade. The Commissioner also urged that more weight should be given to length, strength and character of staple than to superficial appearance. He finally suggested that while the future contract would be improved by the adoption of the low middling clause in place of the good ordinary, a proper method of establishing differences and an accurate manner of classification were more essential than a restricting of the deliverable grades.

Replying to the report of the Bureau, the large majority of the well-informed and best-posted members of the Exchange—men dealing extensively in spot cotton, as well as operating in futures—take direct issue with many of the criticisms and conclusions of the Commissioner. To start with, it is pointed out that the quotations at Southern markets do not furnish any equitable basis such as the Commissioner contends, upon which to fix the differences in grades in this market. The controlling fact, familiar to those acquainted with the present method of marketing cotton, is that but comparatively little of the staple is actually sold in those Southern markets which the Commissioner would take as his standard. It reaches those markets in large quantities and is counted in receipts, but the most of it has been sold at interior points before reaching the Southern ports, and is known as "through" cotton (in transit to destination), and is not examined as to grade at the ports, and can therefore furnish no basis for quotations.

As regards the plan to be followed in fixing the differences in price between the various grades deliverable on contract, there is not, of course, unanimity of opinion; but there is quite general dissent from the Commissioner's recommendations. Some years ago market differences (or, as the Commissioner calls them, commercial differences) were used as a basis, the differences being adjusted on the basis of the spot prices of the various grades deliverable at the time of delivery. This method causing great dissatisfaction, a change was made to a plan similar to that now followed, but with frequent revisions, without, however, removing the cause of complaint. The present system, with two revision periods, was then adopted, and is claimed to have worked much more satisfactorily than any of its predecessors. And, notwithstanding the criticism directed against it by the Bureau, many believe that it should be adhered to. Some, however, strongly favor making the second revision in December and not in November. Still, to do away with all complaints, many are inclined towards making the differences fixed and unalterable. They direct attention to the fact that the New York Coffee Exchange is operating under that plan, and has been for a number of years, with no complaints from importers, dealers or jobbers; and business has increased as compared with other markets. In truth, the system has worked so satisfactorily that the by-law covering the changing of differences has been abolished. It is claimed for the fixed-difference plan that under it very little, if anything, is left in doubt. Those who considered the differences as established inequitable would be under no compulsion to operate in the market. Should it be determined to adopt the fixed-difference plan, it naturally follows that each Exchange, in its own interest, would most carefully consider the matter and make adjustment in such manner as to draw business, not repel it. Even in Liverpool, the conviction is said to be growing that their contract is faulty, offering opportunity for manipulation, which it is believed the adoption of fixed and unalterable differences would render impossible.

No attempt is made to defend the action of the Board of Appeals made in November 1906, when the majority decided that the Committee on Classification must issue grade certificates for cotton received by the sub-inspectors. The contention was that the Exchange should be bound by the acts of its agents at the warehouses, errors of inspectors in receiving cotton not tenderable being made good from the inspection fund. At any rate the occurrence cited by the Commissioner was an isolated one, and was stated to be merely the following out of the custom in Southern markets of accepting all cotton passing the weigher scales. Passing that incident, which is likely never to be repeated, it is to be noted that no intimation has ever been made that improper motives impelled the action taken. The criticism of the action of the Board of Appeals did not, of course, extend to the classification Committee, which is recognized as a very capable body. This is amply attested by the comparatively small amount of reclamations from the inspectors' fund and the increasing disposition of spinners to submit disputes with shippers to it for settlement.

The adoption of the low middling clause as recommended by Mr. Smith would, it is everywhere asserted, force the Exchange out of business, as no one would or could sell such a contract. A clause of that character did exist here many years ago and led to violent corners. In Liverpool also it was in force some years ago, but was abandoned, and now there, as well as here, good ordinary is the lowest tenderable grade. One does not have to go far to establish the non-feasibility of the low middling clause. A glance at the figures of the New York certified stock as now constituted, and it is all merchantable and usable cotton, makes that point clear. The stock does not at this time average as high as low middling and has not at any time this season; consequently, the greater part of it would not be deliverable on contract. The crop of 1906-07 was of unusually low average grade, whereas the demand from spinners who were making large profits was for the higher or more easily worked grades. This left an abnormal quantity of low grade cotton on the market, which in consequence of the apparent shortness of the 1907-08 yield is now being steadily worked off. But, whether the grade of a crop be high or low, the port markets are becoming less important each year in the matter of spot business, the cotton being sold in the interior for export or to American mills and shipped through the ports to destination. Hence, it follows that not only does less unsold cotton reach the ports each succeeding year, but the amount available is largely of low grade. It thus becomes obvious that the adoption of the low middling clause, either here or elsewhere, would greatly interfere with business, largely restricting it to say the least.

That the New York Cotton Exchange as a body has not as yet taken cognizance of the strictures contained in the report of the Bureau of Corporations cannot be accepted as evidence that it is not alive to the situation. A new board of officers assumed control recently and as yet sufficient time has not elapsed for deliberative action. One of the newly elected officials, however, has stated that there will be especial willingness to give full attention to suggestions from the Government and that the men elected will labor to bring about a settlement of the differences which shall best serve the interests of every one in the cotton business.

A PROPOSED SOLUTION OF RAILWAY PROBLEMS.

In the June number of the "North American Review", Mr. William W. Cook, a lawyer, and at present general counsel for a number of the trans-Atlantic cable companies, presents what he thinks a practical solution of the railway problem. He correctly sums up the current attacks on corporations, the actual and proposed laying-hold on State functions by the Federal Government, the proposed federal licensing, and the other strange novelties which have not startled a nation that has gradually become wonted to them. His scheme for soothing existing troubles and arresting the movement towards worse he calls "a governmental railroad-holding company." Thus he would deal with the trust problem by creating one gigantic trust. It may interest our readers to see how he proposes to do it.

His first step would be to have Congress give a district charter to a company for gradually acquiring "the stock of all the railroads in the country." The stock is to be issued from time to time in purchase of, or exchange for existing stocks, "at valuations to be approved by the Inter State Commission in each instance," and the Commission is to be the minority in the board; but we note at the outset that the elective plan is to be abandoned; for the rest of the board, "constituting a majority, having been carefully selected from the beginning, would thereafter become practically self-perpetuating by the board's recommending to the stockholders for election new men to fill vacancies in the board." Mr. Cook takes the Commission's estimate of 4,800 millions as face value of the railway stocks in hands of the public. He imagines 1,260,000 shares in his holding company to be sold to the public at par, and with this 126 millions that 100,000 shares are obtained in each of ten of the most important roads. The income from this block of a million shares at present rates would be $6,900,000 yearly; the expenses of the holding company (arguing from the experience of the Mackay companies) should not exceed $25,000 yearly, leaving 5½% on the holding company's stock, "an attractive rate in view of the safeguards thrown about the management and investments."

The first objection to this is that it is only a dream. The charter might be obtained, that being only a piece of political hysteria; but the new shares would not sell, nor would holders of railway stocks voluntarily make the exchange. The new machine would never start, unless by some effective use of the Governmental power which it is proposed to avoid.

But, what if we imagine this initial inertia to have been overcome and that the machine has started? The three objections to a stockholding plan are eliminated by this one, says Mr. Cook. These are the danger that the stocks might be bought "at unfair prices or for personal purposes;" the danger that the stocks might be voted for selfish ends; the danger that competition might be destroyed, to the public detriment. As we are just now imagining that the stocks have been acquired at the Commission's valuations (according to the proposition) the first of the named objections is in part disposed of; for the rest, the actuating motives are to become pure throughout. Under Government ownership, competition would not exist; and if Government had the voting of the stocks of competing roads, all occasion for competition would disappear. Had the Commission held a large block in Illinois Central and been ready to also receive proxies, says Mr. Cook, there is no doubt who would now control that system; had the Commission held voting power on the stocks owned by the Northern Securities, there would have been no attack on that company,"because the Commission would have voted those stocks in the public interest, the same as they would administer the railroads themselves if the Government owned the railroads."

This is very beautiful indeed, considered as a dream. No further demoralization of politics, and no political interferences anywhere; only the purest and ablest men getting into office; the members of the Inter-State Commission impeccable and inerrant; everybody believing and trusting them to be such, and, therefore, everybody happy—all we need to reach this condition is to put Mr. Cook's article under our pillow and fall asleep.

Even the serious problem of the future capital needed for railway betterment and expansion is to be solved with the rest. Mr. Cook quotes an estimate that a billion annually ought to be spent for five years to come on additional facilities, and he mentions the notorious fact that capital cannot now be had. But, he says, if the control of the roads were vested in the Inter-State Commerce Commission, as outlined above, there "should be no difficulty in the railroads obtaining from the sale of their securities all the money they need." On one page he says that probably every railroad man in the country would be in favor of such a plan as be proposes, provided (and he emphasizes the proviso by italics) the Commission were not given power to vote the railroad stocks; yet this very power, which he thinks obnoxious to railroad men, he mentions among the features which his proposed charter "could" include, and on another page he says that the Commission "would" vote the stocks and also receive and vote on proxies.

What can be done for men so confused in mind that they do not see how interference and regulation have already disturbed confidence in railway investments and really imagine that further centralization would prove a cure for the mischiefs already wrought? On one page Mr. Cook says that "if" the Government should guaranty three per cent dividends, &c. Here is the covert suggestion of a possible Government ownership cropping out, and there is no difficulty in admitting that any scheme which the Government formally adopts falls into the same class with its own bonds, and is commended to investors, up to the date when Government has undertaken too muc hload. Meanwhile, if anything is plain, it is that what railway finance most needs is some assurance that railways will be let more alone hereafter.

All governments and times must get on with the demagogue; but of late years we have had the further trouble of a number of amiable theorists, whose good intentions and sincerity are beyond doubt, who bring forward schemes which are apparently well thought-out, and are offered as remedial. Their plausibility and their being urged as relief from a condition which everybody recognizes, although people differ about the causes, is what makes them dangerous. Their authors, like Mr. Cook, exhibit confusion of thought and do not go below the surface of the case. It is a confusion to view the railroads as if they were a distinct entity, something foreign and hostile to the people; and Mr. Cook himself, laboring to construct arguments for his imagined specific, does not note that he pulls against himself when he reminds us "that nearly every great railroad system in the country is controlled, not by a few men, but by a multitudinous body of small stockholders."

Then why not trust more to the body of small stockholders? The only reason why we do not is that we are in a term of hysteria, which vaguely imagines that "the Government" is something larger, wiser, purer, and more potent at working wonders than the people themselves, and this, despite the palpable fact that our actual practice of politics does not bring the ablest and least selfish men to the front. The evils wrought by meddling with the natural and free course of events cannot be alleviated, much less cured, by further meddling and further concentration of powers; the thing is preposterous. Indications are that the hysteria is beginning to pass; at least, there is no remedy for it except by its own natural reaction.

RAILROAD GROSS AND NET EARNINGS FOR APRIL.

Each new compilation of railroad earnings affords additional testimony to the striking way in which the revenues of our rail transportation lines are shrinking at the present time. Last week we gave a summary of the figures for the month of May, covering, however, only the roads which furnish early preliminary returns, as only two weeks had elapsed since the close of the month. This week we are able to present complete results (or as nearly complete as it is possible ever to make these compilations) for the month of April of both gross and net earnings, the net figures being always very slow in coming to hand.

As an indication of the course of railroad business, this exhibit for April is very discouraging, the loss in gross revenues being of enormous magnitude. It is true that the showing in the case of the net is much more satisfactory, but that is tantamount to saying that railroad managers, having got better control of their expense accounts, are diminishing outlays in proportion to the curtailment of their gross revenues. This, while absolutely necessary to ward off insolvency, is obviously not a feature to crow over, since these diminutions in the outlays of the railroads—on such a large scale too—can only serve to further intensify the existing prostration of the country's industries.

In the case of the roads furnishing returns of both gross and net earnings, the loss in gross reaches over 30½ million dollars, or to be exact $30,544,943. But this relates merely to the roads which make it a practice, as stated, to report figures of both gross and net, and embracing an aggregate of 153,007 miles of road. In addition we have returns of gross alone from 33,129 more miles of road, and these contribute a further loss in gross of $5,364,045. Together, therefore, the loss reaches almost 36 million dollars—$35,908,988. But even this still leaves a portion of the railroad mileage of the country unrepresented. It covers an aggregate of 186,136 miles, whereas the total railroad mileage of the country is, roughly, 228,000 miles. There seems no reason to think that the roads which do not give out monthly figures either of gross alone or of gross and net combined have suffered proportionately any less than the others, and accordingly we are forced to the conclusion that if we could include the missing mileage, the falling off in gross revenues for the month of April for the railroad system of the United States would reach $42,000,000 or $43,000,000. The amount is startling. It is, it will be observed, a shrinkage at the rate of over $500,000,000 a year. In other words, the railroads—aside entirely from the curtailment of their capital outlays, owing to their inability to borrow with any great degree of freedom because of the loss of confidence on the part of capitalists and investors in the stability of railroad investments, this reduction in capital outlays being itself an item of enormous magnitude—on their ordinary operations are having $500,000,000 less a year to spend for wages and supplies.

The April loss is far in excess of that of any of the preceding months. In March the loss was only about $30,000,000; in February the falling off was only about $22,000,000 to $23,000,000 and in January about $25,000,000. The fact should not, of course, be overlooked that conditions during April were exceptionally unfavorable. In addition to the depression in trade and a falling off in the cotton traffic in the South and in the grain and live-stock movements in the West, there was one other adverse factor of very large importance. We refer of course to the suspension of coal mining, pending the adjustment of the wage scale, over large portions of the bituminous coal regions throughout the country. As very little coal was produced, the coal traffic over the railroads was correspondingly cut down, and on many of the roads this coal traffic, we need hardly say, is normally quite large, while in hardly any case is it inconsequential in amount. The question of miners' wages was in nearly all cases definitely settled before the close of April, making it possible to resume work at the mines, and this would encourage the thought that the April result, so extremely unfavorable, could be treated as relating to a situation now behind us—as a thing of the past. Unfortunately, however, the summary of the early returns for the month of May which we gave last week has made it evident that in May—notwithstanding differences at the coal mines no longer existed—the roads fared no better than they did in April.

The strikingly noteworthy feature in the loss in gross earnings for April, as indeed in the losses for the months preceding, is that it is so general, extending to all classes of roads and to all sections of the country. Out of the whole 100 roads which have supplied figures of gross and net for April, there are only 9 which are able to report an increase of any kind, either large or small, and but one that has an increase of as much as $30,000. The other 91 roads all have decreases and these decreases are quite generally of very large proportion. For the Pennsylvania Railroad the decrease on the lines directly operated East of Pittsburgh and Erie reaches no less than $5,402,100. For the New York Central System the loss is $3,488,848, though for the New York Central proper the loss is only $1,257,007. The Baltimore & Ohio has lost $2,082,885 and the Erie $1,031,672; the Southern Pacific $1,318,130; the St. Louis & San Francisco $1,241,284; the Atchison $1,132,980; the Chicago North Western $1,004,316; the Illinois Central $930,438; the Canadian Pacific $893,825; the Southern Railway $832,101, and so on throughout the list. As the best way of indicating the widespread character of the losses, we present the following, in our usual form, showing all changes for the separate roads for amounts in excess of $30,000, whether increases or decreases. In this case there is just one increase, while there are 70 decreases.

Note.—Figures in parenthesis after name of road indicate the number of lines or companies for which separate returns are given in our compilations.

a These figures cover merely the operations of the New York Central itself. Including the various auxiliary and controlled roads, like the Michigan Central, the Lake Shore, the "Big Four," 'the "Nickel Plate," &c., the whole going to form the New York Central System, the result is a loss of $3,488,848.

x These figures are for the Railroad Co.; the Coal & Iron Co. reports an increase of $332,328.

y These figures cover the lines directly operated east and west of Pittsburgh and Erie. The gross on Eastern lines decreased $2,848,500 and the gross on Western lines decreased $2,553,600.

We have stated that the showing as to net is much better. The managers have as far as possible adjusted expenses to the volume of their business, cutting out all improvement and betterment work, and have even reduced repairs and renewals to the smallest compass possible. Altogether, the roads which make returns of both gross and net earnings managed to reduce their expenses during April as compared with the same month last year over 20 million dollars—$20,449,822. This, as stated above, relates to an aggregate of 153,007 miles of road. For the railroad system as a whole the amount of the curtailment in expenses was probably nearly 50% in excess of the sum given. As the loss in gross on the roads reporting was $30,544,943, this saving of $20,449,822 in expenses has still left a loss in the net of $10,095,121. The ratio of decrease is 21.05%, as compared with 18.50% decrease in the gross. In March the decrease in net was 14.40%, against 13.23% decrease in gross; in February the falling off in the net was 25.10%, against 12.55% in the gross, while for January the decrease in net was 29.93%, against 12.91% in the gross. In the following we give the totals both for April and the four months ending with April. For these roads, covering somewhat more than two-thirds of the railroad mileage of the country, the loss in gross earnings for the four months has been $89,644,390, the reduction in expenses $52,759,682 and the shrinkage in net $36,884,708, the ratio of decrease in the gross being 14.29% and in the net 21.58%.

The loss in the net of $10,095,121 for April being based on 153,007 miles of road, it is fair to presume that for the railroad mileage of the whole country the falling off in net was about $15,000,000. For March we estimated the loss in net for the whole railroad mileage of the United States at about $10,000,000; for February at about $11,000,000 to $12,000,000, and for January at about $16,000,000 to $17,000,000.

In the case of the separate roads, economies in management have enabled the companies in some instances to make an increase in net even where there has been a large decrease in the gross. Of course there are not many cases of this kind, but there are a few. Two conspicuous instances are the Southern Railway and the Union Pacific. It may be recalled that on the Southern Railway expenses last year were running up in a phenomenal way; hence this road now reports an improvement in net for the month under review in the sum of $244,039, though gross was reduced in amount of $832,101. The Union Pacific, with $447,342 decrease in the gross, has $455,940 increase in the net. Still, notwithstanding the great curtailment in expenses, heavy losses in net are reported by many different roads in various parts of the country, the Pennsylvania, for instance, having fallen behind $1,448,400, the Baltimore & Ohio $1,334,185, the Erie $683,360, &c., &c. In the following we have brought together the changes in net for amounts in excess of $30,000, whether increases or decreases, just as we have above in the case of the gross. As indicating the part played by reduced expenses in affecting results, it will be noted that there are twelve roads which have increases in net of over $30,000, whereas there was only one road that had an increase of that amount in the gross.

x These figures are for the Railroad Co.; the Coal & Iron Co. reports a decrease of $17,093.

y These figures cover lines directly operated east and west of Pittsburgh and Erie. The net on Eastern lines decreased $663,900 and the net on Western lines decreased $784,500.

We need hardly say that, treating the roads as a whole, comparison is with earnings which had been showing increases for a long series of years past. This feature is brought out in the table we now present, comparing the totals, as registered in our tables covering the roads actually furnishing returns of both gross and net earnings, in each year back to 1896.

When the roads are arranged in groups, every group, as would be expected, records a loss in gross, and also every group, with one minor exception, a loss in the net. The percentage of loss, however, varies widely, being heaviest in the case of the trunk line group and the Middle Western group.

All the foregoing tables relate to the roads which have supplied returns of both gross and net earnings. Besides these, as already noted, there are certain others which make public only their figures of gross, the list comprising some quite important companies, like the Northern Pacific, the Milwaukee & St. Paul, the Great Northern, &c. Starting with the total of the gross in the above, we add on these other roads in the table we now introduce.

We have already indicated that if we could have returns for the roads still unrepresented, the aggregate of the loss in gross for the whole railroad system of the country would approximate $42,000,000 to $43,000,000.

—James S. Sherman, who was nominated yesterday by the Republicans for Vice-President on the ticket with Secretary Taft, is a prominent banker, being now, and for some years past having been, President of the Utica Trust & Deposit Co. of Utica, N. Y.

—The surrender of Government deposits by the Chemical National Bank and the American Exchange National Bank of this city has been announced the present week. This action has been taken because Section 15 of the new currency law requires that interest at the rate of at least 1% a year be paid by depositary banks on Government deposits. These banks have never followed the practice of paying interest on deposits, and their course in returning the Federal moneys was in accordance with this policy. In a reference last week to the interest requirement of the new law, Secretary Cortelyou stated that "interest will be paid on the entire amount held by temporary or special depositaries, and on the amount held by regular depositaries in excess of the amount needed for the transaction of public business." The Chemical, which was a temporary depositary, therefore returns its entire deposit of public funds, amounting, it is said, to $1,028,000. The American Exchange National, a regular depositary, relinquishes that portion which is in excess of the amount kept with it by the Secretary in the regular course of business.

—Instructions with regard to the formation of national currency associations, provided for under the newly enacted currency law, are set out in a circular issued on Friday last by Secretary Cortelyou. Mr. Cortelyou outlines the requirements of the Act, and refers to the two methods which may be employed in applying for currency under its provisions, namely, either through the associations, or by direct application by a bank, as provided in Section 3. In citing the regulations established in pursuance of the requirements of the new law, the Secretary states that in order that all national banks possessing the qualifications of unimpaired capital and 20% surplus prescribed in the Act may be included within the membership of an association, he (the Secretary) reserves the right to add to and include in the territory of any association any contiguous territory containing national banks, which, but for such inclusion, would be excluded from, or inconveniently located as to, a national currency association. The banks are also advised that the names of the associations must be indicative of their locality, and an association may not style itself "First National Currency Association." The Secretary has also prepared and distributed blank forms to be used in connection with the organization of national currency associations. The following is the form to be adopted by the directors of a bank desiring to enter an association:

At a regular meeting of the board of directors of the ..... National Bank of ..... held ..... 190 , it was on motion Resolved That ..... I certify that the above is a true copy from the minutes.

(Seal of bank.) Secretary of Board of Directors.

This resolution should be certified by some officer of the institution other than the one empowered to act.

—Among the cities where active preparations are in progress toward the establishment of national currency associations (outside of New York and Washington referred to last Saturday) may be mentioned Philadelphia, St. Louis and Baltimore. In Philadelphia, at a meeting of the Clearing House committee on Tuesday, a subcommittee was appointed to draft plans for the formation of a currency association, and a meeting of the banks will be held later to take formal action in the matter. In the case of St. Louis, where there are but eight national banks, it will be necessary to take in banks in adjacent cities to comply with the new law under which not less than ten banks are required to constitute an association.

Representatives of national banks, members of the Buffalo Clearing House Association, held a meeting on Wednesday to consider the question of organizing a national currency organization; it was decided, however, in a resolution adopted, to defer action until similar organizations had been formed in some of the larger cities.

—The San Francisco "Chronicle" of June 5 states that a petition has been filed for a rehearing of a recent decision of the Supreme Court which holds as invalid the special holidays voted by the Legislature last fall. The decision also declares as void the amendment to the code passed at the same time with regard to the nature of business which could be transacted on special holidays. The "Chronicle" states that the point made by the Court in its decision was that legislation which applied only to the enforcement of money demands was special legislation, and unconstitutional. This point the petition undertakes to contorvert on the ground that the legislation was of a wide scope and was to prevent the maturing of any obligation to pay money during that period, which the governing body of the State viewed as a time of panic. It is maintained in the petition that the financial panic did not affect any class of actions excepting those relating to the payment of money demands and that under the circumstances the legislation affecting only money demands cannot be considered open to the constitutional inhibition.

—The new Mexican banking bill, which passed the lower house of Congress in May, is reported to have been passed by the Senate in an amended form. Among other things, the bill regulates the establishment of new banks and provides for the examination of existing institutions.

—Wm. A. Read & Co., 25 Nassau Street, have prepared a pamphlet in which are summarized the essential features of the new emergency currency law. The explanatory circular issued by the Secretary of the Treasury last week is also given in abridged shape, and the forms for use in organizing national currency associations, gotten up by the Secretary, are likewise shown. The firm announces that it will be glad to advise with banks as to the securities acceptable for deposit against notes under the provisions of the law, and to endeavor to answer any other questions concerning its operation.

—The stockholders of the Chelsea Exchange Bank of this city, at a meeting on Thursday took favorable action on the question of increasing the capital from $100,000 to $200,000.

—A plan for the liquidation of the affairs of E. R. Thomas, O. F. Thomas and the firm of Robert Maclay & Co. has been submitted to the various creditors by the Creditors Committee, composed of William O. Allison, Benjamin F. Nicoll and Elverton R. Chapman, appointed to perfect arrangements for the settlement of the Thomas and Maclay debts. The plan provides for the immediate payment by the debtors of $200,000, and annual payments of $100,000 in cash (this latter coming mainly from the income of E. R. Thomas), until the entire indebtedness, which is said to amount to about $3,000,000, is cleared. The following statement concerning the agreement has been issued by Sullivan & Cromwell, counsel for the Creditors' Committee.

Under the liquidating plan proposed, J. Horace Harding of the Knickerbocker Trust Co., William H. Taylor of the Bowling Green Trust Co., William O. Allison of the Consolidated National Bank, Charles I. Mc Burney of Stickney, Maclay & McBurney, and Elverton R. Chapman of the Hudson Trust Co., are constituted liquidating trustees. The debtors make a complete assignment of all their property to the liquidating trustees. The creditors assign to the liquidating trustees their claims and deliver their collateral to be liquidated by the trustees for the benefit of the depositing creditor. Under the plan each creditor's collateral is liquidated for his benefit, any surplus going to the general creditors.

The agreement further provides for an immediate payment to the liquidating trustees by the debtors of $200,000 and annual payments of $100,000 in cash. The agreement was prepared by Sullivan & Cromwell, as counsel for the Creditors' Committee.

We understand that a majority of the creditors have agreed to the plan.

—In addition to the new banking laws enacted by the New York Legislature the present year, previously printed in these columns, we give to-day another. This law reduces the maximum of a secured loan which may be made by a State bank or trust company in Manhattan from 40% to 25% of its capital and surplus. For institutions located in the other boroughs of Greater New York, or elsewhere in the State, the 40% limit is retained. The total liability of any person, company, corporation or firm to a bank or trust company under the amendment is likewise reduced from 40% to 25% of the capital and surplus of any banking institution in Manhattan, but elsewhere the amount is allowed to remain at 40%, as heretofore. A section is added which prohibits any underwriting loan by a bank or trust company unless the borrowers or underwriters shall have paid on account of the purchase of such securities an amount in cash or its equivalent equal to at least 25% of the several amounts for which they remain obligated. Banks and trust companies making such loan are prohibited from becoming liable, directly, indirectly or contingently, for its repayment, and it is also stipulated that no such loan shall be made for a longer period than one year. By the new law a bank or trust company is also prohibited from making a loan upon the security of real estate upon which there is a prior mortgage, if the amount unpaid on such prior mortgage or mortgages exceeds 10% of the capital and surplus of such corporation, or if the amount so secured, including all prior mortgages, liens and encumbrances, shall exceed two-thirds of the appraised value of such real estate. After Nov. 1 1908 no loan may be made upon real estate security by a bank located in Manhattan if its total direct and indirect loans upon such security exceeds 15% of the total assets of such bank; elsewhere the limit is fixed at 25% of the total assets. Under still another new section no corporation may deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation unless such other corporation has been approved by a majority of the directors of the institution making the deposit, exclusive of any director who is an officer, director or trustee of the depositary designated. And, further, no corporation is hereafter to make a loan secured by the stock of another moneyed corporation if by the making of such loan the total stock of such other moneyed corporation held by it as collateral will exceed 10% of the par value of such other moneyed corporation. The text of the bill follows, the new matter being shown in italics and the old matter, to be omitted, in brackets:

AN ACT

To amend the Banking Law, relative to restrictions upon the loans and business methods of corporations subject to its provisions.

The People of the State of New York, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 25 of chapter 689 of the laws of 1892, entitled "An Act in relation to banking corporations," as amended by chapter 696 of the laws of 1893, chapter 929 of the laws of 1895, chapter 452 of the laws of 1896, chapter 456 of the laws of 1905 and chapter 572 of the laws of 1906, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 25. Restrictions.—1. No bank or trust company shall make any loans to any person, company, corporation or firm, to an amount exceeding the one-tenth part of its capital stock, actually paid in, and surplus; provided, however, that a bank or trust company having its principal place of business in a borough in any city of the State which borough had, according to the last preceding State or United States Census, a population of eighteen hundred thousand or over may loan to any person, company, corporation or firm, a sum not exceeding [forty] twenty-five per centum of its capital stock actually paid in, and surplus, and a bank or trust company having its principal place of business elsewhere in the State forty per centum of its capital stock actually paid in and surplus upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of the loan; or it may loan ten per centum of such capital and surplus as first above provided, and a bank or trust company having its principal place of business in a borough in any city in the State which borough had according to the last preceding State or United States Census a population of eighteen hundred thousand or over may loan a further sum not exceeding [thirty] fifteen per centum of such capital and surplus, and a bank or trust company having its principal place of business elsewhere in the State may loan thirty per centum of such capital and surplus upon security worth at least fifteen per centum more than the amount of such loan so secured; and [,] provided [,] further, that a bank or trust company may buy from, or discount for, any person, company, corporation or firm, or loan upon, bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actually existing values, or commercial or business paper actually owned by the person negotiating the same, a sum not exceeding [forty] twenty-five per centum of its capital stock actually paid in and surplus if its principal place of business is located in a borough in any city in the State which borough had, according to the last preceding State or United States Census, a population of eighteen hundred thousand or over and not exceeding forty per centum of its capital stock actually paid in and surplus if its principal place of business is located elsewhere in the State; provided, further, however, that [in no event shall] with the exception of the liability of the United States, of this State, or of any county or incorporated city of this State the total liability of any person, company, corporation or firm [,] to a bank or trust company shall not exceed [forty] twenty-five per centum of the actually paid in capital stock and surplus of any such bank or trust company having its principal place of business in a borough in any city in the State which borough had, according to the last preceding State or United States Census, a population of eighteen hundred thousand or over and shall not exceed forty per centum of the actually paid in capital stock and surplus of any such bank or trust company having its principal place of business elsewhere in the State.

2. No loan shall be made by any bank or trust company upon the securities of one or more corporations the payment of which is undertaken in whole or in part severally, but not jointly, by two or more individuals, firms or corporations:

(a) if the borrowers or underwriters be obligated absolutely or contingently to purchase the securities or any of them collateral to such loan, unless the borrowers or underwriters shall have paid on account of the purchase of such securities an amount in cash or its equivalent equal to at least twenty-five per centum of the several amounts for which they remain obligated in completing the purchase of such securities;

(b) if the bank or trust company making such loan be liable directly, indirectly or contingently for the repayment of such loan or any part thereof;

(c) if its term including any renewal thereof, by agreement, express or implied, exceed the period of one year;

(d) or to an amount, under any circumstances, in excess of twenty-five per centum of the capital and surplus of the bank or trust company making such loan.

3. No corporation to which this chapter is applicable except a building and mutual loan corporation or association or a co-operative savings and loan association shall hereafter make a loan, directly or indirectly, upon the security of real estate upon which there is a prior mortgage, lien or incumbrance, if the amount unpaid upon such prior mortgage, lien or incumbrance, or the aggregate amount unpaid upon all prior mortgages, liens and incumbrances exceeds ten per centum of the capital and surplus of such corporation, or if the amount so secured, including all prior mortgages, liens and incumbrances shall exceed two-thirds of the appraised value of such real estate as found by a committee of the directors or trustees of such corporation; but this provision shall not prevent the acceptance of any such real estate securities to secure the payment of a debt previously contracted in good faith. Every mortgage and every assignment of a mortgage taken or held by such corporation shall immediately be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county in which the real estate described in the mortgage is located. After the first day of November 1908, no loan shall be made, directly or indirectly, upon real estate security by a bank having its principal place of business in a borough in any city in the State which borough had, according to the last preceding State or United States Census, a population of eighteen hundred thousand or over, if its total direct and indirect loans upon real estate security exceed, or by the making of such loan will exceed, fifteen per centum in the aggregate of the total assets of such bank, or by a bank having its principal place of business elsewhere in the State if its total direct and indirect loans upon real estate security exceed, or by the making of such loan will exceed, twenty-five per centum in the aggregate of its total assets.

[2] 4. No [such] corporation to which this chapter is applicable, nor any of its directors, officers, agents or servants shall, directly or indirectly, purchase or be interested in the purchase of any promissory note or other evidence of debt issued by it for a less sum than shall appear on the face thereof to be due. Every person violating the provisions of this subdivision shall forfeit to the people of the State three times the nominal amount of the note or other evidence of debt so purchased.

5. No corporation to which this chapter is applicable shall deposit any of its funds with any other moneyed corporation unless such other moneyed corporation has been designated as a depositary for its funds by vote of a majority of the directors or trustees of the corporation making the deposit, exclusive of any director or trustee who is an officer, director or trustee of the depositary so designated.

[3] 6. No President, director, cashier, clerk or agent of any [such] corporation to which this chapter is applicable, and no person in any way interested or concerned in the management of its affairs, shall as individuals discount, or, directly or indirectly, make any loan upon any note or other evidence of debt which he shall know to have been offered for discount to such corporation, and to have been refused. Every person violating the provisions of this subdivision shall, for each offence, forfeit to the people of the State twice the amount of the loan which he shall have made.

[4] 7. No officer, director, clerk or agent of any bank shall borrow, directly or indirectly, from the bank with which he is officially connected any sum of money without the consent and approval of a majority of the board of directors thereof. Every person violating this provision shall, for each offence, forfeit to the people of the State twice the amount which he shall have borrowed.

[5] 8. No [such] corporation to which this chapter is applicable except a building and mutual loan corporation or co-operative savings and loan association, shall make any loan or discount on the security of the shares of its own capital stock nor be the purchaser or holder of any such shares, unless such security or purchase shall be necessary to prevent loss upon a debt previously contracted in good faith; and stock so purchased or acquired shall within six months from the time of its purchase be sold or disposed of at public or private sale. Every person or corporation violating the provisions of this subdivision shall forfeit to the people of the State twice the nominal amount of such stock.

9. No corporation to which this chapter is applicable shall hereafter make a loan, secured by the stock of another moneyed corporation, if by the making of such loan the total stock of such other moneyed corporation held by it as collateral will exceed in the aggregate ten per centum of the par value of the capital stock of such other moneyed corporation.

[6] 10. The directors of any bank may semi-annually or quarterly declare a dividend of so much of the net profits of the corporation of which they are directors as they shall judge expedient, but each such corporation shall, before the declaration of a dividend, carry one-tenth part of its net profits earned since its last preceding [dividends] dividend to its surplus fund until the same shall amount to twenty per centum of its capital. Any surplus fund already accumulated by any such corporation may be counted as part of said twenty per centum. Each corporation shall report to the Superintendent of Banks within ten days after declaring a dividend the amount of such dividend, and the amount of net earnings in excess of such dividend, and the amount carried to the surplus fund. Such report shall be attested by the oath of the president or cashier of the corporation. If the directors of any such corporation shall knowingly violate, or knowingly permit any of the officers, agents or servants of the corporation to violate, any of the provisions of this subdivision, all the rights, privileges and franchises of the corporation shall thereby be forfeited. Such violation shall, however, be determined and adjudged by the supreme court of the State in a suit brought for that purpose by the Superintendent of Banks in his own name before the corporation shall be declared dissolved.

[7] 11. No savings bank hereafter incorporated shall do business or be located in the same room or in any room communicating with any bank, or national banking association.

Section 2. This Act shall take effect immediately.

Approved April 28 1908

—The banking house of George W. Young & Co., 59 Cedar Street, has issued a pamphlet containing the amendments made to the banking laws of New York State by the 1908 Legislature. The bills are printed in full, both the old and new matter being shown.

—The consolidation of the Northern, the Riverside and the Hamilton banks of this city, which was ratified by the respective shareholders on May 18, went into operation on Saturday last, the 13th inst, the enlarged bank beginning business on that day under the name of the Northern Bank of New York. Mr. Grant had been at the head of the Hamilton since its reorganization in January, prior to which he was Vice-President of the Carnegie Trust Co.; Mr. Schlesinger was President of the Northern, and had previously been President of the Mechanics' & Traders'; Mr. McHale and Mr. Ives were Vice-Presidents of the Hamilton Bank; Mr. Bizallion was Cashier of the Riverside Bank; Mr. Brower was Vice-President of the Riverside Bank, and Mr. Rado was Cashier of the Northern Bank. The main offices of the new bank are at Broadway and 4th Street. Its branches are as follows: Hamilton, 215 West 125th Street; Hamilton-Tremont, 765 Tremont Avenue; Hamilton-7th Avenue, 135th Street and 7th Avenue; Hamilton-Washington Heights, 1707 Amsterdam Avenue; Riverside, 57th Street and 8th Avenue; Twenty-third Street, 23d Street and 8th Avenue; Hamilton-Melrose, 163d Street and Third Avenue; Hamilton-Port Morris, 138th Street and Willis Avenue; and Hamilton-Williamsbridge, 194 White Plains Avenue. The Hamilton Bank had been closed from Oct. 24 to Jan. 20 last, re-opening under a deferred-payment plan. It is understood that the final restriction with respect to the withdrawal of deposits has been removed.

—An increase of 2% has been made in the semi-annual dividend of the Seaboard National Bank of this city, to be paid July 1, 5% having been declared to holders of record June 25. The semi-annual cash payments have been 3% since 1887.

—The Commercial Trust Co. of this city has removed from Broadway and 37th St. to more commodious quarters in the new office building at Broadway and 41st St. The banking department of the company occupies the street floor of the structure, its safe deposit department being located in the basement. —The Empire Trust Co. of this city announces a semi-annual dividend of 4% on its stock, to be paid July 1 to holders of record June 20. This is an increase of 1% in the half-yearly distribution, and places the stock on an 8% per annum basis.

—An order directing the State Banking Department to make a supplemental examination of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank of this city, with a view to determining the question of its re-opening, was signed by Justice Blanchard of the Supreme Court this week. The order also modifies an injunction issued against the bank in February so as to permit it to perfect its reorganization plans; it allows a reduction in the capital from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000, and authorizes the stockholders to place the stock under the control of three voting trustees, namely, Morgan J. O'Brien, Edward M. Grout and William M. English. It further grants the bank authority to procure a loan of $1,000,000 from the Equitable Trust Co., and provides for the election of a new board of directors. It is proposed to reduce the directorate from a membership of twenty-five to twenty, and a meeting of the stockholders will be held on the 30th inst to ratify this proposition. The bank has been closed since Jan. 29.

—An extra dividend of 2% in addition to the usual quarterly distribution of 3% will be paid by the Washington Trust Co., this city, on July 1. Two per cent extra was also paid in Jan. 1907.

—Under a judgment given on the 11th inst. by Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court, Receiver Hanna of the National Bank of North America of this city recovers 1,000 shares of Chase National Bank stock pledged by Charles W. Morse with the Metropolitan Trust Co. for a loan of $105,000.

—The Federal Grand Jury this week handed down an indictment against Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Curtis, respectively Vice-President and President of the National Bank of North America. It is understood that the indictment contains forty-one counts, charging conspiracy to make false entries in the books of the banks and the reports to the Comptroller and misapplication of the funds of the institution. This is the third indictment returned against Mr. Morse by the Grand Jury; the present one is said to deal with transactions not covered in the previous indictments.

—The stockholders of the Nassau Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough will meet on July 9 to vote on the matter of increasing the capital from $500,000 to $600,000. The new capital will be issued to comply with the recently enacted law which requires $100,000 capital for each branch operated in addition to that of the parent institution. The company's main office is at Broadway and Bedford Ave.; its branch is located at Fulton St. and Red Hook Lane.

—Charles J. Lockitt has been elected Cashier of the Montauk Bank of Brooklyn Borough, to take the place of H. B. Conlin, who has become outside representative of the institution. The bank is located at Fifth Ave. and Union St. It began business in March 1907.

—The Jenkins Trust Co. of Brooklyn Borough, which reopened its doors on April 15, after several months' suspension, assumed its new name, the Lafayette Trust Co., on the 15th inst. The payment of the third installment of 10% due the depositors under the resumption plan on July 15 has been anticipated, it having been made on Monday last. The plan provided for the payment of 10% monthly, the first installment thirty days after the company's re-opening. Both the first and second payments were also anticipated. The institution has a capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $160,000. Besides its main office at Nostrand and Gates avenues, it has five branches, as follows: Broadway and De Kalb Ave., Rockaway and Pitkin avenues, Myrtle Ave. and Bleecker St., Bay 20th St. and Bath Ave., Bath Beach, and Surf Ave. and West 12th St., Coney Island. Harold A. Davidson is President.

—Supreme Court Justice Betts at Kingston, in an order issued on Tuesday, approved the plan of reorganization of the Brooklyn Bank, proposed by S. S. Menken, whereby the bank will take over the assets of the International Trust Co. and liquidate that institution. The order also directed the receivers to turn the bank over to the stockholders before to-day, the 20th inst. It is accordingly expected that the institution will reopen its doors next week. In consideration of the transfer of the assets of the trust company to the bank, the latter is to pay the International Trust sufficient to meet the demands of its depositors, receivers and creditors. The assets are to be used in effecting the reorganization of the Brooklyn Bank, which has also arranged for a loan of $600,000 from the Metropolitan Trust Co. of this city. During the time the loan remains outstanding, the affairs of the bank will be under the direction of an advisory committee consisting of Brayton Ives, President of the Metropolitan Trust Co.; James G. Cannon, Vice-President of the Fourth National Bank, and Erskine Hewitt. According to Mr. Menken, the loan from the Metropolitan is secured by bills receivable at 6% interest and a commission of 3%, in addition to a lien on an account held by the Brooklyn Bank in the Borough Bank. The following receivership allowances were fixed by the Court: Bruyn Hasbrouck, receiver of the Brooklyn Bank, $23,000; Charles M. Higgins, co-receiver, $19,000; Charles A. Dolson, attorney, $4,000; Goodwin Brown, receiver of the International Trust Co., $13,000; Scott & McLanahan, counsel, $11,000; James C. Church and former Borough President J. Edward Swanstrom, who assisted in perfecting the work of reorganization, $10,000 each.

—The organization of the Manasquan National Bank of Manasquan, N. J., is under way. The institution is to have $50,000 capital. The village is now without banking facilities, as the First National Bank of Manasquan closed its doors on May 1.

—References to the work of the 1908 session of the Massachusetts Legislature, in so far as it concerned financial institutions, were made at the annual convention of the Massachusetts Bankers' Association last week by both the President and Treasurer of that organization. The President, Francis A. Shove( Treasurer of the Malden Savings Bank), called attention particularly to the passage of the bill repealing the law compelling the trust companies and savings banks to make a yearly return to the Tax Commissioner of all collateral held by them. Treasurer Edward H. Lowell (Treasurer of the Chelsea Trust Co.) pointed out the essential changes in the laws affecting savings banks and trust companies, citing as one of the principal amendments to the savings bank law that which increases the effective control by the Bank Commissioner, which can now be exercised before a bank gets into serious difficulties. It was noted, too, that there has been a complete revision in the law regarding investment in bonds, so as to make it general in its provisions instead of largely specific as heretofore. By far the most important change in the trust company laws is that affecting the reserves of these institutions. Mr. Lowell gave the following brief summary of the provisions of the new law, which goes into effect Jan. 1 1909; trust companies outside of Boston must keep 15% reserve, and Boston companies 20% reserve, exclusive of savings deposits and time deposits; in all cases two-fifths of the reserve must be in cash, and not exceeding one-fifth may be in United States or Massachusetts bonds. The cash reserve must be at all times 5% of time and demand deposits. The Bank Commissioner may authorize a trust company to act as reserve agent for other trust companies, in which case one-half of the reserve must be in cash and none in bonds. The law has heretofore provided for the maintenance of a 15% reserve by every trust company in the commonwealth, one-third consisting of cash, not less than one-half of the remainder to be on deposit with institutions in the cities of New York, Albany, Chicago and Philadelphia, the rest to consist of bonds of the United States and the State of Massachusetts. An address on "Currency" by Francis B. Sears, President of the National Shawmut Bank of Boston, formed one of the principal features of the program of the convention.

—Eugene J. Fabens has lately become President of the Naumkeag National Bank of Salem, Mass., succeeding Arthur W. West. The new President is said to be but twenty-three years of age. He advances from the vice-presidency.

—The suspension of Julius Christensen & Co., the large and well-known bond house of Philadelphia, was announced on Tuesday, but the concern appears to have assigned on Thursday, the 11th inst. The firm is incorporated with a capital of $600,000, of which $300,000 is preferred and $300,000 common. Mr. Christensen, the President, and Nelson G. Hollister, the Vice-President, own more than two-thirds of the stock and are said to be the largest unsecured creditors. One of the causes of the failure is said to have been the dulness of the bond market for the past two years, and the inability of the firm to dispose of several large amounts of bonds delivered to it under contract. It is stated that instead of selling these at a loss, the firm borrowed money needed on the bonds as collateral, so that its loans amount to about $1,500,000. Practically all of this is reported to be protected by collateral which, it is believed by the members, if properly handled, will be worth much more than the amount of the loans. The present situation is also said to have been precipitated by a recent verdict of some $32,000 against Mr. Christensen, which resulted in the calling of many loans. The company was interested in several electric interurban properties, including the Danville Urbana & Champaign Ry. and the Lowell & Fitchburg Electric Co. John Gilroy has been appointed assignee. It is believed that none of the companies with which the firm has been connected will be affected by its assignment.

—During the past four years, or from Jan. 22 1904 to May 14 1908, the total net earnings of the Bank of Pittsburgh have amounted to $1,736,105. Of this sum, $1,248,000 has been paid in dividends on the bank's capital of $2,400,000 and $488,105 has been added to the surplus and profits, which in the May 14 1908 statement aggregate $2,911,102. In connection with its report the bank publishes in a folder statistics concerning the financial strength of the city.

—Henry Reiber, former paying teller of the Farmers' Deposit National Bank of Pittsburgh, and John Young, former auditor of the institution, who were arrested in March, charged with embezzling and misapplying the bank's funds, were each sentenced on the 6th inst. to ten years in the Western Penitentiary. Sentence was begun immediately. The amount of the defalcation, according to a statement issued by President Given at the time of the arrest, was $1,105,000, which was at once charged off from surplus and profits, then amounting to $2,863,000.

—Addison S. Altaffer, former Discount Clerk of the failed Allegheny National Bank of Pittsburgh, was arrested on the 9th inst on the alleged charge of aiding and abetting Cashier William Montgomery in the abstraction of $261,932 of the funds of the bank. The gross amount of the shortage in the bank is said to have been nearly $2,000,000. The accused clerk is held under $2,000 bail. It was reported this week that from a source not made public, but believed to be political factions, the city and State are to be reimbursed for the amount of their deposits in the institution. The city's deposits amounts to $1,500,000 and that of the State to $532,222.

—The question of increasing the capital of the People's Bank of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., from $250,000 to $400,000 will be submitted for the approval of the stockholders at a meeting to be held the latter part of July.

—The resignation of Calvary Morris as President of the Cleveland Trust Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, occurred last week, as a result of his desire to be relieved of the active management of the institution. The directors have elected Mr. Morris to the newly-created office of Chairman of the Board, and have chosen as his successor in the presidency Frederick H. Goff, a director of the institution, and a member of its executive committee for the past four years.

—The First Trust & Savings Bank of Chicago, now less than five years old, has again had to enlarge its quarters to accommodate its rapidly increasing business. Three storerooms of the First National Bank Building on the Monroe Street side and adjoining the banking room of the First Trust & Savings have been annexed and all thrown together—making the bank's floor area almost double its former size. The addition has been fitted up in mahogany and fine art fixtures to correspond with the original banking room. The last published statement of the First Trust & Savings Bank showed deposits of over $33,000,000.

—The Peninsular Savings Bank of Detroit has increased its capital from $400,000 to $500,000, the proposition having been ratified by the shareholders on the 1st inst. The additional stock was sold at $150 per $100 share, and the premium placed to surplus. The sum of $25,000 has also been transferred from undivided profits to surplus, so that the latter fund now stands at $200,000. The total capital and surplus thus becomes $700,000.

—Plans for the consolidation of the Fifth National Bank and the Commercial Savings Bank of Grand Rapids, Mich., were approved at meetings of the directors of the two institutions on the 11th inst., and will be submitted for the ratification of the stockholders next month. Both institutions have a capital of $100,000, and their deposits are in the neighborhood of $950,000 each. The bank formed through the consolidation will retain the name Commercial Savings. It will have a capital of $200,000, of which 1,200 shares will go to the stockholders of the Fifth National and 800 shares to those of the present Commercial Savings Bank. Robert D. Graham, President of the Fifth National, is to be the head of the new bank, Charles B. Kelsey, President of the Commercial Savings Bank, becoming Vice-President. The last-named institution was organized in 1903. The Fifth National, which will be placed in liquidation as soon as the consolidation is carried to completion, was established in 1886.

—S. A. Harris, who was President of the National Bank of Commerce of Minneapolis at the time of its consolidation last week with the Northwestern National Bank, died of pneumonia on the 12th inst. after a week's illness. Mr. Harris was to have continued with the consolidated institution as a director. He was sixty-one years of age.

—The guarantee of bank deposits was discussed at the annual convention of the Iowa Bankers' Association last week by Andrew J. Frame, President of the Waukesha National Bank, of Waukesha, Wis., under the title of "The Fallacy of Insuring Bank Deposits." The bankers expressed their disapproval of deposit guaranty by refusing to place themselves on record as favoring the enactment of a guaranty law.

—The Citizens' Bank & Trust Co. of Chattanooga, Tenn., has decided to organize under the Federal laws. An application for its conversion into the Citizens' National Bank was approved by the Comptroller of the Currency on the 10th inst. On the 4th inst. the stockholders of the institution took action on the question of increasing the capital from $250,000 to $300,000, the enlarged capital becoming effective on that date. The new stock, par $100, was sold at $120 per share. The bank reports a surplus of $100,000, the amount having been increased practically $15,000 within the past two months.

—The Georgia Bankers' Association during its session of a week ago took up the question of a proposed clearing house for the State, the idea, it is said, being suggested in an address by A. P. Coles of the Central Bank & Trust Corporation of Atlanta. The matter, on motion of Capt. Bloodworth, was referred to a committee to investigate and report at the next meeting. The object in view, the Savannah "News" states, is to have all banks in the State clear their State checks through the proposed organization.

—According to the "Atlanta Constitution", Robert R. Wheeler has been appointed receiver for the American Exchange Bank of Jacksonville, Fla., on a suit brought by State Comptroller A. C. Croom. The petition of Mr. Croom, it is stated, sets forth that the bank opened for business May 1 1908 with an authorized capital of $50,000; that on May 18 it closed its doors, having in that time secured deposits of $13,000. It is alleged that there was but $130 cash on hand at the time of the suspension.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, June 6 1908.

Business on the Stock Exchange continues to broaden and become more active, and, according to all the indications, it is likely to go on improving for a considerable time. There are, it is true, one or two unfavorable circumstances. The lockout and strike on the northeastern coast of England and the southwestern coast of Scotland was, happily, brought to an end a couple of weeks ago by the intervention of the President of the Board of Trade. It was agreed that the men were to return to work at the beginning of this week, but in some instances they have abstained from doing so, and it is feared that if any considerable number long persist, the old difficulties may spring up again. Still, the desire all through the north of England and the south of Scotland is so strong for a settlement that not much real apprehension is felt.

A more unfortunate circumstance has occurred on the Midland Railway. Some months ago an almost general strike of the employees of the British railways was threatened. Mr. Lloyd George, who was then President of the Board of Trade, intervened, and by his tact, conciliatory treatment and sound judgment brought about an arrangement which was admitted both by the directors of the railways and by the leaders of the men to be perfectly equitable to both sides. Since then three or four servants of the Midland Company, who had been somewhat conspicuous in the agitation, and were elected to sit upon certain boards to meet the employers, have been dismissed. The manager of the railway alleges that the dismissals were necessary in the interests of discipline. The men maintain that the dismissals are resorted to to punish these individuals for the part they took in the agitation. A question was put in the House of Commons by one of the Labor Members this week on the matter, and he strongly hinted that if the course was insisted upon there would be a general strike. The facts before the public are not sufficient to enable anybody to judge what the real truth is; but a general railway strike would be so disastrous to all the interests of the country that it is earnestly to be hoped that it will be prevented.

Apart from these differences between employers and employed, the general outlook is favorable. Trade, of course, has fallen off gradually from the high-water mark of twelve months ago, but business is not so bad as it threatened to be a little while ago. Indeed, hopes are entertained by careful observers that signs of improvement are already setting in. So far as the Stock Exchange is concerned, there is a most hopeful feeling. Money is exceedingly plentiful and cheap, and everything seems to indicate that it will continue so throughout the year. There is a vast accumulation of unemployed money in Paris, and although the Paris Bourse is dull, there has been during the present week—indeed, also during last week, though not so markedly—very active buying on French account, both of Russian and Japanese bonds. As the depression in Paris is almost entirely political—is, indeed, chiefly due to dislike of the income tax, and especially to dislike of imposing the income tax on French Rentes—the best opinion in Paris seems to be that investors will buy on a considerable scale in London to avoid the income tax. If large French buying takes place when there is good buying here at home, there is certain to be a further considerable rise.

It is true that the number of new issues of all kinds coming out is very great, and that the new issues compete actively with the existing securities. But for all that, there will be abundance of money for the new as well as for the old securities once full confidence springs up both in this country and upon the Continent.

In Germany, money continues to be in very strong demand. A week or two ago it was almost everywhere expected that the Imperial Bank would put down its rate, either this week or next week. Then opinion became more doubtful, as the return issued for the last week of May was not a favorable one. To the general surprise, however, on Thursday the Imperial Bank reduced its quotation from 5% to 4½%. Whether it will go lower, for some time at all events, is doubted. The truth is that the banks throughout Germany are in strained condition; that all the Governments—Imperial, federal , provincial and municipal—are borrowing on a very large scale; and that, although trade has undoubtedly received a considerable check, it is yet in some departments fairly active—notably the chemical and electrical departments. Over and above this, neither the British nor the French banks are inclined to employ large amounts in financing Germany. There may possibly be political feeling in the matter, but, according to the banks themselves, they are actuated by a doubt whether everything is quite as sound as it looks in Germany. Had there been a greater crisis at the end of last year there would probably have been much more confidence now than there is. Money is also in strong demand both in Italy and Switzerland, but generally in western Europe it is very abundant and cheap and is likely to remain so.

The India Council offered for tender on Wednesday 10 lacs of its bills and the applications only amounted to Rs. 35,000, at 1s. 3 29-32d. per rupee, at which price applicants for bills were allotted in full.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of June 4:

GOLD.—The arrivals in the open market this week of nearly £800,000 were, after satisfying the usual Indian and trade demands, again taken for Paris, and in spite of this the cheque is down under 25 12. The Berlin cheque is now under 20 39, in spite of the rate there being reduced to 4½%, so that there is no immediate likelihood of the Bank securing any of the gold arrivals. The Secretary of State for India released £1,000,000 on May 30 of the "earmarked" gold, and the stock of this gold now remaining to the Bank of England is reduced to £2,700,000. Since our last the Bank has received £37,000 sovereigns, chiefly from Egypt, while withdrawals remain nil. Next week £174,000 is expected from the Cape. Arrivals: Cape, £677,000 bullion, £106,000 West Africa, £15,000; West Indies, £20,000; Brazil, £17,000; total, £835,000. Shipments: Bombay, £93,500; Madras, £11,000; Mombassa, £1,000; total, £105,000.

SILVER.—The tendency of silver has been downward, and, after touching 24 7 16d. the market closes at 24⅛d., with a dull outlook. The Bazaars have bought to the week's shipment, but the demand has been easily satisfied, and the return of 1 16d. premium on the forward price shows that cash supplies are abundant. The Indian Government offered £1,000,000 in bills on London this week and accepted bids for £750,000, the total sold to date being nearly 3¼ millions sterling. Currency issues in India show an increase on the week of 2¼ crores of rupees, or about 1½ million sterling. The price in India is Rs. 62⅝ per 100 Tolahs. Arrivals: New York, £170,000; Mexico, £12,000; West Indies, £6,000; Chile, £1,500; total, £189,500. Shipments: Bombay, £409,000; Madras, £2,600; Port Said, £2,000; total, £413,600.

Note.—In the case of the Clearing-House banks, the deposits are "net" both for the average and actual figures; in all other cases "gross" deposits are shown. The Money Market and Financial Situation.—The security markets have recovered somewhat from the extreme dulness which characterized them last week. The volume of business is still exceptionally limited, however, and made up largely of operations in a few speculative issues. Sentiment has been influenced by various considerations, the most prominent of which was, of course, the Convention.

The platform, as adopted, is not viewed with especial satisfaction, but this and other matters before the Convention had been practically discounted in the markets. Therefore, the announcement of reduced dividends in several important cases, including Louisville & Nashville, Cleveland Cincinnati Chicago & St. Louis and Lake Erie & Western shares, the unfavorable reports of current railway earnings and other evidences of continued business depression have more than offset any cheerfulness that may have resulted from more encouraging influences, including crop prospects, and a little more industrial activity, and to-day's markets was decidedly weak throughout the Stock Exchange session.

The weekly reports of the principal Continental banks have attracted attention on account of a large increase in gold reserves. The Bank of France reports the largest gold holdings in its history and the Imperial Bank of Germany, on a gain of about $17,000,000 within the week, has again lowered its discount rate. Gold to the amount of $3,850,000 has been shipped to Europe this week.

The open market rates for call loans at the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1¼% to 1¾%. To-day's rates on call were 1¼@1¾%. Commercial paper quoted at 3½% for endorsements and four mos. single names and 4@4½ for long to good single names.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £870,537, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 51.06, against 50.65 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½% as fixed May 28. The Bank of France shows an increase of 19,950,000 francs gold and 4,475,000 francs in silver.

State and Railroad Bonds.—Sales of State bonds at the Board are limited to $25,000 Virginia 6s deferred trust receipts at 39.

Owing to enormous transactions in Union Pacific new 4s, when issued, there has been a considerable increase in the amount of business reported in this department of the Exchange. The bonds mentioned have been by far the most prominent feature of the market throughout the week, although the fluctuations in them have been limited to ¼ of a point, viz.: from 95¼ to 95½, the latter the price at which they were offered by the underwriting syndicate.

Union Pacific convertible 4s were also active and steady. St. Louis & San Francisco ref. 4s have lost a large part of the advance recently noted, and a few other issues are fractionally lower, while Atchison conv. 4s, Rock Island 4s, Brooklyn Rapid Transit and Interboro-Metropolitan issues have been relatively strong.

United States Bonds.—No sales of Government bonds have been reported at the Board this week. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—The stock market has been a little more active and the tendency of prices was, until to-day, towards a higher level. The actual advance was in most cases limited, however, and a few issues had declined previous to to-day's sharp break, which carried the entire active list off an average of about 2 points.

Union Pacific and Reading have continued to be leaders of the market. Both covered a range of nearly 5 points and close with a fractional net gain. Baltimore & Ohio has been weak on traffic returns and Louisville & Nashville has declined nearly 6 points on a reduction of its dividend rate. The steadier features of the market have been Atchison, Canadian Pacific, St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Pennsylvania.

Consolidated Gas is 2½ points higher at the close to-day than last week. Republic Iron & Steel issues have been weak on the passing of a dividend, the preferred showing a loss of over 3 points, while United States Steel, both common and preferred, are fractionally higher. Other industrial issues have followed the course of the market.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

Net Earnings Monthly to Latest Dates.—The following shows the gross and net earnings to latest dates of all STEAM railroads furnishing monthly statements. The compilation includes every road from which we can get a return of this character, and in that form is given once a month. Early returns are published from week to week, as soon as issued, but for the convenience of our readers all the roads making returns are brought together here in the week in which we publish our monthly article on net earnings—say, about the 20th of the month.

Western New York & Pennsylvania Railway.

President W. H. Barnes, April 6 1908, writes:

The entire gain in gross earnings was more than absorbed by the increase in your expenses, mainly due to higher wages, cost of materials and taxes.

Capital account shows an increase in "cost of road, franchises and property" of $605,815 expended for right of way and real estate, the construction of the Ebenezer Branch, and in pursuance of the legislation of the State of New York providing for the elimination of grade crossings in the city of Buffalo.

There was also expended during the year and charged to income $222,883 for the improvement of motive power and freight equipment, additional water facilities and telegraph line, shop tools and machinery, and the extension of facilities to industrial plants.

The Ebenezer Branch extends from a point on your railway at Gardenville Junction to the ore docks in South Buffalo, a distance of 6.66 miles, and through its use your company is enabled to carry a large amount of freight traffic to and from the lake front with greater economy and promptness, by reason of being relieved of its movement through the city of Buffalo.

Michigan Lake Superior Power Company.

(Report of Bondholders' Committee.)

The first mortgage bondholders' committee, consisting of—

John Pitcairn, Thomas M. King, Charles H. Graham, Percy M. Chandler, Samuel F. Houston and Alexander J. Hemphill, under date of Philadelphia May 29 1908, report in brief:

In addition to the first mortgage bonds, $3,500,000 and accumulated interest thereon, the company has outstanding: (a.) second mortgage bonds $2,400,000 dated Jan. 1 1903, with accumulated interest thereon, secured by a mortgage executed to the Central Trust Co. of New York, and subsequently assigned to United States Mortgage & Trust Co. as trustee. (b.) Capital stock, $500,000; (c.) Certain disputed lien claims approximating $130,000, the holders of most of which claim priority over the first mortgage; (d.) Unsecured debts, approximating $1,200,000; (e.) Certain litigation with The Chandler-Dunbar Water-Power Co. involving The Michigan Lake Superior Power company's right to the use of the waters in the vicinity of its plant at Sault Sainte Marie, Mich; (f.) And a certain contract with the Union Carbide Co., for the supply of power by The Michigan Lake Superior Power Co. to the Carbide Company, which contract, in the interest of the first mortgage bondholders, it is desired to modify or abrogate by agreement or operation of law.

On application of the trustee for the second mortgage bonds on which the interest has been defaulted, the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of Michigan, Northern Division, on Sept. 29 1903 appointed B. F. Fackenthal receiver of the company. On Sept. 16 1904, default having occured in the payment of interest on the first mortgage bonds, the same Court appointed C. D. Warren receiver in place of Mr. Fackenthal. C. M. Brown was appointed co-receiver under agreement of Oct. 1 1905.

Default in payment of coupons on the first mortgage bonds occurred Nov. 1 1903 and again May 1 1904. Both these coupons, as well as the coupon of Nov. 1 1904, were paid by the Lake Superior Corporation, the successor of the Consolidated Lake Superior Co. (which owned the entire $500,000 stock, $2,400,000 second mortgage bonds and $520,760 of the notes payable of the Michigan Lake Superior Power Co. (See V. 78, p. 771.—Ed.). Default was then made May 1 1905. The "bondholders' agreement" of Oct. 1 1905 was entered into, and the holders of over 90% of all the first mortgage bonds became parties thereto.

The substantial difficulties Oct. 1 1905 were: 1. The crippled physical condition of the property. 2. The legal situation as regards the right of the company to divert from the Straits of St. Mary the water necessary to its operation. 3. The disproportion between the company's capitalization and the fair value of the investment, based upon its earning power, a disproportion largely accounted for by the unfortunate contract with the Union Carbide Co., calling for 20,000 electric h. p. at an annual rental of $200,000. (See V. 78, p. 233; V. 77, p. 194, Ed.) 4. The Lake Superior Corporation's claim of liens on the property, amounting to about $130,000, which were said to have priority over the first mortgage bonds.

The "bondholders agreement" contemplated: (a) The raising of funds through receivers' certificates for the repair and completion of the plant. (b.) The elimination of the claim of the Lake Superior Corporation for mechanics' liens. (c.) A joint arrangement with the Lake Superior Power Co. for the extension and operation of the compensating works.

The agreement failed because the maximum amount of receivers' certificates authorized by said agreement ($550,000 Ed.) plus the sum of $150,000 otherwise therein provided for, were inadequate to do the work necessary and because it was impossible to negotiate the receivers' certificates so long as the right of the company to the use of sufficient water to operate in full was uncertain and in litigation.

The power-house was intended to constitute a water-tight dam, 1,400 feet long, located along the St. Mary's River, at the terminus of a canal and forebay 2¼ miles long, capable of withstanding a lateral pressure of 19 to 24 feet of water. A reduction in the head of water to about 14 feet was made necessary by the fact that the power-house was founded upon wooden piles driven into an alluvial deposit, and could not withstand the enormous pressure imposed against it. Moreover the serious leakage of water through the forebay flooring and lining, and through the foundation of the power-house, carrying with it the material depended upon to keep those piles in place, endangered the very existance of the power-house.

Only two positive bids were received for remedying these defects: Foundation Company, New York, $942,035; the same company on a suggested modification of plan, $894,285; John Griffin's Sons, Chicago, $701,000; these figures in each case including $54,285 for materials to be furnished by the receivers. In view of the fact that the lowest positive bid was $701,000, that the completion of the repair of the power-house would not admit of the operation of the plant to more than one-half its capacity, without the extension of the compensating works and the installation of new equipment; that until those compensating works be completed, it was almost inevitable that the plant would be partially or wholly shut down during two or three months in the spring of each year; we fully endorsed the judgment of the receivers in concluding not to undertake the work by their own engineer. Beyond all this, in order to operate the works to their full capacity, and at the same time comply with the requirements of the War Department regarding the regulation of the levels of Lake Superior, the "compensating works" at the head of the rapids would have to be extended, and the unused part of the power-house, consisting of about three-fourths thereof, would have to be equipped with turbines and electrical generators, increasing the total outlay to approximately $1,775,000. The repair of the power-house and the extension of the compensating works are absolutely necessary before the plant can, in any measure, be a success. The complete equipment of the power-house and the full extension of the compensating works could no doubt be financed when and as additional consumers were ready to take the power.

The litigation affecting the interests of the company was:—1. A bill in equity brought by the United States against The Chandler-Dunbar Water-Power Co. in 1903, in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of Michigan, Northern Division, to remove a cloud from the alleged title of the Government to two islands in the Sault Ste. Marie. Our interests were substantially identified with the United States'. On April 20 1908 the decree of the Circuit Court of Appeals dismissing the bill was affirmed by the United States Supreme Court, Mr. Justice Harlan dissenting. 2. In 1902 The Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co. brought suit to enjoin your company from diverting any of the waters of the Ste. Mary's River appurtenant to the American shore from that river above the lands and works of the Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co. No injunction has issued and the receivers have been advised by council that The Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co. cannot expect to succeed in the injunction suit. 3. Closely akin to litigation was the bill (H. R. 19,366) introduced into the House of Representatives by the Hon. H. Olin Young, Congressman from Michigan, to authorize a trade between the Government and The Chandler-Dunbar Water Power Co. We are pleased to advise you that the Rivers & Harbors' Committee to which the bill was referred did not report it favorably.

The revenue of the receivers from the supply of the limited amount of power under present conditions has been sufficient to meet operating and general expenses, leaving but a small balance in their hands. As long as the property is being operated under present conditions, the payment of interest on the investment represented by the bonds will be impossible.

The first mortgage bondholders should now become interested, by direct representation. To that end your committee has had prepared a proposed first mortgage bondholders' agreement, a copy of which is herewith enclosed. Whether the junior security holders should participate in such reorganization is a matter that need not now be determined. In any event, it is imperative that the situation be controlled by first mortgage bondholders. If you are in accord with our recommendations, forward your bonds and address to the Commercial Trust Co. of Philadelphia, or Guaranty Trust Co. of New York.

Communications may be addressed to John Pitcairn, Chairman, 2115 Land Title Building, or the committee's council, A. S. Weill, 1418 Land Title Building, Philadelphia.—V. 86, p. 1347.

Lanston Monotype Machine Co., Philadelphia, Pa.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Feb. 29 1908.)

President J. Maury Dove, Alexandria, Va., April 9 1908, writes in substance:

General Results.—The net business for the year amounted to $1,024,594 and the net profits to $258,473, notwithstanding the financial stringency of the past year. The number of contracts for equipments which we were unable to deliver and the equipments we were compelled to reclaim on account of the existing financial conditions and inability of the parties making the contracts to meet their obligations, tended to considerably reduce our profits. After eliminating said contracts we had unfilled orders (good) on our books March 1 1908 amounting to $131,270 against $11,375 March 1 1907. If all these orders for the late year had been filled, our net sales would have considerably exceeded our net sales for the previous year and our net profits would also have been considerably increased.

342 casting machines and 146 keyboards were delivered during the year (canceled profits excluded) about one half of which were exported.

Company takes over Selling Business.—Arrangements were made with Wood & Nathan for the surrender of their selling contract as of May 1 1907; $75,000 was paid to them in cash for commissions on account of business closed and to cover commissions on business then in negotiation. It was believed that it would be more profitable to handle the selling business ourselves and the arrangement has worked most satisfactorily.

Since taking over our own selling, monotypes have been placed in the advertisement and job rooms of the following newspapers: "Chicago Tribune," Chicago "American," "Cincinnati Enquirer," "Boston Herald," "Philadelphia North American," "Jersey City Evening Journal," "Cleveland Plain Dealer," "Pittsburgh Press" and the Virginian-Pilot Publishing Company.

Five Years' Comparison.—A statement presented herewith (in the pamphlet report) shows that for the five years from March 1 1903 to Feb. 29 1908 the gross profits were $1,601,036; the increase in assets $1,831,103. If we deduct bills receivable discounted and treasury stock issued amounting to $800,600 we show a net increase in the assets of $1,030,503.

Financial Operations.—For the last fiscal year there was an increase in plant account $140,128, increase in manufacturing account $123,658, special expenses paid to Wood & Nathan $76,462, special expenses (dividend) $99,432, making a total of $439,681. To this add loans paid during the year $64,900, giving a total of $504,581. From this deduct bills receivable discounted, $215,000, the reduction in cash between March 1 1907 and Feb. 29 1908 of $57,009 and the increase in accounts payable of $16,047, and we have as the net amount of cash provided out of the business $216,524.

From money due us on Government contracts, largely for shipments made last year, we shall on May 1 1908 make payment on acount of our factory loans of $62,500 reducing that loan to $187,500. This payment added to the $216,524 as above noted will show that we practically provided $280,000 from our cash receipts of last year for improvements, new styles of machines, molds, matrices, and for the reduction in factory loan. Had the company taken no steps to increase its plant and to develop two new styles of keyboards known as the "D" keyboard and "DD" or multiplex keyboard, and new style of mold known as the Low Quad Mold, and to further develop the matrix business, it would have been possible to pay the entire factory loan of $250,000 in the past year, or to have continued the payment of dividends and have made a curtail on the factory loan of about 60%.

Owing to the difficulty which many of our customers experienced in obtaining banking accommodations during the fall and early winter, we were compelled to protect a large number of their notes, amounting in the aggregate to about $30,000.

Improved Styles of Keyboards, Molds and Matrix.—A small number of the new "D" keyboards have been put out in offices to be practically operated and have more than met expectations, developing a speed of 25% in excess of the present style known as the "C" keyboard.

The "DD" or multiplex keyboard is entirely a new invention. It is possible with this keyboard to set two different sizes of type faces and two different lengths of line at one and the same operation. In a large number of offices using our machine this keyboard will be indispensable. Of this form of keyboard we have already sold over fifty at $1,000 each.

The "low quad mold", which we are ready to put on the market, is one for which we have an almost universal demand from our customers, and we believe it will entirely supersede the present form of mold.

The amount expended in the further development of our display matrices has been fully justified in the demand for them from at least two-thirds of our customers.

In composition matrices we have developed a matrix known as the cellular matrix, the life of which, estimated from severe tests, will be three times that of the present form of matrix, overcoming entirely the greatest criticism we have from users of the monotype and doubling the time the molds can be used without essential repairs.

Saving in Manufacturing.—When the taking over the manufacture of our casting machines was first proposed it was estimated that the company could save $20,000 on each 100 machines it manufactured. In the first 500 machines that we manufactured this saving was effected and we are now showing a saving of $256 on each machine or $25,600 on each 100 machines, notwithstanding the increase in wages and cost of material since we began the manufacture.

Temporary Discontinuance of Dividends.—In view of the amount expended for the improvements above noted, which must result in largely increased financial returns, the large amount of cash necessary to take care of our customers' notes and the $75,000 provided for the purchase of the Wood & Nathan contract, the directors hope that you will feel that their action in discontinuing for a time the payment of dividends is not only justified, but was the only prudent course left open to them.

Proposed Change in Date of Annual Meeting.—The directors recommended a change in the date of the annual meeting of the stockholders from the second Thursday in April to the first Thursday in May of each year.

English Corporation.—The latest advices from the English corporation shows that its business considerably improved during the past year.

Patents.—A number of valuable improvements have been patented during the year and a large number are now being protected by applications for patents.

Vulcan Detinning Company, New York.

President Samuel R. Beardsley says:

The fiscal year just passed has been quite eventful for your company. Beginning with promising conditions, prospects were further brightened through the final decision rendered in our favor by the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey in our litigation against the American Can Co. By this decision the defendant company was permanently enjoined from using our secret process of detinning, and permission was given us to apply to the Court of Chancery for further relief. An application is now pending before this Court to compel the American Can Co. to account to us for all the profits made in their detinning plants during the four years of their operation, and, furthermore, to compensate us for the damages sustained by us through their illegal use of our secret process. After the issuance of the injunction we licensed the American Can Co. to continue detinning by our process for a period of six months, during which they have paid us a royalty.

On the other hand, the business of your company during the last eight months of the fiscal year suffered considerably, in common with the steel industry and the general metal trade, through the heavy and sharp decline in the value of our products caused by the financial crisis through which the country has just passed.

Notwithstanding this adverse condition the operation of your company resulted, after making the usual deductions for depreciation and betterments, in a net profit of $71,152. Three dividends of 1¼% each were paid, amounting to $56,250, and the sum of $15,581 was added to the surplus.

There is no indebtedness excepting for material purchased and not due. Our cash reserve has been considerably increased through the passing of two dividends.

Our receipts of raw material, which, in consequence of the idleness of many factories, had been slight during the first months of 1908, have been gradually increasing since early in March, and both our factories have since been running full time, 22 hours daily. The cost price of our raw material tin-plate scrap—has adjusted itself to the lower state of the market from the beginning of this year, and contracts have been made for the greater part of our requirements for the entire year of 1908 at reasonably low figures. I therefore trust that the present year may compensate for the shortcomings of the past one.

Columbus & Hocking Coal & Iron Company.

President N. L. C. Kachelmacher says in substance:

Coal.—The development of our coal industries is best shown by our increased capacity. Whenever a sufficient supply of cars was obtainable, our daily output ranged from 3,000 to 4,000 tons. This producing capacity should be increased during the coming year. Together with increased tonnage inevitably comes reduced cost of operation. Further strides in this direction are predicted for the coming year. Our coal yard at Columbus now ranks first in the city, both for public and private supply.

Clay.—Our great enterprise at Kachelmacher has been delayed, owing to the failure of various machinery builders to live up to their agreements. During the winter, however, every part of the brick machinery was tested in connection with our own clays and every expectation has been fulfilled. Differences regarding the gas producers and engine are in process of adjustment and as conditions now seem to be rapidly on the mend, we are preparing to start our brick plant. We have had many experts visit Kachelmacher, and the unanimous verdict has been that the plant which we have erected is unequaled, both in the perfection of its product and in the economy in manufacture. With the exceedingly low cost of fuel and raw material, as compared with other plants, our brick operations can be relied upon to greatly exceed any revenue heretofore received from coal.

Financial—In reviewing the year's operations three facts should be borne in mind 1. On account of the financial panic in November, the best four months of the year were virtually marked out. From about 70,000 tons in November our tonnage declined to 19,000 in January and the list price on lump coal dropped from $2.00 per ton to $1.35 per ton. This prevented us from making the great showing in the coal department which was warranted by our increased production and reduced cost of operation 2. The financial sheets disclose an unusual expense of $15,344, due to the successful fight made to extinguish a fire that threatened one of our large mines and which had been smoldering twenty-five years. 3. On account of the delay in the delivery of machinery we had no revenue from the new brick enterprise during the fiscal year just ended, although we had to bear the burden of interest charges on the new securities issued in connection with the same.

Considering the fact that, in spite of the above mentioned serious drawbacks to the year's operations, we have increased our surplus, we have cause to feel satisfied with the year just ended, and good reason to look forward to the future with confidence.

GENERAL INVESTMENT NEWS

RAILROADS, INCLUDING ELECTRIC ROADS.

Atlantic Coast Line RR.—Dividend Reduction by Controlled Co.—See Louisville & Nashville RR. below.—V. 86, p. 1283.

Baltimore & Ohio RR.—Sale of Bonds.—The company has sold to Alexander Brown & Sons, Baltimore, and the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York $7,610,000 bonds, viz.: $2,072,000 prior lien 3½s, $4,025,000 first mortgage 4s and $1,513,000 Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern division 3½% bonds. This exhausts the bonds which can be issued under the prior lien and the Southwestern division mortgages, while no more of the first mortgage 4s can be issued before July 1909.

Fourth Vice-President and Treasurer J. V. McNeal is quoted as follows:

There was no immediate need by the company for the money, but as there was a demand for the bonds at substantial prices, it was deemed by President Murray and the finance committee the part of wisdom to be financially strong in ready money.—V. 86, p. 1223, 601.

Bayou Teche Railway & Light Co.—Bond Issue for New Enterprise.—This company, incorporated in September 1906 with $500,000 capital stock, to build a 17-mile electric railway between New Iberia and Jeanerette, La., recently filed a mortgage to the Hibernia Bank & Trust Co. of New Orleans, as trustee, to secure an issue of $500,000 bonds. Construction, it was said, would begin at an early day. The President is P. M. Schneidau and H. R. Fine is Secretary, both of New Orleans.

Boston & Albany RR.—Improvements—Partial Purpose of New Bond Issue.—The proceeds of the $7,000,000 of bonds which the company has been authorized to issue will be used, it is stated, in part for improvements for 1908 as follows:

Station building and grade-crossing eliminations at Worcester, $1,545,430 third tracking, $1,022,000; grade crossing eliminations generally, $51,872; crossing tracks and sidings, $132,958; clearing main tracks of switching movements and improving local station facilities, $75,000; increased yard facilities, $233,527; new engine houses and additions to engine houses, $1,149,305; coaling and water stations, $52,555; new buildings, passenger stations, &c., $58,500; elevator improvements and abolition of grade crossings at East Boston, $165,752; building automatic signal system between Boston and Albany, replacing old banners by modern signals, filling in gaps not now occupied, and 30 new interlocking towers, $77,852. —V. 86, p. 1466, 1158.

Boston & Maine RR.—Suit to Enjoin Ownership of Stock by New Haven Road.—See New York New Haven & Hartford RR. below.—V. 86, p. 1466, 1223.

Boston Suburban Electric Companies.—Issue of Notes Authorized—Stock-Issue Vote Rescinded.—At the special meeting held June 15 the stockholders authorized the officers to borrow money from time to time, the amount not to exceed $1,500,000. The vote taken Sept. 20 1907 to issue 7,924 shares of preferred and 7,924 shares of common stock at $66 67 for one share of preferred and one share of common was rescinded. A Boston paper says:

At the present time the trustees have $796,000 in borrowed money, leaving $704,000 still to be borrowed under the above authorization. It was the intention of the trustees to issue new stock not to exceed 7,500 preferred, and an equal amount of common stock, such shares to be issued solely to [illegible] holders of notes or bonds as might, by the terms thereof, be given the right to exchange for shares, but it has been decided in the past week not to issue convertible notes, and stockholders laid on the table the matter to issue the new stock which appeared in the call of the meeting. —V. 86, p. 1466.

British Columbia Electric Ry.—New Stock, &c.—In order to provide for extensions of plant, &c., the holders of preferred ordinary and deferred ordinary stocks of record June 1 are offered the right to subscribe until noon July 15 for 100,000 5% preference and 100,000 deferred ordinary shares of £1 each at 1s. per share premium in each case, in the proportion of one of each of such shares for every £8 stock held, but application may be made for shares in excess of the pro rata allotment.

The directors in April last decided to make the dividend periods of both the preferred and deferred ordinary stocks coincide. For this purpose payments were made on the preferred ordinary stock as follows: On May 31 1908, 5% per annum for the half-year to March 31 and 1% per annum for the nine months ending that date, and on July 31 there will be paid 6% per annum for the three months to June 30 1908; after these dates the dividends will be paid on Jan. 31 and July 31.

In December 1907 an issue of 100,000 preferred ordinary shares of £1 each was allotted to holders of preferred ordinary and deferred ordinary stock registered on Dec. 13, in the ratio of one new share for every £7 stock held, at par.—V. 84, p. 803.

(The) Camaguey (Cuba) Company, Ltd., Montreal.—Status.—We have been favored with the following:

The company was organized in 1906 under the laws of the Dominion of Canada; head office at 179 St. James St., Montreal. Capitalization: Stock authorized, $1,000,000; issued, $700,000; 5% bonds authorized and issued, $600,000; par value $500 each, interest payable semi-annually, principal due 40 years from June 1 1906, but redeemable (before maturity) at 110%. Sinking fund, commencing June 1 1910, equal to 1% of issued bonds plus one year's interest on canceled bonds. The Montreal Trust & Deposit Co. is trustee for the bondholders and transfer agent.

The company controls all the electric lighting and tramway business of Camaguey, Cuba, a growing city of 50,000 inhabitants. It acquired the plant and franchises of the Puerto Principe Electric Co. (the company formerly doing the electric-lighting business in Camaguey), a horse tramway franchise, and electric tramway franchise, and 200 acres of land in the suburb of Camaguey known as "La Zambrana." The electric lighting franchise is perpetual, and the tramway franchise runs for 60 years from Sept. 22 1906.

The tramway has been constructed and was opened for operation on May 1 1908. A pleasure park is being installed on part of the company's land in "La Zambrana," and the remainder is being sold for building lots. The lighting lines have been and are being extended, and the power plant has been enlarged by the addition of 800 k. w. of new generating apparatus, with the corresponding boiler plant.

The net earnings of the company during 1906 were $27,791, in 1907 $38,780, and the results of the first three months of 1908 indicate that the net earnings of the electric lighting department alone will exceed $55,000. A careful estimate of the net earnings of the tramway during the first year of operation shows that they will exceed $22,000, making a total of over $77,000, or sufficient to pay the bond interest and leave a surplus of over 6% on the stock. Prospects are favorable for large increase each year.

Chicago Burlington & Quincy RR.—Called Bonds.—Bonds to the following amounts have been called for redemption and will be paid at the New England Trust Co. Boston, July 1 1908, interest then ceasing, viz.:

(1) Burlington & Missouri River RR. in Nebraska, non-exempt 6% consolidated mortgage bonds dated 1878, due July 1 1918, viz.: $207,000 in $1,000 bonds and $24,000 in $600 bonds.

(2) Republican Valley RR. 6% bonds dated July 1 1879, due July 1 1919, viz.: $26,000 in bonds for $1,000 each and $6,600 in bonds for $600 each.—V. 86, p. 1466.

Chicago Consolidated Traction Co.—Bondholders' Committee.—The committee organized to represent the general mortgage bonds issued under mortgage dated Dec. 1 1899, on which default in payment of interest occurred June 1 1908, consists of the following, who urge an immediate deposit of the bonds with either the Central Trust Co. of New York, 54 Wall Street, New York City, or Illinois Trust & Savings Bank, Chicago:

J. N. Wallace, Chairman; Hugh J. Grant, Henry A. Blair, Chauncey Keep and Charles G. Dawes, with F. L. Babcock as Secretary, 54 Wall Street, New York City, and Joline, Larkin & Rathbone and L. C. Krauthoff, as counsel.—V. 86, p. 1466.

Chicago Great Western Ry.—Circular from English Committee.—The English 4% debenture stockholders' committee consisting of

has issued a circular saying:

Mr. Fleming has now returned to London after spending two months in the United States. During his visit he conferred with other parties interested, including the members of a New York debenture stockholders' committee and the receivers and managers of the railway. He also traveled over the main lines of the railway from Chicago to Omaha and from Kansas City to St. Paul, and found them to be, on the whole, in fair condition.

Mr. Horace G. Burt of Chicago (formerly a Vice-President of the Chicago & North Western Ry., and from 1898 to 1904 President of the Union Pacific RR.) has been retained by the committee to make an inspection of the property, and to furnish a report upon its physical and financial condition. Mr. Burt has commenced his inspection, and his report when received should furnish a starting point for a plan of reorganization to put forward as soon as conditions permit.

The only status that counts in the United States courts is that of the possession of the securities. The committee has, therefore, resolved to call for the immediate deposit of the 4% debenture stock. Holders are requested to sign the form of deposit and forward it, together with their certificates, to the depositaries of the committee, Robert Benson & Co., at 66 New Broad St., London, E. C.—V. 86, p. 791, 720.

Chicago Lake Shore & South Bend Ry.—Equipment Trust.—An equipment trust agreement has been filed, the Cleveland Trust Co. of Cleveland being trustee, to secure an issue of $350,000 equipment bonds. This is purely an equipment trust covering 31 cars, which cost in excess of $470,000. The bonds mature $50,000 May 15 1910 and $50,000 annually until and including May 15 1916. They are not being offered.—V. 86, p. 420.

Chairman Melville E. Ingalls is quoted as saying:

The Big Four might have declared a dividend. I think that one will be earned by the end of the year; but, considering the state of business, the directors did not want to take the responsibility of paying one just at this time.

The road is in splendid condition and its new facilities would make it a big money-earner with any ordinary volume of business. Its present difficulty is that improvements have cost more than they were expected to at the outset, and hence they were not fully financed, while it turns out that they are hardly necessary for the time being, but of course they will be when business picks up. The company has some floating debt, but not any very serious amount.

The recovery in business this summer will be gradual. After what we have passed through we cannot expect to return very quickly to our former conditions. There are two elements of strength, however, which have been lacking in previous hard-times periods; one is the fact that all our currency is sound, and the other is that our farmers and country communities are wealthy. For instance, a piano manufacturer told me that their sales in the agricultural districts have held up well this year, while elsewhere they have fallen to a third of what they were last year.—V. 86, p. 862, 457.

Cleveland Painesville & Eastern (Electric) RR.—New Bond Issue.—A mortgage has been made to the Cleveland Trust Co., as trustee, to secure an issue of $5,000,000 40-year 5% "refunding and extension" bonds, dated May 1 1908, interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1.

Extension of Notes.—"Cleveland Finance" says:

The $500,000 collateral trust notes dated July 1 1907 will be extended until 1909. The company has the option of paying these notes on July 1 1908, or extending them one year by the payment of a small discount. The latter course will be followed. The interest on the notes given to pay for the capital stock of the Cleveland Painesville & Ashtabula has been extended four months. These notes were due June 4 and the interest to that date was paid. This stock was purchased at about $20 a share. Some of it has been paid for in full, while on a large portion of it $10 a share remains unpaid. It is understood that the Painesville bought in all two-thirds of the stock of the Cleveland Painesville & Ashtabula for about $140,000, of which it still owes about $40,000.

After the date above specified, no stock will be received except upon such penalties as may be imposed by the committee. Compare V. 86, p. 1409.

Grand Rapids & Northwestern RR.—Bond Issue.—This company, which proposes to build a steam road between Grand Rapids and Ludington, has filed a mortgage to the Girard Trust Co. of Philadelphia, as trustee, to secure an issue of $5,000,000 50-year 5% gold bonds; denomination $1,000, dated Feb. 1 1908 and due Feb. 1 1958; interest payable Aug. 1 and Feb. 1 at office of trustee and at First National Bank, Chicago. Of the issue $1,000,000 is reserved for improvements and extensions.

The company was incorporated under Michigan laws Feb. 1 1908 with $3,000,000 authorized capital stock in $100 shares (of which $500,000 is 6% cumulative preferred) and acquired the entire $300,000 capital stock of the Mason & Oceana RR. Co. (owning a narrow-gauge line extending from Ludington to Beaver, Mich., 25 miles), also "extensive harbor properties at Ludington and terminal rights at Grand Rapids jointly with Grand Trunk Ry." Hudson Companies.—Sale of Additional Notes on Account of Hudson & Manhattan (Tunnel) RR.—This construction company, which early in the year placed $15,000,000 of "6% secured gold notes," convertible at option of holder into first mortgage 4½% bonds of the Hudson & Manhattan RR. at par, and secured thereby on basis of $1,500 bonds for $1,000 note (compare V. 86, p. 285), has made a new issue of notes amounting, it is understood, to $5,000,000, the proceeds of which, it is stated, have provided, or will provide, sufficient cash to complete the tunnels and terminals and afford working capital. Full particulars are not available, but an exchange journal says:

The Hudson Companies has arranged an issue of $5,000,000 one-year 6% notes, secured by $10,000,000 of Hudson & Manhattan RR. 4½% bonds. Most of the notes have been sold and the proceeds will be sufficient to carry to completion all contemplated plans. The syndicate which underwrote the company's securities a short time ago, and which had practically expired, has been extended for another year. The new notes are being offered at par and interest. The undertaking should be in full operation by the first of 1909.

On June 15 the company began running its trains from 19th St., theretofore the Manhattan terminus of the line in operation, to 23d St. The southern section of the tunnel, extending from Jersey City to Church and Cortlandt streets, New York, is expected to be opened for business early in 1909.—V. 86, p. 918, 547.

Of these bonds, $2,000,000 can be issued at once, the balance being reserved to retire $6,000,000 underlying bonds and to reimburse the company for 80% of the cost of subsequent additions to its property. Of the bonds now issuable, $1,425,000 have been offered to the stockholders for subscription by them.

The proceeds of these bonds will permit the company to retire the $1,000,000 of collateral trust notes which mature on July 1 1908 and liquidate all other floating debt.—V. 84, p. 1183.

The stockholders will meet July 22, when permanent directors and officers will be elected. It is expected to issue the new securities about the middle of August.

New Orleans Railway & Light Co.—Financial Plan.—Touching the report that the company has arranged for the financing of its present requirements, including the payment of floating debt and the making of necessary additions and improvements, President Hugh McCloskey, in response to our inquiry, telegraphs: "We have negotiated a loan of $2,000,000 with our securities as collateral." President McCloskey is further quoted by the "New Orleans Picayune" of June 13 as follows:

It is true that the company has been financed by the Hibernia, Whitney-Central, Canal and Louisiana banks of this city. The arrangement has been made on a satisfactory basis and shows the confidence of the banking institutions in the company. The banks are closely identified with the company and know its condition and this should be proof that it is a satisfactory one.—V. 86, p. 1098, 1043.

These notes were issued to refund obligations incurred in making extensions and improvements. The outstanding notes are secured by deposit with the Baltimore Trust & Guarantee Co., as trustee of the following collateral, valued at $1,812,050:

The unissued notes ($442,000) may be issued on the deposit of additional collateral, under terms of trust agreement. The notes are subject to redemption at par and interest on any interest period, the notes of the shorter terms being redeemed first. Collateral may be withdrawn by the company on the payment to the trustee of cash, on the basis of the above prices, the cash as paid to be applied to the redemption of the notes.

Subject to prior sale or withdrawal, the notes may be converted at option of holder into first mortgage bonds of the Norfolk & Portsmouth Traction Co. or general mortgage bonds of the Norfolk & Atlantic Terminal Co on the basis of par for the notes, and 90 and interest for the Norfolk & Portsmouth Traction Co. first mortgage bonds, or 85 and interest for the Norfolk & Atlantic Terminal Co. general mortgage bonds, said privilege of conversion being in proportion that the total of outstanding notes bears to the amount of said bonds on deposit and available for conversion. —V. 86, p. 1410, 1344.

Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.—Proposed New Loan.—In connection with the proposed ordinance which was sent last week to the City Council of Philadelphia, authorizing the company to pledge such of its franchises, leaseholds, assets and securities as may be necessary to secure a loan of not to exceed $5,000,000, only half of which amount to be issued at present, and, for the purpose of securing said money, "to issue its bonds," President Parsons on June 11 wrote to the City Council:

Gentlemen.—Under the provisions of the contract of July 1 1907 the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co. has bound itself not to part with or pledge any of its franchises or property or in any way incur any further fixed charges without the consent of city councils.

In accordance with other provisions in the said contract, the company has called for the last installments of its capital stock, and the last payments will be made in September of this year. This money, as you know, has been used to a great extent in building the subway and elevated road, and we are glad to announce that this road has now been practically completed by the contractors, and that the tracks, third rail and signal systems will be installed in time to give the public the benefit of this great improvement early in August. The payments for this work will practically exhaust the capital of the company.

At the same time other additions, improvements and betterments to the property are required for the convenience of the public and the advantage of the company. Among these we may specify the re-laying with heavier rail, in order to take care of heavier equipment now in use, of a number of the lines of the company, 5th and 6th streets, 17th, 18th and 19th, Ridge Avenue, &c.; the providing of additional equipment for use on the elevated road; the changing of present equipment into the "pay-as-you-enter" car, which has proved a success in other cities, and the purchasing of additional equipment of this character. Other matters will also doubtless arise requiring additional money.

In fact, every growing system needs new capital, and it is the part of good management to finance well into the future. For these reasons we ask your assent to the pledging of such franchises, leaseholds, assets and securities as may be required to secure a loan not to exceed $5,000,000, not more than half of this amount to be issued at present, and the remainder only as the company shall from time to time require it.

The following statement, while not official, it is stated, emanates from one of the most conservative interests in the management:

If the city councils allow us to issue the $5,000,000 loan, the way for the company will be clear. That sum will enable us to pay off everything, relieve us of any floating debt, and give us funds to finance all of our requirements through the period of depression, which, we believe, is steadily nearing its end. Earnings in ordinary times will be ample to meet all obligations without trouble. When that time comes, as come it must within a short time, we will be able to issue bonds against the proposed loan on more advantageous terms than we could secure at the present time. Arrangements to borrow the $5,000,000 have already been made on terms satisfactory to the company.

These bonds are dated July 1 1907 and are due July 1 1937, without option of earlier redemption; interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1 at American National Bank, Los Angeles; sinking fund, 10% of net income after 1912. South Jersey Gas, Electric & Traction Co.—Bonds Offered.—W. E. R. Smith & Co., 20 Broad St., New York, are offering at 96 and interest $100,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, dated Feb. 1903, due March 1953; authorized issue $15,000,000, outstanding $11,717,000. The property is leased to the Public Service Corporation of New Jersey.—V. 78, p. 1499.

Southern Light & Traction Co., Natchez, Miss.—Sold.—At the trustee's sale in Natchez on June 16 the company's electric street railway and electric light and gas plants were bid in by Lynn H. Dinkins, President of the company and President of the Inter-State Trust & Banking Co. of New Orleans for a sum stated to be "$5,000 above all liabilities of the company."—V. 85, p. 1144.

Spokane Portland & Seattle Ry.—New Mortgage.—The company, which is jointly controlled by the Northern Pacific and Great Northern, and which, having changed its name from Portland & Seattle Ry., filed on April 4 amended articles of incorporation increasing its authorized stock from $5,000,000 to $25,000,000, has made a mortgage to the Central Trust Co. of New York, as trustee, to secure an issue of not exceeding $100,000,000 gold bonds dated May 1 1908 and due May 1 1958; interest payable May 1 and Nov. 1 at such a rate as the directors shall from time to time determine and specify in the bonds. The bonds are issuable by the "Railway Company" as follows:

| When the company's railway under construction has been completed and put in good condition for the transaction of business between a connection with the Northern Pacific Ry. at Kennewick, Wash., to Vancouver, Wash | $20,000,000 |
| When the said railway has been similarly completed, including bridges across the Columbia and Willamette rivers, between Vancouver and a connection in or near Portland with the Northern Pacific Ry., and when that company shall have granted to the "Railway Company" trackage rights for at least 99 years between said connection and the terminals now owned by the "Railway Company" in Portland | 7,000,000 |
| When the said railway has been similarly completed between Spokane and a connection at or near Pasco with the Northern Pacific Ry., and when that company shall have granted the "Railway Company" trackage rights for at least 99 years between the Pasco connection and the Kennewick connection aforesaid | 13,000,000 |
| The remaining bonds to be authenticated and delivered only for the construction or acquisition of additional railways, extensions or branches, upon which this indenture shall be a first lien, connecting with the railways then subject thereto, or for additional second or other main track or for real estate in the cities of Portland, Spokane or Vancouver, or in other cities of over 50,000 population, or for railway equipment, tools, machinery or implements | 60,000,000 |

Note.—Before delivering bonds of the last-mentioned $60,000,000, the trustees shall receive a copy of a resolution of the board of directors calling for such bonds and also certificates, signed by the President or Vice-President and by the Chief Engineer of the "Railway Company," reciting the expenditures on account of which the additional bonds are to be issued, and also stating that such expenditures are not in excess of the fair value of such properties. The trustee shall deliver the bonds to an amount equal at par to the expenditures so certified.

The line of railway now being constructed, upon the completion of which $40,000,000 of the bonds, being the three blocks first mentioned, will be available, extends from Spokane, Wash., to Kennewick, Wash., thence along the north bank of the Columbia River to Vancouver, Wash., and from that point across the Columbia and Willamette rivers into the city of Portland, Ore., with a 42-mile branch for some time past in operation from Lyle, on the Columbia River, to Goldendale, in the State of Washington, a total distance of 417 miles, of which 263 has been completed and the remainder is expected to be in operation in about a year. From Vancouver to a point in the vicinity of Portland the line will be owned as to an undivided two-thirds by the "Railway Company," and as to an undivided one-third by the Northern Pacific Railway Co., the "Railway Company's" interest only being covered by the mortgage.

The Great Northern Railway Co. prior to June 30 1907 had advanced $9,184,794 on account of the construction of the line and the Northern Pacific Railway Co. $17,095,918. As it was only in April last that the last installment was due on the $60,000,000 stock offered by the Great Northern to its shareholders at par in January 1907, and inasmuch as the Northern Pacific will continue until January 1909 to receive payments on $93,000,000 stock offered at the same price and about the same time, it would seem probable that the enterprise would for the time being be financed from the proceeds of these new stock issues, leaving the bonds issued by the Spokane Portland & Seattle to be carried by the companies as treasury assets.—V. 86, p. 920.

Springfield & Washington Railway Co., Springfield, O.—Successor Company.—This company has been incorporated with $1,000,000 of authorized capital stock as successor of the Washington Traction Co., whose property was recently sold under foreclosure. (V. 86, p. 1227.) Incorporators: George W. Baker, Hiram C. Baker, Charles Baughton, W. E. Roderick, Ulric Sloane and W. W. Keifer.

Third Avenue RR., New York.—Discontinuance of Transfers.—Judge Lacombe in the United States Court on June 10 ordered Receiver Whitridge to discontinue the existing arrangement for transfers between the lines of the Third Avenue system and the Manhattan (Elevated) Ry. on 8-cent tickets, because it is conducted at a loss. Notice has been given that this will be done after June 25.

The Court advised the receiver before abolishing altogether the transfer system between the Union Ry. and the Westchester Electric and Yonkers railroads to effect a compromise with the local authorities where necessary to avoid forfeiture of franchises.

Earnings of System.—The first consolidated mortgage bondholders' committee, of which James N. Wallace, President of the Central Trust Co., is Chairman, in a circular dated June 10 say:

We beg to advise you that the examination of the Third Avenue RR. Co. and companies whose stock, in whole or in part, is covered by the "first consolidated 4% mortgage of the Third Avenue RR. Co., by Marwick, Mitchell & Co., acting upon behalf of this committee, has now been completed and that the firm of accountants make the following report:

| Interest on funded debt of companies ranking ahead of Third Ave. RR. Co. consol. mortgage bonds | | 377,000 | |

As stated above, no provision is made in the above report for the "special franchise tax," which is now in course of litigation, nor for depreciation.

Your committee proposes to await the results for a reasonable length of time of independent management of the system by the receiver as a basis for formulating a proper plan of readjustment. [Enclosed with the circular is the receiver's report cited in V. 86, p. 1220.—Ed.].—V. 86, p. 1286.

Thirteenth & Fifteenth Streets Passenger Ry.—Special Dividend.—The "Philadelphia Ledger" announces a special dividend of $1 per share (2%) on the $1,000,000 capital stock ($334,529 paid in), payable July 1 from a surplus of $27,000 which had been allowed to accumulate in the treasury. The stock is receiving 12% per annum under lease from the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Co.—V. 77, p. 695.

(The) Tidewater Company.—Collateral for Notes.—The securities to be deposited by Henry H. Rogers as part of the collateral for the $17,000,000 6% first lien 5-year notes include, it is reported, 9,000 shares of Standard Oil stock, shares of the Brooklyn Union Gas Co. and miscellaneous gas stocks. Compare V. 86, p. 1286.

Toledo Bowling Green & Southern Traction Co.—Acquisition.—The shareholders have approved a plan for the purchase of the Toledo Urban & Interurban Traction Co.

The transaction would involve the making of a new mortgage for $600,000, and must, it is stated, be accepted by every bondholder of the Toledo Urban & Interurban Ry. Co.—V. 81, p. 213.

Twenty-eighth & Twenty-ninth Streets Crosstown RR., New York.—Bondholders' Action.—The hearing on the application of the receivers of the New York City Ry. and the Metropolitan Street Ry. to discontinue the operation of the 28th & 29th Street Crosstown RR. has been postponed to Friday, June 26. Judge Alton B. Parker has been retained by the first mortgage bondholders to protest against the proposed action of the receivers. Bondholders are requested to communicate with Pfaelzer & Co., 25 Broad St., New York.—V. 62, p. 785.

Vandalia RR.—Bonds Sold.—Speyer & Co. have purchased from the company $3,000,000 consolidated mortgage 4% gold bonds, series B, maturing Nov. 1 1957. There were already outstanding under the consolidated mortgage $10,000,000 series A, due Feb. 1 1955 (V. 80, p. 1973; V. 81, p. 728; V. 82, p. 629). The Vandalia RR. Co., which is controlled by the Pennsylvania Company, forms a direct connection between Indianapolis and St. Louis, with branches to Vincennes on the south and to Sonth Bend and Butler, Ind., on the north.

Speyer & Co. are offering a limited amount of the bonds at 97% and interest, and in this connection have issued a circular containing a statement from President Joseph Wood as to the bonds of the company, its earnings, &c.—V. 86, p. 914, 858.

Wabash-Pittsburgh Terminal Railway.—Time Limit Fixed—The first mortgage bondholders' committee, J. N. Wallace, Chairman, has fixed July 8 1908 as the date on or before which first mortgage bonds and coupons must be deposited with the Central Trust Co. of New York, New York City, or Old Colony Trust Co.—V. 86, p. 1469, 1410.

Washington Traction Co., Springfield, O.—Successor.—See Springfield & Washington Ry. above.—V. 86, p. 1227.

Winnebago Traction Co., Oshkosh, Wis.—Foreclosure.—The Circuit Court at Oshkosh on June 16 ordered the foreclosure sale of the property.

The first mortgage, which is being foreclosed, secures $971,000 bonds, nterest on which has been in default since and including the coupon of April 1 1907. There are about $73,000 receiver's certificates outstanding. The reorganization plan, already described in this column will now be carried out. See V. 85, p. 655.

These companies control the manufacture and sale of the following pianos, their present output aggregating about 18,000 pianos a year:

The Chickering, established in 1823; the Knabe, 1837; the Haines Bros., 1851; the Marshall & Wendell, 1853; the Foster & Co., 1892; the Armstrong, 1893; the Brewster, 1895, and the J. B. American Steel Foundries Co.—Plan Approved.—The shareholders at the adjourned meeting held in Jersey City on June 12, by a vote of more than 90% of the stock, approved the plan for the readjustment of the share capital in accordance with which the holders of the preferred are to receive 77% in new stock, 20% in 15-year 4% debenture bonds and $3 in cash. Holders of common stock will get 25% in new preferred. Compare V. 86, p. 170, 482, 1411.

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Earnings of "Associated Operating Companies."—For month of April and first four months of 1908 and 1907:

| One Month— | Telephone Revenues. | Net (Over Taxes). | Other Income. | Interest Charges. | Balance for Dividends. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| 1908 | $9,882,200 | $2,738,700 | $399,800 | $641,800 | $2,196,700 |

American Writing Paper Co.—Decision Allowing Payment of Dividend Affirmed.—The Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey on Monday affirmed the decision of Vice-Chancellor Bergen, refusing to enjoin the distribution of the dividend of 1%, which was declared payable on April 1 1907, but has not been paid, owing to the suit to test its validity. Compare V. 84, p. 933, 805.

It was claimed that the capital stock had become impaired by overvaluation of property at the time the company was formed, and that this must be made good before a dividend could be paid on the stock. Justice Swayze, who wrote the opinion, holds that under the 30th Section of the Corporation Act, as amended in 1904, dividends may be declared where a company has profits over and above the actual assets with which it began business although the total assets may not exceed the debts and the nominal capital stock.

Payment of Dividends.—As a result of the decision the company, it is announced, will mail to stockholders to-day the two dividends of 1% each which were declared payable on April 1 and Oct. 1 1907, but payment of which was deferred as above stated.—V. 86, p. 549.

Brooklyn Ferry Co.—Motion to Discontinue Operation of Ferries Denied.—Justice Kelly in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn on Tuesday denied the application of the Knickerbocker Trust Co., as trustee of the consolidated mortgage, to discontinue at once the service on five of the seven ferries operated by the company, on the ground that their operation is conducted at a great loss to the company.

The Court says that in view of the public needs, the ferries being simply continuations of the public streets and highways, the bondholders must bear the loss for the short time before the property is turned over to the purchaser at the foreclosure sale, which is set for June 25. A different case, he says, might have been presented if the application had been made promptly at the outset of the receivership, although "the courts always have regard to the maintenance of transportation facilities so that the public will not suffer."—V. 86, p. 1411.

Canadian Pacific Sulphite Pulp Co.—Debentures.—The directors, at a meeting recently held in London, authorized an issue of £65,000 6% debentures, of which about half will be issued immediately, to complete the pulp mill and provide the funds for working it.

The company reports as of Dec. 31 1907: Issued capital (less calls in arrears £3,739), £92,176; due creditors, £3,061; total debits, £95,237. —V. 86, p. 482.

Central Coal & Coke Co., Kansas City.—New President.—Chas. S. Keith has been elected President, succeeding the late W. C. Perry.—V. 85, p. 340.

Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co.—New Natural Gas Ally and Its Bond Issue.—See Cincinnati Gas Transportation Co. below.—V. 85, p. 471.

Cincinnati Gas Transportation Co.—Incorporation—Bond Issue to Cover Proposed Pipe Line to Cincinnati, &c.—This company was incorporated on June 11 under the laws of West Virginia with $5,000,000 of authorized capital stock to carry out the plan of the Columbia Gas & Electric Co. (V. 86, p. 1346) for piping natural gas from West Virginia and Kentucky to Cincinnati.

The new company has arranged to make an issue of $5,000,000 first mortgage 5% gold bonds of $1,000 each, dated July 1 1908 and due July 1 1933, but redeemable after July 1 1913 on any interest date at 110 and interest. These bonds are guaranteed as to principal, interest and sinking fund charges by endorsement by the Columbia Gas & Electric Co. (V. 86, p. 1346). Interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1; annual sinking fund, $250,000, beginning July 1 1911; Cincinnati Trust Co., trustee. "$3,000,000 of this issue having been sold," White & Co., 25 Pine St., New York, offer the remaining $2,000,000 at 90 and interest. A circular says:

The company, with a capital of $5,000,000, of which $3,000,000 is preferred and $2,000,000 common stock, has contracted for the construction and will own a pipe line, pumping stations, &c., for the transportation of gas from the natural gas fields of West Virginia to Cincinnati, Ohio—about 160 miles of main line and about 25 miles of field lines. The natural gas fields, comprising 250,000 acres, are owned or controlled by the Columbia Gas & Electric Co., which has a contract to supply the city of Cincinnati with natural gas. The pipe line will be capable of transporting over 60,000,000 cubic feet of natural gas per day.

The Columbia Gas & Electric Co. has agreed to lease the property of the Cincinnati Gas Transportation Co. for 30 years, paying as rental a sum equivalent to operating expenses and maintenance, administration expenses, all taxes and charges of every kind; interest on bonds and the annual sinking fund charges; dividends on preferred stock at the rate of 5% per annum after the bonds have been retired; dividends on the common stock at the rate of 3% per annum in 1909, 5% in 1910, 7% in 1911 and 10% thereafter during the period of the lease. The Columbia Gas & Electric Co. will also assign the moneys to be received by it through the operation of the contract for the sale of natural gas in Cincinnati through the existing mains and pipes, direct to the trustee, for the benefit of the bondholders in current monthly installments as the same become due.

There are 70,000 gas consumers in Cincinnati, 13,000 in Covington-Newport, Ky., and about 4,000 in Hamilton, Ohio, from whom the gross income of the Columbia Company should be about $1,500,000. The net income after payment of all operating expenses, interest, sinking fund charges and dividends on the common stock of the Cincinnati Gas Transportation Co. should amount to at least $900,000 annually for the first three years and over $1,000,000 annually thereafter.

President Archibald S. White is quoted as saying: "It was desired that the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. control the pipe line, so that corporation took $3,000,000 of the bonds, while the Columbia Gas & Electric was allotted $2,000,000 of them, and these corporations, on condition that they furnish cash in exchange for the bonds, were given like proportions of the $5,000,000 stock of the new company. So that the Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. holds three-fifths of the stock of the pipe line company."—Ed.]

Columbia Gas & Electric Co., Cincinnati, Cleveland, &c.—New Natural Gas Subsidiary—Bond Issue.—See Cincinnati Gas Transportation Co. above and compare V. 86, p. 1346.

Consumers' Electric Co., New Orleans.—Receivership.—At New Orleans on April 10 the United States Circuit Court placed this company's property in the hands of Samuel Insull of Chicago, as receiver, on application made by the National Conduit Cable Co. of New York, holder of $208,000 first mortgage bonds, the interest on which is in default. The "New Orleans Times-Democrat" of April 11 said:

About two-thirds of the capital invested in the company was put up by local investors, the other one-third being contributed from outside. Besides its $1,000,000 capital stock, the company has a first mortgage bond issue of $1,000,000; a second mortgage bond issue approximating $500,000, and a floating debt of about $150,000. Its assets are its business (which is declared to be growing steadily) and its plant in South Rampart St. W. C. Faust is President, Alex. Hyman is Vice-President and Mike S. Hart is Secretary and Treasurer.

The National Conduit Co. alleges that it is the holder of 208 5% bonds, with a face value of $1,000 each, dated Feb. 1 1905, part of the $1,000,000 series secured by a mortgage in favor of the Inter-State Trust & Banking Co. In addition, the petition relates, the company issued a series of 500 5% bonds of the value of $1,000 each, secured by a second mortgage recorded Aug. 14 1907. Not only, says the petition, has the Consumers' Electric Co. defaulted on the payment of part of the semi-annual interest due on the first mortgage bonds on July 1 1907, and the whole installment on them in January 1908, but has also defaulted on the payment of interest on the second mortgage bonds in that month. Besides, it declares, the company owes more than $40,000 on promissory notes. There are suits against the company in the courts of Louisiana, it continues, aggregating n excess of $20,000.

Consumers' Gas & Fuel Co., Atlantic City.—Change in Control.—A syndicate headed by Clarence King of Philadelphia and thought by some to represent the United Gas Improvement Co., recently purchased a majority of the $700,000 capital stock. Louis Kuehule remains as President, but the General Manager will be F. B. Aldrich of Philadelphia.—V. 80, p. 1481.

Cresson & Clearfield Coal & Coke Co., Philadelphia.—New Bonds.—The shareholders voted May 26 to make a refunding mortgage securing $500,000 6% sinking fund gold bonds, denominations $1,000, dated June 1 1908 and due $25,000 annually, but subject to call on 30 days' notice at 103; interest payable Dec. 1 and June 1 at office of Land Title & Trust Co., Philadelphia, trustee; sinking fund 10 cents per gross ton on coal mined. Of these bonds, $100,000 have been sold at par.

The remaining bonds will provide for improvements and additions and for refunding the present issue of $400,000 first mortgage 5% bonds dated June 1 1900, of which $309,000 are outstanding and $85,000 reserved for improvements. The present bonds are due in annual instaliments, but are subject to call at 102½; interest payable June 1 and Dec. 1 at Land Title & Trust Co., Philadelphia, trustee. The company was incorporated in Pennsyvania in 1887 and it owns 6,300 acres of coal and produces coal and coke. Capital stock, all issued, $1,000,000, in $100 shares. President, Henry K. Preston; Secretary, Robert R. Haydock; Treasurer, Ernest du Pont. Office, Real Estate Trust Building, Philadelphia.

The proceeds of the $100,000 bonds just sold will be used to elecrifyt one of the mines of the company which has a capacity of 1,000 tons of coal a day. The company intends to build 100 new coke ovens. When the improvements are made it will have a capacity of 500,000 tons of coal and 65,000 tons of coke annually.—V. 83, p. 495.

Cumberland Telephone & Telegraph Co.—Rates in New Orleans Fixed.—The Louisiana Railroad Commission on April 29 approved the rates recommended by the New Orleans Board of Trade, after an investigation of some months, and acquiesced in by the company.

The rates are authorized for one year from May 1 1908. On and after April 1 1909 party lines, business service, and four and six-party lines, residence service, are to be discontinued, and subscribers given the option to choose any of the classes of service ennumerated in the order of the commission.—V. 86, p. 483.

When the new stock has been paid for a stock dividend of 25% will be declared, increasing the share capital to $1,250,000. It is proposed to erec a mill of 65,000 spindles capacity, but to equip it with only 40,000 spindles at present. The balance sheet of March 28 shows outstanding notes payt able, $309,300, and profit and loss surplus, $467,568.—V. 85, p. 1404.

De Jonghe Building, Chicago.—Bond Offering.—The Ohrman Mortgage Co., 206 La Salle St., Chicago, the mortgage department of Wollenberger & Co. (see advertisement on another page) is offering at prices to yield 5½% income $100,000 first mortgage 6% serial gold bonds dated April 1 1908, interest payable April 1 and Oct. 1. Western Trust & Savings Bank, trustee. A circular says:

Value of security, $250,000; total bond issue, $100,000, secured by first mortgage upon the 99-year Mayer leasehold on the real estate and modern eight-story and restaurant building 43 and 45 Monroe St., Chicago, known as the De Jonghe Building. Each bond is the direct obligation of David Mayer. The lease to Mr. Mayer provides for an annual ground rental of $14,000, in addition to the payment of taxes, insurance, repairs and similar charges. The property is sub-leased to the De Jonghe Restaurant Co. at an annual rental of $25,000 in addition to the above charges, which latter lease has been assigned to the trustee as part of the security for the bonds. The two leases above mentioned, therefore, provide a clear net income of $11,000 per annum to meet an annual interest charge of $6,000 upon the present bond issue.

Great Southern Lumber Co., Buffalo, N. Y.—Bonds Offered.—Clark L. Poole & Co. First National Bank Building, Chicago, are offering at par and interest $2,000,000 first mortgage 6% serial gold bonds (total issue $3,000,000) dated April 1 1908, denominations $1,000 and $500 (c*), and due in installments from April 1 1911 to Oct. 1 1918, both inclusive, $100,000 semi-annually from 1911 to 1913 and $140,000 each six months thereafter, but subject to call, all or any, at any interest date on 60 days' notice at 103 and interest. Principal and interest payable at Central Trust Co. of Illinois, trustee, Chicago, or the Fidelity Trust Co. of Buffalo, N. Y. The Great Southern Lumber Co., capital stock $12,330,700, is one of the largest owners of Southern pine in the United States. It is largely owned and controlled by Messrs. Goodyear, the well known and successful lumbermen of Buffalo, who also control the New Orleans Great Northern RR.

President, C. W. Goodyear, Buffalo, N. Y.; Vice-President, Chas. L. James, Baltimore, Md.; Treasurer, F. A. Lehr, Buffalo, N. Y.

A circular says in substance:

This mortgage is a first lien on (1) about 233,177 acres of uncut virgin timber lands, exceptionally well grouped, located in Washington, St. Tammany and Tangipahoa parishes, Louisiana, heavily timbered with long-leaf yellow pine and hardwoods. (2) A large lumber manufacturing plant recently completed at Bogalusa, La., capacity about 600,000 feet of lumber per day, and constructed almost entirely of steel, brick and concrete. The actual cost of this plant, including saw-mill, planing mill, boiler and power houses, brick and steel dry kilns, machine shop, water works and electric light plants, storage sheds, 600 modern houses for employees, logging railroad and equipment, logging equipment, &c., including land, was over $3,000,000.

The conservative estimates made in detail by James D. Lacey & Co. of Chicago and New Orleans show total value of the property securing these bonds to be $10,685,224, or 3½ times the amount of the issue, viz.:

|---|---|
| 233,177 acres, containing long-leaf yellow pine, 12 inches and upwards, 1,921,306,000 feet, log scale, average per acre, 8,240 feet, worth $4 per 1,000 feet ($32 96 per acre). (This bond issue is at the rate of $12 85 per acre), total market value of standing pine timber, | $7,685,224 |
| Cost of other property covered by bond issue | 3,000,000 |

The total authorized bond issue is $3,000,000, of which $2,000,000 is sold to retire the floating debt and the remaining $1,000,000 are held in the treasury, and will be used to acquire additional timber lands and to further improve the property. Before the company can cut, turpentine or remove any of the timber standing, it must deposit with the trustee $3 per 1,000 feet, log scale. This sinking fund applies to the payment of the principal only and will operate to retire all of the bonds before consuming one-half of the timber.

Abstract of Letter From President C. W. Goodyear, Buffalo, Feb. 1908.

The Great Southern Lumber Co. is a Pennsylvania corporation, with a paid-up capital stock of $12,330,700, of which $11,450,139 was paid for in actual cash at not less than par, and $880,561 was issued in payment for timber land at a price less than half the present value of the land. The company owns in fee simple, in Louisiana, about 236,000 acres of virgin pine timber lands, upon which there is now standing 2,000,000,000 feet of standing long-leaf yellow pine lumber; also quite an extensive amount of other woods, such as lob lolly, white oak, red oak, poplar, gum and cypress. The company also owns quite extensive tracts of virgin pine timber lands in Mississippi; also securities to an amount exceeding $4,000,000 of other lumber companies having pine timber land holdings.

The organizers of the company have also organized and established the New Orleans Great Northern RR. Co., a part of whose lines are now in operation and a part under construction. (See map on page 93 of "Railway & Industrial Section"—Ed). When the railroad is completed it will extend from Slidell, La., connecting with the New Orleans & Northeastern RR., to Jackson, Mississippi, about 150 miles. The railroad company also has lines extending to Folsom, La., and along the north shore of Lake Pontchartrain, to Mandeville and Abita Springs. At Jackson, Miss., it will have connection with the Illinois Central RR. and the Queen & Crescent system; at Smiths Ferry with the Mississippi Central RR.; and the Baton Rouge Hammond & Eastern RR. Co. has recently constructed its lines from Baton Rouge through Hammond to Covington, La., at which last-named point its line connects with the New Orleans Great Northern RR.; so the shipping facilities of the company are superior.

The company has recently completed at Bogalusa, La., perhaps the largest lumber manufacturing plant in the world, at a cost of upwards $2,000,000. The distance from this plant to New Orleans is 65 miles. The most modern logging appliances are used, including Lidgerwood skidders and loaders, so that it will be possible to carry on logging operations during the rainy season. A mill pond of 25 acres at the manufacturing plant will hold about 6,000,000 feet of logs, or a supply for the mill of more than a week.

The New Orleans Great Northern RR. has grades in either direction of not exceeding 3-10 of 1% per mile; tangents 26 miles in length. It is well equipped and laid with 80-lb. steel rail. The Great Southern Lumber Co. has a contract with the New Orleans Great Northern RR. Co. enabling it to haul logs for long distances on reasonable terms.—V. 80, p. 1915, 1237.

Hartford (Conn.) Electric Light Co.—New Stock.—At a meeting of the stockholders held June 10 1908 it was voted that 3,000 shares of new stock be offered at par to the stockholders of record June 15 1908 in amounts equal to one share of new stock for seven shares of old.

First installment of 50% payable Aug. 3 1908; second installment of 50% payable Nov. 3 1908, at the office of Richter & Co., 6 Central Row, Hartford, Conn. The subscription books will remain open at said office until 12 noon July 15. Certificates covering the first installment will be issued immediately after the first payment.—V. 86, p. 1412.

Independent Telephone Co. of Syracuse.—Foreclosure.—In accordance with the reorganization plan of the Independent Telephone Securities Co. and the United States Independent Telephone Co. (see the last-named company below), suit has been brought to foreclose the $3,000,000 mortgage of this company, under which $1,000,000 bonds are outstanding. These bonds were practically all bid in on Feb. 4 for the new holding company, the Rochester Syracuse & Utica Telephone Co. (See that company above and U. S. Ind. Tel. Co. in V. 86, p. 340.) The aforesaid reorganization plan said in substance:

The mortgage of the Independent Telephone Co. of Syracuse should then be foreclosed and the property purchased for the bondholders who will be the proposed new holding corporation (the Rochester Syracuse & Utica Telephone Co.), the Stromberg-Carlson Telephone Mfg. Co. (which holds $75,000 of bonds as collateral), and one individual who holds one $1,000 bond. The present Syracuse Company owes the Stromberg-Carlson Telephone Mfg. Co. about $475,000 and the Rochester Telephone Co. about $25,000. It would be but fair for the new Syracuse Co. to issue shares of its stock to those companies to the amount of 50% of such indebtedness.

The new Syracuse Company should place a new mortgage upon its property to secure a bond issue of the aggregate amount of $3,000,000, and should then sell a sufficient amount of those bonds, $250,000 to $300,000, to provide funds to finish the Syracuse system. There has already been invested in the construction of the Syracuse system more than $1,250,000 in cash, which will be represented by the stock of said new company.—V. 85, p. 407.

Independent Telephone Securities Co., Utica, N. Y.—Reorganization.—See United States Independent Telephone Co. below.—V. 86, p. 339.

An advertisement says:

The company has an agreement with the Government to furnish water to the Soldiers' Home at Johnson City, Tenn., for ten years at $6,000 per annum. The Watauga Water Works Co. of Johnson City guarantees the principal and interest on the Johnson City Water Works Co. bonds.

Knickerbocker Ice Co., Chicago.—Dividend Deferred.—The management has deferred the declaration of dividends on the preferred stock "pending a readjustment of dividend payment periods, which will be taken up at a future meeting."

Thomas Settlement.—The agreement of E. R. Thomas with a committee representing his creditors is mentioned on a previous page. The minority shareholders of the Knickerbocker Ice Co., who sold their shares to Mr. Thomas and his brother for $2,000,000, mostly payable in notes, are said to be seeking a settlement on the following basis:

The stockholders propose to take over the stock now held as security at something over the market price, and accept $300,000 for the balance, that amount to constitute a claim which will take its place with the others to be settled by the liquidating committee.—V. 86, p. 419, 339.

Wallace, pursuant to the plan in V. 86, p. 984; V. 84, p. 871, and will be reorganized as the Indiana Consolidated Gas Co. with $4,500,000 capital stock, and an authorized bond issue of $5,000,000, of which about $1,600,000 will remain in the treasury.—V. 86 p. 1227, 1046.

Dawes, the President of the Metropolitan Gas & Electric Co. of Chicago. See V. 83, p. 275.

Republic Iron & Steel Co.—Preferred Dividends Temporarily Suspended.—The directors on Thursday decided not to pay at this time the quarterly dividend of 1¾% due July 1 on the $20,416,900 7% (cumulative) preferred stock. The official announcement follows:

The board of directors decided on June 18 1908 to suspend payment of the July 1 quarterly dividend for the reason that, under the provision of the general mortgage, the balance of net quick assets must be maintained at not less than $6,500,000, and, with the balance of net quick assets as of May 31 at $6,717,589, it was the opinion of the board that the required net balance of quick assets could not be maintained if further dividend disbursements were made at this time, unless expenditures on account of improvements and reconstruction were stopped, which was not deemed advisable by the directors, who were unanimously of the opinion that further expenditures for improvements be authorized, for the development of mineral properties and otherwise to strengthen the operations of the company.

The amount expended during the year to date on account of new construction has been $851,710, and in addition to this sum, the amount expended on account of reconstruction and general maintenance for the year to date aggregates $997,624.

The net surplus profits for 11 months ending May 31 1908, after deducting all dividend disbursements made during the current year, is $1,119,975, and, with current net profits on a basis equal to the preferred dividend requirements, the time of dividend suspension should not be prolonged beyond a period of return to normal business conditions.—V. 85, p.1458, 1406.

Y.—Liquidation, etc.—The incorporation recentiy of the Rochester Syracuse & Utica Telephone (holding) Co. with $1,500,000 of authorized capital stock, and the suit brought to foreclose the mortgage of the Independent Telephone Co. of Syracuse (see each of these companies above) are some of the final steps in the history of the allied corporations, the United States Independent Telephone Co. and the Independent Telephone Securities Co., which were brought out several years ago, the former with $28,500,000 of stock and bonds and the latter with $1,500,000 of combined stock and bonds.

The issues of capital stock of the United States Independent Telephone Co. and the Independent Telephone Securities Co. were wiped out by the foreclosure sales which took place on Feb. 6 (see V. 86, p. 340).

The bondholders of the Independent Telephone Securities Co., in accordance with the plan promulgated last February, were called upon to pay in addition to the previous assessment of 3% a further assessment equal to 17% of the face value of their bonds in three installments, one of 7% and two of 5%, each payable April 1, June 15 and Sept. 1 1908, receiving in exchange for their bonds an equal par value in the stock of the new holding co., the Rochester Syracuse & Utica Telephone Co., mentioned above, nothing additional being given on account of the assessment. The proceeds of the assessment were applicable to the discharge of loans on the basis of 35% of the face value of $447,000 bonds of the company pledged as security therefor and the return of the 3% assessment paid on the bonds pledged and for reorganization and other expenses. Of the bonds of the Securities Co. $288,000 were owned by the Rochester Telephone Co. There were in all $1,035,000 bonds of the Securities Co.; all except about $25,000 have assented to the plan.

The holders of the $13,407,000 outstanding bonds of the United States Independent Telephone Co., of which at last accounts $11,126,000 had assented and paid their total assessment (3%) were notified in April last that the committee was ready to distribute pro rata among them: Stock of Rochester Telephone Co., $478,100; Stromberg-Carlson, $1,320,300 preferred and $1,474,200 common. The stock ($26,000,000) of the New York Independent Telephone Co. is still held by the reorganization committee pending a determination of the company's franchise rights in New York City. The bondholders of the United States Company have also received, or will receive, their pro rata share of the $225,000 bonds of the Rochester Telephone Co. purchased with a portion of the assessment to give the Rochester Company needed funds. Of the common stock of the Stromberg-Carlson Co. held by the United States Company, $3,000,000 has been turned into the treasury of the Stromberg-Carlson Co. as proposed in circular cited below.

The reorganization committee for the two companies consisted of: Walter B. Duffy, Harold P. Brewster and Daniel B. Murphy, and Charles H. Poole, Manager of the Utica Home Telephone Co., George R. Fuller of Rochester and Alexander H. Cowie of Syracuse, were named to carry out the reorganization. Depositary, Security Trust Co., Rochester, N. Y.

The committee, in a circular issued last February, is reported to have said in part:

While the franchise rights of the New York Independent Telephone Co. (whose stock is owned by the United States Independent Telephone Co. V. 81, p. 1104, 1191, 1497) have been pronounced valid, the officials of New York refuse to recognize them, and their validity, therefore, must be determined by the courts. Such appeal to the courts is advised, and the estimated cost is set at $25,000. The committee also suggests that the stock of this company be sold.

Of the $486,000 outstanding stock of the Rochester Telephone Co., the United States Independent Co. owned $478,100. The Rochester Co. also has an outstanding bond issue of $878,000, and an indebtedness which is secured by $455,000 of its mortgage bonds. It owes the Stromberg-Carlson Co. $173,395, making the total floating debt $470,395. Of its mortgage bonds, $75,000 were pledged to secure debts of the Independent Telephone Securities Co. To entirely free the Rochester Tel. Co. from (floating) debt it is estimated it would require $500,000, and an additional sum should be provided for additions. We do not deem it necessary to raise all this money at the present time and the company would doubtless be able get along if we are authorized to invest the surplus arising from the 3% assessment in bonds of the comapny, at par, distributing those bonds, instead of cash, among you.

We propose to distribute the 4,781 shares ($478,100) of the stock of the Rochester Telephone Co. More than half of that stock is subject to proxies authorizing Edward Bausch, Harold P. Brewster and William S. Morse to vote the same at stockholders' meetings. Under the regulations pertaining to the transfers of stock, each transferree is required to execute a new proxy covering the shares transferred.

Of the Stromberg-Carlson Co.'s $1,500,000 preferred stock, $179,700, and of the $4,500,000 common stock, $25,800, was never owned by the United States Independent Co. The operation of the company during 1907 was unprofitable, owing probably in large measure to the enfeebled condition of the independent companies. It is believed that with a revival of business and a more rational policy of financing operating companies, the business of the Stromberg Co. can be made to pay; but in our opinion it is largely over-capitalized, and our suggestion is that $3,000,000 of the common stock be returned to the treasury of the company and that the balance, viz.: $1,320,300 of preferred and $1,474,200 of common, be distributed.

For various particulars regarding the companies mentioned, see V. 85, p. 409; V. 83, p. 277.—V. 86, p. 486.

West St. Louis Water & Light Co.—New Mortgage.—The shareholders will meet July 2 to make a 5% mortgage to provide for refunding, extensions, &c. The "St. Louis Globe Democrat" of June 3 said:

The West St. Louis Water & Light Co. is arranging to issue $1,000,000 of new bonds, which are to be voted at special stockholders' meeting July 2. The new bonds will be used to pay off and retire the present bond issue of $600,000, put out five years ago, on which the interest rate is 6%. The majority of these bonds are held by the directors of the company. The new bonds will be 5%. Authority will also be given the directors to issue an additional $1,000,000 of bonds to be included under the first mortgage. Compare V. 78, p. 1558; V. 75, p. 687.

West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co.—Purchase of Timber Lands.—The company has purchased about 30,000 acres in Pocahontas, Randolph and Webster counties, W. Va., for a sum said to be $435,000. The property adjoins about 100,000 acres which the company already owned and was bought to supply its large pulp and paper mills at Covington, Va., Piedmont and Davis, W. Va., and Luke, Md. John G. Luke is President. New York office, 309 Broadway.

The capital stock authorized and outstanding is $7,500,000. There are $850,000 debentures and two bond issues of $1,500,000 and $1,000,000 respectively, of which a small amount is in the treasury.—V. 84, p. 395.

White Oak Transportation Co.—Bonds Offered.—This company is offering for sale its 6% refunding gold bonds, dated March 1 1908, due March 1 1918, but subject to call at 105 and interest on any interest day prior to and including March 1 1913, and thereafter on any interest day at 102½ and interest. Interest payable March 1 and Sept. 1. Authorized issue, $400,000; issued, $200,000. Federal Trust Co., Boston, mortgage trustee. A circular shows:

Balance sheet Dec. 31 1907.—Assets: Cash, $4,002; inventory, $980,000; construction, $96,925; insurance, $11,000; adjustment, $25,248; total, $1,117,175. Offsets: Capital stock (of this $300,000 is held as treasury stock), $600,000; first mortgage bonds, $300,000; notes payable, $120,000; interest accrued, $4,895; accounts payable, $55,622; profit and loss, $36,658. The operations for last year, during which time only 7-10 of the present fleet was in commission, netted a profit of $36,658 after deducting all interest charges, or equal to 12% upon the outstanding stock.

The company is engaged in transporting from the railway terminals the coal of the New River Company of West Virginia (V. 84, p. 576, 1483; V. 85, p. 866). It owns and operates four steamers and six barges. The vessels are of steel, whale-back, average carrying capacity 2,500 tons; total annual capacity 600,000 tons, which is about one-half of the New River Company's coal sold in New England.

To provide for the refunding of the outstanding bonds and to take care of floating debt, the company is now issuing $400,000 6% gold coupon bonds to mature March 1 1918. Of the total issue, one-half is issuable immediately and the remaining one-half only as payments are made on the $300,000 old bonds to the extent of two-thirds of the payments made (since Dec. 31 1907 reduced to $250,000). By these provisions there cannot be outstanding, at any time, more than $500,000 in bonds. The sinking fund retires $50,000 of the original bonds each year. The fleet was valued in September 1906 by the Bureau Veritas at $785,000, exclusive of expenditures of $100,000 since been made for reconstruction and improvement.

This company is closely affiliated with the C. H. Sprague & Son Co., tidewater agents of the New River Company. William A. Paine, President; Phineas W Sprague, Vice-President, and Henry N. Sweet, Treasurer and Secretary.

—The investment banking firm of Wollenberger & Co. has just commenced business in beautiful and spacious offices in the new Corn Exchange National Bank Building, Chicago. Their announcement card will be found in our advertising columns. Hermann Wollenberger has been connected with Chicago banking and brokerage interests for the past fifteen years. From 1893 to 1896 he was with the Illinois Trust & Savings Bank; then for two or three years a dealer in stocks and bonds on the Chicago Stock Exchange; from 1899 to 1903 in charge of the bond department in the brokerage houses of Otis, Wilcox & Co. and Otis, Wilson & Co. The latter firm dissolved in 1903 and organized the Western Trust & Savings Bank, with $1,000,000 paid-up capital, of which Mr. Wollenberger was for two years or more Assistant to the President and afterwards Vice-President. He recently resigned his office in this bank to establish the new firm; President Otis of the Western Trust & Savings has given publicity to a letter expressing the "extreme regret of the board of directors and himself at Mr. Wollenberger's resignation" and highly complimenting him on "his years of loyal, most valuable and successful services for the bank." The Ohrman Mortgage Co. is a subsidiary company, controlled by Wollenberger & Co.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

Though trade is increasing, it is only by degrees, the iron and steel "cuts" having no very stimulating effect on actual buying, and everywhere the disposition is to act on the idea of "slow, but sure." Prices are as a rule quite well sustained and the outlook for the crops is promising.

LARD.—Owing to the advance in other provisions, as well as in hogs and grain, particularly corn, lard has been stronger, though trade most of the time has been only moderate at best and latterly quite dull. It is remarked that the spot markets have shown no great disposition to follow "futures." Prime Western has risen, however, to 9.20c., with city at 8½c. Refined has advanced to 9.30c. for the Continent, though South American has been at 9.75c. and Brazil in kegs 11c.

DAILY CLOSING PRICES OF LARD FUTURES IN CHICAGO

| | Sat. | Mon. | Tues. | Wed. | Thurs. | Fri. |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| July delivery | 8.75 | 8.77½ | 8.75 | 8.77½ | 8.87½ | 8.80 |
| September delivery | 8.92½ | 8.97½ | 8.95 | 8.95 | 9.07½ | 8.97 |
| October delivery | .9 | 9.05 | 9.02½ | 9.05 | 9.15 | 9.07 |

Speculation in lard futures at the West has been active at rising quotations. Strong quotations at the Chicago Stock Yards and some buying by packers have been factors in the rise.

PORK has been in increasing demand on the spot and prices have been stronger, owing to the strength of other provisions and the absence of any pressure to sell. There has been some response to the rise in fresh beef, as might have been expected. Mess is quoted at $15.50@$15.75, clear $15.75@$17. Beef has been in fair demand and firmer, in sympathy with other products. Mess $13@$13.50, family $16.75@$17.25, packet $14@$15, extra India mess $23.50. Cut meats have met with a fair demand here and at the West; hams have had a brisk sale, which has also been the case with other meats there, though here the trade has at times been slow. Pickled Western hams 9@11¼c., pickled bellies 8¾@11c. and shoulders 6½@6¾c. Tallow has been firmer with light stocks and production said to be hardly keeping pace with consumption; City 5⅝c. Stearines have been quiet and prices have been largely nominal; oleo 10¾c. and lard 10@10¼c. Butter has been in fair demand and the tendency of prices has latterly seemed to be downward. Creamery extras 23½c. Cheese has been in good demand and firm; State full cream small fancy new 11⅝. Eggs have been in only moderate demand, but prices have been firm, with Western firsts 16@16½c.

OIL.—Cotton seed has been on somewhat better demand at times, at some recession in prices. Prime summer yellow has been quoted of late at 47½@48c. and winter at 48@49c. Linseed has sold moderately at comparatively steady prices despite some decline in seed at Duluth. City raw American seed 44@45c., boiled 45@46c. and Calcutta raw 70c. Lard has met with a somewhat better demand; prime 66@68c. and No. 1 extra 53@55c., but there seems to be some tendency to shade these prices for round lots. Cocoanut has been in light demand, but prices have remained steady, with Cochin 7¼@7½c. and Ceylon 6¼@6½c. Olive has met with a moderate sale at steady quotations. Yellow 65@75c. Peanut has remained at 65@80c. for yellow, with a light business. Cod generally unchanged, with moderate sales, at 42@43c. for domestic and 44@45c. for Newfoundland.

COFFEE on the spot has been quiet at 6¼c. for No. 7 and 8¾@8⅞c. for Santos No. 4. West India growths have been quiet but firm, with desirable grades said to be in small supply. Fair to good Cucuta 8⅞@9¾c. The speculation in future contracts has been on a very small scale. Prices have declined slightly. The closing prices were as follows:

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| June | 5.85 | October | 5.80c. | February | 5.85 |
| July | 5.85c. | November | 5.80c. | March | 5.85c. |
| August | 5.85c. | December | 5.80c. | April | 5.85c. |
| September | 5.85c. | January | 5.85c. | May | 5.85c. |

SUGAR.—Raw has been weaker. Centrifugal, 96-degrees test, 4.31c.; muscovado, 89-degrees test, 3.81c., and molasses sugar, 89-degrees test, 3.56c. Refined has been quiet. Granulated has ruled of late at 5.30c. Spices have been in fair demand and steady. Teas have been quiet but firm, with foreign markets well sustained. Hops have been dull and unsettled; crop advices are favorable. Wool has been in fair demand, with prices in the main firm.

PETROLEUM has met with a good demand at firm quotations; refined, in barrels, 8.75c.; bulk 5c. and cases 10.90c. Gasoline has been in brisk demand and firm; 86 degrees, in 100-gallon drums, 20c.; drums $8 50 extra. Naphtha has been active and firm; 73@76 degrees, in 100-gallon drums, 17c.; drums $8 50 extra. Spirits of turpentine has been steady with a moderate demand at 43½@44c. Rosin has been dull; strained $3.

TOBACCO.—In domestic leaf trade has improved, though buyers are still acting on a conservative basis. Of Sumatra, the sales have noticeably increased, though, as heretofore, buyers are not inclined to purchase on a large scale. Havana in moderate demand.

COPPER has been quiet and steady at 12⅞c. for electrolytic and 13c. for lake. Lead is dull at 4.47½@4.52½c. Spelter is also dull at 4.50@4.55c. Tin is weaker at 28c. for Straits. Iron has been quiet but steady; No. 1 Northern $16 25@$17, No. 2 Southern $16 25@$16 75.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has been enlivened by a sharp advance in the July option, which has been ruling at large premiums over October not only here, but in New Orleans and Liverpool. The general speculation has continued light, and for a time the next-crop months lagged behind this crop deliveries, owing to reports of generally favorable weather and advices from not a few sections, particularly in Southern Texas and from the region east of the Mississippi River, that the plant is making good progress and is in some localities even earlier than usual. The very narrowness of the speculation has also militated to some extent against efforts to advance prices of the new-crop months, especially as certain large interests in Wall Street are supposed to be inimical to a rise. Moreover, the Liverpool advices have been, as a rule, far from stimulating. Not only has it seemed lukewarm to bullish operations on this side of the water, but its spot business, even with the Whitsuntide holidays over, has been so small as to contrast sharply with that during the recent active period, after making due allowance for some change in the method of reporting the sales there, which, it seems, is likely to keep the total down to somewhat smaller figures than formerly. Many have preferred to watch events rather than trade on either side of the market. But on Wednesday, July, which had risen rather sharply the day before, suddenly advanced 33 points, and has since been very strong, despite rumors that the July deal in Liverpool had been abandoned. July, which ended last Friday only 78 points over October, has latterly ranged from 110 to 117 over that month. More than that, the strength of July has been communicated to a very noticeable degree to the August and September deliveries, both of which have met with a distinctly better demand at rising prices. All sorts of rumors have been in circulation as to the identity of the interests back of the July deal, the general impression being that prominent New Orleans and New York people have thought well of July and other old-crop deliveries for some time past. Meantime, the certificated stock here has fallen below 50,000 bales and is steadily dwindling. Some of the local supply is understood to be owned in New Orleans, and reports have been in circulation that nearly 10,000 bales would before long be shipped from this market to home and foreign mills. However this may be, the local statistical position, with a stock decidedly smaller than that of a year ago, is regarded as strong, and, with relatively light supplies in Liverpool, the believers in better prices, especially for the old-crop months, have been emboldened to take the agressive. Besides, the spot demand has been reported as good, and even for the low grades at New York there is said to be a steady inquiry. And if the weather has improved and the tenor of the crop reports is more cheerful, the high stage of the Southern rivers has caused some uneasiness, which has been emphasized by several further breaks in the levees on the Red River. There has been considerable scattered covering in July, and also more or less buying of that month, supposed to have emanated from New Orleans bulls. Of October and December, large spot interests have been purchasers, and Liverpool is said to have bought new-crop months to some extent, though Liverpool trading here for some time past has been smaller than formerly, owing partly, it is supposed, to some diversity of views as to the question of the differences between grades established here. To-day prices advanced sharply early in the day, with renewed buying and manipulation of July, August and September, but later on much of the rise was lost, owing to realizing, not to mention favorable weather, falling rivers at the South, more favorable crop reports from some sections, not excepting Texas, and rumors that Texas spot quotations were being eased a little.

Spot cotton has advanced during the week to 12.20c. for middling uplands, a rise of 80 points.

BREADSTUFFS.

Friday, June 20 1908.

Flour, though firm at times, has suffered the disadvantage of being in only very moderate demand at the prices asked. Rather more inquiry has been reported of late and deliveries are larger, but buyers have been confining their purchases mostly to car lots, showing, as a rule, little disposition to take hold freely on the present basis of quotations, particularly as some of the crop reports about wheat are beginning to be more favorable and wheat quotations have weakened.

Wheat prices have latterly shown a certain weakness, the market becoming top-heavy from being "over-bought." That is to say, the reports of damage to the crop in the Southwest by rains and insects have attracted wide attention and the resultant buying has been so heavy that the "long" account became unduly swollen. It required only a few days of better weather such as has latterly prevailed to make this very clear. It appears too that the damage said to have been done to the crop in Kansas has been exaggerated. Sensational reports of a large abandonment of wheat acreage in Kansas, owing to floods, though startling the market for a moment, have failed to prevent heavy liquidation by recent buyers. The buying orders from the Southwest which have recently sent so many alarming stories have been suggestively small. Still, at one time prices were quite strong, owing to the persistent unfavorable weather and crop reports and a fear that unless the Southwest could have dry weather for the harvesting of winter wheat, the crop might be seriously reduced. The Budapest market, too, has been rising sharply, owing to dry, hot weather in Hungary. The advance at Budapest within a month has been about 20 cents. Of late, however, clearing weather in the Southwest has caused a good deal of selling, partly by the Southwest itself, and prices have received a noticeable setback. Large interests at Chicago have tried to sustain prices, but other well-known people have been quite as aggressive on the short side, and this fact and the overloaded condition of the "long" side of the market and the free liquidation has resulted in falling quotations, particularly as the European markets have been for the most part anything but encouraging, and the export demand in this country has been of the smallest. Moreover, some reports from winter wheat sections have been favorable, good progress, it is stated, being made in harvesting, and the yield as a rule turning out more satisfactory than the sensational reports would have led the trade to expect. It is remarked that speculation has fallen off very perceptibly, owing, it would appear, to a growing scepticism concerning the recent reports of damage to the crop and of doubt as to the feasibility of putting up prices further with European markets so generally lukewarm and the export trade in the United States so trifling. To-day prices declined after a firm opening, the weakness being due to generally favorable crop reports, better weather in the Southwest and dulness of the cash trade, together with a good deal of realizing and not a little aggressive "short" selling.

Indian corn has advanced, owing to rains, lighter receipts and fears of poor grading, and finally a sharp demand to cover shorts. The covering has been especially heavy in the July option, one interest alone, it is said, buying on Thursday some 2,000,000 bushels in liquidating "short" engagements. The cultivation of the plant, it is averred, has been considerably delayed by heavy and persistent rains. This has been especially true, it appears, of the Western portion of the belt. In parts of the Eastern section rain is said to be needed. Moreover, Liverpool prices have advanced somewhat, owing not only to the rise on this side of the water but also to some decrease in the shipments from Argentine. But in the main it is the rainy weather and an oversold condition of the market on this side of the water which have played the most conspicuous part in advancing prices. Cutworms are said to have necessitated a certain amount of re planting in Illinois and wet and weedy fields have been the subject of complaint in Iowa and Nebraska. Floods in the Mississippi Valley have had no small influence on the market during the last few days. To-day there was a further advance on near months, even if near crops delivery were inclined to be weak. Bullish manipulation and covering of shorts kept July and September firm, but better weather caused weakness in later deliveries.

Oats have advanced, affected to some extent by corn. Of late, however, the weather at the West has also been a very noticeable factor in the making of prices.and has, indeed, contributed not a little to the rise which has taken place. Heavy rains in some of the most productive sections have been the signal for large buying by leading speculative interests to cover "short" engagements. At Chicago these buying orders have at times come largely from the Southwest and have been to a considerable extent in the September option. Some large Chicago interests have bought May and sold September but the pressure, in the main, has been to buy September, owing not only to unfavorable crop reports from Illinois and elsewhere but also to a brisk "cash" demand. Hot weather following recent very heavy rains has, it is said, baked the ground. Probably the adverse conditions have been as usual exaggerated, but the less favorable reports have, none the less, had a very noticeable effect. So active has the "cash" demand been at Chicago that one large dealer alone sold, it is stated, some 1,500,000 bushels in three days, while the same interest has bought September heavily. To-day a further advance occurred, owing to some unfavorable reports and covering of shorts, not to mention the good cash demand.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climatological Division of the United States Weather Bureau, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the weather in the various States for the week ending June 15, summarizing them as follows:

The weather during the week ending June 15 1908 was decidedly cool over the western half of the Lake region and in the lower Ohio, upper Mississippi and Missouri valleys, light frosts occurring in the Dakotas and upper Lake region during the middle of the week. The temperature conditions were generally favorable in the Atlantic and Gulf States and throughout the Plateau and Pacific Coast regions. Damaging overflows occurred in the lower Missouri Valley and portions of Arkansas and eastern South Dakota. Rain is much needed in western and southern Texas, southeastern Alabama, over much of the Ohio Valley, and generally throughout the Middle Atlantic States and New England, drought being severe in the last-named district. There was much cloudiness in the lower Missouri and portions of the upper Mississippi valleys and upper Lake region, and somewhat more than the usual amount in portions of the South Atlantic and central Gulf States; elsewhere the sunshine was above normal, the percentage of the possible being unusually high in New England and the Middle Atlantic States.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, June 19 1908.

There has been little change in conditions in the primary cotton goods market during the week, and, while the tone has held steady, buying has again been on a comparatively small scale. Most of the orders received have been for goods for near-by delivery, and manufacturers have again firmly refused to contract far ahead at the present level of values. A sharp advance in the price of cotton has been one of the principal influences in this connection, and there is a general disposition still further to curtail production rather than sell goods at a loss, as would in many cases be done if present prices were accepted. Buyers, on the other hand, have been even more insistent in their demands for concessions, and, in view of the uncertainty of the political situation, and other possible disturbing influences during the next few months, are not disposed unduly to commit themselves at this time. It is generally felt, therefore, that the market will continue quiet during the next few weeks, and the attitude of manufacturers in the matter of curtailment, together with the course of the raw material market, will be closely watched during that time as being the two most important influences on the future course of the market. Retail trade is keeping up well, and it is stated that collections from all sections of the country are improving. Export trade with miscellaneous countries has been satisfactory, and some small business has been done with China during the week. So far this year the exports of cotton goods compare very favorably with last, owing principally to the lower level of prices, and, should there be any revival of activity in the Far Eastern trade, last year's figures would be easily eclipsed. Moderate duplicate orders have been received for heavyweight men's wear woolen and worsted goods, and an increasing movement in dress goods is expected during the coming month.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 13 were 2,680 packages, valued at $199,607, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $5,379,980 in 1908, against $6,249,998 in 1907.

Curtailment of production of heavy brown drills and sheetings is becoming more drastic in the South, and manufacturers prefer to adopt this course rather than grant the concessions demanded by buyers; in the meantime business has been comparatively quiet, but wide drills, particularly 37-inch widths, have been in fair request for converting purposes. Medium and lightweight drills and sheetings have been quiet but the recent advances have been fully maintained. Sales to China have included 1,000 bales of 3.25-yard drills and sheetings and about an equal quantity of 4-yard and 4.70-yard sheetings. Jobbers have been fair purchasers of ticketed bleached goods for early fall, and these are now so well sold ahead that the market is likely to hold its strength, particularly if any further advance should occur in the price of cotton. Fair sales of duck have been reported both for home and export. Coarse colored cotton goods have been in good demand from jobbers. Linings have been quiet. Buyers are taking advantage of the low price of printed goods to cover their requirements, and ginghams have, in some instances, sold so well that advances of ¼c. have been noted. Print cloths have been quiet, with converters awaiting more definite knowledge as to what their own trade may be before placing further orders.

WOOLEN GOODS.—From the way in which duplicate orders for men's wear heavy-weight woolen and worsted goods continue to be received, the feeling is growing throughout the trade that the total volume of business this year will not fall nearly as far below that of recent years as a few months ago seemed almost certain. A satisfactory feature of the business recently placed has been the wider distribution of orders, which has resulted in the re-starting of many idle looms and a general improvement in the whole situation. The demand for light-weight goods for the current season displays no signs of abatement, and the character of the business offering shows no change from recent weeks, browns being by far the most popular color. Light-weight goods for next spring are occasionally being shown, but few lines are opened as yet, and it is too early to judge of the market situation. It is believed, however, that resist dyes will figure largely in the showings. For the moment the dress-goods market is hardly in a satisfactory position, repeat orders from jobbers having fallen considerably below expectations. From the fact that some of the largest operators have decided to take advantage of the prevailing quiet to take vacations, no improvement is expected during the next two or three weeks, but after that there should be more activity. It is believed that some very attractive job offerings will then be made by some of the large firms, with the object of cleaning up stocks prior to entering upon the spring season. Apart from the continued pre-eminence of broadcloths, there is no distinctive feature in the demand.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—The fall demand for imported woolen and worsted dress goods is drawing to an end, and importers are now making preparations for the spring season in the full belief that the outlook is quite encouraging. As a result of the firmness of the raw material market, there has been a somewhat larger call for silk piece goods, and ribbons also show some slight improvement. Orders for linens are being received on a more liberal scale. Burlaps are quiet.

STATE AND CITY DEPARTMENT.

News Items.

Massachusetts.—Legislature Adjourns.—The Legislature of this State was prorogued on June 13. Among the bills passed at this session was one amending the Savings Bank Law, making many changes in that portion of the law relating to investments and adding telephone bonds to the list of permissible securities. The labor bill, providing that State employees should not be permitted to work over eight hours a day, was referred to the next Legislature.

New York City.—Option Exercised on only Part of $7,000,000 Corporate Stock.—J. &. W. Seligman & Co. of this city have taken at par and interest $1,500,000 of the $7,000,000 4% corporate stock on which they were given an option until June 15. See V. 86, p. 1296. We are also advised that the firm has renewed its option on the remaining $5,500,000 bonds.

Rhode Island.—Amendments to Savings Bank Law.—The Legislature of 1908, before adjourning on May 26, passed a new Savings Bank Act which makes many important changes in the old law. The portions of the new Act relating to investments in stocks, bonds, &c., are known as Sections 57 and 58. They provide a broad field for investment, but the restrictions which they contain are much more stringent than those in Section 54 of the old law. For instance, the first part of the old law allowed investment in the stocks and bonds of any State or of the United States. The new law permits investment in the same securities, with the proviso that such State or Territory has not repudiated or failed to pay its debt at any time in the ten years prior to the date of investment. Changes of this nature are made throughout the section, and the bonds to be included in the list of permissible investments are subject to numerous restrictions. Under the law as it existed before these amendments were made, savings institutions were allowed to invest in "such corporate stock and bonds as they deemed safe and secure."

Sections 59 to 64 inclusive of the new Act contain those provisions relating to the powers of banks to lend money. One of these states that loans or advances the repayment of which is undertaken wholly or in part severally but not jointly by two or more parties shall not be made in excess of 20% of the capital, surplus and undivided profits of the bank or trust company making such loan. No loan shall be made where the bank or trust company making the same is liable in any way for the repayment of such loan. The money loaned by any bank shall not exceed 10% of its capital stock and 10% of its unimpaired surplus fund, provided, however, that such loans shall in no event exceed 30% of the capital stock of such bank or trust company. Under the old law (Section 55), no bank was allowed to invest more than one-half of its receipts in notes, bonds or drafts of individuals or corporations unless the investments were secured by the securities in which the banks were permitted to invest. Section 62 of the new law allows a bank to lend money to its officers or employees, provided the proposition to make the loan has been approved by the board of directors. The old law (Section 56) prohibited the making of a loan by a savings bank to any of its officers.

Section 63 prohibits any officer of a bank or member of a board of investment from borrowing any of the bank's funds. No officer shall be surety for loans or own real estate incumbered by a mortgage owned by the corporation of which he is an officer. Section 64, one of those given below, concerns the use of shares of capital stock as collateral for loans. The new law does not render illegal any securities or any investments held by the banks at the time of its passage excepting securities which may be in default in the payment of interest or dividends or which are considered unsafe by the Bank Commissioner. The Commissioner may require the disposal of such securities, and the banks have one year in which to comply with his order, unless the time is extended.

We give below Sections 57 to 64 inclusive of the new law:

The term "net indebtedness" shall mean the indebtedness of a county, city, town, or district, omitting debts created for supplying the inhabitants with water, and debts exempted from the operation of the law limiting their indebtedness, and deducting the amount of sinking funds available for the payment of the indebtedness included.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

SECTION 59. No bank or trust company shall make any loan or advance to an amount in excess of twenty per centum of the capital, surplus, and undivided profits of the bank or trust company making such loan, the repayment of which is undertaken in whole or in part severally, but not jointly, by two or more individuals, corporations, firms, or other parties.

STREET RAILWAY SECTION.

A new number of our "Street Railway" section, revised to date, is sent to our subscribers to-day. The editorial discussions in the same embrace the following topics: "Effect of State Rate Regulation on Electric Railways" and "The Delaware & Hudson Electric Lines."

THE FINANCIAL SITUATION.

The Wall Street market has failed to respond hopefully to the nomination of the Republican ticket. Declines in values have, as a rule, been the tendency, and dulness the accompaniment. Nothing, however, can be assumed from that fact prejudicial to the success of the ticket, nor encouraging unfavorable conclusions to be reached from those passing conditions. We are having a hot summer and with that as a ruling fact securities are apt to be unsteady and fickle. Moreover, the Democratic Convention is still a matter of the future, and it is a consideration of great moment what that party will do. Mr. Bryan claims everything, both the nomination and platform, as he always has. Still another matter which has been of more importance is the serious illness of Mr. James B. Sherman. It so happened that the earliest reports respecting his condition were serious, causing no little apprehension as to the outcome, especially when it was announced that he had been carried to the Lakewood Hospital. Later, the sickness has appeared of very much less importance, indeed a speedy recovery being the present expectation. Thursday the weather being quite perceptibly cooler, and several important industrial and banking concerns having announced arrangements completed for business resumption, a better tone to the market was noticeable. Indeed the Brooklyn Bank, Fulton and Clinton streets, which closed its doors during the money stringency last October, re-opened for business this week, and withdrawals were free; but the deposits were larger than the withdrawals.

Mr. Taft, released from his political work, has found sport and merriment during his first few days of freedom, heading the parade and making speeches at the Yale alumni gathering at New Haven, especially in helping, as his presence must in some measure have done, to lead the way to the defeat of the Harvard baseball team. Tuesday opened with a rainstorm, an entertainment that the weather man kept up with no little persistence from time to time during the day. Mr. Taft was all the morning attending a meeting of the Yale corporation and other indoor duties; thereafter, having discarded his sober-looking gown that had enveloped him all the morning, he trudged through the mud with a zest few equaled but none surpassed. We note this situation, not that it has any significance except that from this kindly, jolly disposition which Mr. Taft possesses in an eminent degree, many seem to be drawing much of faith in his coming administration; that he is to be "hail fellow well met" with everybody and similarly encourage everybody's business interests. It is a momentous question—Are we going back to the good old days when each one looked upon his fellow-man as at least as honest as himself or back to the era of "Our Policies," good or bad, made by our Chief Executive the standard for everybody's conduct?

It is noteworthy that the gain in cash reported by the Reichsbank this week amounted to the almost unprecedented sum of £2,391,000, of which about 1 4-5 millions was gold, probably largely imported from America. This accretion carries the German Bank's stock of this metal to the highest point in recent years and the President of the Reichsbank can confidently claim that this result has been obtained through his policy of attracting gold from abroad by means of the device of interest-free advances on the metal while it was in transit. Moreover, this result of the President's policy seems to answer the criticism of the Bank's management which has been made—and that largely influenced the Government in appointing the Banking Commission to which we have several times referred. Furthermore, this indicates that the Bank's policy is entirely effective, at least in measure, for the reinforcement of its gold reserve.

A very large increase in the German Bank cash holdings seems satisfactorily to account for the absence of engagements of the metal for shipment hence during the week; the American bankers were, doubtless, advised by the Reichsbank that there was no immediate need for further shipments, and therefore such operations were temporarily suspended. It would now seem to be possible for the Bank, in view of its enormous gold holdings, to further reduce its rate of discount if thought to be desirable; indeed, it would cause no surprise if announcement were to be made of such reduction next week. But even though there should be a reduction in official rates, those in the open market might easily be high enough to attract gold from New York, were interest-free advances to be offered, and therefore exports of the metal to Germany may probably continue so long as they shall be found profitable.

The incident of the recent conference between the King of England and the Emperor of Russia at Reval, following so closely that of the visit of the President of France to King Edward, is regarded by some foreign bankers as of considerable significance. Business and industrial situations in Europe are far from being wholly satisfactory, and it no doubt appeared to King Edward desirable to make an effort to compose political differences between these nations, where they may exist even in a minor degree, to the end that nothing of a political character may develop which will threaten to arrest the tendency toward the resumption of business activity. He was doubtless in a position to give assurances of the cordiality of the German Emperor's feelings toward France. There remained then nothing more but to obtain assurances of the progress which was being made towards industrial development and political peace in Russia, and hence the conference at Reval.

The foreign journals, in discussing this conference, comment upon the statesmanlike qualities of the Russian Foreign Office. Such qualities have been made strikingly manifest in the series of agreements with Japan, thus removing the menace of any friction between the two countries in Manchuria. Assuming that this Far Eastern situation was discussed at the conference the evidence which he secured of constructive governmental policies in Russia, enabled his mission to be satisfactorily concluded.

He is therefore in a position to promote the establishment of prolonged peace in Europe, even without the organization of an alliance. He is prepared, too, to encourage the development of industrial activity through assurances that the opportunity therefor is offered in Russia. Such opportunity could not be safely embraced had not governmental reforms been instituted, after the unfortunate experiment with the earlier organized Dumas, so as to compose the internal political situation. Now the Duma is recognized by the Ministry as a coordinate branch of the Government. This fact seems to be attested by the recently reported incident of the submission to the Parliament, by the Finance Minister, of a request for the emission of an internal loan for 100 million dollars after the President of the Duma had protested against the issue of the loan without the parliament's assent. It is suggested that as the result of the conferences between King Edward, the French President and the Czar, there may soon be announced the issue by Russia of an international loan for a substantial amount, which will be negotiated in France and England. The loan will be authorized by the Duma, thus complying with the requirement of French capitalists, and presumably the terms will be more moderate than those heretofore proposed, because of the intervention by King Edward in the interest of political peace and industrial progress.

There was something singularly appropriate in the action of Yale College this week in conferring the degree of Doctor of Laws on J. P. Morgan. In this action Yale distinguishes itself rather than the recipient of the degree. Mr. Morgan occupies such a preeminent position in the financial and industrial world that even bestowing upon him such an honor as the university has now conferred can have little influence in increasing his prominence. In the domain mentioned he ranks easily as the most commanding figure of the times, and that fact is recognized everywhere, not only in the United States but all over the world. It is the custom among colleges to recognize distinction chiefly in literature and the arts, and certainly culture and mental fitness and training are indicated in the possession of unusual acquirements in these fields, or in law, medicine and theology; but human progress and mental alertness are no longer confined to these lines of activity. The distinctive feature of the world's progress during the last one hundred years has been its marvelous advance in industrial affairs, and it is to that sphere of usefulness that the commanding intellects of the age are turning their attention. Commerce is now counted as broad in opportunity as any other thing. It is here that Mr. Morgan has risen to a plane of great eminence, and has accomplished so much for the general good of his fellow beings and promoted civilization and progress. It is to be said, though, that even for his part in having aided advance in the arts, Mr. Morgan is entitled to no mean place, for he is a distinguished art collector and a patron of galleries and museums. Furthermore, the list of his benefactions to schools, libraries, hospitals, museums and other useful public purposes, to which men of wealth voluntarily acknowledge obligation, is a long one.

But it is as a creative force in the financial and industrial world that Mr. Morgan has attained chief potency, and it is gratifying to have such a leading university as Yale recognize that human activity of that description is entitled to recognition at least as much as eminence and activity in what are called the learned professions. To attempt to set down what Mr. Morgan has accomplished during the last thirty-five or forty years would claim page after page of our space. His achievements and accomplishments are in the main the record of the country's progress and growth during the same period of time. We shall attempt no extended narrative here of what he has done. The part he played in bringing about the West Shore settlement in 1885 made him at once a foremost figure in the financial and railroad world. This is nearly a quarter of a century ago, and since then he has steadily increased his prominence through further action of the same kind. His most distinguished services have been rendered in times of trying need. The West Shore arrangement was one of these occasions. On account of the construction of the West Shore and other competing lines alongside the older lines, the railroads became engaged in one of the most destructive wars in American railroad history Railroad values were fading away to a most alarming extent. The task of bringing the warring factions together seemed a hopeless one, but Mr. Morgan accomplished it.

At a later period when, during the second Cleveland Administration the suspension of gold payments was threatened by reason of silver-inflation laws, Mr. Morgan, in conjunction with August Belmont, organized the celebrated Morgan-Belmont syndicate to avert a catastrophe which otherwise would surely have come. This syndicate did more than merely sell a large block of Government bonds. It controlled for many months the foreign exchange market, preventing further outflows of gold—an imperative requirement at that time. When the lines comprised in what was formerly known as the Richmond & West Point Terminal system got into a state of hopeless insolvency and several attempts on the part of others to reorganize them had failed, Mr. Morgan again stepped in and accomplished the apparently impossible, forming out of the wreck what has now become the powerful Southern Railway system. When war was threatened among the various steel-producing companies, Mr. Morgan once more found his mission. He combined the different companies in a common organization, letting Andrew Carnegie name his own price for the Carnegie Steel Works, so as to get rid of him as a destructive agency, and formed the world's greatest industrial incorporation—the United States Steel Corporation.

We have attempted here reference only to those foremost accomplishments of his which naturally come to mind in a brief mental survey of his work during the last twenty-five or thirty years. To cite the list of all the large transactions in which he has been leader would be to name the most of the important operations of that period. When disturbance has come and carrying corporations have found themselves in trouble, or when the Government itself has needed assistance, he has been the man to see how to make the best of circumstances and gradually lead to a restoration. To-day he is the man first thought of if any important matter in the world of finance or transportation, or trade and industry, needs to be carried through. The most notable and honorable characteristic of Mr. Morgan's entire career is that he has been conservative and constructive; he has touched matters only to build up and enlarge, never once to pull down. An instance of this which is still fresh in memory (since it is only eight months old) was his action in checking disaster last October. In the general belief of at least this part of the country, that disturbance began in action at Washington; the check to it was first applied in New York, and in this Mr. Morgan bore a prominent part. "Great governments lean upon him in military and financial crises, and his consolidations of industrial and transportation properties cover continent and ocean," said the Yale professor on Wednesday. This cannot be deemed extravagant panegyric, for Mr. Morgan has certainly exhibited, for mankind, the productive and beneficent uses of capital, and in a degree displayed by few if any of his contemporaries.

There are indications in certain directions, though only slight at best, of improving business conditions. By this we mean that there is just the least bit more activity than when things reached the point of deepest depression in May. To be sure, there is little evidence of improvement in the returns of railroad earnings. For the latest full week for which the returns are at hand, namely the second week of June, the ratio of decrease in gross revenues still runs very close to 20 per cent, being 19.32 per cent, while the few roads which have thus far come to hand for the third week of June show in the aggregate a shrinkage of 19.09 per cent. But it is quite possible that these returns do not reflect accurately the volume of traffic of the roads. We still hear suggestions of proposed increases in railroad freight rates, though nothing definite or tangible looking to a general increase has as yet been accomplished, and meanwhile we are very apt to overlook the fact that reductions on a larger or smaller scale are all the time being made in special cases by government bodies—State and National.

The Inter-State Commerce Commission is particularly active in this way, though in a quiet fashion. It is deciding numerous cases every week where complaints have been made. Some of the complaints are dismissed, but in not a few instances applications for relief are granted, and often the result means considerable reduction in revenues, owing to the circumstance that the order applies to important items of freight. We may refer in illustration to some rulings of this kind rendered the present week. The Commission itself calls them "a group of important cases." They involved the rates on lumber, shingles and other forest products from points in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia to Eastern and Southern markets; also from points in the Willamette Valley to San Francisco. It appears that in November 1907 a general advance in lumber rates from North Pacific Coast territory to points East thereof was made, and that this advance has now been challenged. The Commission decides that the advanced rates applying to all points on and west of a line drawn from Pembina, N. D., through Grand Forks, N. D., Moorhead and Breckenridge, Minn., Sioux City and Council Bluffs, Iowa, St. Joseph and Kansas City, Mo., and thence to Port Arthur, Texas, along the Kansas City Southern Ry., including also all points east of that line which now take the same rates as any point located on said line between and including Sioux City, Ia., and Kansas City, Mo., were unreasonable, and by its orders restores the lower rates which were in effect on and prior to October 31.

A somewhat different conclusion, we are told, is reached with respect to the rates applying to the territory lying east of the Missouri River. A part of the increase to the more distant markets is permitted to stand, but the maximum permitted is 5 cents per 100 lbs. over the old rates, and this maximum is not authorized in its entirety, except to Duluth, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Minnesota Transfer and to points on and east of the Mississippi river, so that to points to which the maximum increase is allowed "approximately 50 per cent of the increase made by the carriers is condemned," resulting—we are quoting the Commission's own words—in a reduction of about 5 cents per 100 lbs. in the rates now in effect. The present controversy, it will be seen, relates to rates which had been advanced last year, but it often happens that reductions are ordered even where rates have not been raised. In any event, the effect is that the carriers are obliged to rest satisfied with lower rates than they have been charging. It is rather significant that in the particular instances noted, two of the Commissioners (Chairman Knapp and Commissioner Harlan) dissent from the conclusions reached by the majority on the ground that the major portion of last year's advance in rates was reasonable, indicating that the case against the roads was by no means a clear one. This, however, does not mitigate the harshness of the proceedings, compelling a return to former low rates at a time when all business is shrinking and railroad revenues are falling off in a frightful way.

Perhaps the most distinct indication of somewhat greater activity in trade is found in the falling off in the number of "Teddy Bears" (idle freight cars) on the railroads. The reports are made up twice a month and the statement just published shows the third successive decrease in the number of cars earning no return on the investment. On April 29 no less than 413,338 cars were found idle. By May 13 the aggregate had been reduced to 404,375, by May 27 to 381,779, while now for June 10 the number is down to 349,567. The total is still extremely large, it will be seen, and gratification over the fact of a reduction is qualified by the circumstance that, in part, the decrease has been brought about through the sending of the cars to the "hospital", as the saying is. This means that, owing to the fact that so many of the cars are out of use, those in worst condition are being sent to the repair shops and kept there for the time being and no longer counted in the list of active equipment. A bulletin issued by the American Railway Association calls particular attention to this retirement of cars from active service as explaining a good part of the decrease in idle equipment. It is stated that cars in bad condition have further increased since the last semi-monthly statement and that about 20 per cent of the decrease in idle equipment since then is accounted for by that circumstance. The previous time 40 to 50 per cent of the decrease of 22,630 cars between

May 13 and May 27 had been attributed to an increase in the number of cars in the "hospital."

Anti-option legislation, as applied to the restricting or preventing of dealings in cotton for future delivery, does not appear to be as popular as it was only a short time ago at the South. Then it seemed as if every State in which cotton is raised was eager to put a ban upon that method of trading in the staple. In fact, a number of the States enacted legislation branding operations in futures or options as criminal, and providing extreme penalties for those found guilty of breaking the new laws. We note recently, however, very remarkable reversals of this sentiment among intelligent Southerners. Even that, however, hardly prepared us for the news from Louisiana the last of the current week.

The final hearing before the joint committees of the House and Senate of the Louisiana Legislature on the Marston-Potts bill, prohibiting future trading, held previously, furnished evidence of the tendency, already noted, to give less heed to what might be called uninformed popular clamor. Strong argument was made by the sponsors of the bill to secure a favorable report thereon, in which, however, much irrelevant matter was included and erroneous and misleading statements were made. Particular stress was laid upon the fact that in Georgia, South Carolina, Alabama, Florida, Arkansas, Texas and Mississippi trading in futures has been forbidden by legislative enactment, Tennessee alone failing to pass a law to suppress gambling—that is the word used by the speaker, Mr. Potts. Despite the argument made, however, the House Committee failed to take favorable action on the measure, and on Thursday of this week the Senate Committee on Agriculture, by a vote of 9 to 1, reported the bill unfavorably. This would seem to remove any prospect of anti-option legislation in Louisiana for at least the present session.

The trouble in all the Southern States where laws against future trading have been put upon the books, or are yet under discussion, has been inability to differentiate between legitimate dealings in options or futures, as carried on by cotton exchanges, and the strictly gambling transactions or bets in bucket shops. The popular stock of misinformation on the subject has been persistently added to by a few men who, being recognized as leaders in a movement to secure higher prices for cotton, have been able to exert considerable influence. But, as already stated, evidence is accumulating that their influence is on the wane. Every effort should be put forth, South as well as North, to suppress the bucket shop—where each transaction is a bet, shares or commodities playing no part in the dealings between principals and clients. But when full realization comes of the serious mistakes made in the enactment of anti-option laws, and the time is not apt to be far removed, the various States will either hasten to repeal the laws made or, by failure to enforce the statutes allow them to become inoperative.

Pursuant to advertisement, the property of the Brooklyn Ferry Company was sold at auction on Thursday, in foreclosure proceedings, at the nominal figure of $25,000, the purchaser representing the reorganization committee of bondholders. On July 24, it is announced, this committee will take possession, and on the following day all the lines except the two which run to Greenpoint and now pay a little above operating expenses will "probably" be closed. If the five are to be kept open, the spokesman for the committee says, the city must make some satisfactory arrangement, either taking them over formally or in some manner assuming the loss. About the middle of this month application was made on behalf of the bondholders through the trustee for leave to close the ferries. It was then said that the number of passengers carried annually had declined from 33 millions when the consolidated bonds were issued in 1898 to about 7½ millions, and the increase in trucking does not compensate for this decline. Since April 15, it was further said, the ferries have been operated at the cost of the bondholders and there is nothing discoverable in the leases which obligates the lessee to continue. The condition is a serious one the plaintiff admitted, "but it is one which the city itself must meet, inasmuch as it is the city which is responsible for the present condition."

Here is the argument again that the city has caused the situation by building bridges and must therefore undertake, in its corporate capacity, all readjustments and compensations which the bridges apparently make necessary. The city has built two bridges and in construction a third whose effect is expected to be the finishing blow at the ferries; but it built these in response to a continued and increasing public outcry, and if it must have the incidental consequences of its good works imputed to it as a "fault," the conclusion is a hard one on moral grounds at least. To keep the bondholders in the breach would be hard upon them in turn, yet Justice Kelly, in deciding that the receiver must continue operation until the property advertised had been sold and turned over to the purchaser, said that the courts have always had regard to the maintenance of transportation facilities, so that the public shall not suffer, and in some instances employes have been forbidden to stop working because of the public inconvenience which would follow, notwithstanding the men were compelled to take less than the fair worth of their services. On behalf of the city, an interesting question was raised by opposing the application for leave to discontinue on the ground that stopping operation "would impair a contract made by the city with the people that the ferries would run until 1911."

Here is a suggested distinction between the "city" and the "people." Justice Kelly seemed inclined to accept the idea of an implied duty, if not of a contract, for he pronounced the ferries to be "simply continuations of the public streets and highways." The franchise to operate the ferries has been created, he said, "and it is an important duty on the part of the municipality to procure the operation by some corporation willing to undertake the work for the resulting profit, or, if no one can be found to undertake the work and the public needs justify it, then the city has power to maintain the ferries, as it maintains streets and bridges and other ferries between different parts of its territory."

The Staten Island municipal venture is brought in here as a precedent, and, by the way, it is not long since a delegation of Staten Islanders were about to demand immediate fulfillment of an alleged promise to start a ferry to Stapleton, the suggestion being made that the old and now disused boats could be put in condition at small expense and that the only extra operating cost would be for coal, because, as it is interesting to note, too many men are on the pay-roll of the present ferry and some of them could be diverted without need to hire another man. But Justice Kelly inserted a saving clause which may be of practical value, and while the difficulties of the situation are evident, the most practical way out of it, at least for the present, might be to provide, on a basis of reduced cost, for the trucking needs, which are really the most serious factor in the situation.

There was no change in official rates of discount by any of the European banks this week. The Bank of Bombay reduced its rate from 7% to 6% and the Bank of Bengal from 6% to 5%.

One feature of the statement of the New York Associated Banks last week was the large increase in loans and in deposits, the former by $23,340,900 and the latter by $29,975,900; the gain in both these items was, however, partly due to the inclusion in the statement of 17 millions each of loans and deposits of the National Copper Bank, which was, in that week, admitted to membership in the Clearing House. The reserve increased $4,601,425, to $61,273,700; computed upon the basis of deposits less those of public funds, the gain in reserve was $4,409,750, to $66,044,700; cash increased $12,095,400, of which 4 2-5 millions was reported by the National Copper Bank.

With the exception of a firmer tone for time loans, due to absorptions of cash by trust companies which were reinforcing their reserves in vault in compliance with the requirements of the State law that would become effective July 1, there was no important feature in the market for money this week. The minimum rate for call loans was 1%; trading on the Stock Exchange was almost stagnant and confined to professionals; the outlook for improvement in prices was unfavorable, owing to disclosures of decreased railroad earnings and continued reductions or defaults in dividend declarations; hence, the public were observers of, rather than participators in, market movements. Comparatively large balances of bank money were left unemployed at the end of each day, through inability to place it over night, and there was no disposition to press funds on the market, either by banks or trust companies, for such a course would result in a decline in rates to unprecedentedly low figures. Time loans which would mature at periods that ordinarily would be regarded as advantageous to the borrower were not in request, and over-the-year loans only were sought. The demand for commercial paper, which has latterly been the feature of the market, has become so urgent as practically to exhaust the supply; merchants are not borrowing freely, though discounts are moderate, for the business outlook is uncertain.

Money on call representing bankers' balances loaned at the Stock Exchange during the week at 1¾% and at 1%, averaging about 1½%; banks loaned at 1% as the minimum but trust companies were out of the market because of the low rates and also for the reason that they were reducing deposits that had been placed with their banks. Time loans on good mixed Stock Exchange collateral were quoted at 2% for thirty, 2@2¼% for sixty and 2¼@2½% for ninety days, 3@3¼% for four to five, 3½% for six months and 3¾@4% for over the year; the business reported was small. Commercial paper was quoted at 3½% for the best grade of sixty to ninety day endorsements and for short single names and 4½% for the choicest six months' unendorsed paper and for good notes of this maturity; the supply was limited.

The Bank of England rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½%. The cable reports discounts of sixty to ninety day bank bills in London 1¼%. The open market rate at Paris is 1¾% and at Berlin and Frankfort it is 3¼@3⅜%. According to our special cable from London, the Bank of England gained £540,441 bullion during the week and held £39,404,613 at the close of the week. Our correspondent further advises us that the gain was due almost wholly to receipts from the interior of Great Britain, the net imports having been but £12,000. The details of the movement into and out of the Bank were as follows: Imports, £42,000 (of which £21,000 from Egypt, £10,000 from South Africa and £11,000 from France); exports, £30,000 (of which £20,000 to Batavia and £10,000 to Amsterdam), and receipts of £528,000 net from the interior of Great Britain.

The foreign exchange market was irregular and generally lower this week. It was influenced on Monday by a good supply of bills against Union Pacific bonds that had been negotiated in London, and also by the moderate inquiry for remittance. There was some speculative selling of exchange early in the week, apparently in expectation of further drawings against the Union Pacific bonds; these sales were covered later because of an improvement in the tone resulting from a demand for mercantile remittance and also to pay for securities that had been sold for European account. The ease in open market discounts in London contributed to the maintenance of a firm tone for long sterling, and remitters seemed to prefer employing such bills, rather than short, because of the comparative small supply of the latter, which made the market therefor quite sensitive. Some deferred payments were effected with cables on Wednesday and this class of exchange was in demand on account of the pendency of the semi-monthly settlement on the London Stock Exchange and for the transfer of balances incident to requirements for the half-year period. Sight francs were strong throughout the week at or about the highest figures, and there were some transactions in cable marks. Commercial sterling bills were in quite moderate supply and rates were firm. There was a transaction reported during the week in an exchange loan for six months, but this was regarded as having little significance, it apparently indicating a desire by the borrower to secure foreign capital which could be obtained on more advantageous terms than could domestic funds.

Compared with Friday of last week, long sterling on Saturday was 10 points lower at 4 8540@4 8550, short 5 points at 4 8685@4 8695 and cables 10 points at 4 87@4 8710. On Monday long fell 5 points to 4 8535@4 8545, while short rose 5 points to 4 8695@4 87, and cables 10 points to 4 8710@4 8715. On Tuesday long advanced 20 points to 4 8555@4 8565, short declined 5 points to 4 8690@4 8695 and cables 5 points to 4 8705@4 8710. On Wednesday the market was quiet with long 10 points lower 4 8545@4 8555 and short and cables unchanged. On Thursday the market was strong and long rose 20 points to 4 8565@4 8575, short 15 points to 4 8695@4 8705 and cables 20 points to 4 8720@4 8730. On Friday long rose 5 points and short fell 5 points, while cables were unchanged.

EX-PRESIDENT CLEVELAND.

Nothing about ex-President Cleveland's career was a more frequent matter of comment, when the news of his death arrived last Wednesday, than the fact that he had enjoyed the rare privilege of achieving what is usually a posthumous reputation. To him, after a series of years when almost unmeasured obloquy had confronted him—incurred, as most people now admit, with no blame whatever on his part—there came in the closing years of his life a complete renewal of the public confidence which had been his during his first Administration, all the more genuine because it was tempered now by sober reflection and was in no respect created by hysterical enthusiasm of partisan politics.

Such a chapter in the history of any public man would necessarily indicate his possession of some unusual qualities. In the case of President Cleveland, it cannot perhaps be said that the qualities which made him a great Executive were of themselves unusual; they were, in fact, the characteristics which mark out in private life a multitude of men who win the confidence and esteem of their neighbors. But we had grown in this country, prior to Mr. Cleveland's entry on public life, altogether too much accustomed to the notion that such qualities as straightforwardness, consistency and scorn of that compromise which surrenders principle and sacrifices the right in order to gain political advantage, were not to be expected from a Chief Magistrate confronted with the exigencies of politics. What won the public confidence in Mr. Cleveland was the fact that he practiced in office precisely what he professed in private, and that he was always ready to jeopardize his own political fortunes when the alternative was the abandonment of principle.

But this was not the whole. It is always possible, and has frequently happened, that a public man will retain with unyielding stubbornness a position which has been hastily and impulsively assumed. In such a case it is often difficult to say whether the honest man who thus persists in a mistaken position is not quite as dangerous in public life as the man who habitually compromises. President Cleveland, fortunately, added to his tenacity of principle and purpose a slow deliberateness in making up his mind, and a capacity for thoroughly studying out a step before taking his final position regarding it. This explains why his most noteworthy executive actions were, in not a few cases, taken in advance of the great body of public opinion, and yet that the public followed not far behind the decision of the President. Of this the most notable instance was Mr. Cleveland's celebrated pension vetoes. We are not now so far removed from 1885 and 1886 but that many people can recall the outcry which arose on the veto of these special legislative Acts in favor of applicants for the pension largess. Opposition politicians harped on what they called the conclusive demonstration that enmity to the men who fought to put down the rebellion was the real motive of the first Democratic President since the War. It was not long, however, before the President was able to convince his angriest critics that he had not proceeded in this matter without just grounds of action, and that what he was undertaking to do was to put an end to a notorious fraud, to stop the distribution of Government money to men who were not entitled to it and who had been declared not to be so entitled after a proper examination by the Pension Bureau.

Until Mr. Cleveland laid his hand to the task, no public man had possessed sufficient courage to denounce this scandal. Plenty of senators and representatives knew the dangers of the practice and the vicious consequences to which it must inevitably lead. In private they made no secret of their opinion regarding it. But even where they did not fear the misjudgments of their own constituents, they feared the retaliation of their fellow-members when other bills in which their districts were interested should come up for action. Therefore it was that not a voice was raised in the public halls to denounce this outrage on the public faith, and it was precisely for that reason that President Cleveland applied himself to the unpleasant duty. He did it, after his fashion, in entire disregard of the dangerous consequences to his own political fortunes. The result has been distinctly beneficial in so far as the greed of the pension attorney and the log-rolling Congressman has been checked, and a decent degree of circumspection observed in subsequent special legislation of the sort. Had Mr. Cleveland's successors in the White House faithfully pursued his policy regarding this legislation, the work would have been thoroughly and finally accomplished.

In his attitude toward financial questions, Mr. Cleveland's policy was precisely similar. With rare exceptions, the public declarations of his predecessors on such matters as that of free-silver coinage had been so imbued with compromise and concession as to be practically meaningless. So generally clearheaded an executive as President Hayes had stated in an annual message that the United States, producing as it did more silver than any other country, was "directly interested in maintaining it as one of the two precious metals"—a statement admirably calculated to befog the entire subject. President Harrison had, on the one hand, declared that a free-coinage law "would be discreditable to our financial management and disastrous to all business interests," but on the other hand had announced himself as an advocate of the "larger use of silver in our currency" because "we are large producers of that metal." Either faction could appeal to one of these executive assertions.

For this ambiguous attitude Mr. Cleveland had no taste. From the start, his public and private statements regarding the silver-coinage question were direct, uncompromising and consistent. His letter to General Warner in 1884 regarding free coinage; his public speech against that policy during his candidacy in 1892, when his own party committeemen beseeched him to say nothing; his direct and positive assertions, in the Treasury's distress of 1893, that the language of the Sherman Act required redemption of the Government notes of 1890 in gold, and his unhesitating veto of the concession to the free-coinage party through the bill of 1894 to coin the seigniorage, were all marked by the same clean-cut and positive conviction on the subject. It has been said that this unbending policy of Mr. Cleveland precipitated the violent struggle over the extreme free-coinage doctrine which occurred in 1896. This may or may not be so; but, even if it were to be admitted as a fact, no one who studies the financial history of the period can doubt that the day of half measures and meaningless promises was over, and that in fact such futile efforts to postpone the evil hour ought to have been abandoned years before. Of the great fight which ensued over the standard of value, it may be said, as has been often said of the slavery question—concerning which also there was a whole generation of compromises—that the test had to come, and that it was quite as well that it should be fought to a finish once for all.

The failure of Mr. Cleveland's second Administration to leave any notable mark on constructive legislation will be admitted by history. The reasons for that failure were, in the main, economic; for the deadlock between the President and the Senate, to which the blockade of the Administration's policies is commonly ascribed, was itself a result of the hard times and the public discontent which gave to the Senatorial obstructors a courage which they would scarcely otherwise have displayed. The condition of the West especially, then in a state bordering on insolvency, made the President's position one of extreme difficulty. That the people at large, smarting under their losses, should have placed the responsibility on the Administration for the panic of 1893, was not surprising; yet it may be said, with little hesitation, that the blame was most unjustly laid. Political orators of the opposition party ascribed the panic of that year to the Administration's tariff policy, and this notion still survives in many minds which have forgotten, or which never knew, that the tariff bill of the second Cleveland Administration was not even framed until nearly a year after the panic of 1893, and that the breakdown of the Treasury's resources, which was one of the most serious aggravating factors in the case, had begun even before Mr. Cleveland's election.

It is now conceded by economic history that there were three immediate causes of the panic of 1893—first, world-wide reaction from a previous overdone boom in trade, exemplified in London by the panic of 1890, and only postponed in the United States through fortunate harvests; second, overproduction and low prices for the necessities of life, and, third, distrust of the soundness of our currency and of the solvency of the Federal Treasury. For the first two causes, no public man and no political party was responsible; for the third, the responsibility can scarcely lie elsewhere than at the door of the legislators who framed the Silver Purchase law of 1890 and the revenue and appropriation laws of the same year, which placed the Government's financial position wholly at the mercy of an accident of trade. Mr. Cleveland's position, inheriting as he did from a previous Administration this financial tangle, was surrounded with pitfalls. He faced the situation with his usual courage and directness. When it was found that the gold reserve for redemption of the Government notes could be maintained only through issue of pulbic loans, the Administration came unhesitatingly into the market. When, owing to the extreme financial depression which prevailed, it became impossible to maintain this redemption fund, even through negotiations with the banks, the Administration did not hesitate to enter on a contract with an international syndicate.

That Mr. Cleveland knew what public outcry and political abuse would follow his contract with the Morgan-Belmont syndicate in 1895, there can be no question whatever; but this knowledge did not cause a moment's hesitation. Some of his critics even now repeat their charges of bad judgment, if not abuse of the public credit, and point as evidence to the fact that in January 1896 another public loan was floated through the direct subscriptions of investors. They either forget, or deliberately ignore, that the situation at the beginning of 1896 was something very different from the situation of February 1895, and that the year of relief and reassurance which the country's business interests had enjoyed through the operations of the syndicate was one main reason for the very different financial status in which the markets entered 1896.

Perhaps no episode in Mr. Cleveland's Presidential career remains more a matter of controversy to-day than his celebrated "Venezuelan message". Subsequent events have shown that the main purposes underlying that message—namely, the positive assertion of the Monroe doctrine and the establishment of our international prestige—have been achieved, largely through that very message. There is, indeed, some reason for contending that, indirectly at least, our present good relations with Great Britain had their origin in the shock caused by the momentary vision, at the close of 1895, of what a political rupture between England and the United States would mean. On the other hand, it may be contended with much force that the President, in his Venezuela message, took a tone with the English Government, and referred to the possibilities of collision in a way which might, under not very different circumstances, have stirred up public excitement, both here and in Great Britain, sufficiently to have actually precipitated war. It was the one action of his Presidential career when Mr. Cleveland handled edge-tools without seeming to have taken into full consideration all the possible consequences. That the dangerous possibilities did not become realities, may be a vindication of his judgment, but it is not the kind of chance which he invoked on other occasions, or which most of us would care to have our future Executives invoke.

FIXING THE PRICE OF COPYRIGHTED BOOKS.

A few weeks ago the daily newspapers throughout the country gave great prominence to a decision of the United States Supreme Court, handed down at the beginning of the month in an action which, apparently, raised the question of the right of publishers of copyrighted books to fix the price at which such books might be sold at retail. The case was that in which R. H. Macy & Co. refused to be governed by the requirement of the publishers of a copyrighted novel entitled "The Castaway," that the book must not be sold at retail at less than $1 00 for each copy. Suit had been brought to restrain Macy & Co. from selling the book. The United States Supreme Court decides in favor of the firm, just as did the United States Circuit Court and the Circuit Court of Appeals, and this ruling has been hailed as a great victory and as determining generally and definitely that publishers cannot fix the price of books. Nearly all the papers published headlines intimating that the publishers had been condemned for violating the Federal Anti-Trust Law, and that what they had undertaken to do had been once and for all declared illegal and illicit. One newspaper headline was to this effect: "Federal Supreme Court Decides that Copyright Holders May Not Combine to Fix Price." "May Affect Patents Also."

We now have the full text of the opinion of the Supreme Court, and it puts a wholly different aspect on the matter, making it evident that the decision is of very restricted and limited application. Furthermore, the ruling of the Court was not based on any provision of the Anti-Trust Law, nor has it any bearing or application to patents or patent rights, the Court, indeed, pointing out that there is little analogy between cases arising under the patent laws and cases like the present, dependent upon the copyright laws.

Macy & Co. had purchased copies of the book for the purpose of selling the same at retail. The greater part of these books they obtained at the wholesale price of about 60 cents a copy, though a small quantity they purchased at retail and paid the retail price of $1 00. They fixed 89 cents a copy as their uniform selling price, which, it will be observed, allows them a good margin of profit, though it is eleven cents per copy below the price fixed by the publishers themselves for the retail selling of the book. No question of contract obligation between two contracting parties was involved. Macy & Co. had not entered into an agreement with the Bobbs-Merrill Co., the plaintiff in the action, to sell the book at $1 00 per copy, and then repudiated the agreement. The publishing concern rested its case entirely on the fact that its book was a copyrighted book, and that, printed immediately below the copyright notice on the page in the book following the title page, there was inserted the following notice: "The price of this book at retail is $1 00 net. No dealer is licensed to sell it at a less price and a sale at a less price will be treated as an infringement of the copyright."

Counsel for the publishing concern in his argument expressly disclaimed relief because of any contract, and relied solely upon the copyright statute and rights therein conferred. He sought to establish an analogy between the statutes of the United States securing patent rights to inventors and the copyright acts securing rights and privileges to authors and others, and he cited precedents from decisions of the Court in patent cases which he contended should be controlling in the present copyright case. But the Court would not accede to this reasoning; instead, it pointed out that there are considerable differences between the patent and copyright statutes in the extent of the protection granted by them.

The Court accordingly felt constrained to approach the consideration of the question as an entirely new one—one that involves the extent of the protection which is given by the copyright statutes of the United States to the owner of the copyright under the facts disclosed in this record. By the Revised Statutes of the United States, the owners of a copyright are given "the sole liberty of printing, reprinting, publishing, completing, copying, executing, finishing and vending the same." In view of this provision it was claimed on behalf of the plaintiff that the statute vested the whole field of the right of exclusive sale in the copyright owner; that he can part with it to another to the extent that he sees fit, and may withhold to himself, by proper reservation, so much of the right as he pleases.

It will be noted that the circumstances of the case were peculiar. Justice Day, who wrote the opinion of the United States Supreme Court, lays stress on this fact and he asks the question, What does the statute mean in granting "the sole right of vending the same"? Was it intended to create a right which would permit the holder of the copyright to fasten by notice in a book, or upon one of the articles mentioned within the statute, a restriction upon the subsequent alienation of the subject-matter of copyright after the owner had parted with the title to one who had acquired full dominion over it and had given a satisfactory price for it? Justice Day says it is not denied that one who has sold a copyrighted article without restriction has parted with all right to control the sale of it. The purchaser of a book, once sold by authority of the owner of the copyright, may sell it again, although he could not publish a new edition of it. In the present instance the stipulated facts show, as the Court observes, that the books sold by the publishing house were sold at wholesale and purchased by those who made no agreement as to the control of future sales of the book and took upon themselves no obligation to enforce the notice printed in the book undertaking to restrict retail sales to a price of $1 per copy.

The precise question, therefore, which came up in the case under consideration was, Does the sole right to vend secure to the owner of the copyright the right, after a sale of the book to a purchaser, to restrict future sales of the book at retail, to the right to sell it at a certain price per copy because of a notice in the book that a sale at a different price will be treated as an infringement? The Court thought the statute could not be given such a construction, and Justice Day takes particular pains to point out that the matter is purely a question of statutory construction—that there is no claim in this instance of contract limitation, nor license agreement controlling the subsequent sales of the book.

"In our view the copyright statutes, while protecting the owner of the copyright in his right to multiply and sell his production, do not create the right to impose, by notice, such as is disclosed in this case, a limitation at which the book shall be sold at retail by future purchasers, with whom there is no privity of contract. This conclusion is reached in view of the language of the statute, read in the light of its main purpose to secure the right of multiplying copies of the work, a right which is the special creation of the statute. True, the statute also secures, to make this right of multiplication effectual, the sole right to vend copies of the book, the production of the author's thought and conception. The owner of the copyright in this case did sell copies of the book in quantities and at a price satisfactory to it. It has exercised the right to vend. What the complainant contends for embraces not only the right to sell the copies, but to qualify the title of a future purchaser by the reservation of the right to have the remedies of the statute against an infringer because of the printed notice of its purpose so to do unless the purchaser sells at a price fixed in the notice. To add to the right of exclusive sale the authority to control all future retail sales, by a notice that such sales must be made at a fixed sum, would give a right not included in the terms of the statute, and, in our view, extend its operation, by construction, beyond its meaning, when interpreted with a view to ascertaining the legislative intent in its enactment."

From the foregoing extract it will be seen how limited is the application of the decision. The only matter on which the Supreme Court assumed to pass was the interpretation to be given to the copyright law, and even that only in the restricted way raised by the facts developed in this instance, namely whether by the insertion of a notice in the copyrighted book itself the owner of the copyright could tie the hands of purchasers. The concluding paragraph in the opinion contains an express declaration of the Court to the effect that it rests its conclusion entirely on this one point and therefore has not attempted to pass judgment on any other questions. The precise wording of the concluding paragraph is as follows: "This conclusion renders it unnecessary to discuss other questions or to examine into the validity of the publishers' agreements, alleged to be in violation of the Acts to restrain combinations creating a monopoly or directly tending to the restraint of trade." The distinction here made by the Court is very important and it should not be overlooked. Our highest Court has not decided the question whether a publisher may or may not by contract or agreement fix the price at which a book published by him may be sold at retail.

THE COMPTROLLER'S EXHIBIT OF NATIONAL BANKS.

The national banks of the country are in excellent shape. This is clearly indicated by the completed abstracts of the reports for May 14 1908 issued by the Comptroller of the Currency. A particularly gratifying disclosure is the status of the reserves held, especially in the more important financial centres of the country. On the date of the report, New York City's percentage was 30.52, and at a number of points, particularly in the Far West, where the accumulation of money is desirable for moving the crops, an even higher ratio is shown. For all the reserve cities the average held May 14 1908 is shown to have been 28.79%, which compares with 27.98% three months earlier; on Dec. 3 1907, about a month and a half subsequent to the panic, it was only 23.51%; on Aug. 22 1907 it was 25.79%, and 25.62% a year ago. The current ratio is, it will be seen, higher than at any time recently and is in fact the highest since Feb. 5 1901. Country bank reserves are likewise in excellent condition, the general average being 18.40%, against a required percentage of 15, many States running above 20 and not one under or close to the requirement.

The actual cash resources of the banks were on May 14 largely in excess of those at any former time. The holdings of gold, at 525 millions of dollars, silver 152 millions, and legal-tender notes 184 millions, were each in excess of any preceding totals, and these, with the national bank notes on hand, made a grand aggregate of cash resources of approximately 900 millions of dollars, as against the previous record of 826 millions on Feb. 14 and 720 millions a year ago. With the passing of the acute need, the volume of national bank notes in circulation has fallen off from the 627 2-3 millions of February, the retirement of 13½ millions being reflected in a reduction in the total of bonds deposited with the Government on that account. In like manner, the considerable reduction (50¾ millions) of Government deposits has released a like amount of bonds. A quite important gain in individual deposits occurred in the three months ending May 14, bringing the total up to $4,312,656,790, or within 10¼ millions of the high-water mark of May 1907.

The volume of loans carried exhibits an important increase since the date of the latest previous call, the amount of increase being 106 millions of dollars and the aggregate 4,528 millions; that would be only 150 millions below the record total of Aug. 22 1907. But while in this last report the total of loans is, as stated, 150 millions less than the highest record, New York City banks exhibit an aggregate 39 millions greater than ever before and 100 millions in excess of August last.

But a further noteworthy fact this statement of the national banks for May 14 1908 discloses is the steady gain in the number of institutions, and especially the increase in localities where expansion in banking facilities is most needed. Progress was given to the expansion by the Act of March 14 1900, which authorized their organization with minimum capital of $25,000 in towns of population not exceeding 3,000. And a further stimulant to multiplication of institutions with small capital was the amendment to the bond deposit requirement of the National Bank Act, whereby a small institution was enabled to begin business upon transferring and delivering to the Treasurer of the United States, as security for its circulating notes, any United States registered interest-bearing bonds to the amount of only one-fourth of the capital. Under authority of these Acts, there were chartered within the past eight years (March 14 1900 to April 30 1908) 2,502 banks with aggregate capital of $65,205,500. In addition, within the same period, but under the Act of 1864, 1,354 banks of $50,000 or more capital (total capitalization $161,127,800) were organized. In the eight years, therefore, charters were granted for 3,856 national banks, with total capital at time of organization of $226,333,300. Of these, 1,233 were to succeed State or private institutions, 482 conversions of State banks and 2,141 entirely new organizations. In the meantime, through voluntary liquidations and failures, there has been a reduction in number of 695, leaving the net increase for the eight years 3,161, with capital of 296,053,824. Circulation of national banks in the interim has increased 2¾ fold.

As already intimated, the Act of March 1900 was of inestimable benefit to small communities where banks were needed, but where it was impossible to secure the necessary capital to organize under earlier enactments. This is readily seen by a glance at compilations furnished by the Comptroller. From them we learn that between March 14 1900 and April 30 1908 over 600 banks were organized in the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, of which over half had capital under $50,000 each. At the South in 1900, before the Act became effective, there were, all told, only about 550 banks, against 1,369 now, and a large majority of the new institutions started with $25,000 capital. The Middle West shows a total of 1,932 banks May 14 1908, against only 1,053 eight years ago, the gain in 2-3 measure being made up of minimum-capital organizations. The remainder of the West shows even more phenomenal growth; against a total of 465 national banks in 1900, there are at the present time 1,492, and over 800 of the gain of 1,027 commenced business with practically the minimum capital allowed by law. The contrast the eight years 1900-08 (with the Act of March 14 1900 as a stimulating factor) makes with the interval 1892-1900 is highly instructive. During the later period the gain in number of national banks was 3,161; in the earlier eight years there was a loss of 94 and a reduction in capital.

THE BURDENS OF THE RAILROADS.

Mr. William C. Brown, Senior Vice-President of the New York Central lines, is rendering an important public service in acquainting business men with the influence which crippling the railroads and adding to their burdens is having in promoting and accentuating the present depression in trade. In an address at the annual banquet of the Michigan Manufacturers' Association on Monday night of this week, he added still further to the large fund of information of this character previously contributed by him. He pointed out that the railroads of the United States earn more than $2,345,000,000 per annum, nearly 80% of which sum is put into circulation again in the payment of wages and taxes and the purchase of materials. An army of more than 1,500,000 men is employed directly in the operation and maintenance of these railroads, and millions of other men are furnished employment indirectly in the mines, the forests and the factories, supplying the railroads with approximately one and a quarter billion dollars worth of material and equipment annually consumed.

Mr. Brown also furnished some conclusive statistics showing that there is absolutely no basis for the claim made by uninformed persons that the railroads of the United States as a whole are overcapitalized, though he disclaimed any intention to defend isolated cases of stock-jobbing. He gave figures to prove that the aggregate value of the railroads of the United States, giving no consideration whatever to the tremendous increase in value of their vast terminals, exceeds their total outstanding stock and bonds by nearly $750,000,000, and that their securities rest on a basis which should be, with fair treatment, as safe and as dependable as a Government bond. Mr. Brown has been in the railroad service over thirty-five years, and therefore is well qualified to speak on the subject. Aside from that, however, he gives figures regarding the lines with which he is identified that are very instructive on the point in question, and which are the more valuable because they are authentic. The capital stock of the New York Central lines, including all proprietary lines, he states, is $418,783,000, and the funded debt is $549,176,672. He says these roads could not be duplicated to-day for 50% in excess of this sum of stock and bonds; yet, during the last twenty years they have paid an average annual dividend of only 3.9% on the stock, and during that time have taken out of earnings and put into the property approximately $150,000,000 (or more than 38% of the capital stock), for which not a single dollar of securities has ever been issued.

The fact that there is no over-capitalization is important in view of the plea which is being made that the railroads should be allowed to inaugurate a slight increase in their freight rates, to put them on the road to prosperity again and revive confidence once more in their securities on the part of investors. As an illustration of how direct is the connection between business depression and the inability of the railroads to command capital for their needs, or to spend money out of income, he pointed out that the retail trade in Detroit alone is losing $450,000 a month, owing to the fact that the Michigan Central Railroad—just one of the New York Central lines—is spending that much less for equipment.

Equally impressive facts of the same description have been given by Mr. Brown in previous addresses. A peculiarly fruitful address of this kind was that delivered at Chicago on May 15 at a conference of shippers and commercial organizations convened by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association for the purpose of opposing any increase of freight rates by the railroads. In that speech Mr. Brown stated that in the year 1907 the New York Central lines had expended 33¾ million dollars for engines and freight and passenger cars. In the year 1908 the same system does not expect to purchase a single car of any description, except possibly five or six for electric operation in New York and about 2¼ million dollars for engines. Think what that means to the ore producer, he said, to the steel mills, to the locomotive builder, to the car builder; and think what it means to every farmer, to every wholesale merchant and to every retail merchant, who are deprived in a large measure of the custom of these hundreds of thousands of men, who have been thrown out of work simply because the railroads have been compelled to stop the purchase of necessary articles.

One of the prime factors of the present depression, he asserted with much force, is the fact that the railroads have been obliged to stop buying things. The New York Central system, comprising about 12,500 miles of railroad, in the most populous, the most prosperous section of the United States, during the first three months of 1908 barely earned the interest on its bonds, notwithstanding that the gross earnings were larger than they had ever been before in the first three months of any year with the single exception of 1907.

As to the tremendous new burdens which have been imposed upon the railroads in recent times, it is noted that during the last eighteen months, by reason of increased wages, enforced by the threat of a general strike, the pay-rolls of the railroads of the United States have been increased approximately $100,000,000 per annum. Becoming effective in the early months of the present year, legislation restricting the hours of labor of trainmen, enginemen, operators, signalmen, &c., has added approximately $25,000,000 annually to this amount. By legislation passed by the last Congress and recent orders of the Postmaster General, reducing compensation paid the railroads for handling United States mail, something like $10,500,000 per annum has been taken from the revenues of the railroads; and, within the last sixty days, the "Employers' Liability Act," which applies only to transportation companies, has been passed. This removes the last vestige of protection against personal-injury claims on the part of employees that was secured to the railroads by the common law, and makes the railroads liable to employees in cases of accident to an employee, even though the employee's carelessness was a contributing factor, and will add enormously to the expenses of the roads.

Under the operation of this law, he well says, the loss hitherto placed by the common law upon the individual—the employee—is transferred to the employer—the railroad—and it must have been understood, he argues, that the employer could not, under present conditions, bear the additional burden. The only possible manner in which this burden can be placed where it belongs, and where the framers of the bill intended it should rest—"upon the whole community"—is by an increase in rates by the carriers commensurate with the new burden imposed. For the Government to impose this additional expense upon the transportation interests without permitting such increase in rates would mean, he asserts, bankruptcy for many railroads and great injustice for all.

Such facts as these furnish adequate ground for the further statement that the credit of the railroads has been seriously injured by the growing and well-founded conviction on the part of the investing public that, on the present basis of cost of operation and compensation for service rendered, the permanent payment of interest on bonds, to say nothing of a fair return upon the money invested by shareholders, is extremely uncertain. It is essential, therefore, that confidence in the stability and permanency of railroad investments should again be restored. Mr. Brown contends that a moderate increase in railroad rates would at once have such effect—would restore confidence in railway investments and do more to start the country upon a new era of prosperity than anything else that could possibly be done. And there is obviously a great deal of force in this contention, though there seems little likelihood that the roads will be allowed to make the proposed increase in rates.

The transactions in trust company stocks reach a total of 205 shares. Twenty-five shares of stock of the American Exchange National Bank were sold at 233, an advance of 14 points over the price paid last month, when the last previous sale was made. A sale of 10 shares of stock of the National Copper Bank was made at 224 as against 195¼ in April.

* Sold at the Stock Exchange.

—The New York Stock Exchange closed yesterday for the day at one o'clock out of respect to the memory of former President Cleveland, who died on Wednesday. It had been the original intention to suspend business on the floor for one hour on the day of the funeral, but as the services were not held until after the closing hours of the Exchange, it was decided to suspend the afternoon session. The New York Produce and Consolidated Exchanges and the Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Chicago Stock Exchanges also closed at one o'clock yesterday.

—A petition to close the New York Stock Exchange on Friday next, July 3, was voted down by the Governing Committee on Wednesday. Both the Cotton and Coffee Exchanges will remain closed on Friday and Saturday July 3 and 4.

—According to a recent decision of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court at Albany, shares of stock sold at a judicial sale by a referee appointed by the Court, in an action to foreclose a mortgage, are taxable under the stock transfer law of 1905. The decision was given in a suit against Henry W. Conklin, as referee, and the Security Trust Co. of Rochester, and concerned the sale at auction, by Mr. Conklin as referee, of 322,726 shares of the Rochester Telephone Co. for $250,000.

—The Whitman Savings Bank of Whitman, Mass., this week opened a department for the issuance of life insurance and annuity policies under the provisions of the law passed at the 1907 session of the Massachusetts Legislature, permitting savings banks to operate departments of this nature. George D. Alden, Treasurer of the bank, will have charge of the department, and will be guided and assisted by Robertson G. Hunter, State Actuary, and Dr. Horace D. Arnold, State Medical Director. The Boston "Evening Transcript" states that this is the first bank to avail itself of the privileges accorded by the new law. We recall that the People's Savings Bank of Brockton announced its intention of establishing such a department as long ago as last October, although we have not since learned whether it was finally put in operation by that institution. The law became operative on November 1 1907, but it was stated that the details incidental to the preparation of policies could not be completed before three months thereafter at least. As a preliminary to securing a license, the banks are required to deposit a special expense guaranty fund of not less than $5,000 in cash and a special insurance guaranty fund of not less than $20,000 in cash.

—Schedules in bankruptcy of the Stock Exchange house of Coster, Knapp & Co. of this city were filed on Tuesday. They include, it is said, the debts of both the firm and John M. Knapp, the surviving partner. The firm liabilities, as far as known, are $1,601,561, of which $152,765 are secured. Its assets are nominally $1,038,988, consisting of outstanding accounts, $851,576; stocks and bonds, $110,500; New York Stock Exchange seat, $75,000 (subject to claims of members), &c. The suspension of the firm occurred on April 29, following the suicide of the senior member, Charles Coster.

—The directors of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank of this city have ratified the several propositions incidental to the reorganization of that institution. The plan to reduce the capital from $2,000,000 to $1,000,000 has been approved, as well as the agreement designating Morgan J. O'Brien, Edward M. Grout and William H. English as voting trustees. These trustees have also been empowered to select new directors for the bank, and it is understood that they are now engaged in this task, and that Edward H. Grout has expressed a willingness to become President when the reorganization is perfected. It is also reported that arrangements for procuring the necessary funds in addition to the $2,000,000 now on hand have been completed, subject to the approval of the Banking Department, which, however, it is said, cannot take the matter under advisement until a sufficient number of the depositors have signed the deferred payment agreement. The assent of at least 90% of the depositors is required, and the proceedings are being held up until the necessary number is obtained.

—The Equitable Trust Co. of this city plans the opening of a branch in the hotel district, having purchased the property at 618 Fifth Ave., near 50th St., with that object in view. The company will erect a new building on the site, using the ground floor for its branch office. The statement just issued for June 17 1908, shows deposits to be $20,115,160 and aggregate resources $33,477,376.

—The Second National Bank of this city declared a second quarterly dividend of 3% payable July 1. The first quarterly payment was made in April last, previous to which dividends had been semi-annual at the rate of 12% per annum.

—It is stated that Arthur King Wood, formerly Vice-President of the Van Norden Trust Company of this city will become President of the Franklin Trust Company of Brooklyn Borough, succeeding George H. Southard, who resigned last month.

—A second dividend of 25% was distributed to the depositors of the National Bank of North America of this city this week. A similar payment was made last month. The bank closed its doors in January.

—The rehabilitation of the various Brooklyn institutions which were forced to close during the financial troubles of last October was completed this week in the reopening on Tuesday of the Brooklyn Bank. While it is true that a number of Brooklyn branches of the Mechanics' & Traders' Bank still remain closed pending the latter's reorganization, that bank is looked upon as a Manhattan, rather than a Brooklyn, institution. With its reopening, the Brooklyn Bank was prepared to pay in full the demands of its depositors—partly through the aid of the Metropolitan Trust Co., from which a loan of $600,000 was obtained. The total cash on hand, including this sum, is reported to be in the neighborhood of $1,765,000, with about the same amount of obligations. The bank has capital and surplus combined of between $650,000 and $700,000. The International Trust Co., which was organized last fall, and whose affairs were more or less entangled with those of the Brooklyn Bank, has been absorbed by the latter, the bank, in consideration of the transfer to it of the assets of the trust company, having agreed to pay its depositors. The bank starts anew under the management of Daniel O. Underhill, President; Nelson G. Ayres, Vice-President and Cashier; and Willett G. Rendell, Assistant Cashier. Mr. Underhill, the new President, comes from the Fourth National Bank, where he was Assistant Cashier; Mr. Ayres was formerly Vice-President of the Oriental Bank. Of the former members of the board, Ludwig Nissen is the only one who continues on the directorate. S. Stanwood Menken, who was largely responsible for the reorganization, is also a member of the new board. An advisory committee, consisting of Brayton Ives, James G. Cannon and Erskine Hewitt, will direct the affairs of the bank, while the loan from the Metropolitan Trust remains outstanding.

—The Borough Bank of Brooklyn Borough, which reopened on April 14 on a deferred-payment basis, has decided to anticipate the second installment due Aug. 14, and will pay the same on July 1. The plan provided for the payment of 10% with resumption, 15% in four months, 20% in eight months, 25% in one year and 30% in sixteen months.

—The old banking house of Edward B. Smith & Co., 511 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, will move about Sept. 1 to the northeast corner office of the Girard Trust Co. at Broad and Chestnut streets, when the latter moves into its magnificent new home on the opposite side of the street. We understand that the rental to be paid for these corner offices is the record price for Philadelphia real estate. This location stands at the head of the city's business and social activities, where many of the largest skyscrapers, hotels and theatres are situated. The four corners of Broad and Chestnut streets are occupied by the Real Estate Trust Building, in which the Franklin National Bank is quartered; the big Land Title Trust Building, the new banking house of the Girard Trust Co., and the present Girard Building, the future offices of E. B. Smith & Co. These four corner sites are considered by many the most advantageous business locations in the city, because Broad and Chestnut form the two leading thoroughfares, only a square or two from Philadelphia's noted City Hall, the large Broad Street Terminal Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the big department stores on Market Street.

—Samuel N. Hynemann was appointed receiver of the Lincoln Savings & Trust Co. of Philadelphia on the 18th inst. The appointment was made at the request of the company's officers, owing, it is claimed, to its inability to meet an overdue note of $57,000, without sacrificing its assets. The action of the officers is to be contested by the State Banking Department, which it is reported was preparing to bring proceedings against the institution when it was foretsalled by the company. The department this week secured the appointment of ex-Mayor Charles F. Warwick as receiver, and will ask for an order vacating Mr. Hynemann's appointment. The institution was closed in April of last year by the State Banking Department because of an alleged impairment in its capital. It reopened in July, after an assessment of $10 per share had been made on the outstanding stock. The paid-in capital is $132,000, the par value of the shares being $25 each. The first petition for the receiver states that the company was originally incorporated in 1896 as the Contractors' Surety Title & Trust Co.; the name was subsequently changed to the Contractors' Title & Trust Co., and finally to the Lincoln Savings & Trust. In a statement under date of May 19 1908 the company reported deposits of $86,004 and trust funds of $54,666.

—The stockholders of the International Savings & Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, at a meeting on the 18th inst., unanimously decided to place the institution in voluntary liquidation. The depositors, it is stated, will be paid immediately. The company began business in 1903 with a capital of $250,000 (in $25 shares) and surplus of $50,000. Some months after its opening it took over the Public Trust Co. of Pittsburgh, which had been in operation about a year. Action toward increasing the capital of the International from $250,000 to $500,000 was taken at the time of the consolidation, but the paid-in capital appears to have been but $255,025. Its deposits on May 19 last were $114,718; a surplus of $3,137 was reported on that date.

—A dividend of 50% has been paid to the depositors of the failed Fort Pitt National Bank of Pittsburgh, the payment calling for the distribution of about $1,000,000. The bank closed last December. L. O. Murray is the receiver.

—The action of the directors of the Commercial Savings & Trust Co. of Cleveland in transferring the assets of that institution last month to the Citizens Savings & Trust Co.

was approved by the stockholders of the first-named company on the 16th inst. According to the Cleveland "Leader" the ratification was obtained only after it was brought out that through unfortunate loans, the surplus of the Commercial had been wiped out and the capital impaired. It is said, however, that there was found to be a sufficient amount necessary to meet the claims of depositors and other creditors, and that further there would probably be, through the liquidation, a partial repayment to the stockholders. It is reported that the disposal of the assets of the Commercial had been preceded by the demand for additional security by its Clearing-House representative. This c ai'n of the Clearing-House member was upheld by a bankers' committeee, following an examination, and the Commercial was called upon to raise $400,000 for the purpose. As this, the "Leader" states, was deemed impossible, the offer of the Citizens' to pay $21,000 for the good-will and assets of the Commercial and meet all claims in full was accepted.

—The National City Bank of Chicago, of which David R. Forgan is President, will make its first distribution to stockholders on July 1, the directors having declared a quarterly dividend of 1½%, payable to shareholders of record June 30. The bank began business on Feb. 5 1907. It has a capital of $1,500,000, surplus and profits of $457,207 and deposits (May 14) of $8,563,155.

—A 10% dividend in liquidation is to be paid to the stockholders of the Federal National Bank of Chicago on July 1, bringing the total payments up to 60%. The bank was in operation from October 1905 until the fall of last year. It had, when its property was taken over by the Assets Realization Co., a capital of $500,000 and a surplus of $50,000, the subscription price of the stock having been $110 per share.

—According to a statement recently published, the largest individual stockholders in Chicago banks are as follows:

—The Merchants' National Bank (capital $100,000) and the Citizens' National Bank (capital $200,000) of Cedar Rapids have been united under the title of the first-named institution. The consolidated institution has a capital of $200,000, shareholders' liability of $200,000 and surplus and profits of $220,000. The officers are J. T. Hamilton, President; P. C. Frick and James E. Hamilton, Vice-Presidents; J. S. Broeksmit, Cashier, and E. H. Furrow, Assistant Cashier. The board of directors is composed of representatives from each of the consolidating banks.

—An invitation to hold the next convention of the Nebraska Bankers' Association at Lincoln was accepted at the meeting of the executive council on the 10th inst. The date was fixed as nearly as possible to that of the American Bankers' Association meeting in Denver, which opens Monday, September 28. The Nebraska Association will convene Thursday and Friday, September 24 and 25. This makes it possible to cover both meetings with one trip. It is announced that the committee will be able to make up a very attractive program because many notables attend the National Association meeting and will be invited to stop over at Lincoln. William B. Hughes of Omaha is Secretary of the Nebraska Association.

—Schedules of the assets and liabilities of the firm of Inman & Co. of Augusta, Ga., for which a receiver was appointed on May 4 last, were filed at Atlanta on the 15th inst. The total liabilities are given as $1,842,217, of which $794,589 are secured claims. The total assets are $1,405,080, the largest item, amounting to $645,650, representing stock in trade; other items are stock, negotiable bonds, &c., $260,252; debts due on open accounts, $123,444; unliquidated claims, $157,618; deposits of money in banks and elsewhere, $127,715; bills, promissory notes and securities, $80,345, &c. &c.

—At a meeting on the 18th inst, the stockholders of the American National Bank of Macon, Ga., ratified a proposition to increase the capital from $250,000 to $500.000. The new stock is reported to be over-subscribed.

—The National Bank of Commerce has been organized in El Paso, Texas, with a capital of $200,000. The following are the officers elected: J. H. Nations, President; John T. McElroy and James M. Goggin, Vice-Presidents; W. L. Tooley, Cashier, and T. M. Quebedeaux, Assistant Cashier.

—Arrangements are under way for changing the American Bank & Trust Co. of Houston, Tex., into the American National Bank. Authority to make the change was received from the Treasury Department on the 13th inst. The institution at present has a capital of $100,000. With its conversion, the amount will be increased to either $250,000 or $300,000. The new title will be adopted on July 1.

—Receiver James P. Edoff of the California Bank of Oakland began the payment of a third dividend to the depositors of the institution on the 1st inst. The amount of the distribution is 10%. The previous payments were, respectively, 5 and 10%, making in all 25%. The institution suspended on Nov. 12.

—The Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles, a small institution with a reported capital of $25,000, was closed on the 4th inst. by order of the California State Bank Commissioners pending an examination of its affairs. Evan Lewis is temporarily in charge of the institution.

—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Imperial Bank of Canada was held on May 27 at the head office, Toronto. The report for the year ending April 30 1908 showed net profits for the twelve months, after the usual deductions, including contributions to the Pension and Guarantee funds, and a special contribution of $25,000 to the Pension Fund of $721,175. Out of this $535,524 was paid in dividends, at the rate of 11% per annum; $36,053 credited to bank premises and furniture account; a special fund of $100,000 was set aside and applied in writing down the bank's investments, and $49,598 was carried to profit and loss account, increasing it to $475,915. During the year the bank increased its paid-up capital from $4,773,949 to $4,965,758 and its "Rest Account" was increased to the same amount through the premium of $191,809 received on the new capital. The total assets of the institution are $43,804,196. D. R. Wilkie is President and General Manager E. Hay is Assistant General Manager.

—The Banque de St. Hyacinthe of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec, closed its doors on Wednesday, the directors having decided on that day to suspend business. The bank's last official statement showed a paid-in capital of $331,235 and total liabilities of $1,578,865. The Bank of Montreal has completed arrangements for the opening of a branch in the quarters of the closed institution. The Montreal papers also state that the belief exists that the Bank of Montreal and one or two other institutions have practically guaranteed the amount on deposit in the St. Hyacinthe bank.

—The purchase of the stock of the Manhattan Savings Bank of Los Angeles by the Home Savings Bank of that city was recently effected. While it is the intention to merge the institutions in the near future, they are at present being maintained separately. The Home Savings Bank has a capital of $200,000 and the Manhattan Savings Bank a capital of $50,000.

FALL RIVER MILL DIVIDENDS FOR FIRST HALF OF 1908.

Thirty-two cotton-manufacturing corporations located in Fall River which furnish reports of operations have declared dividends during the second quarter of the year. The total amount paid out is appreciably less than for the corresponding period of 1907, but exhibits important increases over the similar quarter of 1906, 1905, 1904 or 1903. The aggregate of the amount distributed has been $410,750, or an average of 1.66% on the capital. Four mills declared smaller dividends than in 1907, one passed its dividend and seventeen maintained last year's percentage. In 1907 the amount paid out by thirty-two mills was $528,525, or an average of 2.21%. In 1906 twenty-nine mills disbursed $298,025, or 1.32% on the capital. In 1905 only nineteen mills made distributions and the agregate was $166,750, or 0.78%. In 1904 twenty-seven mills paid out $247,150, or an average of 1.15%. In 1903, thirty-two mills paid out an average of 1.42%; in 1902 the average rate was 2.14%. In 1901 the average percentage was 1.43 and in 1900 the average rate of distribution was 2%. In 1899 the average dividend was 1.31%; in 1898 it was 0.50%; in 1897 it was 0.91%; in 1896 it was 1.57%; in 1895 it was 1.58%, and in 1894 it reached 1.52%. The current year's rate has, therefore, been exceeded only three times in the last fourteen years.

Monetary and Commercial English News

London, Saturday, June 13 1908.

There has been this week a good deal of selling from Berlin, Paris and New York. The selling by Berlin is generally attributed to the meeting of King Edward with the Czar. People in Germany have taken it into their heads that the two monarchs are hostile to Germany, and that, in fact, a triple alliance—Anglo-Russo-French—is being formed against that Power. There is not the slightest foundation for such an opinion. The only object of King Edward is to maintain peace for as long a time as possible. It is not to be forgotten that the Berlin market is in a state to be easily made apprehensive. There is still a very large "bull" account being carried by the banks, and now that the half-year is coming towards a close, and that the banks have to look forward to the making up of their accounts, it is reasonable to suppose that they desire to reduce the accounts they are carrying. It is possible, therefore, that they have put pressure on their clients to sell, the more particularly as there has been, during the last six weeks, a great improvement in London, and the German banks might reasonably conclude that their customers could sell on fairly favorable terms in London.

Whatever the explanation, there was large German selling which soon induced French selling, though not of equal magnitude, and it is said that there was also some American selling consequent upon the lowering of steel prices. The selling came as a surprise upon the London market, and caused a general decline in prices. Yesterday, however, there was some recovery, but not a full recovery to the opening prices of the week. Indeed, it is very unlikely that there will be a full recovery as long as Continental selling continues. Meantime, opinion in the market here is as confident as ever. That there will be setbacks from time to time nobody doubts; but that prices will go higher everybody expects. Money is extraordinarily cheap and is likely to continue cheap all through the year. The worst of trade is now believed to have been arrived at. People are looking for some recovery. The intelligence received in London from the great grain-growing districts is all favorable, and so is the intelligence from Argentina. If there is a large growth of wheat this year, everybody hopes that that will lead to an improvement in trade and that thus the present depression will not last very long.

Regarding trade, the Board of Trade returns show that the imports for May amounted to £44,271,217, a decrease compared with the corresponding month of last year of £8,344,418, or 15.9%. For the first five months of the year the total imports amounted to £252,205,381, a decrease of £28,355,830, or 10.1%. The exports of British and Irish produce and manufactures during May amounted to £31,066,877, a decrease of £5,855,671, or 15.9%. For the first five months the total value of the exports was £161,040,256, a decrease of £12,166,144, or 7.0%. The re-exports of foreign and colonial produce for the month of May amounted to £6,431,654, a decrease of £2,020,112, or 23.7%. For the five months they amounted to £33,267,019, a decrease of £11,184,011, or 25.2%. It is to be borne in mind that prices are, generally speaking, much lower now than they were this time last year, and that a great deal, therefore, of the apparent falling off in trade is really due to a decline in price. Still, there is unquestionably a falling off in trade. The general impression, however, is that the worst is passed, and the rise that has taken place this week in copper strengthens the opinion. On the other hand, there has been a reduction in the prices of finished steel by the American steel manufacturers, which must not be lost sight of. Regarding the immediate prospects of trade, the best opinion is that much will depend upon the new harvests. If the yield of wheat is very large, and, therefore, the price falls, the poorer classes all the world over will have a larger surplus with which to buy other things, and that will lead to a general improvement in business.

Money continues exceedingly abundant and cheap. For the last couple of days there has been a slight stiffening of rates because of the numerous new issues that are coming out, but that is a mere passing phase. The new issues will continue, and after a time the City will have become accustomed to them. But money will remain cheap. It will become very cheap as soon as France begins to disburse the vast accumulation of unemployed money it holds. At the present time the Bank of France holds in gold alone £124,419,680.

No tenders were received on Wednesday for the 10 lacs of bills and transfers offered by the India Council.

Messrs. Pixley & Abell write as follows under date of June 11:

GOLD.—Paris was an eager competitor for the £500,000 gold which arrived this week and, with Berlin also in the market, the price advanced ⅝d. to 77s. 10½d. At this level the demand was soon satisfied, and it is difficult to find buyers even at lower prices. Next week we expect £650,000 from the Cape and India. At the Bank £11,000 in sovereigns has been received from Australia and £7,000 from Portugal, while £30,000 has been withdrawn for South America. For the week: Arrivals—Cape, £474,000; West Africa, £6,000; Central America, £9,000; Australia, £11,000; Straits, £4,000; total, £504,000. Shipments—Bombay, £84,000. For the month of May: Arrivals—Germany, £310,000; South Africa, £2,218,000; India, £181,000; France, £11,000. Shipments—Germany, £87,000; India, £436,000; Russia, £315,000; France, £3,417,000.

SILVER.—There has been a material improvement in silver during this week, and we quote 24⅝d., or ⅜d. better than last week. The favorable influences have been the marked improvement in the Hong Kong exchange, the continuance of the Indian demand, and some anxiety to cover on the part of shorts, who are frightened by the improvement in the Indian trade position and by expectations of a favorable Monsoon. The market closes 24⅝d. cash and 24 11-16d. for forward, with a steady tone. The applications in India for remittances on London amounted to only £70,000 this week. There has been a further increase in the gold standard reserve of one crore of rupees. For the week: Arrivals—New York, £174,000. Shipments—Bombay, £111,600; Calcutta, £2,500; total, £114,100. For the month of May: Arrivals—Germany, £17,000; France, £11,000; U. S. A., £544,000. Shipments—Germany, £28,000; France, £43,000; India, £630,000.

a Includes bank notes. b After eliminating the item "Due from reserve depositories and other banks and trust companies in New York City," deposits amount to $762,401,400, an increase of $4,780,300 over last week's figures.

Note.—In the case of the Clearing-House banks, the deposits are "net" both for the average and actual figures; in all other cases "gross" deposits are shown. The Clearing-House actual figures included United States deposits amounting to $19,084,000, an increase of $766,700 over last week; averages included United States deposits of $19,253,700, a decrease of $578,700 from last week.

"Reserve on deposits" includes, for both trust companies and State banks, not only cash items but amounts due from reserve agents, and in the case of trust companies includes likewise municipal bonds. State banks in New York City are required by law to carry a reserve amounting to 15% of deposits, while outside of New York City only 10% is required, which reserve in both cases need not be more than one-half in cash. Trust companies in Greater New York are required to keep a reserve of 15%, of which only 5% need be in cash and 5% more may be in municipal bonds, while in the case of the trust companies in the rest of the State the required reserve is 10%, of which only 3% need be in cash and 3% more may be in municipal bonds.

The State Banking Department also furnishes the following report for State banks and trust companies outside of Greater New York.

Wall Street, Friday Night, June 26 1908.

The Money Market and Financial Situation.—Business in Wall Street has been so dull and uninteresting throughout the week that any correct review of the markets must necessarily be of a similar character. One feature of the situation worth mentioning, and somewhat significant in the present state of inertia, is the fact that the supply of available stocks is limited, and any appreciable demand is quickly responded to by an advance in prices. The present waiting attitude of capitalists and investors will doubtless continue until the growing crops are further developed, and until the result of the political campaign now entered upon can be more clearly anticipated.

The demise of Ex-President Cleveland is an event of the week which is sincerely regretted in business circles all over the country and many of the Exchanges in prominent cities closed at noon to-day out of respect to his memory.

The foreign bank statements show a largely increased gold reserve at all the principal financial centres abroad; that at Berlin amounting to about $19,000,000, and making the German Bank's gold reserve the largest in its history. The New York surplus reserve continues to grow larger week by week as a result of the unbroken business depression.

The open market rates for call loans at the Stock Exchange during the week on stock and bond collaterals have ranged from 1% to 1¾%. To-day's rates on call were 1@ 1¾%. Commercial paper quoted at 3½% for endorsements and four months single names and 4½ for choice good 4 to 6 months unendorsed paper.

The Bank of England weekly statement on Thursday showed an increase in bullion of £540,441, and the percentage of reserve to liabilities was 51.17, against 51.06 last week.

The rate of discount remains unchanged at 2½% as fixed May 28. The Bank of France shows an increase of 20,950,000 francs gold and 1,900,000 francs in silver.

The New York Clearing-House banks in their statement of averages for the week ending June 20 showed an increase of $13,321,100 in the reserve held and a surplus over the required reserve of $58,711,875, against a surplus of $53,391,300 the previous week.

These figures, together with the returns of separate banks, also the summary issued by the State Banking Department showing the condition of State banks and trust companies not reporting to the Clearing House, appear on the preceding page.

Foreign Exchange.—The market was irregular and generally lower this week, influenced by a good supply of bills against securities and by a moderate demand; the tone was firmer at the close.

To-day's (Friday's) nominal rates for foreign exchange were 4 86½ for sixty day and 4 88 for sight. To-day's (Friday's) actual rates for sterling exchange were 4 8570@4 8575 for long, 4 8695@4 87 for short and 4 8720@4 8730 for cables. State and Railroad Bonds.—No sales of State bonds have been reported at the Board this week.

The transactions in Union Pacific 4s, when issued, have greatly diminished, and therefore the market as a whole has been much less active than last week.

Rock Island 4s and col. trust 5s have been conspicuous both for activity and weakness, in sympathy with the shares. They show a loss of 2¾ and 6½ points respectively. Norfolk & Western conv. 4s have declined over 2 points and St. Louis & San Francisco ref. 4s 1¾. Other changes are fractional and unimportant, but more are to a higher than a lower level.

United States Bonds.—No sales of government bonds have been reported at the board this week. The following are the daily closing quotations; for yearly range see third page following.

Railroad and Miscellaneous Stocks.—As noted above, the market for shares has been dull and almost featureless. The general tone remained practically unchanged through the week until during the short session to-day, when a little firmness developed. As a result of the week's limited operations a list of 30 relatively active issues shows 17 higher, the advance being fractional in most cases; 10 are lower and 3 are unchanged.

The Rock Island issues have been weak under urgent selling, which was not explained, and which carried the common down over 2 points and the preferred 5½. Chesapeake & Ohio fluctuated widely, covering a range of over 6 points, and closed with a net loss of 3¼.

On the other hand New York Central has nearly recovered the dividend, which came off on Tuesday, and Louisville & Nashville, St. Paul and Southern Pacific are a point or more higher than last week.

American Locomotive advanced nearly 5 points on the announcement that the old dividend rate will be continued.

Steel preferred is up over a point; other changes in the industrial list are fractional.

Outside Market.—The market for outside securities this week was devoid of feature and trading was at an almost complete standstill, with prices showing but slight changes. The low-priced mining stocks appear to be the only issues in which any interest is taken. Boston Consolidated Copper moved up from 11⅛ to 11¼. British Columbia Copper went from 4⅞ to 5 and back to 4⅞. Butte Coalition lost a point to 21¾. Cumberland Ely weakened from 7⅝ to 7½. Davis Daly Estates advanced from 1⅝ to 1¾, but sagged to 1½. Greene Cananea from 10⅜ rose to 10⅝, but dropped finally to 10. Nevada Consolidated Copper fluctuated between 11⅞ and 11⅝. Nevada Utah sold down from 3 3-16 to 3. United Copper common declined from 7¼ to 6¾. Tonopah Mining after fluctuating between 8⅜ and 8 to-day moved up to 8 13-16, closing at 8⅝. Goldfield Consolidated from 5 7-16 went down to 5¼ and up finally to 5⅜. Nipissing sold between 7⅛ and 7⅜. Industrials showed marked inactivity, even the usually prominent specialties selling infrequently. Standard Oil sold at 600. A sale of American Tobacco was reported to-day at 340. Chicago Subway lost a point to 18½, but recovered all it lost. There appeared a good demand for Allis-Chalmers 5s, the price running up from 69⅞ to 71¼. Tidewater 6% notes from 97⅞ weakened to 97⅛, but finally sold up to 98.

RAILROAD GROSS EARNINGS.

The following table shows the gross earnings of every STEAM railroad from which regular weekly or monthly returns can be obtained. The first two columns of figures give the gross earnings for the latest week or month, and the last two columns the earnings for the period from July 1 to and including such latest week or month. We add a supplementary statement to show the fiscal year totals of those roads whose fiscal year does not begin with July, but covers some other period. The returns of the street railways are brought together separately on a subsequent page.

American Car & Foundry Co.

President Frederick H. Eaton, June 25 1908, writes:

General Results.—Notwithstanding a very considerable falling off in the railroads' demand for new equipment, the gross sales for the year aggregated $104,319,560; freight paid to railroads on material received and shipped, $6,625,000; average number of men employed, 23,521; wages paid, $15,915,828. The number of stockholders is 10,794. [As to statistics of output, see tables below.—Ed.]

Additions and Improvements—Reserve.—During the year there has been constructed and equipped one new shop at Milton for building all-steel tank cars. Practically all other expenditures charged during the year to plant account have been for improvements at the different steel car shops.

There has been made a reservation of $1,500,000 to cover (as circumstances may make advisable) the construction of new, or additions to existing, steel-car plants. There has been set aside also $1,650,000 for general overhauling, improvements, maintenance, &c., including the installing of labor-saving devices and such new machinery as may be necessary to enable us to maintain our leadership in the car-building industry.

The making of these reservations does not necessarily mean that the total amount will be used during the current year, but it seems wise to have money available so that the company may be in position to take advantage of favorable conditions as they offer and hence prosecute the work with least expense.

Insurance.—It is thought advisable for the company itself to carry at least a part of the fire risk, and to effect this there has been created an insurance reserve which at the close of the fiscal year amounted to $1,000,000. In the construction of new shops and the repair of other shops, fire-proof materials have been used to the largest extent possible, and, in line with this, many of them have been equipped with sprinkler systems and other safeguards.

Working Capital.—Conditions recently obtaining in the industrial world have served to emphasize the soundness of the policy to which your company has committed itself—in the accumulation of a large working capital. The extent, however, to which our present working capital should be increased it is difficult now to state—this because of the continually increasing demand for steel construction in both freight and passenger cars, requiring the carrying of largely increased inventories.

During the heavy months of the past year the inventories aggregated $21,000,000 and, with the accounts receivable, necessitated the borrowing of a larger amount of money than is altogether desirable.

The total surplus April 30 1908 is $22,367,247, representing the aggregate surplus earnings since organization. From this surplus there has been expended and reserved for new plants and additions (charged to and included in plant account) an aggregate of $10,815,537. The difference between these amounts, $11,551,710, together with the $5,633,005 original working capital, constitutes our present working capital of $17,184,715.

Patents.—Your company owns over 300 live patents and has pending applications for many more. These patents afford us protection in every detail of car construction.

Orders.—The number of car orders on hand at the close of your fiscal year was the smallest in the history of your organization.. While your company, in common with all other industrial organizations, has suffered from the adverse business conditions, nevertheless the facilities we possess for the large production of a varied line of materials and supplies of miscellaneous character for both domestic and foreign trade have served to keep a number of shops at the different plants in a condition of productive activity.

International Mercantile Marine Co.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

The report, signed by President J. Bruce Ismay and Chairman C. A. Griscom, under date of June 15 1908, says in substance:

General Results.—The combined income account of the companies for the year 1907 shows a surplus for the year of $4,033,731, after meeting all fixed charges and operating expenses (including all charges for repairs, maintenance and overhauls) as compared with a surplus of $5,028,754 for 1906.

The income account does not include the operations of the Leyland and National Lines, in which your company has important holdings. These lines have made separate reports to their stockholders, showing profits for the year in working the companies of £116,520 for the Leyland Line and £10,460 for the National Line.

Balance Sheet.—During the year all payments on account of new steamships building were made from current funds. "Capital assets" have, therefore, been increased without any addition to the company's debt.

The sinking fund retired during 1907 $374,000 first mortgage 5% bonds, out of the earnings of the American and Red Star Lines for the year 1906, and there will be deposited with the trustee for the further redemption of bonds $250,000 out of the earnings of 1907.

The debenture bonds of constituent companies held by the public have been reduced from $778,580 to $696,129.

Four million dollars has been transferred from the profit and loss account to the credit of depreciation fund, making the total credit in insurance and depreciation funds Dec. 31 1907 over $11,000,000.

Company's Fleet.—All the company's steamships, as well as its other property, have been maintained in a high state of efficiency, and the cost thereof, together with depreciation on all property other than steamships, charged to operating expenses.

The building scheme outlined in the report for 1906 is being actively carried out, and it is expected that the first new steamer for the St. Lawrence trade will be delivered early in 1909 and the second in June of the same year. The new Minnewaska for the Atlantic Transport New York-London service will, it is hoped, be in commission in time for the 1909 passenger season.

As the difficulties in reference to terminal facilities at Antwerp have been satisfactorily disposed of, your directors decided to allocate to the New York Antwerp trade one of the steamers building at Belfast. This very fine vessel will be named Lapland when launched June 27 and she is expected to take her place in the Red Star Line service not later than November next. On account of the further development of the traffic between New York and Antwerp, the Gothic, built for the White Star Line, and engaged in the Australasian trade, was transferred to the Red Star Line, and, after being equipped for the carriage of third-class passengers, will be operated under the Belgian flag as the Gothland. Your directors are now taking steps to replace this steamer in the New Zealand trade.

Referring to the three steamers for the Leyland Line mentioned in the report for 1906, the Median was delivered in January, the Memphian in February and the Mercian in May last. It is expected that these steamers will be a profitable addition to the Leyland Line fleet.

The number of steamers now in service, including the subsidiary lines, is 125, representing a gross tonnage of 1,013,524 tons, to which will be added, when the steamers arranged for and building are completed, 146,180 tons gross, making in all 132 steamers of your own and subsidiary companies, having a total tonnage of 1,159,704 tons, viz.:

|---|---|---|---|
| Under 5,000 tons gross | 27 | Between 15,000 and 20,000 tons gr. | 4 |
| Between 5,000 and 10,000 tons gr. | 63 | Between 20,000 and 30,000 tons gr. | 4 |
| Between 10,000 and 15,000 tons gr. | 32 | Over 40,000 tons gross | 2 |

General Remarks.—The wisdom of the transfer of the White Star Mail Service between New York and Liverpool to the Channel trade between New York and Southampton has been proved by the appreciation of the same shown by the traveling public.

The operating conditions of 1907 were unusually difficult, particularly with regard to labor troubles at various ports, which precipitated five serious strikes, besides several minor ones. These were all not only costly in themselves, but caused a material loss of revenue through the diversion of freight traffic from your lines.

Owing to the higher price of coal and all other consumable articles, the expense of operating shows a great increase in all directions during 1907, as compared with previous years, and through unfortunate conditions it was impossible to make corresponding advances in the rates for passengers and freight.

The Trans-Atlantic passenger traffic, both east and west bound, shows a material improvement as compared with previous years, of which your company obtained its fair share; but the revenue derived therefrom, particularly during the last half of the year, was extremely unsatisfactory, on account of the great disturbance in rates, due to conditions beyond our control, but which had to be energetically met by us in order to maintain our position in the trade.

The results of operating the Cedric and Celtic in the Mediterranean passenger business during the season of 1906-07 were quite gratifying, but the conditions during the past winter did not warrant the employment of both steamers in this service.

The popular steamer Arabic has completed her fourth 70-day cruise to the Mediterranean with favorable results, and a contract has been signed for a fifth cruise.

The Trans-Atlantic freight situation has been unsatisfactory and the revenue from this source has been very disappointing.

The general trade between Great Britain, Australia and New Zealand has been much better during 1907 than the previous year, and the earnings of your steamers in that trade have therefore improved.

United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Co.

President George B. Hayes, New York, June 24, says:

General Results.—The report is, superficially considered, not very encouraging, but the directors do not feel at all discouraged about either the condition or the business of the company. Oct. 1907 was a most prosperous month: during Nov. 1907 business absolutely stopped. The winter months in the cast iron pipe business are always dull months. Adding to this the depression caused by the panic, the result was a stagnation such as has never been known in the history of the cast iron pipe business in this country. Not only was there a cessation of business and a sharp fall in prices in November, but there was a declining market all through the winter and early spring months.

With the opening of spring, business has improved. The inventories presented to-day are made at the market. The company has no outstanding bills payable, and no debts of any kind, except for the current raw material. Not only this, but the company went through the panic without borrowing a dollar or discounting or selling its bills receivable. On the other hand, it paid in case for all of its supplies and raw material. The company has plenty of money and its plants are in first-class condition.

Dividend Question.—So far as dividend possibilities are concerned, as you know, since the organization of the company there has been created an account known as "reserve for additional working capital." To this account, in addition to the large sums spent out of the net earnings for extensions and new construction, amounting to $1,802,450, there has also been credited out of net earnings the sum of $2,459,897. This account is distinct from and a surplus over the original working capital. There is no financial reason why a portion of this reserve or surplus should not be used for the payment of dividends until the present period of depression shall have vanished. This, of course, is contingent upon this period of depression not lasting too long. Owing, however, to the phraseology of the charter, there seems to be some legal doubt as to whether or not any part of this surplus may be used for dividend purposes. Your directors are of the opinion, therefore, that it would be best to have the question determined by judicial decision, and a suit to this end will probably be instituted at once. If a favorable decree is entered, the preferred stockholders may expect to receive the usual quarterly dividend on the preferred stock.

In 1906-07 $197,000 was reserved from the year's profits for improvements, $150,000 being also reserved from accumulated surplus for the same purpose, besides $162,458 for additional working capital.

Montreal Steel Works.

(Report for Year ending Dec. 31 1907.)

The directors, in the fifth annual report issued some time since, submit the following statement:

The net earnings for the year 1907, exclusive of dividends, directors' and auditors' fees, and after providing for depreciation, are $187,640. The plant and buildings have been kept in first-class order, and the cost included in working expenses. The sum of $50,000 has been carried to the credit of reserve account, to provide for any further depreciation and extinguishment of buildings and plant, and for such other purposes as the directors may determine, making that account $150,000 Dec. 31 1907. The sum of $10,000 has been placed to the credit of a special reserve account, to provide for contingencies.

Quarterly dividends on the preferred stock at the rate of 7% per annum, and dividends on the common stock at the rate of 7% per annum, amounting in all to $105,000, have been paid.

The new power plant was completed and put into operation last spring, and found to give most satisfactory results. During the past year a steel building was erected, to be used as a spring coiling shop, and a new and up-to-date spring-coiling plant, built upon the latest labor saving methods, was purchased and put into operation. During October last depression overtook the steel trade of the United States, and the various steel plants in that country are now showing an output of only about 35% of their normal capacity. These conditions still exist and are naturally reflected in Canada to some extent; in consequence we may look for curtailment of business at least during the early part of the coming year.

Dominion Iron & Steel Co.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending May 31 1908.)

The report says in substance:

General Results.—The earnings have again to be considered in the light of the judgment against the Dominion Coal Co., which entitles us to recover from them the cost of coal in excess of the contract price of $1 28 per ton. As in the previous year, all coal used has been charged against the operations of the contract price, and on this basis the earnings for the year were $2,613,825. The interest charges for the year amounted to $696,814, and the net earnings were $1,917,011.

From this amount we have transferred to contingent account $1,376,831, to offset the sum which we have charged to Dominion Coal Co. for money paid during the year in excess of the contract price for coal. The remainder has provided for the sinking fund on the first mortgage bonds, $69,712, and the maturing installment of the second mortgage bonds, $250,000, leaving a balance of $220,477. The gross earnings during the past four years increased from $500,000 to $2,613,815.

The various departments of the company's works have been carried on steadily throughout the year, with increased production and lessening costs. The output of steel for the year reached 290,953 gross tons. In 1907 the output was 238,000 gross tons.

The floating liabilities are larger than usual, but the increase in the amount as compared with last year is more than covered by the further increase in the value of raw and finished materials on hand. A considerable portion of the finished materials are merely awaiting shipment.

New Stock and Bonds Proposed.—In view of the larger working capital we are henceforth likely to require, your directors think it well that a scheme for the reorganization of the company's finances should now be under consideration. As a preliminary step you will be asked at the annual meeting to consider, and, if approved, to authorize an increase in the capital stock of the company, and the creation of consolidated mortgage bonds, so that the directors whom you may elect for the coming year may be in a position to deal with the matter when the proper time comes.

Litigation.—The appeal of the Dominion Coal Co. to the Privy Council against the judgment rendered in our favor by the Supreme Court of Nova Scotia, of which you were advised by circular on Jan. 27, cannot be heard until after the summer vacation, owing to the time consumed in completing the record. The claim against the Coal Company up to May 31 1908, exclusive of interest and costs, was $2,923,808.

Efforts have recently been made by friendly intermediaries to bring about a settlement of the dispute, but without result. No definite offer has ever been received by the Steel Company, and the most favorable arrangement which has been put forward as likely to be acceptable to the Coal Company —in other words, the best settlement which it appears open to us to make— is not one which your directors could recommend for your acceptance. ## Nova Scotia Steel & Coal Co., Ltd., New Glasgow, Nova Scotia.

President R. E. Harris at the annual meeting on March 25 said in substance:

General Results.—The mines and plant of the company were kept busy throughout the year, except the works at Trenton, which were closed during a part of December.

The output of iron and steel was the largest in the history of the company, and exceeded that of the previous year by about 25%.

The profits were $944,791, as compared with $960,281 for 1906. Under all the circumstances, this result can not be regarded otherwise than as highly satisfactory.

On the ground that working double-shifts increased the cost of mining, the board decided to single-shift No. 3 colliery, and to cut off certain unprofitable contracts, feeling that if the same, or a larger profit, could be obtained by mining a smaller quantity, it was better to reduce the output and leave the balance of the coal in the ground. The decrease in quantity of coal mined was therefore in pursuance of a deliberate policy.

Improvements.—During the year work was carried on in opening up No. 4 colliery; it was also decided to re-open No. 2 colliery, and the work of pumping has since been carried on. We hope to have both of these collieries producing about May 1 1908. With five collieries in operation, we expect that our output during 1908 will be larger than that of any previous year. Practically the whole of the estimated output of our mines has been disposed of.

The work of driving slopes to our submarine iron ore areas at Wabana, Newfoundland, was carried on throughout the year most successfully; these slopes are working in ore at a distance of over 2,200 feet from the shore. A new air-compressor plant has been installed and we expect almost immediately to have three shifts at work, each of eight hours, and the work on these slopes will be carried on 24 hours every day, Sundays excepted. It now looks as if we should be able to mine ore from these submarine areas early in 1909. I have frequently expressed my opinion as to the enormous value of these areas and the work done during the past year goes far to confirm this opinion.

Newspaper Reports Denied.—My attention has been called to an article in a Montreal newspaper stating that the directors of the Dominion Iron & Steel Co. had made an offer to buy out this company, but that these negotiations fell through. It is sufficient for me to say that no offer was made; no negotiations ever took place, and the whole story is absolutely without foundation.

Another false report has been in circulation to the effect that the company will shortly require to do some financing. I wish to say that the present financial arrangements of the company are ample for its requirements, and satisfactory to our bankers.

The sum of $378,386 was expended during the year on capital account in equipping the new colliery at Sydney mines, new forge buildings at New Glasgow, the purchase of iron ore properties, the development of the submarine iron ore areas at Wabana, and for plant, improvements, &c.

General Manager Thomas Cantley on Jan. 31 1908 reported:

Business.—The year opened with unfilled orders for steel bars and plate on our books for 12,064 tons, in addition to 33,579 axles. During the next six months 18,065 tons of steel bars and plates were booked and 2,109 axles. There was great pressure for delivery of this material. During September there was a noticeable reduction in orders, while during October, November and December the new business booked was trifling. This meant a considerable curtailment of rolling-mill output at the New Glasgow mills during November, and especially during December. Before the middle of the latter month, practically every order had been rolled, and it was found necessary to close down the rolling-mill plant, which did not resume operations until Monday the 20th of January.

Since the opening of 1908 the Intercolonial railway, Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk railways have passed out orders for cars, and of the orders for steel required for these this company has secured the bulk of that so far placed, and a considerable quantity of other railway material is expected to come out within a few weeks. As the money situation becomes easier, there is no doubt purchasing will be resumed on a large scale, as the country still requires an enormous amount of iron and steel material to complete railway extensions and other improvements called for by the rapidly increasing population and trade of the country.

Dominion Textile Co., Limited, Montreal.

(Report for Fiscal Year ending March 31 1908.)

This cotton-manufacturing company was organized under the laws of the Dominion of Canada on Jan. 4 1905 and subsequently took over the management of the Dominion Cotton Mills Co., the Merchants' Cotton Co., the Montmorency Cotton Mills Co. and the Colonial Bleaching & Printing Co., by the purchase of a controlling interest in their capital stock (on the basis shown in V. 80, p. 2347), offering in exchange for their entire share capital $1,440,400 preferred stock and $3,208,500 bonds. "Besides the stocks and bonds which were given in exchange for the capital stocks of these four companies, $500,000 of the preferred stock has been taken at par by the syndicate, who have also subscribed and paid in an additional $500,000, for which they have taken common stock." The report says:

Operations.—Net earnings (after writing off $218,186 for repairs and betterments and $235,340 for new plant and machinery), $900,806. To this amount we have to add $68,635 dividend on Dominion Cotton stock and $51,705 dividend on Merchants' Cotton Co. stock, making the total in all $1,021,146. From this amount there were paid interest on bonds, dividends on preferred and common stock and rental of Dominion and Merchants Mills amounting in all to $976,653, leaving a surplus for the year of $44,493. This surplus will bring the credit at balance of profit and loss to $568,335. The sales for the year amount to $8,045,497, a decrease of $461,516 from the previous year.

Capital Stock.—Common stock (auth. $7,500,000), outstanding, $5,000,000; 7% non-cumulative preferred stock (auth. $2,500,000), outstanding, $1,858,000. Shares, $100. Transfer agent, the Royal Trust Co., Montreal, Can. Dividends are payable quarterly on Jan. 15, Apr. 15, July 15 and Oct. 15 at Royal Trust Co., Montreal, Can.; 13 paid to Apr. 15 1908. Dividends of 5% per annum are now paid on common stock, viz., 1¼% quarterly Jan. 2.

Funded Debt.—Consists of $758,500 series "A", $1,000,000 series "B", $1,000,000 series "C" and $450,000 series "D"—total, $3,208,500. These bonds are dated March 1 1905 and are due March 1 1925. Interest at 6% per annum, payable March 1 and Sept. 1 at the office of the trustee, Royal Trust Co., Montreal, Can. Bonds are for $250, $500 and $1,000 each. Each series is secured by deposit with the trustee of the capital stock acquired in the company for which that series was issued, and will become a mortgage bond upon the properties of that company as soon as the entire capital stock of the same has been transferred to the Dominion Textile Co. Abstract of Letter from Chairman Samuel McRoberts, Chicago, June 16 '08.

The Metropolitan Street Ry. Co. was organized in 1886 and has paid dividends on its capital stock every year since 1889. The company operates all the street railway lines of Kansas City, Mo., Kansas City, Kan., and several other near-by cities, and is controlled by the Kansas City Railway & Light Co., which also controls all the electric-light and power business of the same territory, and serves a total population estimated at 400,000. The mortgage securing the Metropolitan consolidated bonds covers, in addition to other valuable property, the most important parts of the street railway system, including the greater part of the lines in the business district of Kansas City, Mo., and the suburban lines extending to Independence, Rosedale and Argentine. The $1,200,000 bonds just purchased by you will be issued to retire the first mortgage bonds of the Grand Avenue Ry. Co., which mature July 10 1908. Upon the payment of the Grand Avenue bonds the Metropolitan consolidated bonds will become, in effect, a first mortgage upon the property now covered by the Grand Avenue bonds.

Manhattan (Elevated) Ry., New York.—Tax-Exempt First Mortgage Bonds.—Redmond & Co., New York and Philadelphia, have purchased from the Manhattan Railway Co. $11,712,000 consolidated (now first) mortgage 4% gold bonds, dated Feb. 26 1890, and due April 1 1990. The firm states that only these $11,712,000 bonds out of the entire issue are exempt from taxation by New York State, its cities and other local subdivisions, the bonds previously issued under this mortgage not being so tax-exempt. The bonds are also a legal investment for savings banks, trustees and trust funds in the State of New York.

Holders of the outstanding $10,818,000 Metropolitan Elevated Railway Co. first mortgage 6% bonds which fall due July 1 are being given, as per advertisement on another page, the privilege of depositing with the firm their bonds with the July 1 coupon attached, receiving in exchange for each $1,000 bond so deposited one of the new tax-exempt 4% bonds, together with a cash payment of $40 per bond with interest adjusted to July 1.

This issue is a direct first mortgage on the entire property and of the $11,712,000 which you have purchased. $10,818,000 are issued to retire a like amount of Metropolitan Elevated Ry. first mortgage 6% bonds due July 1 1908 and $894,000 are issued for new mileage (extending from 177th St. to Bronx Park —Ed.) in accordance with the mortgage. This issue, while increasing the debt $894,000, yet effects, through the refunding of the 6% bonds, a saving in fixed charges of $180,600 per annum.

The company owns all the elevated railroads (except those of the Subway system) in Manhattan and the Bronx. The Manhattan Railway is electrically equipped, and the company owns the bridge over the Harlem River used by it, and has extensive real estate holdings in fee in various parts of the city, including a central power station occupying almost the entire block bounded by 74th and 75th streets, Avenue A and East River, seven sub-power stations, and large repair shops and yards covering several valuable blocks in Manhattan and the Bronx.

The franchises are perpetual and unusually favorable, being in the nature of a contract with the city. The railway is leased for the remainder of its 999-year charter to the Interborough Rapid Transit Co., which company guarantees all interest charges and 7% annual dividends on the $60,000,000 stock. The Manhattan Railway, independent of the guaranty, is now earning over four times its interest charges, as reduced by the aforesaid refunding. The net earnings for the year ending March 31 1908 amounted to $7,019,997, against which the total interest charges amounted to $1,809,680. These fixed charges will hereafter be reduced as above stated to $1,629,080. The surplus earnings after payment of 7% dividends upon $60,000,000 stock amounted to $1,010,317, or nearly 3% on the Interborough Rapid Transit stock.

|---|---|---|---|
| Gross | $14,716,495 | Balance forward | $5,210,317 |
| Net over taxes | $7,019,997 | Dividends | 4,200,000 |
| Interest | 1,809,680 | | |
| Balance | $5,210,317 | Surplus over dividends | $1,010,317 |

Number of Passengers Carried Each Year (000,000 omitted).

| 1899. | 1900. | 1901. | 1902. | 1903. | 1904. | 1905. | 1906. | 1907. |
| 174 | 184 | 190 | 215 | 247 | 287 | 266 | 258 | 283 |

The total issue of these bonds will now be $39,777,000 outstanding. In addition there are $1,000,000 reserved to be exchanged for an equal amount of 5% debentures of the New York Elevated RR., which mature March 1 1916. No further bonds can be issued under the mortgage except for extensions, and the mortgage stipulates that "extensions" shall not include any side or third tracks, or other additions or betterments to the existing railway.

The Interborough Rapid Transit Co. (Subway), which pays 9% annual dividends on its $35,000,000 capital stock, having leased the Manhattan Railway for the remaining 966 years of its corporate existence, the mortgage made by the Rapid Transit Co. to secure not exceeding $55,000,000 bonds covers this lease, and the mortgagor covenants promptly to pay the rental and comply with the covenants of the lease. The net earnings of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. and of the Manhattan Railway Co. combined, for the year ending March 31 1908, after the payment of all taxes, rentals to the city of New York and interest on 3 year gold notes, amounted to $9,838,762, against which the interest charges of $1,809,680 of the Manhattan Railway Co. is practically a first charge.

The bonds are exempt from taxation by the State of New York, its counties, cities, towns, villages, school districts and other local subdivisions, and an endorsement to that effect appears upon each bond. —V. 86, p. 1467.

Metropolitan Street Ry., New York.—$3,500,000 Receivers' Certificates Offered.—The Central Trust Co. and Wm. A. Read & Co. are offering at 100¼ and interest, yielding the investor 4¾%, Metropolitan Street Ry. Co. and New York City Ry. Co. $3,500,000 one-year 5% receivers' certificates, dated June 15 1908 and due June 15 1909. Interest payable in New York and London Dec. 15 and June 15. A circular says:

These certificates of indebtedness are secured by a first and paramount lien upon improved real estate in the city of New York, assessed in 1907 for $6,445,000, including the company's main power-house at 96th St. and First Ave., and upon other property of the Metropolitan Street Railway Co., prior in all respects to the outstanding $12,500,000 "general and collateral trust mortgage" bonds and $16,604,000 refunding mortgage bonds as described in the letter of the receivers, Adrian H. Joline and Douglas Robinson, printed within.

The order of the Circuit Court contains the following important provision: "No further additional receivers' certificates creating any lien upon any of the property aforesaid shall be authorized or issued in any of the three causes above entitled, except and unless the receivers' certificates authorized and issued hereunder be expressly provided to be first discharged in full out of the proceeds of such other or additional issue of receivers' certificates, before any of said last-mentioned certificates, or the proceeds thereof, shall be applied to any other purpose."

The certificates (compare V. 86, p. 1285) constitute a lien upon all the property of the Metropolitan Street Ry. Co. and upon the net income of the New York City Ry. Co. and its other property, and upon all equipment and other property heretofore purchased and acquired by us as receivers, or that may be acquired by means of the certificates or the proceeds thereof, and upon all net earnings and income. This lien is prior to the lien of the "general and collateral trust mortgage" and also the refunding mortgage of the said Metropolitan Street Ry. Co.

The certificates constitute a first lien upon real estate in the city of New York, the assessed value whereof in 1907 aggregated $6,445,000. They constitute also a lien upon real estate on Fourth and Lexington avenues, 32d and 33d streets, and Madison Ave., 85th to 86th St., the assessed value whereof in 1907 was $2,175,000, these two last-mentioned parcels being subject only to a prior mortgage of $950,000. The real estate parcels, Lexington and Fourth avenues, 99th and 100th streets, and the Lexington Building, 25th and 26th streets, upon which these certificates are also a lien, had an assessed value in 1907 of $1,630,000. These (together with the Lexington Ave. & Pavonia Ferry Line) are subject to a prior mortgage of $5,000,000.

The receivers' certificates constitute a lien on the Broadway surface line, Lexington Ave. & Pavonia Ferry line, Columbus & 9th Ave. line, and extensions, the South Ferry line and the Metropolitan Crosstown line, subject to certain underlying mortgages, and a first lien upon the Houston West St. & Pavonia Ferry and Avenue C line and extensions and branches; Chambers St. & Grand St. Ferry line; Fort Lee extension and extension on West Broadway. They also constitute a first lien on 1½ miles of track located in Mount Vernon owned by the New York City Ry. Co. The certificates also constitute a lien upon the leasehold interests of the Metropolitan Street Ry. Co. in the Bleecker St. & Fulton Ferry RR. Co., Broadway & 7th Ave. RR. Co., Central Crosstown RR. Co., Christopher & 10th Streets RR. Co., 42d St. & Grand Street Ferry RR. Co., 23d St. Ry. Co., 2d Ave. RR. Co., 6th Ave. RR. Co., 8th Ave. RR. Co., 9th Ave. RR. Co., New York & Harlem (City Line) and other leases and operating contracts. V. 86, p. 1529.

Mobile & Ohio RR.—Dividend Rate Reduced from 5% to 3%.—The directors have declared a semi-annual dividend of 1½%, placing the stock on a 3% basis, contrasting with 5% yearly from December 1906 to December 1907 inclusive, 6% yearly from June 1905 to June 1907 inclusive, 2% in 1904, 2% in 1903 and 1% in 1898.

To June 30 1907 the Southern Ry. had acquired $5,670,200 of the $6,070,600 stock, having issued therefor, dollar for dollar, its stock trust certificates, dividends payable 4% per annum in perpetuity.—V. 86, p. 603.

New Orleans Railway & Light Co.—Collateral Notes.—George H. Burr & Co., New York, are offering at par and interest the unsold portion of an issue of $1,300,000 one-year 6% collateral notes dated June 20 1908, subject to call at 101 on any interest date on 15 days' notice.

The notes are secured by the deposit of $2,400,000 of the company's general mortgage 30-year 4½% bonds, which have been held in the treasury. The July 1908 and January 1909 coupons are to remain attached to the bonds, giving them an actual face value of $2,500,000. The bonds are now selling at between 72 and 73.

The remaining $700,000 of the $2,000,000 which the banking institutions named last week agreed to loan the company is to be secured by certain real estate, valued at about $300,000, not covered by the general mortgage, and by the equity in the bonds deposited to secure the $1,300,000 loan made by Burr & Co.—V. 86, p. 1530.

Newton & Northwestern RR.—Receivership.—On June 19 Parley Sheldon of Ames, Iowa, was appointed receiver of this road, from Newton, Iowa, to Rockwell City, Iowa, 102 miles. Of the first mortgage bonds 96½% are owned by friendly interests.—V. 85, p. 100.

New York Philadelphia & Norfolk RR.—Offer for Stock Open until Aug. 1.—The holders of more than 90% of the $2,000,000 stock have deposited their certificates with the Fidelity Trust Co. of Philadelphia, as trustee, in acceptance of the proposition from the Pennsylvania RR. to buy the stock with 4% 40-year trust certificates, guaranteed principal and interest by the Pennsylvania RR., on the basis of $3,000 of the certificates for each $1,000 par value of the stock. The offer will remain open until Aug. 1.

The company has been in operation for 25 years and the Pennsylvania RR. Co. and the Philadelphia Baltimore & Washington RR. Co. both aided in its promotion, and formerly had a substantial ownership in its securities, but they disposed of them at the time the company was reorganized in January 1899. The company is naturally a feeder of the Pennsylvania system, forming an important connection with Southern lines through the Norfolk gateway, and its acquisition is in line with the policy heretofore pursued by the company in that respect.—V. 86, p. 795.

Pennsylvania Company.—Dividend Decreased.—This company, whose $60,000,000 capital stock is owned by the Pennsylvania RR. Co., has declared a semi-annual dividend of 3%, payable June 30, contrasting with 4% paid last December.

Interest payable quarterly March 1, June 1, Sept. 1 and Dec. 1. Denomination $1,000 c*. See advertisement on another page.

Regarding these certificates S. Davies Warfield, R. Lancaster Williams and E. C. Duncan, the receivers, say:

1. As a primary security they constitute a paramount lien upon the surplus income derived from the operation by the receivers of the lines of railroad owned or heretofore operated directly by the Seaboard Air Line Railway, and from the operation of the property of the Seaboard Air Line Railway in the hands of the receivers after the payment out of the income from such operation and property of the expenses of the receivership and of operation and such other amounts as the Court may direct.

2. As an ultimate security these certificates constitute (1) a lien prior to the mortgage securing the issue of 4% bonds upon all the property of the Seaboard Air Line Ry and upon all stocks, bonds, notes and other securities of the railway in the possession of the receivers covered by that mortgage; (2) a lien prior to the mortgages given to secure the three-year 5% bonds and the thirty-year 5% bonds upon all the properties covered by those mortgages except as to certain designated collaterals which are specifically pledged under the mortgage given to secure the three-year 5% bonds.

3. The certificates are also a lien prior to the collateral trust mortgage given to secure the $10,000,000 ten-year 5% bonds.

For the year ending June 30 1907 there would have been a balance of net earnings applicable to interest on receivers' certificates of $1,164,666; for the year ending June 30 1908 (four months estimated) there would be $1,100,971; and for the year ending March 31 1909 it is estimated that the net surplus applicable to the payment of the interest on receivers' certificates should amount to $1,382,817. (The annual interest charge on these certificates is only $180,000.)—V. 86, p. 1285.

Brooklyn Ferry Co., New York.—Property Foreclosed.—At the foreclosure sale on June 25 the property was bid in for the nominal sum of $25,000 by William O. Madden of 15 Wall Street, representing the bondholders' committee, which holds $6,300,000 of the $6,500,000 outstanding bonds. Charles E. Hotchkiss of Davies, Stone & Auerbach, attorneys for the committee, is quoted as saying:

According to the terms of the sale, the deeds of the ferry property will be delivered to the New York Terminal Co. July 24 and on the following day it is probable that all the seven ferry lines will be shut down save two—the lines running between 10th St. and Greenpoint and 23d St. and Greenpoint. These two lines pay a slight profit above operating expenses, but all the other five lines involved are now run only at a loss. If the remaining five lines are to be kept in operation, the city must make satisfactory arrangements for the running of them, either by purchase outright or by making some agreement with the New York Terminal Co. whereby it can operate the lines at a fair percentage. The property of the company has been conservatively valued at $11,500,000, consisting principally of real estate, but for more than two years a loss has resulted from its operation as a ferry company. Consolidated Railway Lighting & Refrigerating Co., New York.—Receivership.—Vice-Chancellor Howell at Newark, N. J., on June 22, upon application made by stockholders G. Louis Boissevain and Charles S. Thorne of New York, appointed Randolph C. Barrett of Barrett & Barrett of Newark, temporary receiver of the company on the ground of insolvency. The application shows:

The principal assets are $16,309,000 of the $21,119,833 outstanding stock of the Consolidated Railway Electric Lighting & Equipment Co. and about $6,167,000 of the stock of the Railway & Stationary Refrigerating Co. The defendant corporation has not paid its State franchise taxes for the years 1906, 1907 and 1908, and in consequence of its default in 1906 was, at a suit of the Attorney-General, enjoined from exercising any of its franchises.

The complainants believe that all of the assets "with the exception of $73 87 shown as cash in bank, are grossly overvalued in the said statement; that the account due from the Railway & Stationary Refrigerating Co., amounting to $242,665, is totally uncollectible, and that the account against the Consolidated Railway Electric Lighting & Equipment Co., amounting to $18,616, is of doubtful, if of any value."

Suit.—Twenty-four companies, including the Continental Paper Bag Co. of Watertown, N. Y., controlled by the International Company and independent companies, manufacturing wrapping paper, pleaded guilty on June 19 before Judge Hough in the United States Circuit Court, in this city, to indictments charging them with a violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law in having formed the Fibre & Manila Association, organized by John H. Parks and known as the Parks pooling plan. They were fined $1,000 each.

All of the companies involved combined, it was claimed, manufacture only 23% of the output of the country, the association being dissolved when it became evident that the law was violated.—V. 86, p. 1347, 859.

Kentucky Electric Co.—Decision.—The Court of Appeals of Kentucky, by a unanimous decision (opinion by Judge Hobson),on June 17 held valid the franchise granted by the General Council to the George G. Fetter Co.

A dispatch to the Louisville "Courier Journal" dated June 18 says that "the choicest part of the city of Louisville is allotted under the franchise, and it is said to be the most valuable lighting franchise ever granted in Louisville." The Court says: "It is insisted that the ordinance impairs the obligations of the plaintiff's contract. In the ordinance granting the franchise under which the Kentucky Electric Co. holds (see V. 84, p. 1201, Ed.), there are the words: 'Nothing in this ordinance shall be construed as exclusive or as preventing the City of Louisville from granting a like franchise or privilege to any other person, firm or corporation.' This is not a restriction on the power of the General Council but a restriction on the franchise granted."

President Hughes is quoted as saying that the company's plant is approaching completion and will be ready to furnish current within 60 days.—V. 86, p. 232.

Kilbourne & Jacobs Manufacturing Co., Columbus, O. New Stock.—The shareholders received on June 1 a circular offering them the right to subscribe at par ($100 a share) for $62,500 of the $125,000 common stock held in the treasury, to the extent of one share for each 20 shares now held by them respectively.

The company in April last arranged to purchase extensive timber lands in Southeastern Kentucky with a view to establishing its own lumber mills. The new stock issue is made in connection with this new departure. Any of the stock not taken by the present holders on or before July 1 will be sold by the directors at their discretion at not less than $140 a share. The stock has been selling for 140 to 150; 140 being the lowest price at which it has been sold for a considerable time. James Kilbourne is President and General Manager; F. W. Hubbard, Secretary and F. C. Eaton, Treasurer.—V. 84, p. 999.

Kirby Lumber Co.—Payment of Overdue Timber Certificates.—Notice is given that the principal of timber certificates, series "I," of $420,000, due Feb. 1 1908, will be paid on July 1 1908 at the National City Bank of New York or the Maryland Trust Co., Baltimore, Md., together with interest at 6% per annum from Feb. 1 1908 to July 1. With this payment, $2,630,000 of the timber certificates will have been retired, leaving $4,685,000 outstanding. See adv.

The differences between the Houston Oil Co. and the trustees for the Kirby Lumber certificates are still being negotiated, but no agreement has yet been reached by the several parties in interest.—V. 86, p. 54.

Long Acre Electric Light & Power Co., New York.—Application Denied.—The Public Service Commission has declined to sanction the proposed issue of $50,000,000 bonds and $10,000,000 stock. See V. 86, p. 483, 423.

Louisville Home Telephone Co.—Application Denied.—Judge Gordon in the Circuit Court at Louisville denied the application of the company for a mandamus to compel the Board of Public Works to put up for sale at auction the franchise created by the ordinance passed by the General Council on May 26, known as the Home Telephone ordinance.

It is held that to have been valid the ordinance should have been for the benefit of the whole public, whereas it is clearly in the interest of the telephone company, to permit it to increase its rentals; and, further, that under the ordinance the company might or might not have acquired the franchise by purchase, and that this doubt is sufficient to prevent the company from maintaining the suit.—V. 84, p. 573.

The latter are the only scrip dividends ever paid, and are not charged off against earnings.—V. 85, p. 1522.

Montreal Steel Works.—Dividends.—The directors have declared with the quarterly dividend of 1¾% on the $800,000 preferred stock an interim dividend of 2% on the $700,000 common stock, payable July 8 to shareholders of record June 30. Mt. Vernon (Ill.) Car Manufacturing Co.—New Officers.—W. C. Arthurs has been elected President, to succeed D. O. Settlemire, deceased; R. K. Weber, Vice-President; D. P. Settlemire, Secretary and Treasurer.

National Carbon Co., Cleveland.—Rumors Denied.—Cleveland "Finance" says:

H. E. Hackenberg, Treasurer of the National Carbon Co., absolutely denies the report that the directors are figuring upon a re-financing scheme involving the retirement af the preferred stock by an issue of 5% bonds. According to the rumor 125 was to be paid for the present outstanding preferred stock in new first mortgage 5% bonds at par. The retirement of the preferred would leave the company with only one stock and the story said that this stock was then to be placed on a permanent 7% basis. Treasurer Hackenberg said: "The directors have not even discussed such a proposition. There is nothing to be gained by altering our capitalization. The rumor originated probably in some broker's dream."—V. 86, p. 601.

New England Cotton Yarn Co.—Earnings.—The Boston "Herald" of June 25 says:

The company earned $385,000 net for the quarter ended Dec. 31 last and $230,000 for the quarter ended March 31 1908, a total of $615,000 for the half-year, compared with $588,000 for the same 6 months of 1906-07 and $446,000 for the 6 months of 1905-06. The earnings for six months ended March 31 last were record figures for 6 months since the company was formed. Compare annual report in V. 85, p. 1338, and V. 85, p. 1084.

Pacific Coast Power Co. of Washington.—Stock Listed in Boston.—The Boston Stock Exchange has listed the 61,162 outstanding shares of this Stone & Webster enterprise, incorporated Jan. 17 1908. Maturities.—$11,000 May 15 1909; $11,000 1910; $13,000 1911; $13,000 1912; $16,000 1913; $16,000 1914. Company in successful operation since 1876.

Pine Bluff (Ark.) Light & Water Co.—Foreclosure.—A decree of foreclosure was entered against the company in the United States Court at Little Rock, Ark., on June 6, in the suit brought by the New York Trust Co. and Osborn W. Bright, as trustees, to foreclose both the company's mortgages, the first mortgage amounting to $250,000 and the refunding mortgage $750,000 (including $250,000 reserved to retire the first mortgage). The foreclosure sale has been set for July 9.

In April last Judge Jacob Trieber of the Federal Court appointed C. Philip Waters of Little Rock and Frank G. Bridges of Pine Bluff receivers of the company in the suit to foreclose the mortgage. A contest has been pending for years between the city and the water company, the city endeavoring to get control of the water works.

A contract was awarded about two months ago for the construction of a power plant and a 3,000,000-gallon reservoir, which will be operated as part of the enterprise. F. G. Bridges is President. Ford, Bacon & Davis, 115 Broadway, New York, prepared the plans for the construction of the ew plant. See description in the "Electrical World" of New York for Feb. 29 1908.

Pocahontas Consolidated Collieries Co.—Favorable Decision.—Judge McDowell in the United States District Court at Wheeling, W. Va., on Wednesday decided in favor of the company the suit brought by the holders of 3,016 shares of the minority stock of the Pocahontas Collieries Co. to prevent consolidation with the Pocahontas Consolidated Co. Compare V. 86, p. 484, 424.

Roswell (N. M.) Gas Co.—Bonds Offered.—This company is offering for sale $50,000 first mortgage bonds, to net purchaser 6.66%. An advertisement says:

Established company making over four times the proposed interest charges. Liberal long-time franchise.

Sheffield Coal & Iron Co.—Time Extended Till July 1.—The reorganization committee has extended the time for the deposit of bonds and stock till July 1. Practically all bonds and a majority of the stock have been deposited and subscriptions for the new securities, it is stated, are satisfactory. The operation of the plants has been suspended pending reorganization. See plan in V. 86, p. 671.

Sunday Creek Co.—New Treasurer.—Harry J. Reese has been elected Treasurer to succeed Charles A. Suydam, who resigned.—V. 86, p. 1534.

Tennessee Central RR.—Option to Lapse.—The Illinois Central, it is understood, has decided not to exercise its July 1 option on a controlling interest in the Tennessee Central, and on that date it will give up operation of this line, over which the Illinois Central reaches Nashville. The Southern Ry. also recently decided to let its share in the option lapse.—V. 86, p. 1286.

Toledo Ice & Coal Co.—Rebates.—The company on June 23 pleaded guilty in the United States District Court before Judge Tayler on three counts to the charge of accepting rebates on ice from the Ann Arbor RR. from Lakeland to Toledo.

The indictments contained 155 counts. The maximum fine that could be levied on each count is $2,000 and the minimum $1,000. A fine of $1,255 on each count, making a total of $3,750, was imposed and the other counts dismissed.—V. 86, p. 425.

Tonopah (Nev.) Mining Co.—Dividends Resumed.—The directors on June 25 declared a dividend of 25 cents per share, payable in July. The last dividend paid was 25 cents quarterly, paid Oct. 21 1907. See V. 86, p. 985, 289.

United States Cast Iron Pipe & Foundry Co.—N. F. Brady and John Arthur Hayes have been elected directors to succeed E. R. Thomas and C. E. Burke.

Report.—See "Annual Reports" on a preceding page.—V. 86, p. 173.

Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co.—Probable Bond Issue.—It is generally believed that the management contemplates making a $15,000,000 bond issue, out of which it would retire the existing $5,000,000 5% collateral trust bonds.—V. 85, p. 155, 165.

Westinghouse Electric & Mfg. Co.—Reorganization—Extension of Time.—The time limit to subscribe for the $10,000,000 new stock expired June 22 and further subscriptions are being accepted by the reorganization committee. It is understood that the outlook for the success of the merchandise creditors' plan is so favorable that an extension of time to subscribe will probably be granted, possibly until Sept. 1. The "New York Times" on June 25 said:

While the Securities Investment Co. (see V. 86, p. 1158, 1162) and President Westinghouse have taken their share of the new stock, it remains for their creditors, who hold these shares as collateral, to supply the cash for the subscriptions, and these sums will not be available until the subscriptions have been ratified by banking institutions and other creditors, involving considerable delay. There is no doubt in the minds of the committee, however, that these subscriptions will eventually be made good. [Of the stock unsubscribed for as late as June 19, amounting, it was said, to about $2,000,000, the Security Investment Co.'s quota was currently reported to be about $1,400,000.—Ed. "Chronicle."]

Payment of Interest.—The United States Court at Pittsburgh yesterday authorized the receivers to pay the interest due July 1 upon the funded debt and floating debt of the company, and also interest due Aug. 1 on the collateral notes.—V. 86, p. 1474, 1413.

Yale & Towne Mfg. Co., New York.—Extra Dividend.—The company has declared the usual quarterly dividend of 1½% and an extra dividend of ½ of 1%, both payable July 1.

Stock authorized, $5,000,000, all of one class, being increased from $2,000,000 in August 1907 (par of shares, $100). The stockholders and directors have subscribed for $500,000 new stock, the last installment of their subscriptions being payable July 10 next, raising the amount outstanding to $1,500,000. Bonds, $1,000,000 first mortgage 5%, secured on the plant and equipment at Stamford, Conn.; interest payable Jan. 1 and July 1 at Chemical National Bank, New York. President, H. R. Towne. New York office, 9 Murray St.

The circular giving the numbers of the bonds can be obtained from the Pinkerton Detective Agency.

NATIONAL RAILWAYS OF MEXICO—FERROCARRILES NACIONALES DE MEXICO.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT REGARDING THE NEW COMPANY.

Mexico, D. F., 6th May, 1908.

Messrs. Speyer & Co., Messrs. Kuhn, Loeb & Co., Messrs. Hallgarten & Co. and Messrs. Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co., New York.

Gentlemen:—The Mexican Government, which through ownership of Stock already practically controls the National Railroad Company of Mexico, has caused a plan to be prepared for the Readjustment and Union of the Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, and the National Railroad Company of Mexico, through the creation of a new Company, entitled Ferrocarriles Nacionales de Mexico (National Railways of Mexico), organized under the laws of the Republic of Mexico, pursuant to an Act of Congress, approved 26th December, 1906, and a decree of the President of the Republic of Mexico, issued pursuant thereto, dated 6th July, 1907. The Mexican Government will hold a controlling interest in the Stock of this Company.

It is proposed that this Company shall acquire Securities and Stocks of the Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, and of the National Railroad Company of Mexico, and in due course take over the railways and properties of the two last-named Companies.

Referring to the issue of $13,750,000 National Railways of Mexico Prior Lien 4½% Sinking Fund Redeemable Gold Bonds, I beg to state the following:

These bonds form part of a total authorized issue of $225,000,000 (which may be increased by $6,000,000 additional Bonds, ranking pari passu with the other Bonds of the series, to retire £1,200,000 4½% Prior Lien Bonds of the Mexican International Railroad Company or other Bonds which may have been issued to retire them), to be secured under a mortgage as mentioned below. About $103,000,000 of this amount (whereof not exceeding $64,000,000 are to be issued forthwith) is issuable for the purpose of retiring Bonds and Notes of the Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, and the National Railroad Company of Mexico. The remainder can only be used for defined purposes as follows:

About $48,000,000 can only be applied for the construction or acquisition of additional railroad lines and the acquisition of Stocks and Bonds of other Corporations owning lines of railroad, &c., and about $47,500,000 after 1st January, 1910, for improvements and equipment at a rate not exceeding $2,500,000 Bonds per annum cumulative; about $26,500,000 are available for the purposes of the Plan and for improvements and equipment required in the near future.

The Prior Lien 4½% Sinking Fund Redeemable Gold Bonds of the Company are to mature on 1st July, 1957, and are to be secured under a Mortgage and Deed of Trust to the Central Trust Company of New York, as Trustee, by the deposit and pledge by way of first charge of all securities embraced in the Plan of Readjustment as finally carried out, and on the acquisition of the property of the National Railroad Company of Mexico and/or the Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, by direct charge thereon.

The Bonds are to be further secured by the mortgage and pledge of all property acquired by the proceeds of any of the Prior Lien Bonds, and by the mortgage and pledge, with priority over the General Mortgage, of all property at any time embraced in the General Mortgage, or acquired by the use of any of the Guaranteed General Mortgage 4% Gold Bonds of the Company.

The Prior Lien 4½% Bonds will therefore rank before the $160,000,000 Guaranteed General Mortgage 4% Sinking Fund Redeemable Gold Bonds maturing 1st October, 1977, principal and interest and Sinking Fund installments of which are to be unconditionally guaranteed by the Mexican Government (which amount may be increased for refunding purposes, as provided in the General mortgage.)

Provision is to be made in the Prior Lien mortgage for the creation by the Company of a Cumulative Sinking Fund (the first annual payment in respect of which is to be made for the year 1917), calculated to be sufficient, with accumulations, to retire the entire issue at or before maturity. The Sinking Fund is to be applicable to the purchase of Bonds in the market at not exceeding 105 and accrued interest, or by drawings at 105 on not less than ninety days' notice; the Bonds are also redeemable in amounts of not less than $10,000,000 on any interest date after 1st January, 1917, at 105 on not less than ninety days' notice.

On the completion of the Readjustment, the Bonds (by means of the deposit of securities and shares under the Plan of Readujstment) will be practically a prior lien charge on the entire Mexican Central Railway system (about 3,428 miles), and also practically a charge on the National Railroad Company of Mexico system (about 3,558 miles), subject to outstanding indebtedness of about $57,750,000 charged upon the property of the National Railroad Company, and subject, as to the lines of the Mexican International and Interoceanic companies, to their respective outstanding issues, a large amount of which, comprising the voting control, is held by the National Railroad Company. Of the indebtedness of the National Railroad Company, $33,000,000 can be redeemed on not more than six months' notice.

Sufficient Prior Lien Bonds and General Mortgage Bonds are reserved to redeem the Bonds and obligations of the Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, and the National Railroad Company of Mexico, the deposit of which is not invited by the Plan, with the object that ultimately the Bonds may become an absolute first charge on the combined properties of the National and Central Railway Companies.

The following securities and shares of this Company will be forthwith issuable to the Mexican Government, to the public in exchange for securities and shares of the Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, and National Railroad Company of Mexico called for deposits under the Plan, and to meet the cash requirements of the readjustment, viz., about:

|---|---|
| $64,000,000 | Prior Lien 4½% Bonds. |
| $36,000,000 | Guaranteed General Mortgage 4% Bonds. |
| $28,833,000 | 4% First Preferred Shares. |
| $122,793,000 | 5% Second Preferred Shares. |
| $74,847,000 | Common Shares. |

Excluded from the foregoing are about $22,300,000 Prior Lien Bonds and about $11,300,000 Guaranteed General Mortgage Bonds, issuable with respect to Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, Bonds now in the Treasury of that Company, and pledged to secure its obligations.

| The combined receipts from operation of National Railroad Company of Mexico and Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, after deducting expenses of operation for the year ending 30th June, 1907, and including all net income from other sources, amounted to | $8,173,872 03 |
| Such combined net receipts of the two Companies for the six months ending 31st December, 1907, amounted to | $4,341,540 30 |

The Presidents of said Companies have made the following estimates of such combined net receipts of said respective Companies for the fiscal years ending 30th June, 1908, and 30th June, 1909:

| | U. S. Gold |
|---|---|
| Gross earnings (8 months actual, 4 months estimated) for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1908 | $26,991,000 |
| Expenses for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1908 | 17,979,000 |
| Net earnings | $9,012,000 |

|---|---|
| Gross earnings | $29,430,302 |
| Expenses | 19,185,000 |
| Net earnings | $10,245,302 |

The interest charges on the outstanding obligations, including taxes and rentals, of the above companies for the fiscal year ending 30th June, 1908, amount to $7,664,166 56.

On the basis that all the securities called for deposit under the plan shall have been exchanged, I estimate that, after payment of the interest charge on the obligations of the above companies not so called for deposit, amounting to $3,932,430, the net earnings accruing to the National Railways (the new company), would be as follows:

| On the basis of the fiscal year ending 30th June— | 1908. U. S. Gold. | 1909. U. S. Gold |
|---|---|---|
| Net receipts as above | $9,012,000 | $10,245,302 |
| Interest on obligations not called for deposit | 3,932,430 | 3,932,430 |
| | $5,079,570 | $6,312,872 |
| Interest on $64,000,000 Prior Lien Bonds issuable forthwith as above | 2,880,000 | 2,880,000 |
| Balance available for meeting the interest on the Guaranteed General Mortgage 4% Bonds and for dividends on the stock of the new Company | $2,199,570 | $3,432,872 |

The foregoing figures do not take into consideration any increased earnings from rate and tariff adjustments or economies and savings resulting from combining under one control the management of the two systems, which I confidently anticipate will greatly increase the efficiency and facilitate working and considerably decrease the cost of operating the roads concerned.

The Presidents of the National and Central Companies have estimated that the additional net earnings resulting from these causes, which are expected to begin to accrue from 1st July, 1908, will amount to a sum exceeding $2,000,000 U. S. gold per annum.

The Company, through its holdings of Shares of National Railroad Company of Mexico, will control the Mexican International Railroad Company and the Interoceanic Railway of Mexico (Acapulco to Vera Cruz), Limited, and the total mileage of the system controlled by it will comprise the following railways:

| | Miles. |
|---|---|
| National Railroad Company of Mexico, Standard Gauge | 1,378 |
| Do. do. Narrow Gauge | 526 |
| Mexican International Railroad Company, Standard Gauge | 918 |
| Interoceanic Railway of Mexico (Acapulco to Vera Cruz), Limited, Narrow Gauge | 736 |
| Mexican Central Railway Company, Limited, including Mexican Pacific Railway Company, Standard Gauge | 3,528 |

I am, Gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

PABLO MACEDO,

Chairman of the Board of Directors.

COMMERCIAL EPITOME.

There is no evidence of a departure from the conservative policy which has so long dominated trade in this country and where sales have increased it has not been on a large scale. The crop outlook seems to be favorable. Prices in general are steady.

LARD on the spot has been dull. Prices have shown irregularity, but in the main the tone has been easier, owing to liberal receipts of hogs and increased offerings of product from packers. The buying has been on a hand-to-mouth basis. Western, 9@9.10c. and City 9½c. Refined lard has been firm on light supplies. Trade has been quiet and limited mainly to local jobbers. Refined Continent 9.40c., South America 9.85c. and Brazil in kegs 11.20c. Speculation in lard futures at the West has been on a moderate scale and there has been an absence of marked fluctuations in prices. Rather liberal receipts of hogs at times and depression in the grain markets have led to scattered selling by commission houses and packers. But on the recessions there has been more or less investment buying as well as support from larger packers.

| July delivery | 8.90 | 8.92½ | 8.92½ | 8.95 | 8.87½ | 8.90 |
| September delivery | 9.10 | 9.12½ | 9.12½ | 9.12½ | 9.12½ | 9.07½ |
| October delivery | 9.17½ | 9.20 | 9.20 | 9.20 | ------ | 9.12½ |

PORK on the spot has been firmer. Supplies are far from being burdensome and jobbers have bought rather freely at times. Mess $15 50@$16, clear $16 25@$17 50 and family $17 50@$18. Beef has again advanced. There has been a good demand and most grades are sold up to production or ahead. Mess $13 50@$14 50, packet $14@$16, flank $14 50@$15 50, family $15 50@$17 25 and extra India mess $23 50@$25. Cut meats have been strong and in good demand, partly for export. Pickled Western hams 11½@12¼c., pickled bellies, 14@10 lbs., 9@10c., and pickled shoulders 6½@6¾c. Tallow has been quiet but firmer on light offerings; City 5⅝@5¾c. Stearines have been quiet and firm; oleo 11c. and lard 11½c. Butter has been moderately active and easier on increased supplies; creamery extras 23½c. Cheese has been quiet but firmer; State, f. c., small, fancy, 12c.; large 11¾c. Eggs have been in moderate demand and firmer; Western firsts, 17@17½c.

OIL.—Cottonseed has been quiet and easier; prime summer yellow 47@47½c. and prime winter yellow 49@49½c. Linseed has been firm with a moderate demand for small lots. There is a disposition to shade quotations on car lots but buyers are still averse to anticipating requirements. City, raw, American seed, 44@45c., boiled 45@46c. and Calcutta raw 70c. Lard has been quiet and steady; prime 66@68c. and No. 1 extra 53@55c. Cocoanut has been quiet and steady; Cochin 7¼@7½c. and Ceylon 6⅜@6½c. Olive has been quiet and steady; yellow 65@75c. Peanut has been dull and steady; yellow 65@80c. Cod has been moderately active and steady; domestic 42@43c. and Newfoundland 44@45c.

COFFEE on the spot has been quiet and easier at 6⅛@6¼c. for Rio No. 7. West India growths have been steady, with the buying on a hand-to-mouth basis. Fair to good Cucuta 8⅞@9¾c. Speculation in future contracts has been on an extremely small scale. There has been nothing stimulating in the foreign advices, and the generality of the trade here are disposed to hold aloof and await developments. On the whole, however, the tone has been slightly firmer, owing to small buying of the distant months by local dealers and roasters and light offerings.

The closing prices were as follows:

| June | 5.90c. | October | 5.85c. | February | 5.85c. |

Refined has been in fair demand and steady. Granulated 5.30c. Teas have ruled firm, with a somewhat better demand from jobbers. Spices have been moderately active and firm. Hops have been dull and steady.

PETROLEUM has been in good demand and firm. Refined, barrels 8.75c., bulk 5c. and cases 10.90c. Gasoline has been firm and in good demand; 86 degrees, in 100-gallon drums, 20c.; drums $8 50 extra. Naphtha has met with a brisk demand at firm prices; 73@76 degrees, in 100-gallon drums, 17c.; drums $8 50 extra. Spirits of turpentine has been quiet and easier at 43c. Rosin has been dull and steady; common to good strained $3.

TOBACCO.—Trade in domestic leaf has suffered a setback, the recent improvement in the demand having proven of short duration. Consumption of cigars is still on a greatly reduced basis and manufacturers are still averse to anticipating needs. Sumatra and Havana have been quiet. Prices generally, however, have ruled steady.

COPPER has been dull and easy; lake 12¾@13c. and electrolytic 12½@12¾c. Lead has been quiet and steadier at 4.55c. Spelter has been quiet and steady at 4.50c. Tin has been dull and weaker at 27⅜c. Iron has been quieter and steady; No. 1 Northern $16 25@$17 and No. 2 Southern $16 25@$16 75.

Speculation in cotton for future delivery has continued on a very moderate scale so far as most months are concerned, though there has at times been heavy liquidation in July. The "long" selling of July has been, in fact, so large that all sorts of rumors have been current, the snm and substance of most of which is that holdings of large interests here, if not in New Orleans, have been sold, while many smaller operators who recently bought in expectation of a very marked advance through a predicted corner in July have also sold so freely that in the aggregate these transactions have likewise been a very depressing factor. The July premium over October, which was recently 120 points fell at one time during the week to 40 points, though within a few days there has been a recovery in the premium of some 30 to 35 points. There has also been a good deal of selling of August and September to say nothing of the selling of the next-crop months attributed to a Wall Street bear contingent. Liverpool has sold July, August and October to some extent, and from various parts of the South there has been not a little selling of one kind or another. The low point of the week was reached last Tuesday when prices suddenly dropped 73 points on July and 76 on August. These minimum figures showed a decline since last Friday of 87 points on July, 78 on August, 62 on September and 38 on October. Since then there has been a recovery, leaving the net loss for the week, however, something very marked. The apparent collapse of the July deal is attributed very generally to the continuance of good weather over most of the South, the more cheerful character of much of the crop news, a cessation of aggressive buying by interests supposed to be prominent in the July deal, and, finally, rumors widely prevalent that various members of the so-called July pool were selling out. This precipitated scattered selling for local Southern and other interests, and the collapse of prices was the inevitable result. It has been denied that the illness of a member of the Exchange here, supposed to be prominently identified with the bull movement in July, had any relation to the sharp decline which has occurred in that option. Another depressing factor, as already intimated, was the persistent attacks on the market attributed to Wall Street operators, some, indeed, describing the big decline largely to this selling alone, without minimizing the effects of more cheerful weather and crop news. To-day prices declined on this crop, owing, partly to the issuance of July notices to the extent of 20,000 bales, and some general liquidation, but the next crop, after wavering early, advanced in the later business and even July and August rallied before the close. Spot cotton has been dull. Middling closed at 11.60c., a decline for the week of 60 points.

The rates on and off middling, as established Sept. 11 1907 by the Revision Committee, at which grades other than middling may be delivered on contract, are as follows:

FIRST BALE OF NEW COTTON.—The first bale of cotton of the new crop was received at Houston, Texas, on June 19 from San Diego, Texas. Last year a bale of new cotton reached Houston on June 20, but it was not from the year's planting, being grown from volunteer stalks. The bale, therefore, could not be properly designated as new cotton, and was consequently not indicative of the state of forwardness of the crop in Southwest Texas. In 1906 the first arrival was on July 6, and the earliest new bale heretofore received was in 1901, on June 22.

FALL RIVER MILL DIVIDENDS.—The statement of dividends for the second quarter and half-year will be found on page 156.

SHIPPING NEWS.—As shown on a previous page, the exports of cotton from the United States the past week have reached 42,841 bales. The shipments in detail, as made up from mail and telegraphic returns, are as follows:

JUTE BUTTS, BAGGINGS, &c.—The market for jute bagging has continued dull the past week. Prices are unchanged at 7 cents per yard for 2-lb. domestic bagging and 6¼ cents per yard for re-woven and inferior foreign. Jute butts also dull at 2@3 cents per lb. for bagging quality.

BREADSTUFFS.

Prices for wheat flour have ruled easier during the week, owing largely to continued stagnation of trade. The depression, however, has been traceable in part to a reaction in wheat prices and favorable crop prospects in most sections of the country. At a few Western points a somewhat better inquiry for flour has been reported of late, but at the chief centres of trade the transactions have been on a very restricted scale. Practically no foreign orders have been put through, though at Kansas City a small export business has been reported of late. Corn meal has been dull and easier. Rye flour has been in light demand and steady.

Wheat, though it advanced early in the wheat, has latterly reacted, especially on the near deliveries. The factors which contributed most to the early advance were reports of damage to the crop in Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma, as well as some other sections of the Southwest, bullish weekly statistics and reports of an increased demand for export. It is of interest to notice that the world's shipments last week reached the comparatively small aggregate of 6.320.000 bushels, against 8,480,000 in the previous week and 10,912,000 last year. Also, the quantity on passage and in the visible supply decreased last week 5,933,000 bushels. Bradstreet's visible supply figures made the decrease for the week in the world's stock 7,085,000 bushels, against 3,995,000 for the same week last year. This means that the world's stock has fallen to 85,900,000 bushels, which is 61,500,000 bushels less than that of a year ago. Figures like these have undoubtedly led to considerable buying at times, especially as the receipts at the West have been light and the threshing returns have not been uniformly favorable, while Russian crop reports have been on the whole of an adverse character. Nevertheless, prices, as we have seen, have latterly receded, especially on the near months. This reaction is traceable largely to favorable weather for some days past, affording better conditions for harvesting, and also to improved crop accounts. Other depressing factors, however, have been very heavy liquidation in July, the rather lukewarm foreign markets, the dulness of the flour trade and the fact that, as a rule, export demand has been in abeyance. There remains another factor, moreover, which has militated noticeably against the price, and that is the persistent selling for short account by some large interests at the West. The popular impression that there is a concentrated short interest, principally in September, at the West of some 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 bushels may be an exaggeration, but the belief is widespread that leading operators accustomed to take the aggressive have latterly sold short on a considerable scale. The argument of bears is that the crop is turning out well in this country, that the world will have enough wheat and to spare, and that prices are, therefore, too high. Today prices opened firm on better cables than expected and covering of shorts, but reacted later on favorable weather, improving crop reports, dulness of the cash trade and liquidation.

Indian corn futures, under the influence of favorable weather over most sections and improving crop prospects, have shown a reactionary tendency of late. Liquidation in July has also been a depressing influence. Moreover, cash interests have sold rather freely at times and there has been scattered liquidation through commission houses. There has also been selling for short account, encouraged by the brighter crop situation. The cash market has been dull and heavy. Yet country operators have bought rather freely at times, the crop is still backward and some who have sold the near months have bought the distant positions. The receipts, too, are relatively small and stocks are light. To-day prices declined on good weather, favorable crop advices, dulness of the cash trade and scattered selling.

Oats for future delivery in the Western market have moved mainly in sympathy with the fluctuations in other cereals. The favorable weather of late and the improved crop reports have been depressing factors. Cash interests, too, have sold rather freely at times and there has been considerable liquidation in the near months. The cash trade has been dull. The belief is quite general that the crop will be very large. But there has been good buying at times by well-known interests in the trade. Some who have sold July have made purchases of December. The receipts have been small. To-day prices were easier on favorable weather and crop reports, liquidation and selling by cash interests.

GOVERNMENT WEEKLY WEATHER REPORT.—Mr. James Berry, Chief of the Climatological Division of the United States Weather Bureau, made public on Tuesday the telegraphic reports on the weather in the various States for the week ending June 22, summarizing them as follows:

A marked feature of the week ending June 22 1908 was the unseasonably cool weather over the greater part of the Rocky Mountain, Plateau and Pacific coast regions, with frosts in portions of Washington, Montana and Arizona. It was also very cool during the fore part of the week generally throughout the central valleys and eastward to and including the Atlantic coast districts, frosts being reported from portions of Illinois and Ohio. Otherwise, the temperature conditions were generally favorable. The reports of the week do not show any extensive area of excessive rainfall. Rains were heavy over limited portions of Iowa, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri, and heavy showers at the close of the week broke the drought conditions in Ohio. Practically no rain fell in the districts from the lower Ohio Valley southward to central Mississippi and Alabama, and moisture is now needed in Alabama southern Illinois and Indiana, and portions of North Carolina, Pennsylvania and New England. With the exception of severe local storms in portions of Ohio, Wisconsin and Minnesota, which caused some damage in the last-named State, the week was comparatively free from storms of this character. While there was much cloudiness in the north Pacific coast States and portions of the upper Mississippi Valley, elsewhere generally throughout the country there was abundant sunshine.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

New York, Friday Night, June 26 1908.

Jobbers' semi-annual clearance sales brought a large number of buyers into the dry goods district during the latter part of the week, and business at second hands was on a quite active scale. Some very attractive offerings were made which retailers were not slow to take advantage of, and on the whole the sales may be described as successful, although the action of buyers clearly indicated that they were looking for bargains. In the primary market the week has been quiet, and this condition is likely to continue until after the stock-taking period and until next week's holiday is over. The lighter demand for goods and the sharp decline in the price of cotton have resulted in concessions being granted in certain instances, but prices generally have held steady, and in the case of some lines of bleached goods have been advanced ⅛c. The position of manufacturers is not altogether a pleasant one, for they are not only experiencing great difficulty in purchasing suitable grades of cotton at reasonable prices, but they claim that on the present basis of prices of cotton and goods there is an actual loss in manufacture. Apart from this, the irregularity of the cotton market during the week has led to fears that there may be a still further decline in the price of the staple, and for this reason there is no disposition to manufacture goods for stock. The principle of curtailing production to actual orders is, therefore, being very freely adopted in the South. A favorable development during the week has been a material increase in the demand for goods from China, resulting in sales estimated in some quarters as high as 15,000 bales; in addition to this the general demand from miscellaneous countries has been good, and the outlook for an improvement in export business generally is considered bright. Duplicate ordering of men's wear heavy-weight woolen and worsted goods has been somewhat smaller and dress goods have continued quiet.

DOMESTIC COTTON GOODS.—The exports of cotton goods from this port for the week ending June 20 were 5,995 packages, valued at $396,220, their destination being to the points specified in the table below:

| Total | 5,995 | 89,348 | 3,002 | 98,580 |

The value of these New York exports since Jan. 1 has been $5,776,200 in 1908, against $6,421,627 in 1907.

Heavy brown drills and sheetings are occasionally ⅛c. ower where goods have been allowed to accumulate, and as buyers are not willing to place orders with any amount of freedom for near-by delivery and manufacturers refuse to contract ahead at current prices, business has naturally been light. Medium and light-weight sheetings have also been sold at concessions and transactions have been moderate. The new feature in the Chinese demand during the week has been the much greater variety of goods called for, practically all weights of drills and sheetings having been included in the sales, in addition to jeans, flannels, &c. While export sales have been heavy, it is understood that some low prices have been named in order to attract the business. Some of the better known lines of bleached goods have been advanced ⅛c. during the week, and these have been so freely purchased ahead that a scarcity later in the year is within the bounds of possibility; the low counts, generally speaking, have not done so well. Wide sheetings, sheets and pillow cases have been in moderate demand at unchanged prices. Linings have been quiet. Some good orders have been received for staple prints and ginghams, the price of the former, particularly, being considered low. Sales of print cloths have been light, and prices are slightly lower than a week ago, offerings of wide regulars having been made at 4½c.

WOOLEN GOODS.—While duplicate ordering of men's wear heavy-weight woolen and worsted goods has not been quite so heavy as in the recent past, it has continued on a moderate scale and several mills are in a more satisfactory position, as far as fall goods are concerned, than they were a week ago. It is those manufacturers who are not so favorably situated on heavy-weights who are now urging forward the new season's openings, and while the majority of agents are holding these back until after the holiday, it is understood that a fair volume of business has already been done. As usual, serges are among the first lines to make their appearance and have met with a good demand. There are further indications that resist dyes will be more prominent during the spring season than they were during the fall season, arrangements having been made in many instances to show augmented lines. The question of prices on the new spring goods is attracting a good deal of attention, and it is now believed that the reductions will not be as important as seemed likely a little while ago, and will not amount to more than 5% on staples and three-quarter goods, and not as much as this on strictly all-wool goods of the better sort. The dress goods market has been seasonably dull, and no improvement in business is expected until next month. There is a small amount of business passing all the time, but it is widely distributed, and is not particularly noticeable in any one direction.

FOREIGN DRY GOODS.—Imported woolen and worsted goods for fall are just as quiet as domestic fabrics. The irregularity of the raw silk market is having an adverse effect upon the sales of piece goods. Ribbons are quiet. There is an improved demand for linens. Burlaps are firmer and rather more active.

News Items.

New York State.—Sale of Canal Bonds by State Sinking Fund.—See item under head of "Bond Proposals and Negotiations."

Hamilton County (P. O. Noblesville), Ind.—Litigation.—Proceedings have been commenced to enjoin the County Commissioners from selling bonds for improvement of all the roads under contract in Washington Township. The injunction is asked for by S. M. Smith, who contends that if the roads are built at the expense of the township the indebtedness will exceed the constitutional limit of 2%.

Muskingum County (P. O. Zanesville), Ohio.—Bond Suit Decided by Supreme Court.—The following regarding a decision of the State Supreme Court in a suit brought to recover the difference between the market price and the price paid for the $55,500 funding bonds last mentioned in V. 80, p. 128, is taken from the "Zanesville Courier" of June 10:

Through the untiring efforts of Hon. Charles U. Shryock, the Cincinnati Trust Co. will be compelled to return to the county treasury the sum of $4,400 with interest from December 1904, which sum represents the difference between the market price of $55,000 county bonds and the price paid the county by the trust company.

The Supreme Court decided the case Tuesday, affirming the Circuit Court's decision against the Cincinnati Trust Co., but reversing it with regard to P. S. Briggs & Co. of Cincinnati, with which company the Commissioners' journal shows that the contract was made.

In many respects the case was an unusual one. First the County Commissioners sold 4½% 20-year bonds at par when their market value at the time was 110½. C. M. Ludman, as a taxpayer, brought suit to restrain the deal, but nothing was ever done in his case and Mr. Shryock had to become a party defendant in the action in order to prosecute the case.

In October 1904 Ludman brought suit in Common Pleas Court to restrain the deal, the title of the case being The State of Ohio ex rel. C. M. Ludman, a taxpayer, vs. John H. Crooks, et al. County Auditor Brelsford, who was a aparty defendant, got out of the case early in its history.

The next day after the Ludman suit was filed, C. U. Shryock brought a similar action in the case. This was done for fear that the Ludman suit might not have the effect generally expected by the public. Shryock's petition was heard by Judge E. M. Kennedy, who held that the bonds should have been advertised and sold to the highest bidder, and he granted a temporary injunction. On the heels of this action came a protest from the Cincinnati Trust Co., and the Shryock case was dismissed on the ground that the Ludman suit took precedence. The transfer of the bonds was then made, the Ludman case not being pressed, and soon after this transfer the Commissioners also negotiated with the Cincinnati Trust Co. to secure funds to liquidate a debt of $20,000. Bonds in this sum were also transferred at par, but this deal has not yet been questioned in court.

In January 1905 the Cincinnati Trust Co. advertised the Muskingum County bonds for sale, the price being 110½. About this time Mr. Ludman asked to be allowed to withdraw from the suit and at the same time Mr. Shryock asked to be permitted to become a party defendant. Both requests were granted by Judge Frazier, but the case was still carried on in the name of Ludman.

Judge Mackey heard the case in 1906 and decided that since the bonds had passed into the hands of innocent third parties, the county had no relief.

This did not discourage Mr. Shryock. Next the case came on to be heard by the Circuit Court at the spring term in 1907. This court held that the whole transaction by which the Cincinnati Trust Co. acquired the bonds was illegal and is sued in order that the bonds either be returned to the County Treasurer for cancellation or that P. S. Briggs & Co. and the Cincinnati Trust Co. pay to the county the sum of $4,400 and interest from the date of the bond deal, the $4,400 as above stated being the difference between the market value of the bonds and the price paid by the trust company.

The Cincinnati Trust Co. appealed the case to the Supreme Court and Tuesday the Court affirmed the finding of the Circuit Court with reference to the Cincinnati Trust Co., but relieved P. S. Briggs & Co. from liability.
